Progress good

Generally the classes show a fair knowledge of their programme work.

The percentage shows that still 4 can have been employed since last exam. The results are creditable to Mr. Brown.

Discipline. Some two attempts at copying, poor.

With Drill - 93% recommended.

More attention should be paid to the discipline throughout the school.

Classification appears judicious

The Instruction It will be necessary to devote more attention to Elocution. The rhymes, poems & reading are not clearly & distinctly recited with reasonable & apparent intelligence. Pupils should comprehend, fairly at least, the poems &c committed to memory.

Writing, the examination work as a whole is very carefully executed many papers like models of neatness.

Spelling is perhaps the weak point in the school, apart from the Dictation test, there were many gross errors in spelling in general work. Arithmetic. The tests in mental arithmetic and the problems were not satisfactorily solved as a rule.

The fifth class is weak in grammar & geography. The Program is not adhered to in Needlework. The Progress made is satisfactory.

Discipline Satisfactory, but pupils should be trained to keep it. It is the school's duty to

Military Drill needs looking up - 98% recommended this term

		Drawing apparatus. There were some few short pencils. I think there might advantageously be more attention paid to the grading of examples. I do not discover the development of form sufficiently, in the transition from the 3rd to 4th class work, more particularly. The advanced work appears to be in many cases merely copying of bits of form. I do not find any geometry. I think it should be dealt with. The model drawing examples are of a very good order. Examples of the nature of standard maps should be withdrawn, excepting in the case of details, which ought to be simple, clear, well defined large shapes. Cases of small serrations are too worrying & detail of rivers were well left out. The scholar's work is of fairly good average throughout but I think neatness ought to be more impressed upon the children. In too many cases I found the lines so strongly impressed that the pattern was traceable upon the 30th pages following. The habit of writing should be excluded. Discipline appears very good.

Visited for inspection. Present 100 children (including P.Y.) - only 92 at roll call.

Organization. The Line Table requires to be read at as follows - the supervision of each class in each range. The P.Y. composed herself during ~~the forenoon~~ ^{both forenoon and afternoon} meetings to the III class (14 children) and left the II class of 22 to a monitor except during the times the H.Y. took it. The work of a VI class is given. There has not been one this year. There should be not less than three hours needlework each week. The H.Y. should have definite times for taking the I classes a week in each programme subject. I would suggest that during the hours of the visiting teachers the H.Y. should have the infants.

The supervision might have been been much more active. Children cannot each attend their studies and work in combination as with Gram. We steps should be taken to prevent this, and also to keep the classes more actively engaged. Children can hardly be blamed for talking when they have nothing to do.

Instruction. The I.Y. was observed during my visit. Programme was observed in the subjects taught.

There was too much noise permitted for good work. This was especially observable in the afternoon, and I would impress on the teacher the absolute necessity for securing quiet work and better order. As a means to this end, fixing a definite time for the H.Y. taking each class would assist considerably.

A number of children came with their Home Exercises. In the V class there were 9 books for 15 children, in the IV 3 for 10 children, and in the III only 3 for 15 children. The work in the V class books was less than the exercises.

Examined for results 28th August & 1st Sept 1891 (See as to 3 children asked.) Classification is generally approved. Twenty-five were examined in Class IV, seven in class V & four in class VI. The school has passed a satisfactory examination - one showing that steady work has been done in all classes during the year. The work in the junior department is deserving of special praise. The attainments of the children in this department are good. Nine (9) passed the standard & one gained the merit certificate. Pleased to note that objects are used for illustrating the general lessons. Discipline & tone of the school are good. The school-rooms have a cheerful & attractive appearance. Records entered up to date. Present 178 + 7 W. H. C. Hanna H. S. of a deserving staff. Samuel Simmons 1-9-91.

Thin tables provide for subjects of instruction. The summary at foot should be filled up showing the time given weekly to each subject.

Employment constant. It is assumed in 1894 should consist in the more active attention of whole class. Admissible for infants to change with class for desk work. Disbursing staff approved.

Instruction considered satisfactory. Becomes careful attention - approved. Books given 11/2 adopted - to properly learn admissible to use - boxed. Some voluntary reading should be shown also repetition of lessons. Some attention can be paid to the history of the present. It is known that children sit upright. Discipline satisfactory. Some suggested more for oral lesson instruction.

Remains satisfactory. Present 188 & 21/2

Remains - today.

Examined 15th 16th & 19th Sept 1892

Classification. Generally correct 26 in Class V 12 in Class VI & 4 in Class VII. Thirty-eight examined in Upper division Class I average ages Classes I to VII well up to requirements.

The school has passed a satisfactory examination. Percentage 90, promotions 71% showing that careful steady work especially in the junior department has been done since last exam. Special efforts however considered necessary to advance children of excessive ages, classes I, II, III. I would like to see prompter answering in classes IV & V. Further efforts might be made to improve writing. See as to Arithmetic of classes IV & V.

Examined for results 1-3 Aug 1894
 Classification approved - 20 examined in class 5 and 5 in class 6.

The school has ~~made~~ continued to make satisfactory progress - The falling off in the percentages is owing to influx of new scholars - over 100 & some other disadvantages under which work has been carried on. In some parts of weakness are detected - General Brown cl 4. requires further attention - in other classes the subject has received satisfactory attention. The primary ~~room~~ room has been ~~adequately~~ ~~well~~ carefully taught - and ~~the~~ ~~best~~ previous state of efficiency well maintained.

Discipline good - The crowded state of the large room somewhat interferes with the order.
