It is very palatable and invigorating and from our own experience as well as from the testimonials expressed by several persons who are using it now we can confidently recommend it to the public."
 The "Kilnmore Free Press" of May 11th, 1886, writes:—"We have received from Mr. E. P. Plummer, pharmaceutical chemist of Lancashire, a gentleman well-known in Kilnmore, a sample bottle of his Quinine and Iron Wine. It is obtained for the wine that it is the best cure yet discovered for neuritis. We have tasted the wine, and we have no little to say in its favor. It is a pleasant and invigorating tonic, and we think it is a most valuable medicine. The wine is nicely got up in bottles about pint size, price 2s. 6d. per bottle."
 The "Preston Leader" of May 14, 1892, writes:—"Mr. E. P. Plummer, of the Mollen Hall, High Street, Preston, has sent me a sample bottle of his Quinine and Iron Wine which he claims to be a specific for neuritis. It certainly seems an excellent tonic and is well adapted for the prevention and cure of Neuritis, and other ailments of the system. THE SHADE OF DOCTOR ARIO.

The doctor had seemed to me to be a very kind man. I had never seen him before, but he had a pleasant face and a friendly manner. He was dressed in a simple, clean suit, and he had a pair of spectacles which he wore on his nose. He was sitting in a chair, and he was looking at me with a calm and steady gaze. I felt that I was in the presence of a man who was not only a doctor, but also a philosopher. He had a way of speaking that was both simple and profound, and he had a way of listening that was both attentive and understanding. I felt that I was in the presence of a man who was not only a doctor, but also a friend.

FATHER-IN-LAW MEMOIRS.

The thought came into my mind, and I began to think of the old man who had been my father-in-law. He was a man of many moods, and he was a man of many interests. He was a man who had lived a long and full life, and he was a man who had seen many things. He was a man who had been a soldier, and he was a man who had been a farmer. He was a man who had been a teacher, and he was a man who had been a doctor. He was a man who had been a father, and he was a man who had been a grandfather. He was a man who had been a friend, and he was a man who had been a neighbor. He was a man who had been a man, and he was a man who had been a man.

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE OF SUPERIORITY
OR REDWOOD, PH.D., F.O.S., F.L.O.

"My analytical and practical experience of Pears' Soap now extends over a very lengthened period—nearly fifty years—during which time

"I have never come across another Toilet Soap which so closely realises my ideal of perfection; its purity is such that it may be used with perfect confidence upon the tenderest and most sensitive skin, even that of a new-born babe."
