STORY-TELLING. Very much of the pleasure derived from hearing an interesting story is due to the manner and style in which it is told, or in other words to the tact and skill of the narrator.

Men with Iron Muscles.

England has always paid a strong measure of reverence to its great men...

It was heard—the link was broken! Samson went quietly on with his task...

MAURICE, Count of Saxony, afterwards married of France, was less celebrated for his military strength...

THE MALICE OF THE CROWN PRINCE, which he had just broken in two with his fingers...

BARBARA, he took up an avial of 600lb. weight and walked away with it under the strength of his arms...

WERE WITH THE TERRIBLE ANIMAL which was consorted to with some hesitation for fear of an accident...

HE CAME DOWN. The knoval young man from a sprightly country town stepped up to the desk...

RAISED A WEIGHT OF 600 LBS. from the ground with his teeth; then stooping under a table loaded with a weight of 1,800 lb., he raised it on his shoulders...

ONE OF THE MOST REMARKABLE OF LATER-DAY SAMSONS WAS THOMAS TOPHAM, who about the year 1780, kept the Lion public-house at the corner of City Road...

HE WAS HEARD TO SAY THAT HE WAS a man of great weight in his parish—weighing, in fact, 27 stone...

Advertisement for a man of great weight, mentioning his strength and weight.
