THE MELBOURNE CUP.

By "Stirling." Throughout Australia, in New Zealand, in India and South Africa, to all the Southern Hemisphere there is one racing which takes the precedence of all others, and in fact, is only second to the English Derby in the world-wide attention it excites. As time rolls on, and year after year, its popularity never wanes, but rather increases and expands. England, New Zealand, Queensland, West Australia, Tasmania, and most of all, the mother colony, New South Wales, send horses to try and wrest the greatest prize of the Southern Hemisphere from its Victorian defenders. And this year we shall have hard work to prevent not only the state but the honours of the great race being carried off by horses bred elsewhere, even though locally trained animals should prove successful. Not, although, of course the Melbourne Cup is the greatest of all racing men's eyes and thoughts, it is only the chief of the many prizes which the Victorian Racing Club offers during the four days of its Spring Meeting. There are the classic events, first of which is the Melbourne Plate, with its 1,200 even odds, and the Oaks Derby, with 1,000 added, and in addition there are twenty other races, some of which are of considerable importance, including a Maiden Plate, two Hurdle Races, two Steeplechase, six other events for two-year-olds, besides weight-for-age events and handicaps at various distances for all horses on the flat.
