CHAPTER XXXVI.

The Man on the Roof.

The moment we stood facing each other in silence, and then I looked back and found that I was looking at a man who was looking at me.

"That's all very good, Fletcher. I don't know your name, but I must have seen you somewhere before."

"You will not get away from me, you know that. I will find you."

"I will find you," I said. "I will find you, whether you like it or not."

"You are a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

An intruder, and that very late, was the last thing I saw before I fell into a deep sleep.

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

McNair said, quietly, but with characteristic firmness: "I've got you, McNair."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

He put them in the wrong pocket. "Here, attendant," he called.

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

And the look in her eye gave emphasis to the low spoken words. (To be continued.)

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

"I am a man of action," he said. "I will show you that."

AMUSING INCIDENTS. Sabbath Work. Two Highland farmers met on their way to church.

"I am a man of words," he said. "But words are of little use to me."

A Beautiful Sideboard for 60/-

This Sideboard represents but one of the many similar big values to be had at CLAUSGEN'S. It is exceptionally good value. Only by trading on "cash" principles, and not selling furniture on time payment, are we able to offer it to you at such a low price—we do not ask you to pay for the bad debts incurred by the time payment system. And a further advantage in buying at CLAUSGEN'S is that our furniture is, in many instances, superior to that of the time-payment houses, although ours is marked at lower prices.
 As an example of the money-saving opportunities to be had at CLAUSGEN'S we quote a Sideboard with large bevelled plate glass mirror, 2 drawers, 2 cupboards, and oxidized mounts, 4ft wide, price 60/. It is made from thoroughly seasoned wood by expert makers who can unhesitatingly claim the title of expert; handily carved and beautifully finished. We invite your inspection.

NORTHCOLE TOWN COUNCIL.

MONDAY, 10TH OCTOBER.

Present:—Crs. Archibald (mayor), McIntosh, Smith, Lee, Dennis, Hayes, Johnson, Williams, Harry, and Woodhouse.

The town clerk made an apology for Cr. Hastings, who was indisposed, and for Cr. Plant, who was absent in the country.

Water for Morley Street. The Metropolitan Board of Works wrote agreeing to extend the water in St. George's road, from Beaver's road to Morley street, thence westwards along Morley street for a distance of 137 chains, also in Waterloo road from Hastings street to Mitchell street.

The Board also intimated that they would buy the water in Victoria road as soon as the usual indemnity indemnifying the Board was fixed up.

It was decided, on the motion of Crs. Smith and Williams, to give the necessary indemnity.

Finance for Fire Road. The Chief Secretary notified that nominations for the vacancy on the Fire Brigade's Board must be made on or before 8th November.

The Brunswick council wrote asking support for the retiring representative (Cr. F. T. Hickford).

Cr. Hickford also wrote advising the council that he had now a thorough grasp of the nature of the municipalities and the requirements of the municipalities.

Cr. Smith moved and Cr. McIntosh seconded that this council support the nomination of Cr. Hickford.

Cr. Dennis moved an amendment that the matter be held over for a fortnight. There might be other nominations and they could then be dealt with on their merits.

Cr. Hickford was one of those who reported in connection with the recent fire at the E.B.C. factory, and that report was diametrically opposed to the opinion of the council.

Cr. Hayes said that without any reflection on Mr. Hickford he would second the amendment.—Carried.

Overcoming Public Buildings. The Public Health Department wrote forwarding copy of draft regulations for the prevention of overcrowding and obstruction in public buildings and for the prevention of fires in such.—Referred to the committee of the whole.

Lighting at Thornbury Station. The Railway Department wrote stating they could not provide a lamp at the entrance to Thornbury station at present; but when the platform on the "up" side is brought into use additional lamps would, of course, be provided.—Received.

Beaconsfield Parade Gates. The Railway Department wrote regretting they could not see their way to open the Beaconsfield parade gates for vehicular traffic.

Cr. Woolhouse moved that Mr. Membrey, M.L.A., be asked to use his best endeavours to get the gates opened. Cr. Hayes seconded.—Carried.

Railway Drain, South Ward. The Railway Department wrote stating that it had been found on enquiry that the railway drain between Charles and Bridge streets had been rendered inoperative by Mr. Wright's drain run blocking the free flow of the drainage, but when his tenure expires on 1st November the drain would be cleaned out and graded.

Cr. Dennis said he did not think that grading would effect the desired result. He moved that the department be asked to brick the drain.—Carried.

Amalgamation of Municipalities. The City of Collingwood wrote inviting this council to send two delegates to a conference to consider the question of amalgamation of municipalities.

Cr. Hayes, after drawing attention to the multiplication of Boards, &c., in the metropolis, and consequent duplication of officers and work, said he believed they would have to have something on the lines of the London County Council, which would be responsible for all the work now carried on by boards. He would move that two delegates be appointed.

Cr. Woolhouse seconded. Cr. Smith expressed the opinion that they would never get any satisfaction out of a big unwieldy body.

Cr. Dennis moved an amendment that the matter be referred to the committee of the whole. Carried.

Outer Suburbs and Trams. The Outer Suburbs Tramway Conference wrote notifying a meeting on Friday, 30th Sept.

Cr. Hayes reported having, with Crs. Hastings, attended the conference. They found that they had been taken on to Preston, Heidelberg and Collingwood, but he did not feel at all satisfied with it. He would like to see the whole matter discussed at the next meeting of the council, and would move that to that effect.

It is proposed to hold a garden party and dance at the park and shire hall on Boxing Day in aid of the R.C. presbytery building fund.

Mr. Woodhouse and Miss Patterson, joint secretaries in connection with the tea meeting and entertainment recently held on behalf of St. John's Church repairs fund on Monday presented their balance sheet to the shire council.

Up to now the present is the best season for grass known for many years. An all-night dance and musical evening is to be held at the shire hall on Friday evening, November 18.

Northcote Methodist Church. Success attended the anniversary services of the Northcote Methodist Church last Sunday. The management were fortunate in securing the services of two of the most popular, as well as two of the ablest, ministers who had in the past been stationed at Northcote—Rev. J. Thomas, B.A., and Rev. S. Scholes.

On Tuesday night the Church "At Home" was held in the school hall, at which there was a good representation of the congregation. Rev. Perry Knight presided, and presented the annual report. Another year of service to God and humanity had, indeed, been maintained; the Thursday night Bible class had proved a blessing to 46 members; the improvement in the congregations continued, but they would like to see more families worshipping together in the same way.

The development of the music of the gymnasium classes were being advanced, and would like to see members making a more active interest in the spiritual life of the church. They ought, if possible, face the question of better ventilation of the church and better lighting. Fresh air was the gift of God and essential. He detested a vitiated atmosphere.

In presenting the financial statement the treasurer (Mr. George Little) said he had his unpresented media and the beginning of 1910 their liability was £4584 13s 10d, divided as follows:—Shop account, £2000; Trust account (church and school buildings, etc.), £1534 13s 10d. The shop account, after providing interest, rates, etc., showed a profit of £54 13s 10d, which was very satisfactory; but their church finances showed a deficiency during the year of £67 18s 7d.

At the night the Rev. A. R. Edgar was called upon to give a message. He was glad to be present if only to be of the progress they had made and to see the new room. It was all new to him, for he did not know that the foundation stone had been laid. Wherever the pews rested had been abolished the church finances were temporarily disarranged, but they adjusted themselves in time. With the removal of pews there was a tendency of the family getting scattered: of the parents worshipping in one seat and the children in other parts of the church. He would counsel them to adhere to the good old practice of family worship. The rev. gentleman, after eloquently expressing his belief in the power of Jesus Christ, both inside and outside the church, said he cared not so long as they had Christ in their hearts. Having that everything else would fall into line. (Applauded.)

The speaking was interspersed with solos by Mr. Norman Quong and Miss Holzer and part songs by the choir under the leadership of Mr. Hingwood. At the close refreshments were served.

THE GREAT FIRE OF LONDON. was an example of the mighty power of Fire. Are you aware that large areas of Melbourne could be swept bare of buildings in a few hours under conditions favorable to a conflagration? Remember that what happened at Westminster was a few months ago.

It appeared that at present they had no power to levy fees except they had a market. INDIGESTION AND KIDNEY TROUBLE.

BECAME A WRECK AND OPEN WISHER FOR DEATH.

COMPLETE HEALTH RESTORED BY BILK BEANS.

Mrs. M. Scanlon, of 1 Avon Place, off Haines street, North Melbourne, says:—"Four years ago I was a great victim of indigestion, which laid me up for days and days, during which time I could not take the least bit of food, in fact, I starved myself. The pain between my shoulders was dreadful. I lost flesh and became painfully thin. At times I could hardly breathe and would have to gasp. These attacks were so severe that I wish I died. My kidneys were also affected, and I suffered severely with backache. When stooping it was a difficult matter to straighten up again, and I became a wreck of my former self."

"All sorts of so-called remedies did I try, but could not get relief from my suffering. Commencing a course of Bilk Beans I was soon on the road to perfect health. After a while my kidneys ceased to trouble me and backaches were of the past. Soon I was able to eat with enjoyment, all pains ceased, and after a few days of Bilk Beans I was completely restored to good health. Now I feel better than I ever did, thanks to Bilk Beans."

Bilk Beans are a perfect remedy for all stomach and liver disorders, and are a good cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation, piles, headache, debility, sleeplessness, anæmia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, pains in the side and female ailments. Sold by all chemists at 1s 1/4 and 2s 3/4 per box. Unrivalled as a family medicine.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.

AND HOW TO ADVERTISE.

Here are sixteen good reasons why you should advertise:—

1. Money invested in judicious advertising is like a hoarding—It is bound to come back again.

2. The most results don't come from the most expensive; they come from the most intelligent expenditure.

3. Advertise for business; then advertise to make it better; then advertise to keep it.

4. Sit still, and your business will sit still, too.

5. Advertising is not a necessity, neither is the telephone, nor the telegraph, nor the train; but they are mighty convenient when you want to get things quickly.

6. There is no trade so settled but a vigorous competitor may take it away by advertising.

7. One or two insertions of an advertisement are all right; it is the consecutive, continuous, and persistent effort that win in advertising, as in the affairs of business.

8. Advertise as you eat, regularly and in reasonable quantity.

9. Advertise just as a farmer plants corn, not a big sackful at one time in one place, and then the grain; but a few grains at places in regular order, and in regular time.

10. Keep it up week after week month after month, and success will surely come.

11. The life of a newspaper advertisement is not of today only, or tomorrow. Each advertisement talks up the paper it actually destroyed.

12. The most successful merchants are those who use advertising space regularly in the local paper. There may be easy lots, but they are not one in a hundred.

13. Advertising is costing you less every year, and giving you more results.

14. Advertise space in proportion as much as part of your business and property as the window in which you display your goods, or the office in which you transact your business.

15. Get hold of the common, but so fully mistaken, idea that advertising is something outside of business—a mere external aid, but not an integral part of it.

16. Get hold of the idea that advertising is a vital part of the business, and advertising space an extension of the premises, and a valuable part of your stock-in-trade. It multiplies your opportunities of doing business a thousandfold.

The End of the Strike

By Ian Groveson.

James Hellingsworth was a hard man. He was also inordinately rich, and, it never knew to give a penny to a charity, it is never known that he had ever done a good deed in his life...

With lowered brows, from beneath which glinted fierce eyes, the men awaited the news. The chief clerk took but little pause to conceal, calmly, the news to which he had just given a secret satisfaction...

With lowered brows, from beneath which glinted fierce eyes, the men awaited the news. The chief clerk took but little pause to conceal, calmly, the news to which he had just given a secret satisfaction...

Shrugging his shoulders, Hellingsworth watched the door close behind the back of the last man; then, picking up the paper he had discarded on the desk, he began to read it again...

"Beg pardon, sir," he stammered, and the man who had been looking for him turned back. "I have just caught what you said for the moment, and—

"Confound you, yes," he snarled back in a rising anger which sounded almost sinister in its rigidity. "I have your hands in my pockets, and I have ordered for me now to go down to the village to see what straits the pluck of hunger has brought some of them to."

"You are a fine fellow, sir," said Hellingsworth, with a look of intense scorn. "I have never known a man who would do a good deed in his life."

"I am a man of my word," said Hellingsworth, with a look of intense scorn. "I have never known a man who would do a good deed in his life."
