

Church Notices. ALL SAINTS CHURCH, NORTHCOVE. Sunday Services: 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Rev. A. C. McIlwain, M.A., D.D., Minister.

HOLY TRINITY, THORNBURO (Railway Parade). Sunday Services: 8 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m., Morning Prayer and Sermon; 4 p.m., Evensong.

NORTHCOVE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (James St.). Minister: Rev. R. W. Wood. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., Holy Communion; 4 p.m., Evening Service.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES. 11 a.m., Rev. Alex. Harrie (Heidelberg). 7 p.m., Rev. W. Arthur Roberts.

THORNBURO PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (Rosemary Street). Sunday Services: 11 a.m., Mr. G. L. Landy; 4 p.m., Mr. F. Hopwood.

NORTHCOVE METHODIST CHURCHES. Sunday Services: High Street: 10 a.m., Mr. P. Hopwood; 7 p.m., Rev. John Adams.

ST. GEORGE'S ROAD. 7 p.m., Mr. G. Hunter. PRINCE OF WALES' PARK. 23rd Anniversary: 11 a.m., Rev. Joseph McIlwain; 7 p.m., Rev. Robert Kelly.

CRAXTON. 7 p.m., Rev. Lawrence Tate. 11 a.m., Mr. D. H. Dwyer. TWENTY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY. Sunday, 4th October: 11 a.m., Rev. J. McIlwain; 7 p.m., Rev. Robert Kelly.

PRESTON METHODIST CHURCHES. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., Mr. Parnaby; 7 p.m., Mr. Parnaby. SOUTH PRESTON Church Anniversary: 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., Rev. J. W. Rows; 7 p.m., Rev. W. Rows.

SOUTH PRESTON METHODIST CHURCH. ANNIVERSARY. SUNDAY, 4th OCTOBER, 1914. Morning at 11. Afternoon at 3. Evening at 7. Rev. E. W. Nye.

NORTHCOVE BAPTIST CHURCH. Pastor: Rev. B. Hewison. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., "Why Redeemed?"; 7 p.m., "The Bible in the State."

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Martin St., Northcove. Pastor: Rev. A. B. Bunton. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., "Speak to the Earth and it Shakes"; 7 p.m., "The Evolution of Music."

Law. MADDOCK, JAMIESON, AND LONIE, Solicitors and Conveyancers. 185 and 188 Queen Street (between Bourke and Little Collins Streets), Melbourne.

MADDEN, DRAKE & CANDY, Solicitors & Conveyancers. "THE OLDFLEET" (First Floor), No. 476 Collins Street. Telephone, Central 196.

HOME AND WILKINSON, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Commercial Union Chambers, 413 Collins Street, Melbourne. Tel. 853.

ROBERTS AND ELLIOTT, Solicitors, &c. QUEENSLAND BUILDING, 84-88 WILLIAM ST., MELBOURNE. Trust and other money to lend.

STEPHEN P. THOMPSON, Barrister and Solicitor. 443 LITTLE COLLINS STREET, MELBOURNE. Phone: Central 5270.

MR. ALEX. G. DE LACY, Dentist (Established 1891). LONDON HOUSE, 97 ELIZABETH STREET, MELBOURNE.

MR. LESLIE C. WEBSTER, DENTIST. PRACTICES AT THEATRE BUILDINGS, HIGH STREET, NORTHCOVE. Hours: 9.30 to 1 p.m. and 2 till 6 p.m.

DR. STANLEY WILKINSON, DENTAL SURGEON. 565 HIGH STREET, THORNBURO. Monday 12 p.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

C. A. BROOKS, Dentist (Recorded by the Dental Board of Victoria). 631 HIGH STREET, THORNBURO. Hours: 9.30 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturdays, 1 p.m.

DR. DENTON PETHERS, Has removed to "Bonioli" High Street, Preston, opposite the Church of England. Telephone: Northcote 361.

H. C. DYTE, Doctor of Optics. 561 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOVE. Phone, Northcote 31. SIGHT TESTED FREE. Glasses a Speciality.

BRACE, Seedling Grower, Carey's, 146 Seeling, Onon, Celery, Tomatoes, etc. 9 to 10.30. Also handles, best kinds of all kinds of plants properly cultivated. No. 9 Dandenong Rd., Northcote.

LOCALISMS. The Preston branch Red Cross Society are holding a carnival on Saturday, November 14th. School re-opens (fourth year) at King's College, Clifton Hill, on Tuesday next.

THE BATTLE OUTLOOK. AFTER three weeks' pounding at each other, the opposing armies of France are still in position, with shrapnel and dead men lying in the spaces between. The ground taken up by the German army, after it was, reveals an insight into some of the horrors of modern warfare.

M. W. H. Smith, secretary of the Northern Tramway Extension League, has been notified that evidence in support of the proposal for the extension of the tramway from the Victoria Street to the High Street station, Carlton, at 10 o'clock a.m. on Friday, 9th inst., and from representatives of the Northern Tramway Extension League at the same place on Tuesday, 13th inst.

On Wednesday next the pupils of Westleigh College, assisted by leading members of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society, will give a patriotic concert at the Northcote Town Hall.

On Monday at 10 o'clock a meeting of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society will be held on Monday at 10 o'clock a.m. in the school hall, in connection with the service, which begins at 3 p.m.

Princess Alice and Loyd Macartney, L.O.A.G., held a social in the Northcote club on Tuesday evening, which proved a great success. The committee of the evening was presided over by the Hon. J. Macartney, P.M., M.L.C., M.H.R., M.P.

There is a good deal of sickness about Northcote at present. Mr. Fred Wallis, of Station Street, who has been suffering for some time with a complaint of the chest, is at present recovering.

RETURNING TRAVELLERS. In connection with other sea-travellers these days Mr. J. A. Walker, returned from the north coast on the "Tasmanian" which left the port of Melbourne on the 23rd of last month.

ADVENTUROUS VOYAGES. Mr. J. A. Walker, who returned from the north coast on the "Tasmanian" which left the port of Melbourne on the 23rd of last month, is at present in the city.

At the St. Hilary, Northcote, to-night, there will be a grand entertainment in aid of the new Catholic school in Victoria Park. The programme will be most interesting.

MR. W. H. FRIDGOLD, notary public, has been appointed by the Registrar of Companies, Melbourne, as a member of the committee of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society.

MR. W. H. FRIDGOLD, notary public, has been appointed by the Registrar of Companies, Melbourne, as a member of the committee of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society.

LOCALISMS. The Preston branch Red Cross Society are holding a carnival on Saturday, November 14th. School re-opens (fourth year) at King's College, Clifton Hill, on Tuesday next.

THE BATTLE OUTLOOK. AFTER three weeks' pounding at each other, the opposing armies of France are still in position, with shrapnel and dead men lying in the spaces between.

M. W. H. Smith, secretary of the Northern Tramway Extension League, has been notified that evidence in support of the proposal for the extension of the tramway from the Victoria Street to the High Street station, Carlton, at 10 o'clock a.m. on Friday, 9th inst.

On Wednesday next the pupils of Westleigh College, assisted by leading members of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society, will give a patriotic concert at the Northcote Town Hall.

On Monday at 10 o'clock a meeting of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society will be held on Monday at 10 o'clock a.m. in the school hall, in connection with the service, which begins at 3 p.m.

Princess Alice and Loyd Macartney, L.O.A.G., held a social in the Northcote club on Tuesday evening, which proved a great success. The committee of the evening was presided over by the Hon. J. Macartney, P.M., M.L.C., M.H.R., M.P.

There is a good deal of sickness about Northcote at present. Mr. Fred Wallis, of Station Street, who has been suffering for some time with a complaint of the chest, is at present recovering.

RETURNING TRAVELLERS. In connection with other sea-travellers these days Mr. J. A. Walker, returned from the north coast on the "Tasmanian" which left the port of Melbourne on the 23rd of last month.

ADVENTUROUS VOYAGES. Mr. J. A. Walker, who returned from the north coast on the "Tasmanian" which left the port of Melbourne on the 23rd of last month, is at present in the city.

At the St. Hilary, Northcote, to-night, there will be a grand entertainment in aid of the new Catholic school in Victoria Park. The programme will be most interesting.

MR. W. H. FRIDGOLD, notary public, has been appointed by the Registrar of Companies, Melbourne, as a member of the committee of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society.

MR. W. H. FRIDGOLD, notary public, has been appointed by the Registrar of Companies, Melbourne, as a member of the committee of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society.

OLD BOYS' GATHERING. Social to Mr. J. C. Hanna. Between 200 and 300 people attended the "Old Boys' Gathering" on Wednesday evening, at the Victoria Hall.

THE BATTLE OUTLOOK. AFTER three weeks' pounding at each other, the opposing armies of France are still in position, with shrapnel and dead men lying in the spaces between.

M. W. H. Smith, secretary of the Northern Tramway Extension League, has been notified that evidence in support of the proposal for the extension of the tramway from the Victoria Street to the High Street station, Carlton, at 10 o'clock a.m. on Friday, 9th inst.

On Wednesday next the pupils of Westleigh College, assisted by leading members of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society, will give a patriotic concert at the Northcote Town Hall.

On Monday at 10 o'clock a meeting of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society will be held on Monday at 10 o'clock a.m. in the school hall, in connection with the service, which begins at 3 p.m.

Princess Alice and Loyd Macartney, L.O.A.G., held a social in the Northcote club on Tuesday evening, which proved a great success. The committee of the evening was presided over by the Hon. J. Macartney, P.M., M.L.C., M.H.R., M.P.

There is a good deal of sickness about Northcote at present. Mr. Fred Wallis, of Station Street, who has been suffering for some time with a complaint of the chest, is at present recovering.

RETURNING TRAVELLERS. In connection with other sea-travellers these days Mr. J. A. Walker, returned from the north coast on the "Tasmanian" which left the port of Melbourne on the 23rd of last month.

ADVENTUROUS VOYAGES. Mr. J. A. Walker, who returned from the north coast on the "Tasmanian" which left the port of Melbourne on the 23rd of last month, is at present in the city.

At the St. Hilary, Northcote, to-night, there will be a grand entertainment in aid of the new Catholic school in Victoria Park. The programme will be most interesting.

MR. W. H. FRIDGOLD, notary public, has been appointed by the Registrar of Companies, Melbourne, as a member of the committee of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society.

MR. W. H. FRIDGOLD, notary public, has been appointed by the Registrar of Companies, Melbourne, as a member of the committee of the Northcote branch of the Red Cross Society.

Wanted to Buy. Bags and Sacks of all descriptions. City prices given. Post cards attached to 4 Mitchell Street, Northcote (next I.G. Garage).

BRACE, Seedling Grower, Carey's, 146 Seeling, Onon, Celery, Tomatoes, etc. 9 to 10.30. Also handles, best kinds of all kinds of plants properly cultivated. No. 9 Dandenong Rd., Northcote.

NORTHCOVE SCHOOL OF MUSIC. Principal: Mrs. Leonard Baker. The annual concert by Mrs. Leonard Baker's pupils was given in the Northcote hall on Wednesday evening, previous years. Mrs. Baker has always been most successful in her teaching.

NORTHCOVE THEATRE. The management announce that arrangements have been made for an extensive supply of pictures during the week, including "The Secret of the Tomb" and "The Man from Snowy Mountain."

WHEELS ACROSS SIBERIA.

No. 2: THE TRAIN.

By Will W. Rock.

The progress of science is a wonderful thing. Though you may have doubt...

And, here at home with his pal Stevens...

The first-class cars are provided throughout with two-bath compartments...

Being accustomed to speak the truth as often as possible, I must state that the second-class...

The most important car on the train is the Wagon Restaurant.

T. F. MAIN & CO., Proprietors. Craig's Lane, Melbourne.

T. F. LEPLASTRIER, THE ECLIPSE Electrical Contractor.

Electric Lighting. CONSULT me before proceeding with your installation.

and a chef de restaurant, whose chief duties seem to consist of presenting bills to passengers...

It is a luxury business, the crossing of two continents by rail...

As the cars are heavy, and the rate of speed is not greater than 20 miles an hour...

Mr. W. C. Innes, 10 Alfred Street, Leederville, Perth, W.A.

Electricians. NORTHCOTE'S LEADING ELECTRICIANS.

Robertson & O'Donnell, Contractors for Electric Power Installation.

J. L. Newbigin & Co., ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR.

T. F. MAIN & CO., Proprietors. Craig's Lane, Melbourne.

T. F. LEPLASTRIER, THE ECLIPSE Electrical Contractor.

W. F. Pridgeon. Begs to advise that he is now carrying on the well-known business conducted for the past 25 years in High Street, Northcote...

Note Address: 391 High St., Northcote. Telephone, Northcote 163.

BURGESS BROS. BUILDERS. 30 STOTT STREET, NORTHCOTE.

J. BAKER, DYER AND CLEANER, 661 HIGH ST., THORNBUARY.

STAR OF NORTHCOTE TENT, No. 217, meets at Recheville Hall, Westbourne Grove, alternate Thursdays.

T. F. MAIN & CO., Proprietors. Craig's Lane, Melbourne.

Shoes for YOU! We have every kind of Footwear to fit man, woman, and child. Robert Hurst, 293A HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE.

Preston Motor Garage, HIGH STREET, PRESTON. CARS FOR HIRE. REPAIRS AND ACCESSORIES.

J. A. BOSTOCK, 481 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. HAY & CORN, WOOD & COAL.

J. T. COLES & Co's. THE CASH GROCERS. Note our City Prices: Use Coles' Flour, 4 1/2d...

McGeorge Bros., Subdivisional Land Salesmen. Auctioneer to Town of Coburg, and Shire of Preston.

GROCERIES. Just a Few of our Prices: 12lbs. Sugar, 2/7 1/2...

A. F. HOLZER, Corner Normanby Avenue and High Street, THORNBUARY.

STERLING SOAP. ASK YOUR GROCER FOR STERLING SOAP. PUREST AND BEST.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE. (Workers' Compensation Act 1914).

ERNEST LEES, AUCTIONEER AND SWORN VALUER. 307 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE.

W. Freebairn & Co. (SWORN VALUER). HOUSE AND LAND AGENTS.

Membrey & Deane. AUCTIONEER, ESTATE, FINANCIAL AND INSURANCE AGENTS.

PRESTON PROPERTY AGENCY. A. ROBERTSON, ESTATE, INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL AGENT.

E. H. SMITH, LAND, ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENT. 499 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE.

ESTATE AGENTS. S. G. Youren & Son. HEIDELBERGER, ALPHINGTON.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT. F. W. MOLYNEUX. Withes to intimate to the Residents of Thornbury...

You Get only the Finest Quality Cooked Meats and Dairy Produce at Mayer's Quality Shops.

W. H. SMITH, Tailor & Costumier, 101 SWANSTON ST., MELBOURNE.

Miss C. McTaggart, Thornbury Laundry. Lace Curtains and Blankets a Speciality.

Plenty Rd. & Garnett St., Arch. Wilkinson, Tailor and Mercer.

A Handsome Home. We stock everything needed by the Modern Home.

S. N. ADAMS CASH GROCER. HAVING purchased the business of J. T. COLES & Co., at 302 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE...

Thornbury Ham and Beef Shop. And hopes that by stocking the Best of Goods, and giving Satisfaction...

Church Notices.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH, NORTHCOLE. Sunday Services: 8 a.m., Holy Communion. 11 a.m., Rev. A. C. KELLAWAY, M.A. 7 p.m., Dr. C. H. KELLAWAY.

Music.

NORTHCOLE SCHOOL OF MUSIC, Opposite Town Hall. Principal: Mrs. LEONARD BAKER. PIANO, THEORY, Etc.

Law.

MADDOCK, JAMIESON, AND LONIE, SOLICITORS AND CONVEYANCERS. 136 and 138 Queen Street (between Bourke and Little Collins Streets), Melbourne.

The Leader

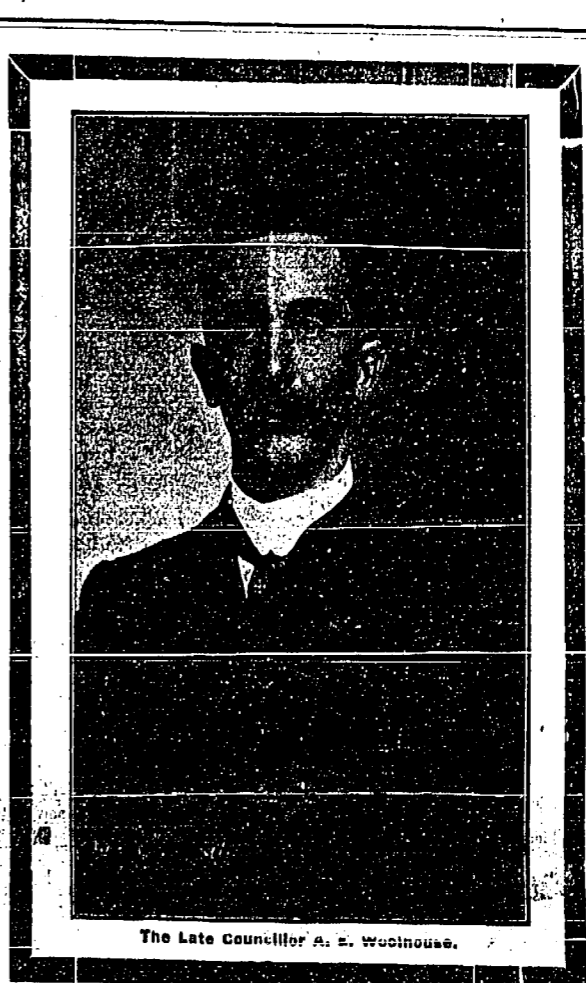

Published every Saturday Morning. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10. COMPULSORY INSURANCE. EVERY employer of labor in Victoria has an added responsibility this month.

LOCALISMS

The Melbourne Motor-Omnibus Co., Limited, has established a motor bus service from Fitzroy and Northcote to Melbourne on Sunday mornings starting from near the Merri Creek bridge.

SUNDAY WITH HIS GRACE.

BENSONS AND BUILDINGS. A SUNLIT INTERLUDE. Some Interludes. To have new presbytery and new school, together with old church (and building space for new one), situated near the Merri Creek bridge.

The Late Councillor A. E. Woolhouse.

Cr. A. E. Woolhouse, of Northcote, died suddenly on Wednesday afternoon. He was 65 years of age and had been a member of the Northcote Council for many years.

PATRIOTIC ITEMS.

Northcote patriotic fund.—Amount previously acknowledged, £129 3s 6d. The coronation of Pope Benedict XV. will be celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Northcote, at the half-past ten on Sunday morning.

CHURCH NEWS.

The coronation of Pope Benedict XV. will be celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Northcote, at the half-past ten on Sunday morning. The Rev. C. Anthony, of Northcote, is taking service on Sunday at St. Joseph's Church, Northcote.

THE LEADER

Published every Saturday Morning. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10. COMPULSORY INSURANCE. EVERY employer of labor in Victoria has an added responsibility this month.

October 10, 1914.

LONDON AND THE WAR.

SCENES AND SENSATIONS. THE RUSH TO ARMS.

LONDON, Wed., August 12. We talk about the immobility of the East, the changelessness of the leopard's spots, of the Ethiopian skin, the immutability of the Jap, the patience of the almond-eyed Chinese, the stolidity of the Spartans, the rock constancy of the Red Indian. But since the world has had there ever been a race with the stable equilibrium of the Britons? asks the London representative of Sydney "Sun". I defy you to find a more constant Londoner than any man you choose and obtain clear proof that England is at war with Germany, except it be in the war specialties shouted by the newspapers. On Friday and Saturday there was a dislocation of the life of London. There were more people in the streets, there were less business transacted. Nine-tenths of the people were engaged in the possibilities of the war, ten-tenths of the people were killing the Kaiser with their mouths, and a few joyous themselves thinking the National Anthem at Buckingham Palace or in Trafalgar Square. But all that initial excitement has disappeared. London has returned to the normal even tenor of its existence. The sprawling congregations of cities have metaphorically taken a hitch in their waist-belt and are settling down to the death-grapple struggle with resolute determination. There is no money for luxuries, there is little spare cash for expensive amusements. This is always the dull season for the theatres. It is just a little duller than usual. Some firms are cruelly retrenching, but the vast majority are putting their hands on half-pay, and thus keeping them in employment. The initial furore is recalled with shame. The plentifulness of provender if it is only sagaciously husbanded. There are hard times ahead, there is hardship already, but it is being borne with fortitude, and the unbattered Englishman is plodding along in his own self-contained, solid way, willing to take the brunt of the world's burden on his broad shoulders, but determined to exact an unforgettable reckoning from the peace-keeping Kaiser.

GERMAN SPIES INVADE ENGLAND.

THEIR METHODS DESCRIBED. HOW INFORMATION IS GAINED.

England, it is practically admitted, received special attention during the last few years from German spies, who took most daring risks. Six months ago one German agent was actually circulating British naval officers. His "employer" was represented as a publishing firm about to revise a naval work of reference. There was, the letter explained, an "attractive lack of news about torpedoed ships." British officers were asked to supply the necessary facts, and they need only provide simple facts in accordance with army regulations, but they must give attention. In every instance, I am glad to say, the households which have been invaded have made themselves better the King's Regulations, and the men are living on the fat of the land. As the majority of them have come from small and sparsely furnished homes, they are arriving better than they have ever done in their lives. The personal responsibility thus thrust upon citizens in good circumstances has made them more than anything else what is meant even in a country which is sufficiently fortunate to be enjoying peace. When they go out and they see soldiers having a rough exercise in Hyde Park, and tents pitched on the Oval, and the Y.M.C.A. splendid building in Oxford-street crowded with "military" warriors, and when they notice that the Guards-parade at Buckingham Palace is now only a shadow of its real self, they appreciate the call which has been made upon the Mother Country.

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

SOME OLD STANDBYS.

We hasten to assure. Be that as it may. This does not mean necessarily. Permit us to call attention to. We are compelled to state. Nothing is more vital. It is to be true—but still, admitting. The Italia era. Nothing is more certain than that. It is unnecessary for us to add. We freely grant. It ought to be obvious to anyone. We are rapidly approaching a crisis. It is of the first importance to. In our humble opinion. It cannot be too often emphasized. We are appalled to think. It is a matter of comment that. But why proceed any further along these lines? Enough has been said to convince. "Lagan-Namo" has another "tall" one in the "Bully": The flighty wife of to-day occasionally tries some pretty impossible stories, but a Papuan wife in the hazy long-gone invested in the "Bully" is the very thing. It appears that this woman had gone into the jungle with the expressed intention of getting pandanus palm fronds for the thatch of her domicile. She disappeared from that time for several months; and when she did reappear this is the tale she told: "While I was hunting my pandanus leaves a huge snake with his coils around my waist and dragged me away through the scrub to his place. When we arrived at the hole he made me lie so that he was able to twine one end of himself around a tree, and pull me head-first in through the hole. Here he kept me as his wife, all the time feeding me on parrots, tortoiseshells and cuscus (a species of opossum), which I had to eat raw. At daybreak three suns ago whilst the snake was away hunting, I cried, and cried, and so, so that this 'boy' who happened to be passing overhead, heard me, dug at the tree, and rescued me. We ran all the way, daring to linger for either food or sleep. I'm terrified lest the snake come and crush us all, even now." I inquired whether the husband accepted this explanation, and was assured that he did. It would seem that husbands were just as confiding and trustful then as they are now.

LADIES' LETTER.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

Commissioner Hay, of the Salvation Army, speaking to an audience about the war, said the Salvationists would pray God to smite swiftly and bring everlasting peace. Smite swiftly, Lord; this painful earth is torn. With hate, His wounds are red and gaping. Pierce his heart with a fiercer sword. Where crazy monarchs, drunken mad with pride, have sought the evil counsel of the sword. Smite swiftly, Lord. Wan woman faces a harder fate than death. Can loud-mouthed cannon drown their silent prayer? Assyrian hosts were withered by the breath Of Thy Great Angel, borne upon the air. Oh, now, at all barbaric Prussia's horde, Smite swiftly, Lord. The shattered roof-tree, falling in the flame, Where orphaned babies fill the world with cries, Makes mockery the worship of Thy Name. And smites me dimly through their streaming eyes. Those tender bodies by the bayonets scored. Smite swiftly, Lord. Two thousand years ago the world's life was drenched With that sweet blood of Thy Redeemer Son. Who faced the Cross and faltered not nor bleached, And all men's sins atonement found in One. To-day, let more of guiltless blood be poured. Smite swiftly, Lord. Thy world, by madness plunged in holocaustic fire, All bruised and bleeding from the cruel rod. That takes no heed of any human life, Makes sad petition to the All-Wise God. Whose loving doctrines have been all ignored. Smite swiftly, Lord. War wraps the nations in a hateful night. Where each stabs blindly at an unseen foe. Oh, place it with a thrusting spear of light, And save them from their agony and woe. Despair strikes sharply on this quivering chord. Smite swiftly, Lord.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

EXPLAINING ACCENT.

At a trial between two London music publishers before the Court of King's Bench in 1813, the matter in dispute being a violation of the copyright in the song of "The Old English Gentleman," Thomas Cooke, a composer of some note in his day, was subpoenaed as an expert witness. On cross-examination, Sir James Scarlett questioned him as follows:—"Now, sir, you say that the two melodies are the same, but different. What do you mean by that?" "I said that the notes in the two copies were alike, but with different accents. The one being in common time, the other in six eight time, and consequently the position of the accented notes was different." "Now, pray, sir, don't beat about the bush but explain to the jury, who are supposed to know nothing about music, the meaning of what you call accent." "Certainly," said Cooke. "Accent in music is the stress laid upon a particular note, in the same manner as you would lay stress upon a word, for the purpose of being understood. Thus, if I were to say, 'You are an ass,' it would be, 'You are an ass, it rests on you, Sir James.'"

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

KEEP ON SINGING.

When trouble comes, don't let despair Add to the burden you must bear, But keep up heart and smiling, say, "The darkest cloud must pass away." Don't say, "Why is it?" with a frown, And go with heart and head bowed down. But lift them both, and let your eyes Behold the sunshine in the skies. Don't sit and brood o'er things gone wrong, But sing a hopeful, helpful song. Or whistle something light and gay, And thus drive half your cares away. Sing of the pleasant things life knows; Not of the thorns, but of the rose. Each life knows some joy every day, Sure as December leads to May. 'Tis he who sings when trouble's here From trouble has not much to fear; Since it will never tarry long When about her heels it with a brood. Don't sit and brood o'er things gone wrong, But sing a hopeful, helpful song. Or whistle something light and gay, And thus drive half your cares away. Sing of the pleasant things life knows; Not of the thorns, but of the rose. Each life knows some joy every day, Sure as December leads to May. 'Tis he who sings when trouble's here From trouble has not much to fear; Since it will never tarry long When about her heels it with a brood.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

FARM HANDS OFFERED BRIDES.

Five girls as wives were offered as bait for harvesters by Ambrose Huntington, who owns a farm near Gilmer, Nebraska. Huntington, who is following signboard posted on the highway in front of his house:—"I need five harvest hands for more than a month. Wages 12s. a day, chicken once a day; washing, mending and a bed in the hay mow. Every worthy young man hired will have a chance to marry one of my five virgins. He who has more than one of them, he gets 150 acres of land thrown in. But let's get to making good in more ways than one." Fifty-three candidates for employment and prospective matrimony applied within a week. The five chosen ones were put to work in the wheat fields. The girls range in age from 15 to 25. None of the candidates were successful.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

FORTUNES FROM FEATHERS.

The development of the ostrich-rearing industry in South Africa is being regarded with the greatest satisfaction by people in other countries interested in the ostrich. A wealthy ostricher in South Africa has recently secured a homestead in South Africa where one will not hear people talking of the profits of ostrich farming, and there is no doubt that ostrich farming has a bright future. It is productive of good profit. In twelve months 547,700 lbs. of ostrich feathers, valued at 2,150,000, were exported from South Africa, and these figures are steadily rising. As a matter of fact, this really wonderful export industry has been the cause of the distribution of upwards of two million pounds among the people of the Cape. And even though the output is still increasing and promises to increase at an even greater rate later, this marvellous market still bears up, says the "East African Standard." The ostrich-rearing industry has established hundreds, upon thousands, of persons on the land who could never have succeeded but for the ostrich. Ostriches can be reared on pastures and naturalised veld, which would be quite insufficient for cattle. And the difference between driving livestock to markets, across mountains and plains, is vast when compared with the fact that a year's crop of feathers from an ostrich can be taken out in a Cape cart drawn by a pair of horses. According to the latest results that have been obtained, it appears that a good plucking bird can lay income generally dependent upon three crops of feathers in two years, and as an acre of heath will easily carry three birds, the profit is enormous. It is a good business, and a quite sound, taking one season with another. Ostrich farmers in South Africa have now acquired such an edge on the competition that by judicious selection and mating they are able to send feathers to market which command very high prices. It is found that birds which are bred from the best parents, and which are reared in the best conditions, which is one of the secrets of successful ostrich farming. A peasant likes the silver lining of every cloud to see if it is real.

THE RUSH TO ARMS.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

EXPLAINING ACCENT.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

KEEP ON SINGING.

FARM HANDS OFFERED BRIDES.

FORTUNES FROM FEATHERS.

SMITE SWIFTLY, LORD!

THE TURMOL

By PAUL URQUHART.

Published by arrangement with Ward, Lock & Co. Ltd., London, and Melbourne.

All Rights Reserved.

CHAPTER XIV.

It must have been something like five hours later that I recovered consciousness. To my surprise, I found that I was lying on the sofa in the salon—a not very comfortable sofa, for the first Empire furniture was constructed with a view rather to department than ease.

In spite of my splitting headache, and my aching limbs, I was sensible enough to feel surprise at finding myself there. To my surprise, I found that I was lying on the sofa in the salon—a not very comfortable sofa, for the first Empire furniture was constructed with a view rather to department than ease.

I sat up unsteadily, and pouring myself out nearly half a tumbler of brandy, I drank it off. I felt the immediate effects. The strong dose revived my strength and brought my brain back to a condition approaching clarity.

I was glad I had brandy there, for it gave me back some of my usual coolness and small powers of calculation. I had to decide there and then, on the spur of the moment, whether I was to play. I had to decide whether I dared any longer pose before M. Hanoteaux as the brainless dupe after the events of the previous night.

I purposely made several abortive attempts to stir up indignation in my eye. M. Hanoteaux's cruel felicitous seemed to curl with contempt. "I ask for an explanation, monsieur, not an apology."

"I am sorry, monsieur," I murmured. "It is so jolly hard to say anything." The Danton-like brown deepened upon his brow.

"You are not very lucid, monsieur," I will endeavor to give you the information I wish to arrive at in another way. Where and how did you meet my ward?"

I'm an awful duffer at arranging these things, you know. What do you usually stay at?"

"The Bristol. George is sure to have taken her there. You may know her. She is there, and has her brought back."

"Monsieur Hanoteaux shook his head meditatively. "What time do you expect your servant back?"

"To-morrow, for certain," I replied promptly. "Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

was very pale, greeted me with a smile, and a fine assumption of being ignorant of all that had taken place during the last twenty-four hours.

"I could not see that," I said, "but I have an opportunity to hear from my own lips the story of my adventures, but I was not anxious to gratify her whim. With the arrival of the English, I had a plan in my head which I wished to execute.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

head with a little peering, inquisitive movement, towards all the corners of the hall, as if he himself that no one was watching us.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

grinaces of death, and staggered to his feet. They took the body away through the swing door, into the forbidden wing of the house. Hanoteaux, fingering his throat, followed with the rest of the terrified party. He had just witnessed, with my presence had been passed over. With my mind seething with horror and disgust, I walked across to the dining saloon, and opening the door, entered the room.

CHAPTER XVI. Madame Hanoteaux was still seated at the table, with a cup of coffee and a glass of champagne. I took my seat with her. She looked at me with a keen eye, and she knew nothing of the tragedy that had taken place in the hall not a minute before. To see her sitting there so completely surrounded by all the evidences of commonplace sensuality, aroused in my overwrought mind a feeling of uncontrollable disgust and repugnance.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

cream of the criminal quarters. It is a miniature hell, and your husband—

"Yes, my husband?" he interrupted. "What of him?"

"Your husband," I continued, unable to pause in my perilous narrative now that I was fully embarked on it, "is the arch-devil himself."

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

THE HAVOC WROUGHT BY ONE MAN.

Within the confines of Malrose, a mere gathering of buildings in the suburbs of the City of Oakland, California, there existed, previous to the early part of July, 1898, a factory known to the people of the Western States as the Western Fuse Works. From this factory fuse was shipped to all parts of the world, and on account of the recent gold excitement in Alaska its industry had hardly ceased its busy hum for a period of four months. On July 18, however, smoke ceased to pour forth from the factory smoke-stack, and about the premises a deadly silence reigned.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

HAPPY, LOVABLE GIRLS. If there is one trait more than another that should be assiduously cultivated by the girl who wishes to be successful in the world, it is her loyalty to her friends. That trait embodies many other estimable ones, and is the basis of a lovely and noble character.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

HOW TO GET HUSBANDS.

Where Girls and Men are Taught the Art of Courtship.

Professor William A. McKeever, head of the department of child welfare in the University of Kansas, recently declared that boys and girls should be taught the same way as they are taught to read and write. "The suppression of puppy love," he says, "has been one of our greatest mistakes. Boys and girls must be taught to love each other. Puppy love is an expression of heart-hunger which has an important influence upon the nature of boys and girls."

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

The question, "Who killed Cock Robin?" is answered by the country people in Buckinghamshire in a manner which darkens the character of the robin family. It is asserted that the young birds attack the old ones, fighting until the parent is killed. The birds are said to make a "cheeping" noise all the time they are together, and that when they see a young robin attack an old one over their door, and roll him over and over until he was left in a dying condition. The villagers say that it is a clear case of old birds being annually made, it is seldom that the bodies are found.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

KITCHEN WRINKLES.

To remove rings from a finger swollen by frost-bites, dip the finger in ice-cold seawater.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

LOVE CURE BY SUGGESTION.

Dr. Berillon, of Paris, asserts that psychosomatic (soul) cure is the medicine of the future. He does not put his patients into a hypnotic trance, but creates an environment which creates the appetite for sleep and invites them to repose on a bed and think of nothing. Then he leaves them to their own devices, and suggests to them the cure of their ailment.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

CURE FOR SMOKING.

How many of our readers know that acid-drops are a certain cure for the smoking habit? Try them, you are anxious to get out of the habit, and see if you haven't seen an advertisement strong enough to make you refuse a sixpenny cigar.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

"I have a plan in my head which I wished to execute. Without coming on the light, I changed my shoes for a pair of boots and, putting on a thick overcoat and cap, I went to the window. Opening it, I peeped out. Here was a means of escape which the enemy had thoughtlessly provided me. Grasping the window sill, I stepped out.

NORTHCOTE CITY COUNCIL.

MONDAY, 5TH OCTOBER, 1914.

Present:—Cra. Tharratt, (Mayor), Hastings, Schwabach, Johnson, Hayer, Redmond, Mason, Lees, Dennis, Woolhouse, Plant.

Approved by resolution of Cra. Henderson, McDowell, and Smith, for non-attendance.

The minutes of last meeting and outgoing letters were read and approved.

The Mayor of Hawthorn, who was present, was accommodated with seat on the platform.

From M. B. V., intimating that rights of way submissions should be made thorough and not less than 15 feet in width.—Referred to committee of the whole.

From Railway Department, intimating that the Council is alone responsible for the maintenance of the tramway along Queen's road, and moved that the consent of the Council be asked to maintain the road surface of the new crossing.—Referred to committee of the whole.

From Victorian Railways, per Hon. J. G. Memery, stating that the Commissioners, after personal inspection of Northcote station, and keeping a record of the blockages occasioned to traffic, regretted they could not see their way to build an overhead bridge, while a subway would be the only alternative taken just now.—Referred to committee of the whole. Cr. Hastings expressing regret that the Commissioners had apparently not considered it from one standpoint.

From Education Department, per Hon. J. G. Memery, forwarding statement for State school purposes, and asking a recommendation from the Council.—Referred to committee of the whole.

From Parliamentary Standing Committee on Railways, stating that evidence would be heard from Northcote Council on Friday, 9th inst., regarding the proposed Northcote and Preston tramway, and enclosing questions.—The questions to be considered at a special committee meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening.

From Metropolitan Fire Brigade, stating that erection of fire alarm at corner Clyde and Wales streets, Northcote, would be considered when framing next estimates.—Received.

From City of Fitzroy, intimating that matter of beautifying Merril Street would be considered with the annual estimates.—Received.

From conference on the Rating of Gas Mains, asking if the Council would endorse a motion passed to appoint a committee to assess the rateable value in each municipality.—Held over till next meeting.

From Melbourne Motor Omnibus Co., Ltd., intimating establishment of a service to Northcote on Saturday morning starting from the boundary between Fitzroy and Northcote.—Received.

From Smith and Sons, Northcote, urging recommendation that rates charged for branding calves.—Referred to committee of the whole.

From various insurance agents, giving particulars of various fire and marine insurances.—Referred to finance committee.

From Ernest R. Graham, secretary of Prince of Wales Park Men's Club, asking for forwarding protest allowing picture entertainments to be given on Sundays.—Received.

From W. Willis, secretary of E. W. P. A., asking that ground at corner of Basting street and Waterloo road might be reserved for a "children's playground." He informed the Council has no power to grant the request.

From C. J. Lee, Thornbury, drawing attention to state of footpath at corner of Basting street, and asking repairs; also that a lamp be placed at the corner of Hobson and Smith streets.—Referred to public works committee.

From S. Brett, requesting improvement of the right-of-way at the rear of the north side of Beaconsfield parade, between Stuart and Winton streets.—Referred to Cr. Woolhouse, to see what can be done.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

On behalf of the public works committee, Cr. Mason, chairman, recommended that the Council should pay to £761 be passed for payment, and that the Council offer a reward of £25 for the conviction of any person breaking the provisions of the Public Works Act.

Also, that the necessary steps be taken preparatory to forming a "Beaver's road" from St. F. George's road to the western boundary of the city, and that the Metropolitan Police be asked to extend the "Beaver's road" to include tenements in Wilson street, and to the corner of purchasing a surveyor be noted with the estimates.—Approved.

Cr. Plant for the finance committee, presented recommendations of the accounts to amount of £288; that the matter of pay charges be made an order of the day for next meeting; that the Council gardeners be employed full time.—Approved.

THE FINANCES.

Cr. Plant laid on the table a statement of accounts, showing that the gross receipts in the general accounts and the receipts from the sale of surplus £27,874. The net overdraft was £2456, which compared with the total of £163 last year, showed the Council to be in a better position.

Also, that the necessary steps be taken preparatory to forming a "Beaver's road" from St. F. George's road to the western boundary of the city, and that the Metropolitan Police be asked to extend the "Beaver's road" to include tenements in Wilson street, and to the corner of purchasing a surveyor be noted with the estimates.—Approved.

Cr. Plant for the finance committee, presented recommendations of the accounts to amount of £288; that the matter of pay charges be made an order of the day for next meeting; that the Council gardeners be employed full time.—Approved.

THE FINANCES.

Cr. Plant laid on the table a statement of accounts, showing that the gross receipts in the general accounts and the receipts from the sale of surplus £27,874. The net overdraft was £2456, which compared with the total of £163 last year, showed the Council to be in a better position.

Also, that the necessary steps be taken preparatory to forming a "Beaver's road" from St. F. George's road to the western boundary of the city, and that the Metropolitan Police be asked to extend the "Beaver's road" to include tenements in Wilson street, and to the corner of purchasing a surveyor be noted with the estimates.—Approved.

Cr. Plant for the finance committee, presented recommendations of the accounts to amount of £288; that the matter of pay charges be made an order of the day for next meeting; that the Council gardeners be employed full time.—Approved.

THE FINANCES.

Cr. Plant laid on the table a statement of accounts, showing that the gross receipts in the general accounts and the receipts from the sale of surplus £27,874. The net overdraft was £2456, which compared with the total of £163 last year, showed the Council to be in a better position.

Also, that the necessary steps be taken preparatory to forming a "Beaver's road" from St. F. George's road to the western boundary of the city, and that the Metropolitan Police be asked to extend the "Beaver's road" to include tenements in Wilson street, and to the corner of purchasing a surveyor be noted with the estimates.—Approved.

Cr. Plant for the finance committee, presented recommendations of the accounts to amount of £288; that the matter of pay charges be made an order of the day for next meeting; that the Council gardeners be employed full time.—Approved.

ORDINARY BUSINESS.

Cr. Redmond said that his experience was very satisfactory. He was constantly using the phone, and had not the slightest cause for complaint.

Cr. Johnson's experience was not at all in a line with that of the last speaker. He had found great inconvenience in communicating through the exchange.

The motion was carried.

Cr. Woolhouse moved that the question of erecting a urinal on St. George's road be referred to the committee of the whole.

Cr. Redmond moved that the matter of severance of the east side of Hunter street be referred to the Metropolitan Board of Works.

Cr. Johnson moved for repairs of road in Eastmore street.—Carried.

Cr. Dennis moved that the necessary notices be served in connection with the construction of Charles street. Cr. Mason seconded.—Carried.

Cr. Dennis moved that the surveyor report on the best way of dealing with the drainage trouble at Bent's avenue.—Carried.

Cr. Redmond moved that the question of erecting lights in the various entries named be referred to the public works committee.—Carried.

Cr. Lees asked when the pitchees for Clarke street channelling would be available.

The surveyor replied that 920 had been made at the quarry, but 800 were required, and these would be made available when the quarry was again worked.

Cr. Lees moved and Cr. Plant seconded that the quarry committee bring up a recommendation in reference to opening the quarry.

Cr. Dennis moved as an amendment that the re-opening of the quarry be referred to the quarry committee, with the proviso that the quarry be opened.

Several streets were ready for metalling and tar-paving material was also required.

Cr. Redmond seconded the amendment, which was carried.

Cr. Woolhouse moved that the question of framing a by-law to regulate the hours for driving in the city be referred to the committee of the whole.

Many complaints had been made of noise of these animals up to 11 o'clock at night. He thought if a certain hour, say 7 o'clock, were fixed it would result in the pigs being carted in the morning.

Cr. Hastings seconded.

Cr. Lees pointed out that the pigs were drawn from the city and driven all over the city, and that it was inadvisable to put a tax on local industry in this way. He would vote against it.

The motion was carried.

Cr. Hayes, the question of filling in Clyde street was referred to the public works committee.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

On the motion of Cr. Redmond the hearing of objections to the construction of Darwin street, was adjourned to 2nd November.

The plans for the construction of Atkinson street, William street, Dixon street, Northcote, at the corner of Avenue, Goch street, Mary street, Leonard street, May street and Station street were adopted, after hearing one of two objections.

Re Merril Park water supply, the Fitzroy Cricket Club to be informed on Sundays.—Received.

Cr. Lees asked when the pitchees for Clarke street channelling would be available.

The surveyor replied that 920 had been made at the quarry, but 800 were required, and these would be made available when the quarry was again worked.

Cr. Lees moved and Cr. Plant seconded that the quarry committee bring up a recommendation in reference to opening the quarry.

Cr. Dennis moved as an amendment that the re-opening of the quarry be referred to the quarry committee, with the proviso that the quarry be opened.

Several streets were ready for metalling and tar-paving material was also required.

Cr. Redmond seconded the amendment, which was carried.

Cr. Woolhouse moved that the question of framing a by-law to regulate the hours for driving in the city be referred to the committee of the whole.

Many complaints had been made of noise of these animals up to 11 o'clock at night. He thought if a certain hour, say 7 o'clock, were fixed it would result in the pigs being carted in the morning.

Cr. Hastings seconded.

Cr. Lees pointed out that the pigs were drawn from the city and driven all over the city, and that it was inadvisable to put a tax on local industry in this way. He would vote against it.

The motion was carried.

Cr. Hayes, the question of filling in Clyde street was referred to the public works committee.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

SPEECH BY THE ARCHBISHOP.

The new presbytery and school, in connection with the Sacred Heart Church at Preston, were solemnly opened and opened on Sunday afternoon by His Grace the Archbishop of Melbourne, in the presence of a very large gathering of representative district residents.

The Rev. J. H. O'Grady, extended, on behalf of the parish, ten thousand welcomes to His Grace on the occasion of his first visit to Preston since it had been taken into parish. The parishioners deeply appreciated His Grace's presence, and desired to express their gratitude that the Archbishop had so graciously visited the parish, and so graciously blessing and occupying with the new school and presbytery buildings.

(Applause.)

The Archbishop, after a few words of welcome, but found himself in a difficult position, because of his long journey, and the Archbishop was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

LETTERS FROM HOME.

The following is a letter received from Mr. J. S. Wainwright, the week-end Hotel Anglo-American, Paris, Sunday, Aug. 23, 1914.

We are back again in Paris, but what a different Paris! A month ago the boulevards were thronged with the joyous throng of happy people, music seemed to be coming from every street, and the streets were filled with light-hearted people, music seemed to be coming from every street, and the streets were filled with light-hearted people.

When in Rome, for a time at least, we were going to stick up indifferently to the account of what was going on in the world of about a day beyond our scheduled time, the party (46 of us) made up of English, Americans, South Africans, and others, and we were to be in Rome, for a time at least, we were going to stick up indifferently to the account of what was going on in the world of about a day beyond our scheduled time.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

The Archbishop was warmly received on rising, and said that it was not often that he had been so warmly received, and that he was not in a position to give a long address, but he said that it was a case of "nothing to argue about" (laughter), and that the Archbishop had been prepared to give a long address, but he was not in a position to do so.

Northcote Leader

Circulating in Northcote, Preston, Thomastown, Epping, Diamond Creek, Arthur's Creek, Whittlesea, Fairfield, Heidelberg, Clifton Hill

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1914

Printed and published by the Proprietor, R. J. and J. S. WALLACE, at their office, 205 High Street, Northcote in the State of Victoria.

Krus's Fluid Magnesia
FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS, AND ACIDITY.

Keep the Rain Off!
HAVE your Umbrella Re-Covered and Made to Look Like NEW at Mrs. PALMER'S, 207 High Street, Northcote. New Stock of Fancy Goods, Stationery, Post Cards and School Requisites.

ORDER YOUR Printing and Stationery
at
"THE LEADER" OFFICE, NORTHCOTE.
Every description of work executed.
Phone, Northcote 46.

Ask Bosisto's "Parrot Brand" Eucalyptus Oil.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Announcements.

Farmers Farmers

JUST WHAT'S WANTED

HAY Cut for Farmers daily without notice—and no unnecessary waiting. This will save you both time and money.

HAY Bought in any quantity.

DANCING

MR. & MRS. CLEVELAND
Professors and Teachers of Refined Ballroom Dancing, give STRICTLY PRIVATE LESSONS, any hour, daily, evenings, and hold SUPERIOR ADULT BEGINNERS' CLASSES on Monday Evenings, 8 to 11. And on Tuesday Evenings Wednesday " Instruction, 7.30 to 8.30 Thursday " " 8.30 Friday " Practice from 8.30 Saturday " " 9.30 to 11. And on Saturday Afternoons, 3 to 5.30. At their Academy, No. 84 DRUMMOND ST., CARLTON. Call, Write, or Phone 5608. Prospectus Post Free.

R. B. LAWRENCE,
Dyer, Cleaner, and Feather Dresser.

A Suit or Dress Like New from 5s 6d

Illustrated Price-List and Address Labels sent Post Free.
Office and Works: Cunningham St., Northcote.
Melbourne—4 Elizabeth Street, 60 Swanston Street, Royal Arcade. All Suburbs.

Taps, Bathroom, and all other Sanitary Arrangements of Your House

Must be kept in perfect order if you would enjoy health and comfort this Summer—and always. Good work can be carried out only by a plumber who has had experience as well as scientific knowledge of modern plumbing methods. I have both.

For years I have given complete satisfaction to my customers and their recommendations are helping my business to grow. The same attention given to small and large jobs alike. My charges are very reasonable. Estimates free for all branches of the trade.

For Prompt and Reliable Plumbing Work come to

JOHN SHAW
HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE
Phone, Northcote 99

Astonishingly Easy for You to Furnish Your Home

Make no mistake, but determinedly persist in getting all Furniture from CLAUSCEN'S. We solve all furniture problems for you, save you heaps of anxiety and many pounds. Call and Enquire.

Couch Bargain
Fine roomy Couch, covered in Art Cretonne, in Floral, Stripes, or Plain Effects, reversible lid, new upholstery, extra special value. £45.

Diningroom Suite
Magnificent Solid Oak Diningroom Suite, nine pieces, six small, two large chairs, new design, new shaped seats, cushioned, upholstered, in the shade. £11.

Magnificent Grained Oak Bedroom Suite
To see this Suite is to buy it! It is easily the Finest Bedroom Furniture value in the State. Bevelled mirrors, each piece magnificently made. Look at the illustration and see how superbly it is designed and constructed. £14.

Clauscen's Furniture adorns thousands of homes. There is in our arcade a continual pageant of brilliant furniture showings. From back door to front, from roof to floor, you can furnish to your heart's content by coming to

CLAUSCEN'S
194-6 BOURKE ST., MELBOURNE

J. P. KELLAM,
CHAFFCUTTING MILLS,
PRODUCE MERCHANTS, &c.,
HIGH STREET, NORTH PRESTON
Telephone, Northcote 288

Announcements.

UNDER ENTIRELY NEW MANAGEMENT

The Regal Cafe
98 SMITH STREET, COLLINGWOOD.

Dinner from 12 to 2.
Ladies' Afternoon Tea a speciality

Choice Fruits in Season.
Only the Best Confectionery kept in stock.

SPERO & VLASOPULOS (late of Vienna Cafe), Proprietors.

E. J. KELLEY,
Builder and Contractor,
Corner Harold Street and Railway Avenue, Thornbury.

Will Build on Your Land, or Buy Land you choose, Houses your Own Design, or Sell you Houses just finished, double or single-fronted. Best material and workmanship.

CASH or TERMS
Plans Prepared.

SHAW & THORNTON,
Monumental and General Masons,
Granite and Marble Importers.

Inscriptions and other works done in Town or Country Cemeteries

High St., Northcote, opposite Brickworks
Private Address: 1 Armadale St., Northcote.
Designs and Estimates Submitted.

W. FIRTH,
GENERAL DRAPER.
844 SMITH STREET, COLLINGWOOD (Below Johnston Street).

C. WILLIAMS
WISHES to notify that he has commenced business as a Bookseller & Stationer at 365 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE (opposite London Bank).

Wedding and Birthday Cards and Post Cards in great variety. We specialise in Fountain Pens, all makes. Also at 315 Smith Street, Fitzroy.

College of Art Needlework

The Magnificent Stock of Fancy Goods, Plated Ware, Brushware, Ornaments, Art Needlework, Silks, Wools, Toys, &c., &c., shown at

Mrs. & Miss Walker's
always command attention.

Splendid Assortment of Ladies' Leather Bags. Quality the Best—Prices Reasonable.

Note Address: 205 High St., Northcote
Phone, Northcote 406

MISS JOHNSON, Ladies' Hairdresser, hair-rooms on the premises

Garth Omden
Saddles, Harness and Collar Manufacturer,
365 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE.

We have a full stock of Harness and Saddles, New and Secondhand.

All country orders are promptly attended to.
First Prizes at Local Shows.

Perfection Attained in Cooking
by using Adams's Margarine
for Cakes and Pastry

ALL LEADING STORES.

EDWARD FELLOWES,
Universal Carriage Works & Shoeing Forge
HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE (opposite Croxton Station)

LORRIES AND VEHICLES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BUILT, BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXCHANGED.

REPAIRS EFFECTED PROMPTLY AND SUBSTITUTES PROVIDED.

Horses (shod on the shortest notice by thoroughly experienced shoer) sent for and returned.

FOR HIRE (by day or night): Drags, Wagonettes, Abbot Buggies, Wagons, Jinkers, Spring Carts and Drays; also good reliable Horses and Ponies. Picnics and Parties specially catered for.

SMITH & SONS FAMOUS SMALL GOODS
SOLD EVERYWHERE

FACTORY: MERRIBANK, NORTHCOTE. TELEPHONE: 73, NORTHCOTE.

J. D. Stevens,
DAIRYMAN,
107 HELEN STREET, NORTHCOTE.

Milk straight from our own Farm. One Cow's Milk for Invalids and Children. Orders promptly attended to.

The Favor of your Patronage and Recommendation respectfully solicited.

"Yarrum" HIGH-GRADE TEAS

and Teas of inferior quality containing artificial flavoring which constitute the bulk of the Tea sold to the public.

"YARRUM" TEAS have a distinct, mild, malt flavor which at once appeals to your sense of taste and supplies that refreshing principle which you so much desire.

Grade I. Grade II. Grade III.
Specially-Selected An Ideal Family Tea The Last Word in Value
1/6 lb. 1/3 lb. 1/4 lb.

Sole Agent: W. J. MURRAY,
The Store for Good Groceries,
98 High St., Northcote South.
Phone, Northcote 630.

FRESH FROM THE OVEN
Choice of Small-goods always to be had now at

"THE ELITE"
Corner High Street and Shaftesbury Parade, Upper Northcote.

Newly Established by
H. DOREIAN,
PASTRYCOOK & CONFECTIONER.

Just sample and we know you will be pleased.

W. J. CLARK,
BAKER,
Is now carrying on business at 51 DARBYN ROAD, NORTHCOTE.

The very best articles, either in Bread or Small Goods, always to be relied on. Deliveries daily to all parts of Northcote. The favor of your patronage and recommendation respectfully solicited.

G. Chesswas,
LICENSED PLUMBER,
7 ELM STREET, NORTHCOTE.

Sewerage and General Plumbing Work of every description undertaken. WATER METERS FIXED. Estimates Given. Letters promptly attended to.

Your Boot Man

DIMMICK!

Big Stock! Small Prices! Extra Value!

NO CASBOARD

243 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE.

T. E. REDMOND
Ironmonger, Crockery, Oil and Color Merchant

Corner High and Dennis Sts., Northcote

"LET 'ER BUCK!—She Can't Break Graham's Harness."

FRANK GRAHAM,
Saddle, Harness and Collar Maker,
HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE. (Opposite Hattam's)

Large stock of Saddles, Also Ladies' Hand Bags, Furses, &c.

W. T. ROWE
(Over 17 years with F. Yarrum, also large English Experience)
COACHBUILDER, WHEELWRIGHT and GENERAL BLACKSMITH
Corner of HIGH and DUNDAS STS., UPPER NORTHCOTE. (opposite Tram Terminus, Preston).

Buggies, Jinkers, Wagons, Drays, and Carts of every description built on the most reasonable terms. Repairs promptly executed. Vehicles bought, sold and exchanged. Horses carefully shod, called for and returned. Best materials used. All work guaranteed.

A. F. LUKE,
COACHBUILDER,
Agricultural and General Blacksmith,
HIGH STREET, PRESTON (opposite Hattam's)

Repairs of every description. Bells Repaired, Sold or Exchanged. Coachpainting and Trimming Done. Horses Carefully Shod, Called for and Returned. All Work Guaranteed. Rubber Tyres Fitted.

Watkins & Julian,
CARPENTERS AND JOINERS
Jobbing and House Repairs done at the shortest notice.

Metal Shop Fronts, Show Cases, &c., a Speciality.

A card to 49 BARRY ST., NORTHCOTE, will receive prompt attention. Estimates Free

FOSTER'S LAGER

Read and Advertise in
The Leader
Largest Circulation of any Local Newspaper in the Northern Suburbs

J. E. Thomson,
PLUMBER and GASFITTER
223 HIGH STREET, PRESTON.

Plumbing in all branches attended to. Estimates for Sewerage Connections. Gas and Water Laid On. Water Meters Fixed. Pumps and Irrigation a Speciality.

The Housewife Economist

Speaking of Groceries!

THOSE who know say our prices speak for themselves.

† The goods, too, are first-class; guaranteed fresh, pure and wholesome as groceries can be.

† Prompt and thoughtful attention when you purchase at the shop; correct and careful delivery of the goods you buy.

† If it is inconvenient to visit us, phone Northcote 449 and our traveller will call.

A. F. Norton
High St. & Woolton Av. CROXTON

H. J. R. LEWIS,
UNDERTAKER
And CERTIFICATED EMBALMER,
HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE

Head Office: Corner Johnston & Herford Sts. Fitzroy.

Funerals conducted at the low-est possible rates. Hearse, Mourning Coaches, and Funeral Requisites. The trade supplied.

Telephone 6258.

NEW DESIGN "Economist" Gas Stoves

IMPROVEMENTS:
Taps at side, which enables a tray to be put in from the front to catch liquids boiling over.
Browner light over top of oven to brown scones, etc.
Flame top of Roaster which, while grilling, toasting, or roasting in Roaster, also heats top Oven for baking scones, cakes, etc., so that both Oven and Roaster are heated with one burner.

Very Economical. Durable. Heats Instantly. A Splendid Baker.

At present made in one size: Size of Stove—24in. wide x 18in. deep x 29in. high. Oven—Width, 14in.; Depth 18in. Roaster—Width, 14in.; Depth, 14in. This stove Always a Big Seller.

Two top lights, 2s. Three top lights, 2s 8d.
(Bottom light under Roaster, 1s/6 extra)

Wallis Bros. & Co., 419 Bourke St.
(Opp. Kirk's Bazaar). Factory: PRESTON.

FOLLOW THE CROWD TO BARKER'S SCHOOL SHOP (Late Kay's).

Where Scholars are specially catered for in all School Requisites. Best of Confectionery and Summer Drinks. Drinks kept on Ice during Hot Weather. Post Cards, Stationery, and Haberdashery kept in stock. Best Brands of Smoker's Requisites, &c., &c.

159 HAWTHORN RD., NORTHCOTE

GAS COOKERS

The Modern Gas Cooker embodies every convenience and advantage for cooking food scientifically and efficiently. It saves work, saves time, saves gas, and the kitchen is always delightfully cool.

Order Your Gas Cooker To-Day! Metropolitan Gas Coy. 108 Flinders Street.

F. PIKE, General House Decorator, Painter, Signwriter, &c.
PLENTY ROAD, SOUTH PRESTON.

All kinds of Builders' Ironmongery, Limes, Cement, &c., stocked. Oils, Colours, Glass, &c., at lowest rates. The greatest as well as the largest Gas Undertaker. Estimates given for all kinds of House Repairs. Telephone, Croxton 30.

Established 1864.

W. G. APPS,
UNDERTAKER,
MOOR STREET, FITZROY,
High and Robe Streets, St. Kilda, Beach, Burgoyne St., Heidelberg, Park, Sandridge St.

Wanted to Buy
BOTTLES, Boxes, Glass, Lead, Brass and Copper. Highest prices given. Cash on delivery. Letters receive prompt attention. H. Roberts, Northcote, Phone, 6258.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM KOREA.

The following letter has been received from Chinju, Korea, from a lady missionary, who previously to entering the mission field, resided at Box Hill...

CHURCH NEWS.

Northcote Baptist Church.—Sunday morning's theme will be "The Corset of Faith and Love," being Paul's application of a striking military term...

CRICKET.

NORTHCOLE V. MELBOURNE. FIRST ELEVEN. There was a large attendance at the Northcote Park last Saturday to witness the concluding day's play with Melbourne...

Announcements

Stott & Bastings Auctioneer, Estate Agents, Sworn Valuer, Insurance Agents. LIST OF PROPERTIES ON EASY TERMS AT OFFICE: 203 High St., Northcote.

Amusements

NORTHCOLE THEATRE. EVERY EVENING AT 8. A PERFECT GALOP OF STARS. NOW SHOWING. A THREE-REEL "FILM" COMEDY, MY FRIEND FROM INDIA, MY FRIEND FROM INDIA.

Announcements

JOHN SHAW, SAND AND GENERAL CARTER, 329 HIGH ST., NORTHCOLE. Manure, Garden Soil, Filling, Metal, Screenings, Ashes, Gravel, Curram, Frankston, and Preston Pix 28 Crawley St., Preston, Manager.

Public Notice

Having severed my connection with J. Shaw, and after six and a half years' experience of the requirements of the Building Trade and General Contracting...

American Lady Corsets. represent an infinite number of designs, some reflecting the latest and most ultra features of fashion...

Hattam & Hattam High St., Northcote Tel., Northcote 268. Private House Wiring for Electric Light, Heating, Cooking, Fans, Bells, Telephones...

The Very Latest Styles in the Newest Popular Fabrics. There will be hundreds of styles offered to young men this season...

Do YOU Buy Pure Groceries? Do you know whether the goods you Grocer sells you are pure? It's largely a matter of trusting him...

WEDDINGS. A pretty wedding was celebrated at Methodist church, High street, Northcote, on Saturday, 22nd August...

WEDDINGS.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Baptist church, on Saturday afternoon, 8th October, when Miss Ethel Maud Panther, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Panther...

CLUB ELEVEN.

The club eleven concluded their match with the Wesleyan Ramblers last Saturday. Scores: Wesleyan Ramblers, 10; Club Eleven, 1.

V.J.C.A. (FIRST GRADE).

PRESTON V. WEST HAWTHORN. This match was concluded at James' Park last Saturday, Preston winning by 21 runs on the first innings...

Star of Northcote I.O.R.

The fortnightly meeting was held in the tent room on Thursday evening, the 8th inst., Bro. J. Angus, C.R., presiding over a good number of members...

Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the Election of One Councillor for the West Ward of the City of Northcote will be held on Monday, the 22nd day of November, 1914...

East Ward Progress Association.

The annual meeting was held on Saturday, 10th inst., Mr. W. Findlay occupying the chair. Mr. Jones reported that in a game of bowls with the I.O.R., the association had been victorious...

Pride of Northcote Yacht I.O.R.

The Northcote Yacht Club celebrated the eleventh anniversary by a social evening in the Rechaboth hall on Tuesday evening, there being a large number of guests...

Fire.

A fire occurred at 91 Henry street, Clifton Hill, on Thursday evening at a warehouse occupied by Mr. G. Harcourt...

Land for Sale

LYONVILLE ESTATE, PRESTON. First Subdivision of the Property of the late J. LYONVILLE—182 Grand Frontages...

Removed

MAURICE COLLINS Furniture Warehouse, Carpet and Linoleum Fitters, Plaster, &c. From 213 and 250 High St., Northcote, to Corner High and Elm Streets, Northcote.

MOA ROAD RACE

will be held on SATURDAY, 31st OCTOBER, 1914. FOR RIDERS OF "MOA" CYCLES. PRIZES: 1st, Gold Medal with Diamond, 2nd, Gold Medal...

That Dread Devastator

FIRE! Still Demands TOLL. A few shillings a year guarantee you against the losses of your house and contents.

Do YOU Buy Pure Groceries?

Do you know whether the goods you Grocer sells you are pure? It's largely a matter of trusting him. Get your groceries here and eliminate all risk in the matter...

WHEELS ACROSS SIBERIA.

No. 3.—THE TRACK. By Will W. Rock.

Out through a tunnel in the hills of Vladivostok, along a fringe of the Pacific, on over a long plain, sweeping in great waves to the horizon...

companion would be from the U.S.A. He is unspookily bored with the whole trip.

CRICKET.

NORTHCOTE V. STH. MELBOURNE. This match was commenced last Saturday before a large crowd of spectators.

Table showing cricket scores for St. George's Road Methodists v. Nth. Melbourne Methodists. Includes names of players like McDonald, Stewart, and scores.

Both matches will be resumed to-day. The club eleven played a match last Saturday against Northcote at the Merril park.

PRISTON V. FITZROY FOOT-BALLERS. This match was commenced last Saturday at the Merril Park.

SECOND GRADE V.I.C.A. Preston v. Collingwood District. Commenced at Preston last Saturday.

NORTHERN TRAMWAY EXTENSION LEAGUE. A Meeting of the above will be held in the Albion Hotel on Thursday, 29th inst., at 8 o'clock.

Wanted. Just leaving school, J. P. How and Co., Tappers, High St., Preston.

BOWLING.

A PENNANT. Thornbury v. Melbourne, played at Windsor.

Northcote v. Kew, played at Kew, Thornbury, 96. Pepper, Turner, Bartley, Masson, 19.

Eden Park. On Wednesday, the 14th inst., the Hon. Mr. Livingston Mitchell, Education, accompanied by Mr. A. R. Robertson, M.L.A., motored out to Eden Park.

Eden Park. The new building was with a drawing of flags, while the ladies spared no efforts in making the display of the new premises.

Wanted. Ad. Just leaving school, J. P. How and Co., Tappers, High St., Preston.

Wanted. Ad. Just leaving school, J. P. How and Co., Tappers, High St., Preston.

Wanted. Ad. Just leaving school, J. P. How and Co., Tappers, High St., Preston.

NORTHCOTE CITY COUNCIL.

MONDAY, 19TH OCTOBER. Present—Cr. Tharratt (Mayor), Aldermen: Glass, Dwyer, Miller, Redmond, Henderson, McDowell, Hayes, Schwabach, Johnson and Bastings.

Cr. Tharratt (Mayor) presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Announcements.

Stott & Bastings. Auctioneers, Estate Agents, Sworn Valuers, Insurance Agents.

203 High St., Northcote. Station Street, Fairfield. High St., Upper Northcote.

The Best Medium for Real Estate in Northern Suburbs.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Cr. Henderson presented a report from the Public Health Officer regarding the extension of the water supply.

Amusements.

NORTHCOE THEATRE. EVERY EVENING AT 8. MATINEE TO-DAY AT 2.30.

THE POINT OF MISSING MEN. A Famous Story of Romance, Adventure, and Intrigue.

GRAND OPENING: SATURDAY, 24th OCTOBER (Derby Night).

THE NORTHCOTE CITY CARNIVAL. THE NORTHCOTE CITY CARNIVAL. Will be given by His Grace ARCHBISHOP MANNIX.

CITY OF NORTHCOTE. NUMBERING HOUSES. The Ratesayers are hereby requested to note that the Council's numbering officer is Mr. A. T. Hatton.

CITY OF NORTHCOTE. REWARD. Notice is hereby given that a Reward of £20 will be paid for information that will result in the conviction of any person who may damage or break any of the Council's Electric Light Lamps.

CITY OF NORTHCOTE. EXTRAORDINARY ELECTION OF ONE COUNCILLOR. WEST WARD.

CITY OF NORTHCOTE. REWARD. Notice is hereby given that a Reward of £20 will be paid for information that will result in the conviction of any person who may damage or break any of the Council's Electric Light Lamps.

Notices.

THE Salvation Army Brass Band will render Musical Programme at Northcote Park on Hospital Sunday (25th October), at 3 p.m.

PRESTON CHILDREN'S SEASIDE EXCURSION. To Balance ... £18 10 10. Interest ... 8 4.

MISS SCARFE, ARTIST IN MILLINERY. Will Open Next Week at 224 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE.

G. Chesswas, LICENSED PLUMBER, HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE.

C. A. PAGE, LICENSED SANITARY PLUMBER, Corner High and Station Streets, NORTH PRESTON.

MAURICE COLLINS, Furniture Warehouseman, Carpet and Linoleum Factors, Piano, &c.

PERFECTION ATTAINED in Cooking by using Adams's Margarine for Cakes and Pastry.

HARRY IRELAND, The Private Financier, 155 Westbourne Grove, Northcote.

HENLEY and all it Means. TO most of us the big Regatta means not only a series of strenuous races, but the day of the year when Fashion's newest dictates are displayed and admired.

The Very Latest Styles in the Newest Popular Fabrics. There will be hundreds of styles offered to young men this season.

MOA ROAD RACE SATURDAY, 31st OCTOBER. For Riders of "MOA" CYCLES. PRIZES: 1st, Gold Medal with Diamond.

ERNEST LEE'S. 295 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. Tel., Northcote 64.

Northcote Leader

Circulating in Northcote, Preston, Thomastown, Epping, Diamond Creek, Arthur's Creek, Whittlesea, Fairfield, Heidelberg, Clifton Hill

ATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1914

Printed and published by the Proprietors, R. J. and J. S. Whalley, at their office, 399 High Street, Northcote in the State of Victoria.

ORDER YOUR
Printing and Stationery
at
"THE LEADER" OFFICE, NORTHCOTE.
Every description of work executed.
Phone, Northcote 46.

McRosisto's
"Parrot Brand" Eucalyptus Oil.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Announcements.

Farmers Farmers

JUST WHAT'S WANTED

HAY Cut for Farmers daily without notice—and no unnecessary waiting. This will save you both time and money.
HAY Bought in any quantity.

J. P. KELLAM,
CHAFFCUTTING MILLS,
PRODUCE MERCHANTS, &c.,
HIGH STREET, NORTH PRESTON
Telephone, Northcote 288

Carl Oldenburg,
Saddle, Harness and Collar
Manufacturer,
365 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE.

We have a full stock of Harness and Saddles, New and Secondhand
All country orders are promptly attended to.
First Prizes at Local Shows.

FRESH FROM THE OVEN
Choice of Small-goods always to be had now at
"THE ELITE"
Corner High Street and Shaftesbury Parade, Upper Northcote.

Newly Established by
H. DOREIAN,
PASTRYCOOK & CONFECTIONER.

Just sample and we know you will be pleased.

W. J. CLARK,
BAKER,
Is now carrying on business at 51 DAREBIN ROAD, NORTHCOTE.

The very best articles, either in Bread or Small Goods, always to be relied on. Deliveries daily to all parts of Northcote. The favor of your patronage and recommendation respectfully solicited.

J. E. Thomson,
PLUMBER AND GASFITTER
223 HIGH STREET,
PRESTON.

Plumbing in all branches attend to. Estimates for Sewerage Connections. Gas and Water Laid On. Water Meters Fixed.

Pumps and Irrigation a Speciality.

The Housewife Economist

Speaking of Groceries!

THOSE who know say our prices speak for themselves.

1 The goods, too, are first-class; guaranteed fresh, pure and wholesome as a grocery can be.

2 Prompt and thoughtful attention when you purchase at the shop; correct and careful delivery of the goods you buy.

3 If it is inconvenient to visit us, phone Northcote 440 and our travellers will call.

A. F. Norton
High St. & Woolton Av.
CROXTON

PUBLIC NOTICE

Having severed my connection with J. Shaw, and after six and a half years' experience of the requirements of the Building Trade and General Contracting manager for Heron & Parker, I have decided to start in business for myself under the name of T. JOHNS & CO. As a result of the experience gained over such an extended term, builders and contractors can rely on having all orders entrusted to me, executed promptly. Specialities: Sand, Gravel, Garden Soil, Metal and Screenings.

T. JOHNS,
Address: "Hillview," Dundas Street,
Preston.
Phone, Northcote 78.

Wanted to Buy
POULTRY of all kinds bought sold or exchanged. Highest prices given. Letters and post cards promptly attended to. W. Kay, Epping.

Fuel Merchants

J. A. Bostock,
481 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE,
The Oldest-Established
HAY & COIN, WOOD & COAL
MERCHANT in Northcote.

II AS on Sale all kinds of General Produce; also Firewood and Coal at Melbourne Prices.
Cut Green Bone, Velox Chick Feed, Pigeon Peas, Canary Seed and Sand, also Shell Grit for Poultry.
Agent for Northcote of Celebrated Sickle Brand of RETORTED CHARCOAL.

Telephone, Northcote 145.

J. KIDD,
Wood, Coal, & Coke Merchant,
480 High St., Northcote

ON SALE:
Chaff, Bran, Pollard, Maize, Wheat, Lucerne Pollard, Lucerne Chaff, Mill Sweepings.

J. SUTCH & SON

II AVE pleasure in announcing that they have opened as Wholesale and Retail PRODUCE and FUEL MERCHANTS at 40 ST. GEORGE'S ROAD SOUTH, NORTHCOTE, and have on Sale Chaff, Oats, Bran, Pollard, Wheat, Peas, Barley, Maize, Potatoes, Onions, &c.

Also Box Block and Split 2ft. and 1ft. 6in. Mixed Wood, Maize Roots, &c. and Coke.

Red Mixed Blocks, 21/6 ton Split, 25/- ton
By civility and attention to customers' requirements we hope to have the favor of your patronage.
Phone, Northcote 459.

K. KNUDSEN,
WOOD, COAL AND COKE
MERCHANT,
Corner
HIGH AND UNION STREETS,
SOUTH NORTHCOTE.

Wishes to thank his numerous customers for past patronage, and hopes for a continuance of same.
Best Box Blocks, Coal and Coke at Lowest Rates.

FURNITURE CAREFULLY
REMOVED.
Light Carting Done.

Announcements.

UNDER ENTIRELY NEW MANAGEMENT

The Regal Cafe

98 SMITH STREET,
COLLINGWOOD.

Dinner from 12 to 2.
Ladies' Afternoon Tea a speciality
Choice Fruits in Season.
Only the Best Confectionery kept in stock.

SPERO & VLASPOULOS (late of Vienna Cafe), Proprietors.

E. J. KELLEY,

Builder and Contractor,
Corner Harold Street and Railway Avenue, Thornbury.

Will Build on Your Land, or Buy Land you choose, Houses your Own Design, or Sell you Houses just finished, double or single-fronted. Best material and workmanship.
CASH or TERMS
Plans Prepared

Your Boot
Man

DIMMICK!

Big Stock!
Small Prices!
Extra Value!
NO CARDBOARD

243 HIGH ST.,
NORTHCOTE.

Undertakers

Telephone 1160.

H. J. R. LEWIS,
UNDERTAKER
And CERTIFICATED EMBALMER,
HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE.
Head Office:
Corner Johnston & Hertford Sts.
Fitzroy.

Funerals conducted at the lowest possible rates.
Hearse, Mourning Coaches, and Funeral Requisites.
The trade supplied.

Established 1866.
W. IG. APPS,
UNDERTAKER,
MOOR STREET, FITZROY.
High and Robt Streets, St. Kilda.
Branch, Burgundy St., Heidelberg.
Phone, Heidelberg 60.

Wanted to Buy

BOTTLES, Bones, Hags, Zinc, Lead, Brass and Copper. Highest price given. Cash on delivery. Letters given prompt attention. H. Blipon, Darabing Road, Northcote. Phone, Northcote 908.

Krusse's Fluid
Magnesia
FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS, AND ACIDITY.

Keep the Rain Off!

II AVE your Umbrella Re-Covered and Made to Look Like NEW at Mrs. PALMER'S, 267 High Street, Northcote. New Stock of Fancy Goods, Stationery, Post Cards and School Requisites.

Price 1d

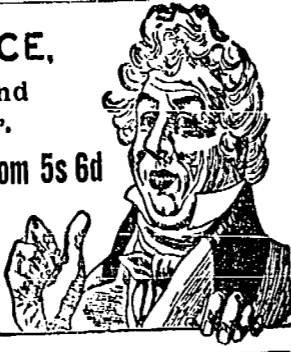

Registered at the General Post Office, Melbourne, for transmission by post as a Newspaper.

Business Notices.

R. B. LAWRENCE,
Dyer, Cleaner, and Feather Dresser.

A Suit or Dress Like New from 5s 6d

Illustrated Price-List and Address Labels sent Post Free.
Office and Works: Cunningham St., Northcote.
Melbourne—4 Elizabeth Street, 50 Swanston Street, Royal Arcade.
All Suburbs.

SHAW & THORNTON,
Monumental and General Masons,
Granite and Marble Importers.

Inscriptions and other works done in Town or Country Cemeteries

High St., Northcote, opposite Brickworks

Private Address: 1 Armadale St., Northcote.
Designs and Estimates Submitted.

EDWARD FELLOWES,
Universal Carriage Works & Shoeing Forge
HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE (opposite Croxton Station)

LORRIES AND VEHICLES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BUILT, BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXCHANGED.

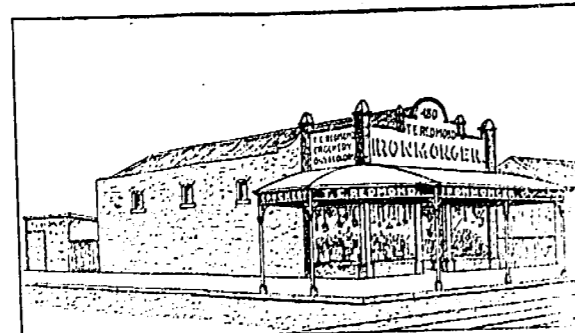

REPAIRS EFFECTED PROMPTLY AND SUBSTITUTES PROVIDED.

Horses (shod on the shortest notice by thoroughly experienced shoer) sent for and returned.
FOR HIRE (by day or night): Drags, Wagonettes, Abbot Buggies, Wagons, Jinkers, Lorries, Spring Carts and Drays; also good reliable Horses and Ponies. Picnics and Parties specially catered for.

T. E. REDMOND

Ironmonger, Crockery, Oil and Color Merchant

Corner High and Dennis Sts., Northcote

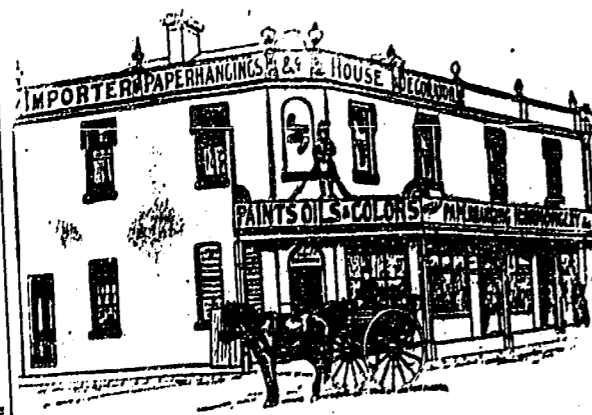

Telephone 6253.

NEW DESIGN
"Economist" Gas Stoves

IMPROVEMENTS:
Taps at side, which enables a tray to be put in from the front to catch liquids boiling over.
Browner light over top of oven to brown scones, etc.
Flame top of Roaster which, while grilling, toasting, or roasting in Roaster, also heats top Oven for baking scones, cakes, etc., so that both Oven and Roaster are heated with one flame.
Very Economical. Durable. Heats Instantly; A Splendid Baker.

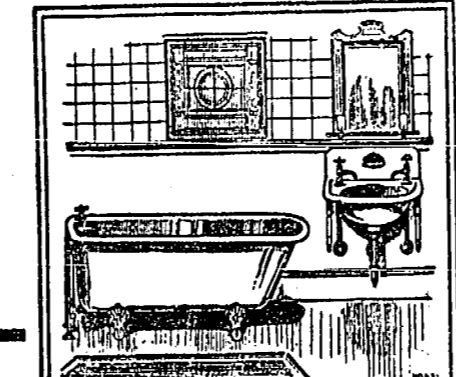

At present made in one size. Size of Stove—22in. wide x 18in. deep x 26in. high. Oven—Width, 14in.; Depth 12in. Roaster—Width, 14in.; Depth, 14in. This Stove Already a Big Seller.
Two top lights, 24. Three top lights, 24 8s 6d. (Bottom light under Roaster, 12/6 extra)

Wallis Bros. & Co., 419 Bourke St.
(Opp. Kirk's Bazaar). Factory: PRESTON.

F. PIKE, General House Decorator, Grainer, Signwriter, &c., PLENTY ROAD, SOUTH PRESTON.

All kinds of Builders' Ironmongery, Lime, Cement, &c., stocked. Oils, Colors, Glass, &c., at lowest rates. The smallest as well as the largest jobs undertaken. Estimates given for all kinds of House Repairs. Telephone, Northcote 808.

Taps, Bathroom, and all other Sanitary Arrangements of Your House

Must be kept in perfect order if you would enjoy health and comfort this Summer—and always. Good work can be carried out only by a plumber who has had experience as well as scientific knowledge of modern plumbing methods. I have both.

For complete satisfaction to my customers and their recommendations are helping my business to grow. The same attention given to small and large jobs alike. My charges are very reasonable. Estimates free for all branches of the trade.

For Prompt and Reliable Plumbing Work come to

JOHN SHAW
HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE
Phone, Northcote 98

Established 20 years.

W. FIRTH,
GENERAL DRAPER,
344 SMITH STREET,
COLLINGWOOD
(Below Johnston Street).

Perfection Attained in Cooking

by using Adams's Margarine
for Cakes and Pastry
ALL LEADING STORES.

"LET 'ER BUCKI—She Can't Break Graham's Harness."
FRANK GRAHAM,
Saddle, Harness and Collar Maker,
HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE.
(Opposite Hattam's).
Large stock of Saddles. Also Ladies' Hand Bags, Purse, &c.

FOLLOW THE CROWD TO BARKER'S SCHOOL SHOP (Late Key's).
Where Scholars are specially catered for in all School Requisites. Best of Confectionery and Summer Drinks. Drinks kept on ice during Hot Weather. Post Cards, Stationery, and Hand-drawnery kept in stock. Best Brands of Smoker's Requisites, &c., &c.

159 HAWTHORN RD., NORTHCOTE

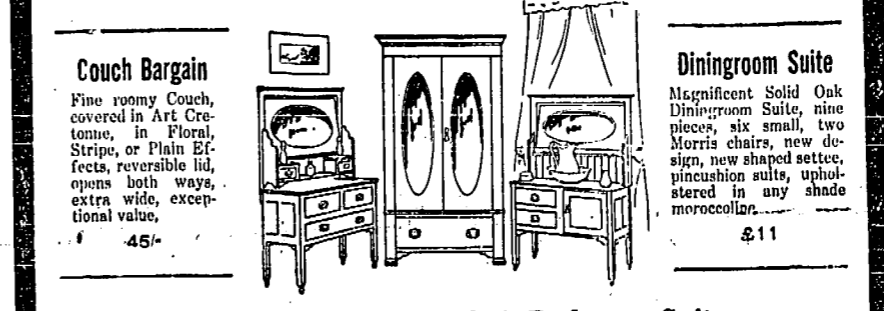

GAS COOKERS

The Modern Gas Cooker embodies every convenience and advantage for cooking food scientifically and daintily. It saves work, saves time, saves fire, and the kitchen is always delightfully cool.

Order Your Gas Cooker To-Day! Metropolitan Gas Coy. 198 Flinders Street.

Astonishingly Easy for You to Furnish Your Home

Make no mistake, but determinedly persist in getting all Furniture from CLAUSCEN'S. We solve all furniture problems for you, save you heaps of anxiety and many pounds. Call and Enquire.

Magnificent Grained Oak Bedroom Suite
To see this Suite is to buy it! It is easily the Finest Bedroom Furniture value in the State. Beveled mirrors, each piece magnificently made. Look at the illustration and see how superbly it is designed and constructed. £14.

Clausen's Furniture adorns thousands of homes. There is in our accord a continual payment of brilliant furniture showings. From back door to front, from roof to floor, you can furnish to your heart's content by coming to

CLAUSCEN'S
194-6 BOURKE ST., MELBOURNE

Milk Suppliers.

PRESTON DAIRY,
GOWER ST., PRESTON.

M. Walsh,
COWKEEPER AND DAIRYMAN.
Cattle and Premises under inspection of the Board of Public Health.
Pure Milk Direct from the Cow to the Consumer. Sterilized and One Cow's Milk a Specialty. Absolutely free from coloring matter or preservatives. No second dealing or with other traders. Deliveries twice daily in Northcote and surrounding districts.

J. D. Stevens,
DAIRYMAN,
107 HELEN STREET, NORTHCOTE.
Milk straight from our own Farm. One Cow's Milk for Invalids and Children. Orders promptly attended to.

The Favor of your Patronage and Recommendation respectfully solicited.

"Rona" Dairy Farm
Farm and Dairy:
SPRING STREET, PRESTON.

Pure, Fresh Milk, direct from our own cows, delivered twice daily in Preston and surrounding districts. Premises and Cattle under Government supervision. Our Milk is guaranteed free from preservatives and coloring. Post Cards promptly attended to. The favor of your patronage and recommendation respectfully solicited.

B. EDMONDS,
LICENSED DAIRYMAN.

Announcements.

W. T. ROWE
(Over 17 years with F. Yarn, also large English Experience)
COACHBUILDER, WHEELWRIGHT and GENERAL BLACKSMITH,
Corner of HIGH and DUNDAS STS., UPPER NORTHCOTE.
(opposite Tram Terminus, Preston).

Buggies, Jinkers, Wagons, Drays, and Carts of every description built on the most reasonable terms. Repairs promptly executed. Vehicles bought, sold and exchanged. Horses carefully shod, called for and returned. Best materials used. All work guaranteed.

A. F. LUCKE,
COACHBUILDER,
Agricultural and General Blacksmith,
HIGH STREET, PRESTON
(near Shire Hall).

Vehicles of Every Description Built Repaired, Sold or Exchanged. Coachpainting and Trimming Done. Horses Carefully Shod, Called for and Returned. All Work Guaranteed. Rubber Tyres Fitted.

Watkins & Julian,
CARPENTERS AND JOINERS.
Jobbing and House Repairs done at the shortest notice.

Metal Shop Fronts, Show Cases, &c., a Speciality.

A card to 42 BARRY ST., NORTHCOTE, will receive prompt attention.
Estimates Free

DOES YOUR HOUSE REQUIRE RENOVATING?
Spring to Heral! Why not get your House Protected from the Weather by

C. SCHOU
(Over six years with F. Pike, also College experience)
PAINTER, PAPERHANGER, SIGN-WRITER, GRAINER, &c.,
86 ROSSMOYNE ST., THORNBUARY
Champion's Leads and Best Oils only used. Letters promptly attended to.

College of Art Needlework

The Magnificent Stock of Fancy Goods; Plated Ware, Brushware, Ornaments, Art Needlework, Silks, Wools, Toys, &c., &c., shown at

Mrs. & Miss Walker's
always command attention.

Splendid Assortment of Ladies' Leather Bags. Quality the Best—Prices Reasonable.

Note Address: 205 High St., Northcote
Phone, Northcote 406

MISS JOHNSON, Ladies' Hairdresser, has rooms on the premises

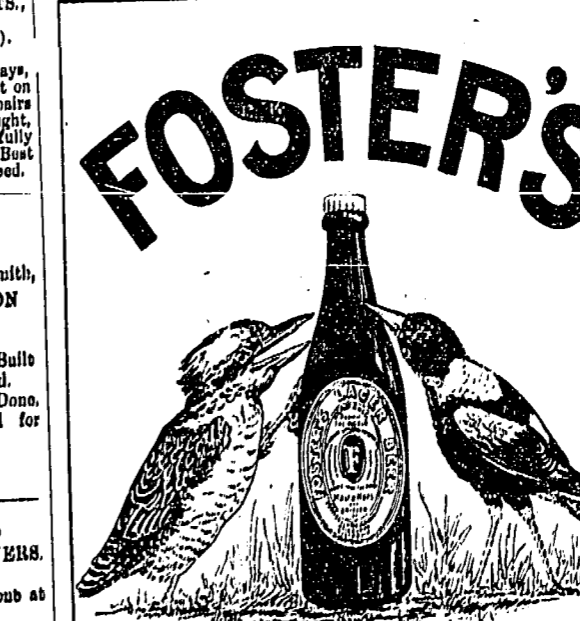

You need not be an expert to tell the difference between a Cup of Tea made from the delicate tender tips of the Tea Plant as used exclusively in the

Yarrum
HIGH-GRADE TEAS

and Teas of inferior quality containing artificial flavoring which constitute the bulk of the Tea sold to the public.
"YARRUM" TEAS have a distinct, mild, mellow flavor which at once appeals to your sense of taste and supplies that refreshing principle which you so much desire.

Grade I. Grade II. Grade III.
Specially-Selected An Ideal Family Tea The Last Word in Value
2/6 lb. 4/3 lb. 1/- lb.

Sole Agent: W. J. MURRAY,
The Store for Good Groceries,
98 High St., Northcote South.
Phone, Northcote 530.

ADVANCE AUSTRALIA LAGER

Read and Advertise in
The Leader
Largest Circulation of any Local Newspaper in the Northern Suburbs

Church Notices.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, NORTHCOTE. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., Rev. A. C. KELLAWAY, M.A. 7 p.m., Mr. J. CLARKE, of the Children's Special Service Mission, London.

HOLY TRINITY, THORNBURY (Railway Parade). Sunday Services: 8 a.m., Holy Communion. 11 a.m., Morning Prayer and Sermon. 7 p.m., Evensong and Sermon.

NORTHCOTE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (JAMES ST.). Minister: Rev. R. W. ROCK. Sabbath Services: Morning, Rev. J. A. CROCKETT, 'The Church of the Ministry.' Evening, Rev. R. W. ROCK, 'The Book that Leads the Flock that Keeps the Book that Talks.'

PRESTON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. Minister: Rev. W. ARTHUR ROBERTS. Sunday Services: Morning at 11. Evening at 7. All Welcome. Seats Free.

THORNBURY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Rossmoyne Street. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., 'The Man Who Judges but is Not Judged.' 7 p.m., 'A God Who Deceives.'

NORTHCOTE METHODIST CHURCHES. Sunday Services: HIGH STREET: 10 a.m., Brotherhood. 11 a.m., Rev. ROBERT KELLY. 7 p.m., LAWRENCE TAIT.

PRESTON METHODIST CHURCHES. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., Rev. G. S. SHIRKFIELD. 7 p.m., Rev. E. O. KNIP. SOUTH: 11 a.m., Rev. G. S. SHIRKFIELD. 7 p.m., Rev. G. S. SHIRKFIELD.

NORTHCOTE BAPTIST CHURCH. Pastor: Rev. H. HEWSON. Sunday Services: 11 a.m., 'The Talk of the Bazaar.' Junior School Choir will sing. (Communion).

WESTLICH COLLEGE. Registered Secondary, Primary, and Infant Schools. Principal: Miss Westgarth.

BAYVIEW SCHOOL, NORTHCOTE. Principal: Miss Westgarth, assisted by Miss Sonnenberg, M.A., Miss Slade, M.A., and University Staff.

KING'S COLLEGE, CLIFTON HILL. Principal: G. COCHRANE, B.A., T.C.D. Pharmacy, Junior Public, and General Improvement classes.

NORTHCOTE COMMERCIAL COLLEGE. 76 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. Evening Classes.

MAURICE COLLINS, Furniture Warehouseman, Carpet and Linoleum Factors, Planos, &c.

Musical.

NORTHCOTE SCHOOL OF MUSIC, Opposite Town Hall. Principal: Mrs. LEONARD BAKER. PIANO, THEORY, ETC.

HERRENBERG (Royal Cons. Cologne & Berlin) VIOLIN, PIANO, HARMONY and COUNTERPOINT. KEMP ST., NORTHCOTE.

MISS RUBY GROVES, L.A.B., Medalist. Associated Board R.A.M., R.C.M. PIANOFORTE, THEORY, SINGING. 64 James Street, Northcoote.

MISS CLARICE FREEMAN, L.A.B., D.M.A., R.C.M., &c. PIANO, HARMONY, COUNTERPOINT. Pupils prepared for examination.

MISS ELMA B. JOHNSTON, M.S.V. TEACHER OF PIANOFORTE, Theory and Musical Foundation. Pupils Prepared for Examinations.

MISS LILIAN HARRY (Certificated Pupil of Madame Paul Carter). TEACHER OF SINGING, VOICE PRODUCTION, ETC.

MISS CHARLOTTE MALMGREN (Registered Teacher). Special Children's Class 7/6 per term. Engagements accepted for private lessons.

MISS CHARLOTTE MALMGREN (Registered Teacher). Special Children's Class 7/6 per term. Engagements accepted for private lessons.

NURSE RUKHSHAH ROBERTS. Certificates for Men and Women. Maternity Private Hospital (Registered).

NURSE DONOHUE. 'CLIFTON' PRIVATE HOSPITAL, 18 High Street, Northcoote.

NURSE HOOPER. 'LILLIEVILLE' PRIVATE HOSPITAL, Daresbury Road, Northcoote.

NURSE HUNTER. MIDWIFE PATIENTS. Every Care and Attention. Moderate. 'Merna', 80 Gladstone Av., Northcoote.

M. H. KNAPP, HELEN STREET, NORTHCOTE, FURNITURE REMOVAL AND STORAGE.

Law.

MADDOCK, JAMIESON, AND LONIE. SOLICITORS AND CONVEYANCERS. 136 and 138 Queen Street (between Bourke and Little Collins Streets), Melbourne.

MADDEN, DRAKE & CANDY. SOLICITORS & CONVEYANCERS, 'THE OLDFIELD' (First Floor), No. 476 COLLINS STREET. Telephone, Central 196.

C. R. CANDY—Private Address: 22 Rathmines St., Fairfield. Telephone, Northcoote 521. LOCAL OFFICE: At Office of E. & R. BAILEY, Estate Agents, High Street, Northcoote South, where Mr. R. CANDY will be seen on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8.30.

STEPHEN P. THOMPSON, BARRISTER AND SOLICITOR. STALDRIDGE CHAMBERS, 443 LITTLE COLLINS STREET, MELBOURNE. Phone: Central 6270.

MR. ALEX. G. DE LACY, DENTIST. (Established 1894). LONDON HOUSE, 87 ELIZABETH STREET. Hours: 10 a.m. till 6.30 p.m.

MR. LESLIE C. WEBSTER, DENTIST. Practices at THEATRE BUILDINGS, HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. Hours: 9.30 to 1 p.m. and 2 till 6 p.m.

DR. STANLEY WILKINSON, DENTAL SURGEON. 666 HIGH STREET, THORNBURY. Monday, Wednesday & Friday, 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. Friday, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

C. A. BROOKS (Recorded by the Dental Board of Victoria). 584 HIGH STREET, THORNBURY. Hours: 9.30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturdays, 1 p.m.

DR. DENTON PETHERS. Has Removed to 'Bondi', High Street, Preston, opposite the Church of England. Telephone: Northcoote 301.

S. BRUEHL, M.D., SPECIALIST, MIDWIFE, ETC. Has started practice at the corner of Arden Road and Hartigan Street, opposite Northcoote Station, and may be consulted daily at his residence.

J. W. HORMAN. Late Wertheim's (9 years foreman) and Butlin's. PIANO AND ORGAN TUNER, REPAIRER and POLISHER, 18 PLANT STREET, NORTHCOTE.

George H. Armfield, 94 SMITH STREET, COLLINGWOOD. BRICKLAYS TO BUY ALL RIGHTS. Phone, Central 818.

The Leader

JUSTICE TO ALL. Published every Saturday Morning. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31. THE RACE FOR TRADE.

The world's market is now open for capture in many lines hitherto supplied almost exclusively by German and Austrian manufacturers. France and Great Britain whose hands are fast engaged in the great conflict, have little time to spare in this direction.

An excellent entertainment was given in the hall of the Northcoote Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, when a good programme was presented by the school children.

The Rev. E. T. Ruth, Melbourne, made some striking remarks on Wednesday evening at a public meeting at the Northcoote Church, Northcoote, on Wednesday evening.

Where are you going on Tuesday? Flinnigan? The Seaside? A Picnic? Wherever you go, you'll need to purchase your tickets at the early sale.

The management of the Lyric theatre open-air entertainments presented a most enjoyable programme last Saturday evening. The programme was received by a packed audience.

Excellent programmes continue to attract good attendance. The programme presented by the Lyric theatre on Saturday evening was most enjoyable.

Contrary to expectation the Hospital Sunday collections did not suffer from the extreme demands made on the charitable during the past two months.

From the above it will be seen that the Northcoote fund has topped the monthly list of credit to the committee.

At the Northcoote Congregational Church last Monday night a farewell social was given by the members of the choir.

He started practice at the corner of Arden Road and Hartigan Street, opposite Northcoote Station, and may be consulted daily at his residence.

Order Your Suit NOW! and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

LOCALISMS

Report of the complimentary social to Mr. M. Jennings, held on Thursday evening, is crowded out this week. The fine additions to Mayor Tharratt's business premises in High Street, Northcoote, are now approaching completion.

A concert to raise funds for the annual picnic on Cup Day was held at the Northcoote Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, when a good programme was presented by the school children.

The Rev. E. T. Ruth, Melbourne, made some striking remarks on Wednesday evening at a public meeting at the Northcoote Church, Northcoote, on Wednesday evening.

Where are you going on Tuesday? Flinnigan? The Seaside? A Picnic? Wherever you go, you'll need to purchase your tickets at the early sale.

The management of the Lyric theatre open-air entertainments presented a most enjoyable programme last Saturday evening.

Excellent programmes continue to attract good attendance. The programme presented by the Lyric theatre on Saturday evening was most enjoyable.

Contrary to expectation the Hospital Sunday collections did not suffer from the extreme demands made on the charitable during the past two months.

From the above it will be seen that the Northcoote fund has topped the monthly list of credit to the committee.

At the Northcoote Congregational Church last Monday night a farewell social was given by the members of the choir.

He started practice at the corner of Arden Road and Hartigan Street, opposite Northcoote Station, and may be consulted daily at his residence.

Order Your Suit NOW! and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

Order Your Suit NOW! and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

THE JIKA JIKA SEAT.

MR. FRANK MORGAN OPENS. At the Northcoote town hall on Thursday evening, Mr. J. Sheehan, president of the Jika Jika electoral council, R.I.C., acted as chairman and introduced the Labor candidate, Mr. Frank Morgan, to a meeting of electors.

A concert to raise funds for the annual picnic on Cup Day was held at the Northcoote Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, when a good programme was presented by the school children.

The Rev. E. T. Ruth, Melbourne, made some striking remarks on Wednesday evening at a public meeting at the Northcoote Church, Northcoote, on Wednesday evening.

Where are you going on Tuesday? Flinnigan? The Seaside? A Picnic? Wherever you go, you'll need to purchase your tickets at the early sale.

The management of the Lyric theatre open-air entertainments presented a most enjoyable programme last Saturday evening.

Excellent programmes continue to attract good attendance. The programme presented by the Lyric theatre on Saturday evening was most enjoyable.

Contrary to expectation the Hospital Sunday collections did not suffer from the extreme demands made on the charitable during the past two months.

From the above it will be seen that the Northcoote fund has topped the monthly list of credit to the committee.

At the Northcoote Congregational Church last Monday night a farewell social was given by the members of the choir.

He started practice at the corner of Arden Road and Hartigan Street, opposite Northcoote Station, and may be consulted daily at his residence.

Order Your Suit NOW! and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

Order Your Suit NOW! and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

CHATTY LETTER FROM AMERICA.

FROM A NORTHCOTE BOY. Mr. Harold Johnson, son of Mr. E. Johnson, Northcoote, sends along the following interesting chatty-gram.

After riding round on the 'travellers' (the 'Yanks')—far from it. I have a great admiration for them. I have met them in making leaps and bounds, and I have seen them in the States.

A NIGHT I SHALL NEVER FORGET. Everyone seems to think that unusual events were in store, although few had any idea of what was in store.

REPLETE WITH STIRRING INCIDENT. That it will probably take a day or two before they are able to get into the proper perspective, and to realize that they have taken part in a movement which will form a notable feature in the history of our country.

NAMING THE HORSE. A horse, probably worth 150 dol., was sold for 100 dol., and then the privilege of naming the horse was given to the winner.

TRAVELLERS' RETURN. Colonel and Mrs. Braithwaite arrived home safe and very well by the R.M.S. 'Medina' on Thursday, after a most eventful 7 months tour of England and the Continent.

THE MEN SPED AROUND. One and a half million dol. were raised for the relief of the famine-stricken areas of the East.

THE MEN SPED AROUND. One and a half million dol. were raised for the relief of the famine-stricken areas of the East.

THE MEN SPED AROUND. One and a half million dol. were raised for the relief of the famine-stricken areas of the East.

THE MEN SPED AROUND. One and a half million dol. were raised for the relief of the famine-stricken areas of the East.

THE MEN SPED AROUND. One and a half million dol. were raised for the relief of the famine-stricken areas of the East.

THE MEN SPED AROUND. One and a half million dol. were raised for the relief of the famine-stricken areas of the East.

ORDER YOUR SUIT NOW!

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

Order Your Suit NOW!

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

and order it from WARDROP. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction. You can afford to buy a suit on satisfaction.

October 31, 1914.

WON'T YOU DO SOMETHING?

STORIES OF THE BELGIANS.

HARRIED BY THE ENEMY.

WITHOUT HOMES; WITHOUT COUNTRY.

Writings from London under date September 5, the special representative of the "Sun" refers to further incidents in connection with the war. "We will win in the end, valiantly, in the end. Our Allies, they help us, we all win in the end. Just as I was eating my dinner after my first breath of fresh air for a week, a sweet roused me with the delightful restfulness of her calling, came to my front door and said that she had three Belgian refugees—a mother and two daughters. She had nowhere to put them, could I give them beds and food until Monday morning? They waited without in the street. They needed a roof over their heads they did, for they were tattered and torn, and foodless, and moneyless, and friendless, in a strange city, in a strange land. At first there was a natural quizzing, then a thawing, then a conversation, in which Madame, who talks broken English, did most of the talking, and the two daughters, who do not understand English, gazed with distended pupils at sights still visualised, and we listened. And after that fearful recital, the plucky little woman said, "We will win in the end, valiantly, in the end. Our Allies, they help us, we all win in the end."

She is a matronly little soul, with a motherly face and maternal mildness softening her eyes. She is more French than Belgian, and can be silent in six different languages. Her eldest daughter is a handsome, well-developed girl of the eighteen summers, her youngest daughter is probably fourteen. They had walked from Conde to Rouen, got train to Havre, crossed the Channel to Folkestone, and so to London. They are a middle-class family, apparently frugal and industrious, and, above all things, peaceful. The mother has a well-developed photographic business. The mother gave an eye to the salon, but most of the time to the housekeeping. She has all the Frenchwoman's passionate attachment to her home, and is wrapped up in her children. Even when war was declared the family had no idea that it would be a battle for their door. Even when their papers told them of the plague of Uhan locusts they thought it would pass south of them, and leave them in a backwater of happy harvest fields. But first French soldiers passed through their town, and then British arrived. "Such nice, smart fellows, happy, so lively, so courteous, so ready that every woman in Conde felt it a special honor to supply their needs." Then the French soldiers vanished in the night, and the British disappeared in the day, and the town was left at the mercy of the savage German soldiers. "Conde could not check, could not do them any harm, but they fought so viciously, so cruelly, so brutally! If they have a reverse they kill non-combatants in a spirit of atrocious revenge; and if they have a victory they strut and torture and tortoise the simple townspeople to express their exultation."

SWEEP BEFORE THE STORM.

Conde is close to Mons. The boom of the big guns and the bang of the field artillery was a constant accompaniment for general exodus. Only the lame, halt, and the blind, the aged and the infirm were left in the little town. The others streamed out into the roads to walk day and night in any direction, anywhere, that would keep them ahead of that fearful German scourge. The rapidity of their advance allowed them no rest. Day and night they had to plod forward, snatching a few hours' sleep as best they could, and raking their lives by doing so. For food they were dependent upon the charity of the villages through which they passed, and the further they travelled the greater grew the migration. The whole countryside was filled with the sound of the patter of poor feet hastening to the coast, or hurrying closer to Paris. I could harrow you with tales of headshaking suffering, but two isolated incidents will give you some idea of what these refugees had to endure. Eight days from Rouen a woman left her cosy farm cottage to join the refugees. She had three children of tender years, one of them a boy in arms less than twelve months old. She made a bag of her apron something like that in which farmers used to carry wheat when they sowed their crop by hand. In this she placed the baby, and with the other children clutching her hands she trudged sturdily to the haven where all thought there would be protection. They lived in the open day and night, under a burning sun by day, and beneath a starlight sky at night. One afternoon, as they were passing a farm, the house of the farmer was lit by the glare of the sun. The farmer's wife still held her two children by the hand, but the apron was strangely light. She put her hand down to reassure herself; the baby was not there. Committing her two little children to companions in distress, she turned her back upon safety and went over the road again to look for her baby. Neither she nor the baby was seen again.

AIRCRAFT IN WAR.

THE MENACE OF THE ZEPPELIN.

In view of the recent cable announcements that Germany is feverishly pushing on with her Zeppelin fleet and has been indulging in night flights over the English coast, it is not surprising that the Zeppelin menace has become a topic of conversation in all circles. These dirigibles are of the latest achievement in airship development may be of special interest at this stage. Three main disabilities handicapped the Zeppelin dirigible as a fighting machine, and, in overcoming these, the Kaiser and the Count were re-creating their patience. These disabilities were lack of speed limit; of elevation to, say, 4000 feet, and inability to deliver effective attacks or defend themselves from attack. Details of construction have been preserved in strictest secrecy, but records of trials have been freely published, and the extent to which the handicaps referred to above have been eliminated, may be judged by the following striking, not to say disquieting, facts: The new naval airship LIII, flew over 2000 miles in 34 hours, and carried enough fuel to remain aloft for three days and nights. She averaged 52 miles an hour, and at one stage reached a height of miles an hour with the wind astern. All the latest Zeppelins are fitted with 40,000 c.p. searchlights, that illuminate the ground from a height of 4500 feet, and with wireless apparatus capable of sending messages over 450 miles. The modern Zeppelin can remain for hours at an altitude of from 5500 to 6000 feet, and at a pinch can climb to 10,000. All Zeppelins are now covered with aluminum paint as a protection against sun-expansion and rain; this also renders them practically invisible to the eye. For offence and defence the LIII carries steel-capped torpedoes that will pierce six inches of armor-plate; she carries two machine-guns of latest pattern in the cars, two adjustable anti-aircraft guns on platforms above the balloons, and one below the cars. Zeppelin V. recently scored a fair percentage of shots at a suspended aeroplane 6000 feet across the air, and claims to shoot accurately at any lesser distance. It stands to reason that if twenty-five percent of the shots would be in force to be reckoned with. As a matter of fact she is reported to possess two naval airships (the huge LIII mentioned, and a Schutte-Lanz II, with a speed of 60 miles and an altitude of 7000 feet), and eight military Zeppelins (including four modified and lengthened vessels). In addition it is certain that the adaptation of the three famous "Dolag" passenger airships, and the "Foverish activity" reported in the cables, may have brought Germany's air-foot up to twelve or perhaps twenty vessels. On paper this is a formidable weapon, and, according to some experts, it constitutes the surprise which Germany boasted it had in reserve for the Allies. We can only hope that the preparations being made by the Allies to meet it will be an equally effective surprise.

"JEST BILLY PRANCING."

"I've been thinking you over, you and your Empire, and all the rot of it. Ho of it! It's you Germans made the trouble in Europe first and last. And all for nothing. Jest Billy prancing. Jest because you've got the uniforms and flags! . . . "War's a silly game. It's a silly game. We common people—we were fools. We thought these big fellows were going to be up to us, and they didn't. Look at that chap. He was too bold, too bold, too bold. In the room to look after him, in his sudden somnolence. On the fifth afternoon after their arrival there was a stillness in the room which made the mother sweat with fear. She

AUSTRALIA WILL GAIN MOST.

AT THE END OF THE WAR.

Says a German Seer.

The following is an extract from a speech made by Victor E. Krocman, in Stuttgart, Germany, at the International Socialist Congress in August, 1907.— "The result of this war will be that Europe will be a dreadful place to live in, and that as soon as the war is over emigration on an unprecedented scale will take place to America and Australia, mainly to Australia. After the war, a deeper sense of brotherhood will pervade all nations, resulting in the realization of many of the ideals for which reformers have been striving for centuries. The outcome of the war will be as follows, according to my methods of reasoning from past causes to future effects, combined with instinctive perception and a knowledge of the occult. (Sings.) "After a terrific struggle Germany will be defeated on all sides, and a succeeding revolution will establish a German-Austria Republic. The Slav part of Austria will go to Russia, and there will be a powerful Slav Federation. "European Federation of nations will be subsequently established. England and France will divide Africa between them, and England will control all the rest of the German colonies. "The English fleet will police the world, and no other fleets of any dimensions will be permitted. "Australia will gain more than any other nation as the outcome of the present disturbances, as population will flow in at a tremendous rate, and the commercial centre of the world will shift from the Atlantic to the Pacific, through increase of population, and the opening of the Panama Canal. Tremendous expansion will take place in Canada, particularly the Western States of America, and Australia, especially about the Federal Capital, which will become an immense manufacturing zone."

OUR LAND OF PLENTY.

MORE THAN WE CAN EAT.

Victoria's imports and exports last month were within their usual dimensions, and the prospect is that they will be still less this month. The German fleet got loose we shall probably have to do without all goods from Europe for a stretch, and what then? We have more meat, fruit, vegetables and wheat than we can eat, and more leather than would boot and fully clothe the whole population. In short, we should all be able to gorge ourselves to repletion on the natural products of this bountiful land, the drought notwithstanding. Only we should have no newspapers, no whisky, and no money. Thousands of us would be out of work, and could only go about starving to death. The superfluity of meat and grain until we became woful from the accumulation of fat from the sheep. The butter and cheese we should have to consume would be appalling to the strongest stomach, and our eyes blinding with repletion, we should simply gaze in stupid despair at the fearful growth of the rabbit pest. As a matter of fact, we should have an army to fight with "bunny" for the possession of the Commonwealth. It is a great thing to be thirteen thousand miles away from where the maddened millions and millions of Europe are reeling into commotion because the land would have worse horrors in so small a population as ours until national causes got to work and produced through the cradle sufficient new lives to cope with the appalling increase of our embarrassing plentitude.

"BILLETING" UP-TO-DATE.

Lord Kitchener's new armies in England are "billeted" on householders. All who can afford to do so, charge nothing, but an official scale of payment has been issued which will interest many householders. Here it is:—"Orders were issued last evening authorising general or field officers to issue billeting regulations and regulations of emergency for the provision of carriages, animals, vessels and aircraft. An Army Order gives the following special rates to be paid for billeting to an occupier other than the proprietor of a lodging house for soldier where meals furnished, 9d. per night. Breakfast as specified in Part I. of Second Schedule to Army Act, 74d. each. Dinner as so specified, 1 1/4 each. Supper as so specified, 4/4d. each. Where no meals are furnished, lodging and attendance, and candles, 7d. per night. Where meals, and use of fire, and necessary utensils for dressing and eating his tent, 9d. per day. Stable room and ten pounds of oats, twelve pounds of hay, and eight pounds of straw per day for each horse, 2 1/2 per day. Stable room without forage, 9d. per day. Lodging and attendance for officer, 3s. per night. Note.—An officer must pay for his food. GERMANS IN SYDNEY. TROUBLE AT BIG HOTEL.

GERMANS IN SYDNEY.

General upheaval marked the proceedings in a Big Sydney hotel last week after the arrival of a number of German deportees from Hahuel, in German New Guinea. It will be remembered that a number of officials from that colony were ordered to be deported to Australia, but with no further restriction upon their movements. Strangers in a strange land, they knew not where to lay their heads upon arrival in Sydney. Through the kindly offices of someone who had found them "not bad chaps," quarters were found for them at this hotel. When their presence here came known to Australian lodging houses, there was an all-round scuttling and angry clients besieged the office, clamoring for "my bill, please, and you needn't keep a room for me next time I come to Sydney." Instead of making a "nice little puncheon" from a room, they were anxious to find accommodation at any price, the establishment found its regular business falling away from it in large chunks. Sympathy can swing either way, according to which side of the shield you choose to see.

TROUBLE AT BIG HOTEL.

General upheaval marked the proceedings in a Big Sydney hotel last week after the arrival of a number of German deportees from Hahuel, in German New Guinea. It will be remembered that a number of officials from that colony were ordered to be deported to Australia, but with no further restriction upon their movements. Strangers in a strange land, they knew not where to lay their heads upon arrival in Sydney. Through the kindly offices of someone who had found them "not bad chaps," quarters were found for them at this hotel. When their presence here came known to Australian lodging houses, there was an all-round scuttling and angry clients besieged the office, clamoring for "my bill, please, and you needn't keep a room for me next time I come to Sydney." Instead of making a "nice little puncheon" from a room, they were anxious to find accommodation at any price, the establishment found its regular business falling away from it in large chunks. Sympathy can swing either way, according to which side of the shield you choose to see.

GERMANS IN SYDNEY.

General upheaval marked the proceedings in a Big Sydney hotel last week after the arrival of a number of German deportees from Hahuel, in German New Guinea. It will be remembered that a number of officials from that colony were ordered to be deported to Australia, but with no further restriction upon their movements. Strangers in a strange land, they knew not where to lay their heads upon arrival in Sydney. Through the kindly offices of someone who had found them "not bad chaps," quarters were found for them at this hotel. When their presence here came known to Australian lodging houses, there was an all-round scuttling and angry clients besieged the office, clamoring for "my bill, please, and you needn't keep a room for me next time I come to Sydney." Instead of making a "nice little puncheon" from a room, they were anxious to find accommodation at any price, the establishment found its regular business falling away from it in large chunks. Sympathy can swing either way, according to which side of the shield you choose to see.

TROUBLE AT BIG HOTEL.

General upheaval marked the proceedings in a Big Sydney hotel last week after the arrival of a number of German deportees from Hahuel, in German New Guinea. It will be remembered that a number of officials from that colony were ordered to be deported to Australia, but with no further restriction upon their movements. Strangers in a strange land, they knew not where to lay their heads upon arrival in Sydney. Through the kindly offices of someone who had found them "not bad chaps," quarters were found for them at this hotel. When their presence here came known to Australian lodging houses, there was an all-round scuttling and angry clients besieged the office, clamoring for "my bill, please, and you needn't keep a room for me next time I come to Sydney." Instead of making a "nice little puncheon" from a room, they were anxious to find accommodation at any price, the establishment found its regular business falling away from it in large chunks. Sympathy can swing either way, according to which side of the shield you choose to see.

GERMANS IN SYDNEY.

General upheaval marked the proceedings in a Big Sydney hotel last week after the arrival of a number of German deportees from Hahuel, in German New Guinea. It will be remembered that a number of officials from that colony were ordered to be deported to Australia, but with no further restriction upon their movements. Strangers in a strange land, they knew not where to lay their heads upon arrival in Sydney. Through the kindly offices of someone who had found them "not bad chaps," quarters were found for them at this hotel. When their presence here came known to Australian lodging houses, there was an all-round scuttling and angry clients besieged the office, clamoring for "my bill, please, and you needn't keep a room for me next time I come to Sydney." Instead of making a "nice little puncheon" from a room, they were anxious to find accommodation at any price, the establishment found its regular business falling away from it in large chunks. Sympathy can swing either way, according to which side of the shield you choose to see.

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Report says that a leading bookmaker in the exuberance of his patriotism at the outbreak of the war, wagered two thousand pounds to one that it would be all over in six weeks. Which only shows that turf-men are ignorant of some matters outside sport. There are sometimes means of knowing how a horse will come in a given race, but in the war game every entrant is a trifle up to his last ounce, and the stakes bring life and death, little business arrangements before the event don't count. Many black and white artists are joining the colors. There was a man in our town and he was wondrous slick. His forte was nabbing ticklers. In a quarter of a tick. When one of his eagle-eyes observed a tickler about to have on. You may think the thing is gone, but Lor' bless your heart, it's gone!

NOT VERY FILLING.

The cake of soap. The printer's pl. The critic's roast. The feast of reason. The spice of a joke. The glass of fashion. The perfume of gossip. The toast of the town. The salt of the earth. The meat of a question. The wine of exaltation. The food for reflection. The fruits of repentance. The spirit of an occasion. The taste of a quality. The milk of human kindness. The water of a prodigious stone. Curious ad. from a London daily:— To those leaving for the war, a child's caul for disposal, worn by a soldier through the South African war, and returned unharmed, which can be verified. Price 2s, or nearest offer. Doubtless he (or she) sold it. The world is full of mugs. "KEEP SMILING." A Few More Anticipated German Landing Articles. We have much pleasure in offering our readers a hypothetical anticipation, suggested by Berlin's mackintoshes, over German alleged successes. Such determination to look on the bright side of events deserves every encouragement. "The world stands astounded at the progress of German arms. The fall of Paris, London, Brussels, St. Petersburg, and any other capitals of countries which we are at war with, but such determination to look on the bright side of events deserves every encouragement. "The world stands astounded at the progress of German arms. The fall of Paris, London, Brussels, St. Petersburg, and any other capitals of countries which we are at war with, but such determination to look on the bright side of events deserves every encouragement. "The world stands astounded at the progress of German arms. The fall of Paris, London, Brussels, St. Petersburg, and any other capitals of countries which we are at war with, but such determination to look on the bright side of events deserves every encouragement."

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

COMPLETED.

When Florence went fishing with Jack Ho said, "There is one thing we have tackle galore. But we need one thing more." And he gave her a nice fishing-smack. A WOMAN OF THE NORTH. LIFE ON THE ROPER RIVER. When the Northern Territory became populated a hardy race of men and women will be developed. At present it is a difficult land for the white man to live in, but Nature is making her selection, and here and there a sturdy pioneer may be found who is made of the right stuff, and who is putting up a sturdy stand against the odds. As Mr. Sidney Kidman puts it, "The Territory is a land which is not understood. In his opinion, the place has been misrepresented, and will probably continue to be until it is better opened up. Mr. Kidman is one of those who are doing valuable pioneer work in the Territory. The value of his development is all the greater because of the fact that he is able to spend money on arduous bores and well-sinking. But there are settlers in the Territory who cannot spend money freely in the effort to make Nature smile, and whatever they accomplish in that direction is the result of sheer hard work. And the Territory has shaped its peculiar type of woman as well as its characteristic style of man. One of the best-known and hardest-working women pioneers in the Far North is Mrs. Rogers. Her husband, who is a drover, took up land at Paddy's Lagoon, on the Roper River, and as he is seldom at home, the responsibility of running the station devolves upon his wife. For the greater part of each year Mrs. Rogers fulfils the multifarious roles of station manager, boundary rider, cattle musterer, and general station hand. Away from the lonely spot in the Gulf country, 700 miles from Port Darwin, this woman of strong, determined and courageous character has followed her arduous life for years, and, what is more, has made good progress. Her only assistants are a couple of black dogs and a black boy or two, and her companion her young son. At little homestead on the Roper the traveller always finds a welcome awaiting him. A fine stamp of woman, square-jawed and vigorous, Mrs. Rogers is going to carve more history in the Northern Territory than a whole host of Government "bore" diggers. Although she can handle a bulldog better than most men, and yard a bullock with the best of them, her nature is by no means coarse. Her home, which is built of pakka bark, is as daintily arranged inside as a cottage in a Melbourne suburb. She is an extraordinary woman. About six months ago, during one of her husband's long droving trips, Mrs. Rogers suspected the blacks, who had been camped in the ranges behind the homestead, of spearing her cattle. She acted promptly, arming herself with a rifle, and taking with her a station black boy, she mounted a fast horse and set off through the ranges in pursuit. The offending blacks managed to keep out of her way, and the punitive expedition, fortunately for the blacks, had no other result than that of exercising a wholesome moral influence on the marauders. On another occasion this remarkable woman of the north was mustering cattle on the station, mounted on a very fine horse named Goldtop. Some frightened the animal, and taking the bit between his teeth he started off for the hills. It was a tough struggle for the mastery. But the woman won. To-day she shows as a trophy of her exciting adventure a bullock with the rings straightened out, and the bit bent, evidence of the way in which Goldtop pulled in his effort to get away with her. Occasionally Mrs. Rogers takes a trip into Darwin, a little matter of 700 miles, accompanied only by Polly, a plump girl, and a couple of black boys. They camp and look after the horses just as men would. She does all her own stockyard building, and

HOARDED TREASURE.

THE VAST WAR CHESTS OF EUROPE.

LADIES' LETTER.

WHEELS ACROSS SIBERIA.

No. 4.—LAST STAGES.
By Will W. Rock.

Nine days ago the International train left Vladivostok. To-morrow we reach Moscow. The railway line stretches to the horizon behind; it meets the skyline ahead. The train is like some vast, intricate, crawling mechanism across a continent. Nine days and nights of travelling on a steel trail six thousand miles in length, and thus far not a hitch in the scheme of things. According to the figures on the vast posts, we should reach the big city at 10 o'clock in the morning (three weeks being roughly equal to five miles).

It has been a long trip—the longest railway journey in the world. As it is the summer season the journey has been somewhat dusty. There are forty passengers on board, and I think every one of them will be glad to leave the train. It is only for a day. A picture arises in my mind of various people taking forty hot baths in various Moscow hotels to-morrow morning, for and because of which the said hotels shall be enriched to the extent of forty roubles.

Our train is suffering from a disease which might be termed not "engine trouble," but "engine trouble." It is a constantly changing entity, evidently with a view to saving time. In the early stages of the journey, the engine carried wood for fuel. When the supply ran short a new locomotive, piled high with pine blocks, took the place of the old one. For a time the engine was covered with a rank growth of tangled whisker, in which the dust of years has accumulated. His red shirt, worn on the trousers, is usually filthy. From his greasy cheeks his hair hangs in heavy black locks, he looks like a type of the most unclean. The women folk are no better. Their features are coarse and heavy, though here and there one sees an intelligent face hidden by a gaudy patchwork shawl.

We are constantly passing trains of these poor creatures. Carriages crating from the crowded streets of Russian cities to the little-known land of Siberia, hoping for better opportunities, yet looking the energy to grasp them. Very tired and worn most of them looked after days spent in hard unmountable carriages. Sometimes the people were huddled together on the floor of a covered wagon, bearing a strange legend in Russian, which, when interpreted, meant "40 people." One of these emigrant trains stop the month's journey on the platform, which are always filled with boiling water; then follows the regular post of eye-brow and scalding hot water.

The trans-Siberian line is something more than a mere path to the Pacific, and she is generating it well. Along the whole of the route, at every stage, is a cabin built of solid logs. In each of these cabins is a peasant, and sometimes his wife and family. As the train passes, the peasant or his wife stands at one side and signals the way clear with a small green flag. After the train has passed the signal steps to the middle of the track and continues to hold the flag at arm's length until the rear coach is out of sight. It is said that you are never out of sight of these small green flags—they stretch from Moscow to the Pacific.

Russian cities have no special name for beauty, but the towns and villages of Siberia can certainly claim the last word in ugliness. The houses are of roughly hewn logs, unpainted and badly shaped. The yards are full of stumps, and it was just that the train that the pigs had free access to the house. There is apparently no attempt at street-making. A vehicle of any description raises a cloud of dust, and it is easy to imagine what the condition would be in winter. In such a setting, the lady's shawl, with its trim and white minaret stands out in striking contrast, completely dominating the town.

THE LATE POPE A FRIEND OF THE JEWS.

(BY M. A. RAPPEN, SAN FRANCISCO (late of Northcote).)

Pope Pius X, when he was Patriarch of Venice, had many friends among the Jews of that city. And despite the objections of his entourage at the Vatican he insisted in keeping them as friends and admitting them to audience. Just before the election of 1903, talking to some Venetian friends, he said: "The only thing I care about is the fate of the Jews, my old friend. He does honor to the Jews, he's a great gentleman and a fine man. I wish all the Christians were like that Jew."

When Pius X was a Bishop of Mantua Leo XIII asked him, "Tell me, Monignor, the best Catholics at Mantua, those who give most to charities and social work; are they the aristocrats or the common people?" "Holiness" replied: "The best Catholics at Mantua are the Jews." The Pope in 1903 sent a pastoral letter to the Catholic clergy and laity of certain Roman churches existing in Russia, warning them against countenancing in any way the outrages on the Jews. At that time there was some talk as to why the Pope interested himself in the Jews. But it was soon explained that the Holy Father numbered among his staunch friends some of the richest Jews in Europe, and that it was a friendly feeling for the Jews that prompted him to send the warning to any Russians of his own faith.

I believe that the teachings of His Holiness went as far as Northcote. At my first election to the town council (at that time being the only Jew) not only every other denomination contributed to success of my nomination, but especially Father Brazill, who not only showed his friendly feeling towards me at all times, but secured an audience for me at the Archbishop's. Before I left for the United States, Archbishop Carr gave me a most beautiful letter, with his blessings, and with his seal, which I treasure most highly.

By healing the mother's fearful scalds and the daughter's burns, Zam-Buk has proved a real friend in the home of Mrs. E. McDonald, of 91 Thomas street, Ultimo, Sydney. "One day, whilst we were living up at Newcastle," says Mrs. McDonald, "I was on with the cooking, when by some means a big dish of fat came to the stove. The sudden sheet of flame so alarmed me that I upset the scalding liquid all over my arms. My dress caught fire and I was nearly burnt. In parts, where the sinews were drawn up, my arms presented a sickening appearance."

"Though I tried every other remedy my fearful injuries went unhealed for six months. Then I happened to get a box of Zam-Buk, and the ease it brought was remarkable. Zam-Buk soothed away the pain and irritation, and drew all the fiery feeling out of the wounds. As I persevered with Zam-Buk, the inflammation was thoroughly got rid of, the distorted sinews relaxed, and all swelling went down. Finally Zam-Buk caused the raw flesh to heal over splendidly."

"I tried to get a better remedy my fearful injuries went unhealed for six months. Then I happened to get a box of Zam-Buk, and the ease it brought was remarkable. Zam-Buk soothed away the pain and irritation, and drew all the fiery feeling out of the wounds. As I persevered with Zam-Buk, the inflammation was thoroughly got rid of, the distorted sinews relaxed, and all swelling went down. Finally Zam-Buk caused the raw flesh to heal over splendidly."

By healing the mother's fearful scalds and the daughter's burns, Zam-Buk has proved a real friend in the home of Mrs. E. McDonald, of 91 Thomas street, Ultimo, Sydney. "One day, whilst we were living up at Newcastle," says Mrs. McDonald, "I was on with the cooking, when by some means a big dish of fat came to the stove. The sudden sheet of flame so alarmed me that I upset the scalding liquid all over my arms. My dress caught fire and I was nearly burnt. In parts, where the sinews were drawn up, my arms presented a sickening appearance."

"Though I tried every other remedy my fearful injuries went unhealed for six months. Then I happened to get a box of Zam-Buk, and the ease it brought was remarkable. Zam-Buk soothed away the pain and irritation, and drew all the fiery feeling out of the wounds. As I persevered with Zam-Buk, the inflammation was thoroughly got rid of, the distorted sinews relaxed, and all swelling went down. Finally Zam-Buk caused the raw flesh to heal over splendidly."

By healing the mother's fearful scalds and the daughter's burns, Zam-Buk has proved a real friend in the home of Mrs. E. McDonald, of 91 Thomas street, Ultimo, Sydney. "One day, whilst we were living up at Newcastle," says Mrs. McDonald, "I was on with the cooking, when by some means a big dish of fat came to the stove. The sudden sheet of flame so alarmed me that I upset the scalding liquid all over my arms. My dress caught fire and I was nearly burnt. In parts, where the sinews were drawn up, my arms presented a sickening appearance."

W. F. Pridgeon

Begs to advise that he is now carrying on the well-known business conducted for the past 25 years in High Street, Northcote, by the late Mr. Sanguinetti, and with an Up-to-Date Stock of hopes to secure a continuance of support. Estimates given for Painting, Paper-hanging, Glazing, Writing, and General Repairs.

Wall Papers & Painting Materials

Note Address: 391 High St., Northcote Telephone, Northcote 163.

Announcements

Misses A. & E. Freebairn, CONFECTIONERS AND SWEETS DEPOT (Between Library and Town Hall), HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE. High-Class Goods and Best Attention to Customers. Soft Drinks of best Brands.

BURGESS BROS. A. A. BURGESS H. BURGESS BUILDERS, 30 STOTT STREET, NORTHCOTE. HOUSES BUILT TO ORDER. Land Purchased. Finance Arranged. GOOD WORK. GOOD MATERIAL. A Fair Deal our Motto.

ATTENTION! J. BAKER, DYER AND CLEANER, 601 HIGH ST., THORNBURY (Opp. Tram Sheds). Ladies' Costumes and Gents' Suits Cleaned, Pressed and Dyed, and made to look like new from 3/6. Gents' Hats also Cleaned & Renewed. Suit or Dress returned within 24 hours if necessary. Articles called for and delivered. REPAIRS a Speciality. Ring up Northcote 231.

Societies A.N.A. NORTHCOTE BRANCH meets on alternate Thursdays at Town Hall. Next meeting—12th November. Join the most progressive and financial and a National Friendly Society. Many leading men in the various States have come from the ranks of the A.N.A. The syllabus embraces not only social evenings but debates, lectures, rifle shooting, &c. No Regalia. No secrecy. Meetings open to general public. J. E. NEWELL, President. A. C. WILLIAMS, Secretary, 19 Union St.

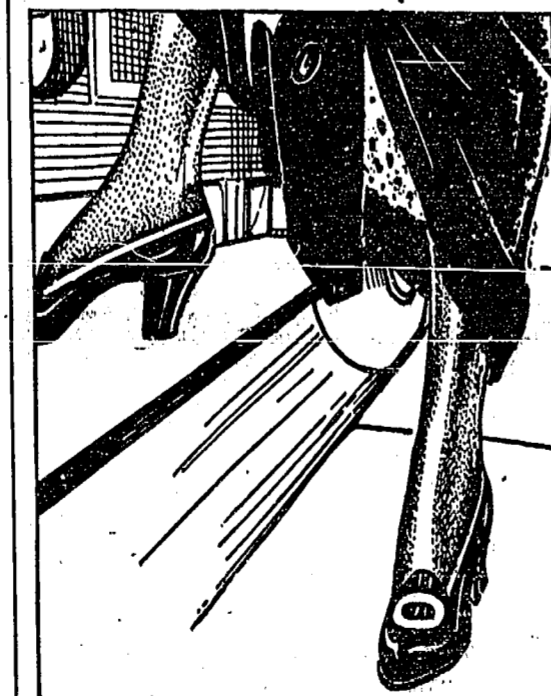

I.O.R. STAFF OF NORTHCOTE TENT, No. 217, meets at Rechabite Hall, Westbourne Grove, alternate Thursdays. Next meeting—5th November. Benefits—Sick Pay: For 12 months, 21 a week; following 6 months, 10 a week; afterwards during sickness, 5 a week. Funerals: £20 at death of member; £15 at death of member's wife (if insured). Fees: Benefit members, 1/- week upwards; Honorary members, 1/- quarter. Proposition fee, 2/6. Juveniles meet alternate Wednesdays. J. E. NEWELL, Secretary, 38 Raleigh St., Northcote.

CHARLES FOWLER, Carpenter and Builder. Houses put in thorough repair and re-decorated. "Hill Crest," 608 High Street (Regent Station), Nth. Preston.

Announcements JOHN SHAW, SAND AND GENERAL CARTER, 329 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE. Manure, Garden Soil, Filling, Metal, Screenings, Ashes, Gravel, Curram, Frankston, and Preston Pits Sand Supplied. T. COX, 28 CRAWLEY ST., PRESTON, Manager. Telephone, Northcote 96.

Do YOU Buy Pure Groceries?

Do you know whether the goods you Grocer sells you are pure? It's largely a matter of trusting him. Get your supplies here and eliminate all risk in the matter. Not a single article comes into my store that isn't good, pure, fresh. I guarantee it! No high prices here, either. Prove it in a trial order. Are you fond of a cup of really fine Tea? Try my 1/3 blend and know what real tea is. None of your bitter, half-blended rubbish about this. It's a splendid tea, with a flavor that simply tickles the palate. Give your throat a vacation from trash—try a sample pound of my tea and you'll come again and again. We have every kind of Footwear to fit men, woman, and child—High-Grade Footwear, renowned for perfect finish, and long-wearing qualities. Our salesman will be happy to show you Footwear for every wear at any time.

Shoes for YOU!

Reg. Cox, High St., Northcote. Robert Hurst, 289A HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE. Melbourne, Geelong, Wonthaggi.

MOTORISTS

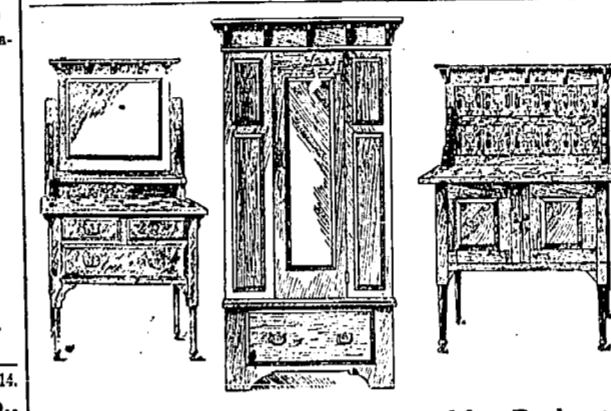

We can supply you with ALL YOUR REQUIREMENTS from a SPLIT PIN to a COMPLETE MOTOR CAR

Everything supplied of the very best. All Work Guaranteed.

CARS FOR HIRE

Telephone at any hour, Day or Night. Northcote Exchange 324 or 399.

PRESTON MOTOR GARAGE PTY. LTD., HIGH ST., PRESTON.

A Dainty, Well-Made, Durable Bedroom Suite, like this, for £7 15/- Light or Dark Finish.

TYE & CO., 237-239 Smith Street, Fitzroy. Credit can be arranged if desired.

Great Downfall in Groceries J. T. COLES & Co's. THE CASH GROCERS

Note our City Prices: Green Peas, 9/3 pnt. Navy Beans, 6/3 tin. Worcester Sauce, 5/3 large bottle. Three Large Tins Sardines, 1/1. New Season Sauce, 2/3. Three tins Australian Wonder, 1/- Swiss Milk, 4/3 tin. Hall's Horshorn, 6/3 bottle. O.K. Punch, 9/3 bottle. Day's English Vinegar, 6/3 bottle. 3 tins Herrings, 1/- Large bottles Tomato Sauce, 4/3. Use Coles' Flour, 4/3. Colas Cocos, 6/3 tin. Kolas hocolate, 2/3 cake. Nestle's Cocoa and Milk, 7/3 tin. 12lbs. Sugar, 2/7. 1/- bars Soap for 1/3. 6lbs. Best Rice, 1/- 6 tins Sardines for 1/- Red Salmon, 9/3 tin. Peeled Tomatoes, 6/3. Note Address: High Street, Thornbury

PRESTON PROPERTY EXCHANGE. McGeorge Bros., Subdivisional Land Salesmen.

Expert Insurance Agents & Rent Collectors. Watch Main Road Frontages. See Us To-Day. McGEORGE BROS., Property Salesmen.

GROCERIES

Just a Few of our Prices: 12lbs. Sugar, 2/7. Navy Cocos, 6/3 tin. 6lbs. Sugar, 1/4. 5lbs. Rice, 1/- Havolock Flour, 6/3 pnt. Canned Tomatoes, 6/3 Dried Apricots, 9/3 lb. Saxon Milk, 4/3 tin. Best Laura Butter

A. F. HOLZER, Corner Normanby Avenue and High Street, THORNBURY.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR STERLING SOAP

PUREST AND BEST. No Clapped or Bore Hands. WHITE STERLING Non-Rubbing Soap. Largest 3d Bar on the Market. SAVO SOAP, Easy Washing, 1 1/2 & 2d Bar. Tallow Bought in any quantity. STERLING SOAP COY., Oakover Road, South Preston

Estate and Insurance Agents

COMPULSORY INSURANCE

(Workers' Compensation Act 1914). Under this Act all Employers MUST INSURE against Accident to Employees.

ERNEST LEES, AUCTIONEER AND SWORN VALUER,

307 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. Will arrange your Insurance business, and save time, worry, and expense.

Send a Card or Ring Up. ERNEST LEES, INSURANCE AGENT, HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. Tel., Northcote 54.

TOWN HALL ESTATE AGENCY. W. Freebairn & Co. (SWORN VALUER).

HOUSE AND LAND AGENTS, HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE. Houses for Sale—small deposit; balance as rent. Rents Collected. Insurances Effected. Loans Negotiated. Commissions Executed. Valuations Made. Auction Sales Arranged.

Agents for the Manchester Fire Assurance.

Membrey & Deane (A. G. MEMBREY—J. V. DEANE), AUCTIONEER, ESTATE, FINANCIAL AND INSURANCE AGENTS, SWORN VALUER.

(Telephone, Central 4682). Beg to notify that their business has been removed to more COMMODIOUS OFFICES on the ground floor of LOMBARD BUILDINGS, 17 QUEEN ST. (between Flinders Street and Flinders Lane).

Loans Negotiated Promptly. Auctions Conducted. Fire and Life Insurances Effected.

PRESTON PROPERTY AGENCY. A. ROBERTSON, ESTATE, INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL AGENT, SWORN VALUER.

Rents Collected. Loans Negotiated. Auction Sales Arranged. Insurances Effected on Buildings, Furniture, Haystacks, etc., Plate Glass, Accident and Sickness, Employers' Liability, etc. Valuations carefully made for Probate, CHEAP Building ALLOTMENTS on Easy Terms. No Deposit! No Interest! Note Address: Cnr. HIGH & BELL STS., PRESTON, Close to Bell Station. Telephone, Northcote 4.

Tel. 76 Northcote Exchange. Gordon Garrett & Co., ARCHITECTS, BUILDERS, ESTATE, INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL AGENTS, FARM SALESMEN.

683-685 HIGH STREET, UPPER NORTHCOTE (near Thornbury Station)

E. H. SMITH, LAND, ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENT,

409 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE (opposite Tram Sheds) and Commercial Union Chambers, 413 Collins Street. Houses & Land Sold and Let. Rents Collected. Auction Sales Arranged. All Classes of Insurances Effected. Loans Negotiated. Valuations Made. Estates Managed for Absentees, Executors and others. Commissioner for Taking Affidavits and Declarations. Phone, Northcote 251.

ESTATE GENTS S. G. Youren & Son HEIDELBERGER, ALPHINGTON

Write, Phone, or Call for Particulars of SHOPS, VILLAS, and ALLOTMENTS on Very Easy Terms at FAIRFIELD, ALPHINGTON and IVANHOE. Open Saturday Afternoons. Vehicle to Inspect. Phone, Northcote 888.

Notice TO THE RESIDENTS OF NORTHCOTE AND PRESTON.

If you have any Furniture requiring Re-upholstering or Re-Caning, Hair Mattresses Tended, &c., &c., just notify J. ELDER, Bruce Street, Preston, who will make them as good as new. New Suites made to order and Coach Trimming done.

SUITS RE-UPHOLSTERED equal to new at prices that get and keep customers. Combination Diningroom and Billiard Tables kept in stock and made to order from 4/7 1/2 up. All accessories on hand. We shall call on receipt of your card.—F. ROBERTS, Lower High St., (near Union St.) Northcote Sth. Phone, Northcote 820

When Buying Cooked Meats at Mayer's YOU ARE PROTECTED

PROTECTED BY QUALITY PROTECTED BY WEIGHT

Our New Toledo Springless Scales show you the Exact Weight of Your Purchase. We have installed these Most Modern Weighing Machines because they Guarantee Honest Weight.

Make this the Place to Buy your Cooked Meats and get the most and best for your money.

Remember! We Protect the Family Purse by Quality, Honest Weight and Price.

Mayer's Quality Shops

71 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE S. 219 HIGH STREET, NORTHCOTE.

Tailors H. C. SAUNDERS TAILOR, 269 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE. Thanks his numerous customers for their long extended patronage, and intimates to them that he has in stock all the latest Spring and Summer Suitings. It's profitable to wear Saunders' Clothes. It's the decision of hundreds, after trying other tailors, that they have found the strength and quality in the material and make always reliable. Ladies' Costumes a Speciality.

W. H. SMITH, Tailor & Costumier, 101 SWANSTON ST., MELBOURNE. 5 W.I.S. is like the calendar, up-to-date as regards Tailoring. Open Friday Nights, 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Miss G. McTaggart, Thornbury Laundry. Lace Curtains and Blankets a Speciality. Terms Moderate. 518 High St., Northcote. Also at 141 Plenty Rd., S. Preston.

G. L. CHAPMAN, Painter and Paperhanger, and General House Repairer. Estimates submitted. Letters promptly attended to. 20 Dally St., Northcote.

Plenty Rd. & Garnett St., PRESTON. Arch. Wilkinson, Tailor and Mercer. Come and See our Window Display of NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS. The Latest Styles and Colourings in Suitings. Our MERCERY Stock is UP-TO-DATE. All the Newest in Fashion Shirts, Ties, Hats, Hosiery, &c. Ladies' Tailoring a Speciality.

A Handsome Home is easily assured if you furnish it right And it's easy enough to furnish it right if you are wise enough to deal with us. An Example of Our Value. A handsome Parlour Suite, upholstered in Art. Tapestry or American Cloth. Price only £6 10s. We stock everything needed by the Modern Home. and can furnish completely either at the Lowest Cash Prices, or on Easy Terms. THE COLLINGWOOD FURNITURE ARCADE 224-226-228 Smith St., Collingwood. The Firm with the Reputation

S. N. ADAMS CASH GROCER

HAVING purchased the business of J. T. COLES & Co., at 202 HIGH ST., NORTHCOTE, begs to intimate that he has a NEW STOCK which will be retailed at BEDROCK PRICES. Reduced Prices: 1lb. pkter Extract, 3/4. 7lbs. Sugar, 1/- 3lbs. Honey (Italian), 1/2 12lbs. Ing S.R. Flour, 1/2 1lb. tins Salmon, 9/3 Four Cakes Toilet Soap, 3d. Three tins Australian Wonder Boot Polish, 1/- Three tins Australian Milk, 1/- 12lbs. Best 1A Sugar, 2/7 John Hall Onions, 9/3 Eucalyptus Oil, 6/3. Remember Our Address: 302 High St., Northcote. Orders called for and delivered.

F. W. MOLYNEUX'S Thornbury Ham and Beef Shop

Where you can rely on getting the Finest Quality of Cooked Meats and Dairy Produce. All Goods fresh twice daily. Woolcock & Bennett's Famous Sausages are always obtainable. One of Glanfield's Large-Cooling Chambers has just been installed. Also noted for Confectionery, Ice Cream, and Summer Drinks. All drinks kept on ice. 701 HIGH ST., THORNBURY. Phone, Northcote 649