BOY SCOUTS.
 PRESTON TROOP.

The troop returned from its Xmas camp at Janeloff on Saturday last, after spending a most enjoyable camp attended by 50 boys. The advance guard left with the heavier baggage on Monday before Christmas Day, and the main party left in motor vans on December 25. A busy time was spent in making the camp snug, and this was made a little trying owing to the excessive heat, however, by the following morning the camp had settled down in order. The tent inspection competition was very keen, and after a very close finish the Bulls were winners in charge of Scoutmaster P. G. Mitchell and Scout P. L. Gilmarth, second. The inspection took place daily at 10 a.m. so that every boy had to have all ready by that time; in some former camps the inspection has been drawn out until late in the morning. The tents were up to the year's standard. Mr. Jones, one of the motor drivers, gave prizes for the best tent and cub in camp. After a very close competition Second Mitchell and Scout P. L. AUSTRALIAN LABOR PARTY
 NORTHCOE BRANCH

The first fortnightly meeting of the above branch for the year 1930 was held on Tuesday evening last, January 7, in the Rechabite Hall, Westbourne Grove. President S. Courtney presided over a moderate attendance.

A reply was received from Cr. and Mrs. W. H. Turner to letter of condolence on account of death of Mrs. Turner's father.

A member gave notice that he will move the following motion at next meeting:—"That, as the Federal Government protectionist policy aims at the development of new industries within the Commonwealth, it is necessary that temporary provision shall be made for such industries benefitting under tariff imports to be amenable to industrial laws for protection of workers."

The secretary (Mr. Bird) reported that, although the balance sheet was not yet audited, it disclosed that there would be a satisfactory credit balance. The retiring president (Mr. S. Courtney) then installed the new president (Mr. P. Carney), and in doing so paid a tribute to the zeal shown by Mr. Courtney during the time he had been a member of the branch.

President Carney, in thanking the members, spoke at some length on various aspects of the political labor movement. Though a resident of Northcote for a comparatively long period, he had for many years taken an active part and interest in the labor movement. He outlined several changes he hoped to effect in the conduct of the meetings, and said he intended to adhere strictly to the constitution and standing orders.

Each of the new officers thanked the members, and made remarks appropriate to the occasion.

A hearty vote of thanks to the retiring officers was moved by Mr. J. Devery, who said the branch had been fortunate in the team of officers they had had last year. He paid special tribute to the retiring president, and also to the secretary, Mr. Bryan, in concluding, said he heartily endorsed all that Mr. Devery had said.

The motion was carried by acclamation. President Carney proposed to Mr. F. Cain, M.L.A., on behalf of the members of the branch, hearty congratulations on his appointment to the important position of Minister of Railways.

Mr. Cain said he appreciated the sentiments expressed by the president, which he knew were endorsed by the members. He said, in accepting the position of Minister of Railways, he was charged with very great responsibility, but he would do his best to justify the confidence his colleagues had placed in him.

Members were reminded that nomination for the position of delegate to the Easter Conference will close on February 1 next. Mr. R. W. Bryan, 1 Wardrop Grove, Northcote, is the returning officer for the branch.

FREAK ADVERTISING.
 Modern advertising is usually clever and, perhaps, in some cases, a little too clever. Not so long ago some genius hit on the idea of advertising commodities by ringing up telephone subscribers and telling them all about the merits of So-and-so's soap or someone else's hair oil.

And now an advertisement for "Lillieville" Private Hospital, Darebin Street, Northcote, has appeared in the press. They are wanted so that an advertisement of a certain office by a method pointed on their heads by a method that won't injure their heads. They are then expected to attend "places of worship, theatres, and concert halls and other assemblies where the head is usually uncovered."

It is doubtful whether freak advertising really brings in much additional business, however. Even though a talk, it does not reach the vast public which an advertisement in the press can command.

COULDN'T BE THAT
 The vicar had made it his business to call on Mrs. Cuthbert with regard to one of her boys. "You know, Mrs. Cuthbert," he began, "for three Sundays I have noticed that your young son is very much absent from church. I am very much interested in learning why he is absent from church. I have thought that perhaps he is learning to play truant." Mrs. Cuthbert was very righteous and religious-minded beyond all reason. "Oh, it can't be that, I'm sure!" she declared firmly. "Why, we haven't got a pack of cards in the house!"

"Why, we haven't got a pack of cards in the house!"

For the vicar had made it his business to call on Mrs. Cuthbert with regard to one of her boys. "You know, Mrs. Cuthbert," he began, "for three Sundays I have noticed that your young son is very much absent from church. I am very much interested in learning why he is absent from church. I have thought that perhaps he is learning to play truant." Mrs. Cuthbert was very righteous and religious-minded beyond all reason. "Oh, it can't be that, I'm sure!" she declared firmly. "Why, we haven't got a pack of cards in the house!"

RAILWAYS UNION
 MR. KEANE RESIGNS SECY. TARYSHIP

Owing to his election to the Federal Parliament as the member for Bendigo, Mr. Keane, M.H.L., has decided to resign his position as general secretary of the Australian Railways Union, and has given notice to the Federal executive to that effect. Mr. Keane should retain an official position with the union, but he was likely to occupy the whole of his time.

During the five years that Mr. Keane was general secretary of the union, he spent much of his time in the Arbitration Court advocating the claims of railwaymen for a Federal award. The case which he has been not yet ended, and it is expected that this year the section of the claim relating to conditions of work before the Court for hearing. The awards obtained by Mr. Keane relate to New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, and Tasmania, and cover both daily paid and salaried grades. When the hearing is completed, the Deputy-President of the Court (Sir John King) will be able to claim that he has handled the largest case in the annals of industrial arbitration, both from the viewpoint of time occupied and the number of employes involved.

Mr. Keane's resignation will be submitted to the Australian executive of the union. It was stated that such steps would be taken to fill the vacancy.

DAHLIAS—ANCIENT AND MODERN
 NOTES ON TYPES AND VARIETIES

 NOTES ON TYPES AND VARIETIES

Like most flowers which have attained to universal favor, there seems to be no end of the number of varieties which yearly put on the market. Under these circumstances, it becomes increasingly difficult to enumerate the best when there are so many really good things to pick from. However, it is possible to make a selection of 24 to 30 varieties of color, substance, stem, strength, and general utility. These are entirely of the modern type, and immensely superior to the old.

TYPES AND VARIETIES
 It is due to the dahlia types of past generations that mention should be made concerning them. The first to those who, with diligence and success, cultivated these hardy things, but they are now being superseded by newer and more beautiful arrangements. The colors are more beautiful and the flowers are more numerous in their variety.

The flowers are large and durable when cut. Big dahlias, with strong stems, appeal to the majority of people; whilst the size may carry a certain commendation, it is by no means all that is needed. During the past two or three years a smaller decorative type has rapidly attained popularity, and by reason of its greater adaptability for cutting, whilst the colorings are even more remarkable than in the larger type. This is the new Garden Cactus type, which is so popular. The first of this type to be introduced, whilst showing the old Cactus blood, did not closely resemble the type, but had stems of astonishing rigidity.

More recent introductions show evidence of a closer resemblance to what our fathers and grandfathers knew as Cactus, the narrow curling petals being clearly shown, and this is doubtless a good feature, and one which will win the affections of many who, in some degree, have held aloof from the newer types of ornamental blossom.

Charm Dahlias, wondrously beautiful, may be said to have replaced Colarettes. They are exceedingly free-flowering, and possess qualities of endurance which are destined to make them the most popular of cutting flowers. Of medium size and in a great diversity of lovely shades, they will speedily find their way into every garden.

Pompones of the old type are "old yet ever new," but the new Decorative Pompones display greater vigor, and have somewhat larger flowers, are most adaptable for decorative purposes, and will undoubtedly gain in popularity. The old "Poms" are still in favor; in fact, they seem to be retaining the youth and in several new and attractive varieties.

Star Dahlias, in the heyday of their fame, had many admirers, but they are waning, and it is only a question of time till they give place to the smaller Paony and Charm types. The two best varieties of Stars ever introduced, viz., Ballarat Star and Melbourne, were raised in this country by the late Mr. John Cronin, and leading English growers have described the former as "one of the best."

Mignon of Miniature Dahlias are coming to the front for bedding, small, and for the most part single flowers, very profusely produced, they are most attractive. In the Old Country during the past five or six years they have been largely grown for bedding purposes in the London parks, and in the Royal gardens they are planted by thousands; and in the autumn months crowds flock to see the dahlia beds in all their gorgeous beauty.

The following represent a few of the best of each type of modern dahlias:—
 Decorative—August, Champagne, Curry, Elite, Glory, Jersey Beauty, Queen, Insulinde, Lady Stonehaven, Mabel Lawrence, Murillo, Pride of San Francisco, Fred Lau, Rationale, Sun, John Rose, White King, Macdonald, Bordeaux.
 Garden Cactus—A. E. Amos, Ambassador, Andreas Hofer, Bourgoyne, Coventry, Dr. H. Spack, Jubilee, Suzette Fincham, W. Piper, Salmon Beauty, Signior, Talsman.
 Charm—Cheri's Pink Dazzle, Charm, Lady Mary Hope, Our Anne, Mrs. Scrimgeour, Pink Pearl, Picture.
 Decorative Pompones—Bush Fire, Cygnet, Crimson Flag, Freda, Glitter, Simon Kinch, Twilight.
 Stars—Ballarat Star, Ballarat Star, Melbourne Star, Cockfield Star, Surrey Star, Coral Star.
 Miniature Bedding—Apolo, Colt, White King, Goldfinch, Paisley Gem, Zinnia.

WEDDING
STEVENS—POWER

On December 28, at St. Joseph's Church, Northcote, the Rev. Father Galvin officiated at the wedding of Miss Grace V. Power, youngest daughter of Mr. C. Power, of Alexandra, Victoria, and Mr. Leslie V. Stevens, youngest son of Mrs. M. Stevens, of Balclutha. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. E. J. Power, and organ solos were rendered by Miss A. Frawley. Gowned in ivory satin, styled with tight long lace sleeves and fully flared skirt, the bride wore a hip yoke, the bride wore a lace veil over a long tulle train edged with silver lace. The veil fell from a "Juliet" organ solos were rendered by Miss A. Frawley. THE CURE OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM.

Politics is notoriously a "dirty game." All the more reason why the individual should cultivate the civic conscience and clean up politics instead of leaving it to the few who are the victims of party machines and make politics dirty by working for party interests.

What does matter is the conflict between capital on the one side and labour on the other, and the question is how are we going to solve that supreme problem. Obviously there is only one panacea for that situation, and it is that the worker who is employed should have an interest in the business, just as the worker has who employs him.

It is in the business on surfeance. —he is in the business on surfeance. Old age pensions, child endowment, does ought not to be necessary. They indicate that the worker has not drawn his fair share of the proceeds. They fail to put the employe on a level of dignity with the employer.

WHITTLESEA. Fire at "Hillside."

On January 1 (New Year's Day), a fire broke out at the "Hillside" property, situated at Eastern Hill, Whittlesea, and destroyed a cow shed, stable and jinker shed, together with outbuildings, including a jinker and chaffcutters.

On Friday last thieves broke into the house of Mr. H. W. Sheehan, of Bridge street, Northcote, by forcing a window. The premises were ransacked, and a diamond ring and a suit of clothes valued at £14 were stolen.

A circular has been issued to all telephone subscribers advising of an increase of 10/- per annum in the charge for ground rentals, and that the extra charge will date from December 16 of last year.

The annual general meeting of the Northcote Football Club will be held on Wednesday, January 22, at 8 p.m. at the Northcote town hall.

On Monday morning electric wireless valves to the value of £6 were stolen from a set on the counter of Messrs. Robertson and O'Donnell's, High street, Northcote.

The annual meeting of the Whittlesea District Bush Fire Brigade was held at the residence of Mr. J. E. Evans, 107, High street, Northcote.

CHURCH NEWS

The week-end programme included the screen version of Edna Ferrar's famous "Showboat," featuring Lena Lamont and also "The Allegiance No. 2," a talkie "Tarzan the Magnificent" also on the programme.

Monday brings the all talking singing and dancing feature, "Syncope," which is just what they call a great big smashing musical extravaganza on the screen with hosts of flocks of sensational song numbers and musical hits.

The work of the sparkling cast, which includes, among others, Ian Hunter, Morton Downey, Osgood Perkins, Mackenzie Ward, Verree Teasdale and Dorothy Lee.

Life's backstage in three-act varietyville, where the painted smile is shed and the mask of the footlight drooped, where puppets of pleasure become human beings again, strikingly portrayed in a manner that reaches right to your heart in "Melody Lane," featuring Eddie Leonard, mixed with Josephine Dunn. Written by Joe Swearing, it is an exceptionally human story blended with the sentimental and the sentimental.

The great thoroughfare is all things to all men. It yields to all men who have the strength to take, and then, like the water that is drawn from the sea only to return to the sea, Broadway takes its own again. It is the street of opportunity, of paint, of color, of high lights and deep shadows. It countenances the vulgar in the vulgar is rich, it tolerates art, but does not endorse it.

It is most encouraging to know that our services are so much appreciated.

Miss Ware has been appointed local book secretary for the A.B.M., and will be pleased to hear of new subscribers to all important work.

We are all-important to the serious mother of one of our choir boys. Our prayers are asked for her recovery.

Mrs. Cole, sen., is confined to her bed with a very painful illness. We pray for her speedy recovery.

Owing to illness Mrs. Ramsden and Mrs. Farr, two of our most regular church goers, have both been missed from church. We hope that they will soon be able to be with us again.

BEWARE OF BUSH FIRES. COMMISSION'S WARNING.

Fearing that the hot weather will greatly add to the danger of fires in forest areas, the chairman of the Forests Commission (Mr. A. V. Galbraith) issued an appeal to all proprietors to exercise the utmost care in the use of fire.

Mr. Moser, Thomas is in the Melbourne Hospital, having undergone an operation.

School Break-up. The school break-up concert was a success and the evening was indeed a gala night for the children.

The collection at the Commonwealth Savings Bank, Whittlesea, for the Children's Hospital Christmas appeal amounted to £214/7.

Northcote Baptist Church. The Rev. S. Dorman will take "The Exploits of Faith" for the subject of his morning service on January 12, and his evening address will be on "Fads and Fashions of Faith."

Surprise in Store. She had been turning over every article in the wardrobe, and had placed before her, but nothing seemed to be just what she wanted. She said at length, and then, in a burst of confidence, whispered "You see, I am a widow, and I have a young son behind the counter gave her a queer look. "Well," he suggested jolly "why not his behind an armchair and yell 'Boo' at him?"

Boys: "Did you get any orders from 'Traveller' yesterday?" "What were they?" "I got two. 'Get out of here' and 'Don't they'." "Get out of here" and "Don't they" are the only orders I got."

NEWS IN BRIEF.

From the very large number of commonwealths, in connection with the competition conducted by Bryant and May, Master R. T. Dean, 103 Bruce street, Preston, whose age is 13 years, was awarded first prize.

The London "Observer," commenting on Australian finance, says:—"The financial problems facing the Australian Commonwealth Treasurer are likely to tax his ingenuity to the limit. The crux lies in the heavy outlays which will be required for the State loans, amount to approximately £35,000,000, while the national income is only £20,000,000 less than that of last year owing to a rise in the price of wool and the shortage of the wheat harvest."

Coming at a time when industry and trade is depressed and unemployment growing, the decision of the directors of J. C. Williamson Ltd. considerably to reduce their sphere of operations has caused uneasiness among investors.

The Victorian branch of the Licensed Victuallers' Association of Australia has announced that on and after January 1, 1930, the price of metropolitan area of Melbourne for bottled beer (quart size) will be 1/1. Following an increase in excise duty in 1929 the price of bottled beer increased from 1/1 to 1/2 a bottle, but in November the excise duty was reduced.

A tragedy involving the lives of three children and injuries to six others was caused by the explosion of a gas cylinder in the kitchen of a house at 107, Hill street, Melbourne, on January 4. The children, when playing in the railway goods yard, found a stack of empty drums. They rolled one down on top of a boy, after removing the lid, dropped in a match. The children were killed on the spot, and the boy was severely mutilated.

An unusual ceremony was performed at the Church of England, Chelsea, on Sunday, January 6, when the sacrament of baptism to twin girls, the godmothers being twins.

The Hon. Mr. H. H. Hall, rider of Royal Shot, who was thrown when a stray dog became entangled in his mount's bridle, was injured by the pony race at Myer's Flat on Saturday. When examined after the fall it was thought that his shoulder had been only badly bruised.

From Moscow the discovery is reported of 28 large oil wells in the Transcaucasian steppes. The Soviet Government has handed them over to a Russian petrol firm to be worked. The chairman of the company believes that the discovery will revolutionise the world's petrol market.

Taking advantage of the brief absence of the driver, thieves drove away a motor truck containing £300 worth of tea, which was left in George street, Sydney, near the General Post Office. The tea was the property of Bushells Ltd.

Judge William Northrup, sitting at Los Angeles, has issued a change of traffic violation against Lucio Godina, a Siamese twin, because the court could find no precedent for punishing the innocent half of the twin suffer with the guilty. Lucio had been taken to the police station in spite of the protests of Simplico, the other half of the twin. Simplico pointed out to the court that it was not he who was driving, that he was not guilty, and that he should be punished for any misdeeds of Lucio.

IVORY BILLIARD BALLS. Do you know the average number of billiard balls obtained from an elephant's tusk? The tusk is hollow for a considerable length, and as billiard balls must be solid and flawless, only about five can be obtained from each one. The suitable part of the tusk is cut up into blocks, and there are hung up in nets for about six weeks until the moisture has evaporated and the ivory is dry. The balls are then polished and finished.

KEEPING IT QUIET. The hard-up actor was looking for rooms in a small provincial town. He knocked at last on the door of a house where he had seen the notice "Apartments." "Could you give me your lowest terms for actors?" he asked of the landlady. "I could," was the reply, "but my misas is just behind me, and she doesn't hold with bad language."

REQUESTS TO PRESTON COUNCIL

At the meeting of the Regent Central Progress Association on Tuesday evening it was decided to request the Preston council to give attention to the following matters:— Street Sign.—That a sign be erected at the corner of Southernhay street and Oakhill avenue.

Street Light.—That the candle power of the street light at the corner of Robinson road and Wild street be increased, or alternatively, that another light be erected.

That drinking fountains be erected at Mason street park, Wood street park, and Regent park; and also a request for sanitary conveniences at each of the above parks.

Box Thorn.—That box thorn in Youngman street, near High street and Foch street, be eradicated.

That not holes in Tyler street, between Foch street and Plenty road, be repaired.

THE "LEADER" ALMANAC. This year the "Leader" will issue its almanac in the printing department, and because of the intervention of the printer, the almanac will not be issued until next week. We regret the delay, which, however, under the circumstances, was unavoidable.

WHEELS OF JUSTICE. COURT STATISTICS FOR 1929. Court statistics show that in 1929 there were 1,491 civil Supreme Court writs issued as against 1,399 in 1928. Both years fall short of 1927. In 1927 1,541 writs were issued, as against 1,316 in 1926 and 1,240 in 1925. These figures apply to Melbourne only.

Divorce petition figures (which also apply to Melbourne) show 327 petitions in 1929, as against 605 in 1928. Up to 1928 there had been a steady rise, the figures for 1927 being 588, for 1926 617, and for 1925 626. Officials of the probatory's office say that the public solicitor's office has had on the whole a falling off in 1929, and that in all probability if these were added no falling off would be shown.

In the County Court there were 54 presentments in 1929, and on 148 persons were tried. Of this number 10 were convicted. In 1928 the figures were 56 presentments, 422 persons tried, and 308 convictions. These figures apply to the whole of Victoria, and not to the County Court only.

General Sessions. In 1929 541 persons were tried in General Sessions, and 331 were convicted. Of 465 Sessions appeals 75 were allowed and 192 were dismissed. In 1928 465 people were tried, and 281 were convicted. The General Sessions appeals for that year were 88 allowed and 214 dismissed.

Criminal appeals, which are considered by the Full Court of Victoria, numbered 97 in 1929 and 92 in 1928. In 1927 there were 88 of these appeals, as against 83 in 1926 and 113 in 1925. County Court figures are not available.

Band Leader: "Why were you silent for five minutes?" Saxophone Soloist: "That was a request number." Father: "Which would you rather have, Jackie—a little brother or a little sister?" Jackie: "If it's all the same to you, I'd rather have a white rabbit with pink eyes."

Humphrey: "I think Napoleon was a much greater soldier than Bonaparte." Arthur: "But they were identical." Jackie: "That may be. But I always believe that Napoleon was much more identical of the two."

Increased Telephone Charges

INJUSTICE TO MANY PRESTON SUBSCRIBERS

A DISGRACEFUL IMPOSITION. A MATTER FOR THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

Telephone ground rents are based on a radius basis and the charge varies according to the distance from the exchange. Recently the P.M.G.'s Department decided to remove the old Northcote exchange for reasons of their own to the new post office site 220 yards further south, and this placed many of the subscribers in the Northcote area outside the two mile radius. These subscribers, many of whom have been connected to the telephone system for years, are now called upon to pay an additional ground charge.

The following correspondence between the Department and the Regent Central Progress Association will show the injustice which will be done by the Department. The subscribers whose rentals have been increased slightly are being asked to pay only for the services actually provided for them individually, and not for any portion of the facilities provided for general use.

1. The policy of converting the exchange from the manual to the automatic system involves similar adjustments in each case, and the practice of selecting the most suitable sites possible and charging for telephone services strictly in accordance with the telephone regulations, i.e., on the radial distance, from the exchange to the subscriber's premises, seems to be the only equitable course open to the Department.

2. The procedure in the case of the Northcote conversion is identical with that followed previously, and for the reasons mentioned I feel sure you will agree with the action taken by the Department to adjust the rental charges payable by the subscribers concerned.

3. My association is aware that the telephone regulations provide for higher charges for ground rent where lines are erected over a two mile distance from an exchange, but that the removal of an exchange should not be treated in the same manner as if the lines were just being erected for the convenience of applicants.

It is agreed that the additional capital expenditure incurred by the erection of long lines might reasonably be reimbursed by higher ground rent. However, the exchange was not in this instance removed at the request of subscribers, but on account of departmental reasons, and it should not be treated as if it were the extra additional and continuous burden on existing telephone users. That the total cost of removal be borne by all subscribers, but that the limit of their willingness to pay, and consequently the considerable interest displayed.

Members are not convinced that the Department's attitude to existing subscribers is entirely reasonable, but they have been requested to take the matter up with the Federal member, Mr. Frank Brennan. I am advising you of this fact so that, should the matter be mentioned on the floor of the House, the Postmaster-General may be in possession of the facts.

Yours faithfully,
E. E. FITZGERALD,
Hon. Secretary.

September 25, 1929.
F. Brennan, Esq., M.H.R.,
Federal Members' Rooms,
Temple Court,
Collins St., Melbourne.

Dear Mr. Brennan,
I have been instructed by my association to approach you in respect of a recent imposition of an additional charge for telephone service to certain subscribers in the Northcote exchange area.

Owing to the building of an automatic exchange further from Preston than was the manual exchange, certain subscribers are now charged an additional 10/- per annum.

The matter has already been represented to the Department, and Mr. Brennan has advised that in accordance with the regulations, the action is justified, and this should remain.

My members contend that whatever may be the provisions of the regulations, existing subscribers should not be called upon to pay the additional charges. When the Department erected the lines, a certain charge was imposed, and this should remain.

If the Department finds it expedient to alter the site of the exchange, it is suggested that the subscribers should not be called upon to pay the additional charges. It is suggested that the new site be selected to give Northcote subscribers the benefit of the latest automatic telephone, so that the manual exchange could be continued until the automatic exchange was actually available for use. No portion of the heavy initial expenditure in this respect has been passed on to the subscribers.

With the object of avoiding a general rearrangement of the rental charges, the automatic exchange has been established as close as possible to the old premises, but it means an increase of 220 yards for some of the lines, and a reduction for others. The new exchange with its up to date equipment is the normal point from which the radial distance is now provided, and consequently the point from which the rentals should be assessed. The subscribers whose rentals have been increased slightly are being asked to pay only for the services actually provided for them individually, and not for any portion of the facilities provided for general use.

4. The policy of converting the exchange from the manual to the automatic system involves similar adjustments in each case, and the practice of selecting the most suitable sites possible and charging for telephone services strictly in accordance with the telephone regulations, i.e., on the radial distance, from the exchange to the subscriber's premises, seems to be the only equitable course open to the Department.

5. The procedure in the case of the Northcote conversion is identical with that followed previously, and for the reasons mentioned I feel sure you will agree with the action taken by the Department to adjust the rental charges payable by the subscribers concerned.

EQUAL PAY FOR WOMEN

To assail the honesty of women, as a magistrate did at the Australian Public Service Federation conference in Perth, was neither chivalrous nor in good taste. It was quite irrelevant to the resolution affirming the principle of equal pay for equal work for men and women. "Equal pay for equal work" is a good slogan, it is ethically and economically sound, and it has everything to commend it. It figures as the seventh of the general principles adopted by the High Contracting Parties in the Peace Treaty of 1919. Thirty years ago Mr. Asquith urged the admission of women into the civil service, but the principle of equal pay has still to be re-opened by the British Government with a view to its practical application. The only civil service where a serious attempt has been made to apply it is in the United States. Gradually women are forcing the recognition of their right to share in the management of the world's affairs. A woman has Cabinet rank in England. In three Australian States women have been elected to Parliament, and the argument is inconceivable that when a woman is given a seat in the House

TALKIE TALKS

"SHOW BOAT"
The spectacular film version of "Show Boat" has Laura La Plante as the heroine of this production, and Joseph Schildkraut is attractive as Gaylord Ravenak. Otis Harlan makes a genial Captain Andy, and Emily Fitzroy is outstanding as the stern Parthy Ann.

"THE COCK-EYED WORLD"
"The Cock-Eyed World" is a sequel to "What Price Glory?" The two principal parts, Flagg and Quirt, are played by Victor McLaughlin and Edmund Lowe. There are many comedy situations in this talkie.

"BROADWAY MELODY"
"Broadway Melody" is an enjoyable and well-produced film of Broadway stage life with clever dancing and musical lyrics. The acting of Beatie Love is one of the best features of this musical comedy. Few scenes on the film have been more spectacular than the colored representation of the Wedding of the Painted Doll.

"BROADWAY"
Spectacular scenes of Broadway night life make the all-talking, singing and dancing film, "Broadway," enjoyable.

A feature of this page in future will be illustrated talkie talks of the latest releases coming to the local theatres.

able entertainment. The plot in "Broadway" has been overlooked to some extent to make way for the art of the camera-man. The scenes in the Paradise Night Club, where the action of the story takes part, are excellent. Glen Tryon is the conceited young hero, and Myrna Kennedy is the girl who, when she is trying to "break into Big Time,"

Scenes of the French Foreign Legion chasing Buff cavalry provide "thrills in the talking film version of the stage success, "The Desert Song." As the Red Shadow, John Boles sings well and Chadlow King in the role of Gungo Bonnet uses his voice to advantage. The reproduction of the singing by the big male chorus is excellent. There are spectacular scenes on the desert. Myrna Loy plays Azari, the dancer. Other roles in the cast are Johnny Arthur, Louise Fane, John Miljan and Edward Marzindale.

BANDIT STEALS $5000.

A FRIEND OF FATHER'S
A remarkable story of the burglary of the residence of Mr. Charles Mantion Richter, Chicago, by five men, took away $5000 worth of plate. The bandit was told to the police on January 7.

They had cut the telephone wires and one man had stood guard outside while the other three spent an hour leisurely ransacking the house when Mrs. Richter was surprised by the men. She agreed to give them her jewellery if they did not alarm her boy and girl, who had just been put to bed.

The burglars entered into the spirit of the occasion by smiling pleasantly when the boy, who is aged 8, came from his bedroom for a drink of water. "I'm just an old college chum of your father," said one bandit to the startled lad, who returned to his room satisfied with the explanation.

PROPOSED GLEN PARK WATER SCHEME.

A meeting of residents of Glen Park was held on October 25 for the consideration of obtaining a water supply for Glen Park. It was resolved that we ask Drs. Leach, Middleton and Stanton to attend a public meeting to be held for advice on the matter. Mr. J. Murray was elected chairman and J. E. Mongor hon. secretary and treasurer. Mr. Downing refused payment for use of the room. He said it was always available to residents of Glen Park. Mr. Downing was thanked for his ready construction. A heavy vote of thanks was accorded to them and placed on the minutes, for which the yaincevoled thanks were made. Mr. Fascal moved a motion to be considered at a meeting to be held on January 11, 1930.

A COMPROMISE

With a tremendous effort Dodson just managed to keep out of the way of the way of his friend Watkin's car in time. Watkin allowed up and turned to him. "Sorry, old man," he said. "I should just think so," pluttered Dodson. "What on earth are you driving so fast for?" "Well," smiled Watkin, "the magistrate fined me ten shillings for exceeding the limit this morning, and as he hadn't change for a pound note he told me to go and spend the remainder out."

Rita: "Is your husband liberal in money matters?" Joyce: "No; he's a politician, and he opposes every bill I want to pass."

Schoolmaster: "How many times have I told you not to be late for class?" Pupil: "I don't know, sir. I thought you were keeping the score."

Hennessey: "You were taking part in a boxing match last night. How did you come out?" Pettigrew: "Horribly."

Preston Motor Cyclist Injured. WILLIAM Moulden, aged 24 years of High Street, Preston, was found lying beside a damaged motor-cycle near the corner of Victoria and Spring streets, East Melbourne, shortly before 9 o'clock last Friday night. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he was admitted, suffering from a fractured shoulder, concussion, and other head injuries. It is believed that Moulden fell from his machine when turning from Spring Street into Victoria street.

Preston Traders' Gala. THE gala conducted by the High Street Preston Traders' Association from December 16 to Christmas Eve was so successful that arrangements are being made already for a similar effort in February. Traders claim that as a result of the gala a larger volume of trade was brought into High Street, especially on Christmas Eve, than in previous years.

Boys' Holiday Camp. DURING the holidays a party of boys from the Preston Church of Christ went into camp on the King Parrot Creek, Kinglake West, under the leadership of Mr. F. Morgan and some of the young men of the church. A most enjoyable time was spent, with plenty of fun and frolic. In spite of the excessive rain, a number of outings were conducted, and various sports were engaged in. A contest for the camp champion created great interest, the boys themselves selecting each day the one who, from the various standpoints of sport, fellowship, camp duties, etc., was the best. To the winner of the highest total score for the camp, a prize was given by the church officers, the boys selecting Roy Clarkson as the camp champion. On New Year's Day they all returned eager for another camp under similar conditions.

More Cats. ONCE again has Preston railway station become the dumping ground for stray cats. During the past week two of the species referred to were left by railway travellers at the local station where they are being kindly treated by Mr. D. Ross and his staff.

A Big Excavator. MESSRS. Ruston and Hornsby, engineers, have placed a big excavator weighing between 10 and 17 tons in Preston council yards, in connection with High Street reconstruction works. Reservoir District Band. RESERVOIR District Band has postponed the proposed band's performance announced to be held at Preston park on February 2 to March 2. The proceeds are to be devoted to cards to purchase uniforms for the bandmen.

Pointed Proverbs. NO. 10—THE ROYAL ROAD. That old Roman proverb, "Service sets the example," means "To serve is to reign," holds good in all kingdoms of creation. The most valuable mineral is that which is the most useful, and gold gets its regal value from the fact that its possession enables us to do so much. In the vegetable kingdom the most valuable growths are those that serve. The weed is despised and its eradication is sought, and the edible plant is cultivated and valued. In the animal kingdom the horse and cow are of higher value than the lion or the tiger, and the elephant is more valuable than a wild one. Germany, through the medium of its industries, its banks and its missions, rendered great service to humanity, and was on the way to achieving universal power and influence as one of the most renowned nations of history, but its desire for dominance undermined all this, and it fell back sadly in the ranks of nations. Just so, also, the scriptures teach that ministry, not mastery, leads to true greatness. Abraham is seen at his greatest when he stands aside and lets Lot choose the throne of Egypt. Joseph reaches the service as a slave, the shepherd of Bethlehem becomes said, "I am among you as one who serves." The whole biography of Jesus is condensed by Peter into five words: "He came to serve." Truly, the Royal Road is the road of service and ministry. Let us all be ready to tread along this pathway, taking the princely motto as ours this year, "Ich dien" or "I serve."

Promotion. MR. Harold Cole, a clerk engaged at the Preston branch of the Bank of Australasia, has been promoted and appointed on the staff of the superintendent's office, Melbourne. Mr. McNamara, from St. Kilda, succeeds Mr. Cole at Preston.

Unemployed. THE cry of the unemployed is still to be heard in Preston. Men persist in loitering in the vicinity of the town hall, although they have been told distinctly that it is useless to do so. A register of those unemployed is kept in the municipal offices, and as soon as work is available those on the list will be notified in due course. So persistent were some men in loitering about the town hall that a notice was posted to the effect that their names would be placed last on the list for employment.

Baby Home Centre. ON Wednesday morning Sister Holland entered into possession of the new Baby Home Centre, adjacent to the local municipal buildings in Gowrie street.

Personal. THE mayor and mayoress of Preston (Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McPherson) are enjoying a well-earned rest at Mentone.

Dispersary. THE district committee of the Preston U.F.S. Dispensary, will hold a euchre party and dance on January 22 in the scout hall, Town Hall avenue. Prizes will be given for cards and Monte Carlo games.

Cutting Corners. COMPLAINTS are rife in the vicinity of Queen street, at the intersection of Joffre street, about carts and motor vehicles making a lay-over on the footpath in Queen street. Several persons have been prosecuted for this offence.

Steam Roller Bogged. ON Wednesday morning, at the corner of High street and Becherby avenue, a steam roller being used in connection with the reconstruction works became bogged and sank ankle deep into the ground. Another roller was made use of and rescued the sunken one.

Christmas Tree. A REPORT from the recent Christmas tree held under the auspices of the Regent Central Progress Association, held at the Regent Central on Tuesday evening, the total expenditure was £18 11/4, and the proceeds to raise funds, including the Christmas tree, reached the total of £17 10/3. This was considered highly satisfactory, and a resolution was passed to the secretary (Mrs. Kneebone), the committee, and the ladies' committee (Mrs. Evans) and all responsible parties.

Picnic to Warrandyte. A PICNIC to Warrandyte has been arranged by the Regent Central Progress Association for A.N.A. Day. A full programme of sports has been arranged, and the committee, and the No. 1 ground, with cricket pitch, arranged for. Hot water will be supplied to the picnic vans which will supplement private cars in transporting members to the ground. Tickets may be obtained from the secretary (Mr. Kneebone).

MEHRNDA UP WE GO!

Having been through the Whittlesea district from end to end, I can honestly say that in my long residence on the Plenty I have never seen so much and good grass, and certainly under wheat this year, and I think there will be at least about a ton to the acre average, if not 10 bags to the acre. A considerable area has been planted under barley, and the yield promises to be heavy. True, the harvest, owing to the wet season, has been a difficult one, but with all its drawbacks there is no better place in this fair state of ours than up the valley of the Plenty, and in the basalt country between the Sydney road and the highway, and over and over again it has proved what a wonderful district it is for cereal and stock crops. The farmers here are going in largely for growing millet. Only yesterday I saw a beautiful crop of very many acres, the property of Mr. James Andrew, of Whittlesea. It looks well, and was quite refreshing to look upon on a hot day, and it certainly produces very succulent food for the Western District. It looks well, and was quite refreshing to look upon on a hot day, and it certainly produces very succulent food for the Western District.

AIR WAR ON INSECT PESTS. Aircraft have also been used for surveying in Rhodesia and elsewhere, and for some years past aeroplanes have been employed to help farmers by destroying insect pests. All sorts of growing crops have been dusted with chemicals by aeroplanes in order to protect them against insects, and their work has been highly successful. They can carry out operations of this kind hundreds of times faster than the best ground machine—and they also do it more efficiently.

Every form of business, too, has benefited as a result of air mail services, which enable letters to be carried much more quickly. The air mail between Perth and Adelaide, for instance, which was inaugurated recently, has brought Melbourne four days nearer to London.

All sorts of things can be sent by air mail. A few months ago a seven-month-old baby travelled by air mail between two South American cities. "Perishable, please rush" and the legend of the address label, but the baby was none the worse for its adventure when it arrived at its destination.

There are not less than 6000 sheep now travelling through the Whittlesea hills, feeding on the roads. Some of them show the hard times that they have had in the Mallee, whilst others look so well that a doubt is felt whether they are starving stock at all, or only sheep put on the roads as a speculation, as many of them are three-parts fat.

WETS DRY; DRY WET

There is no formal definition of a holiday, and few would be rash enough to attempt one. It is generally regarded, however, as a time when body and mind recuperate, and when workaday things are dismissed from ungrateful memory. Nothing could better illustrate the truth of the paradox that wet countries are becoming drier and dry countries are increasing in wetness than comparison of the manner in which Americans and Australians spent their brief seasonal holidays. The growth of sobriety in Australian communities was evident in the decorous behavior of crowds at the seaside and tourist resorts. The sight of an intoxicated person in city hotels was rare, and in the suburbs of Melbourne, which in earlier years were noted for the alcoholic exuberance of a section of the town, no arrests for drunkenness were recorded from Christmas Eve to New Year's Day.

More World Records. Far different were conditions in America! There, Christmas was bibulously celebrated. A cable message on December 26 conveyed these tidings to a wet, but sober and disgusted world. "The New York police removed 30 persons to the hospitals from the streets to-day. They were suffering from the effects of drinking inordinate quantities of Christmas liquor, which is described as 'poison.' Twelve cases reported as acute. The ages of the victims ranged from 19 to 76 years. In Philadelphia 150 persons were arrested during the holidays and charged with intoxication. Seven were sent to the hospitals." The cutting edge moves with a faint hissing of sparks over the tissues, which are left severed as cleanly as by the sharpest blade. If a small artery is cut into, the cut end is picked up with forceps, the forceps are touched with the knife, and at once the bleeding point has been electrically sealed.

As a result of festivities (?) at Christmas, 1929, six persons died from the "effects of poisoning." The toll of dead, blinded, and paralysed was absent this year. What was the cause? Less drinking? No; the American stomach for intoxicants is still capacious, but the palate is more fastidious.

Health Officer's Warning. An explanation of the lowered Yuletide death rate, as distinct from illness and shocks to nervous systems, is supplied by the medical and health officer of New York (Dr. Norris) in a warning to what he labels "the world's wettest city." "Our men," Dr. Norris says, "are not drinking the strong liquor, but the weak and adulterated stuff they formerly used. Many have learned to take their liquor home and to do their drinking in their own apartments. What must have been the extent of public drinking before good manners and consideration for undertakers were begotten of sad experience!" "Hurry to the Doctor." Dr. Norris' advice to New Yorkers is: "If you drink in this bootleg era, do your drinking no more than five minutes away from a doctor. As soon as you swallow 'pre-war' or 'right-off-the-liquor' drink, your eyes a few times. If they seem blurred, hurry to a doctor and have him use the stomach pump."

Wedding Guest: "This is your fourth daughter to get married, isn't it?" "Might: 'Ay, and our confetti's gettin' awfu' gritty.'"

PARADOX OF CHRISTMAS.

MARVELS OF THE OPERATING THEATRE

Operation fees ranging from £50 to £500 are commonly demanded by surgeons in London and the more important provincial centres. These figures seem exorbitant, but against them must be set the high rents of town houses and consulting rooms, the salaries of servants, secretaries and chauffeurs, the innumerable incidental expenses of travelling, and the considerable cost of surgical appliances. Some idea of the sums to be spent on instruments may be gathered from the fact that a certain London hospital of moderate size spends in the course of a year £25,000 on surgical appliances alone, apart from the gross upon gross of pairs of rubber gloves and the thousands of rolls of dressings.

Even the cost of cleanliness is no light item in the year's expenditure. Scrupulous cleansing of the operating theatre, the provision of freshly sterilised masks, gowns, and linen sacks for the feet of the operator and his eight or nine assistants, the boiling of instruments, and the baking of dozens of steel drums containing towels, pads, and sponges, are all matters of heavy outlay. The furnishing of the operating theatre is as costly as it is marvellous, from the perfectly adjustable operation table weighing about four hundredweight to the great lamp which gives no shadow. The latter, costing over £100, is nearly a yard in diameter, and possesses a complicated system of reflectors.

Of late years electricity has been applied more and more to surgery, so that at present some surgeons prefer to do even their cutting by electricity. This process is known as diathermy, and consists of a circuit of which one pole is the patient's body and the other the blade of the knife. The cutting edge moves with a faint hissing of sparks over the tissues, which are left severed as cleanly as by the sharpest blade. If a small artery is cut into, the cut end is picked up with forceps, the forceps are touched with the knife, and at once the bleeding point has been electrically sealed.

He: "But, darling, don't you want to marry a man who is economical?" She: "I suppose so; but it's not much fun being engaged to one." Departing Guest: "You advertise this as the best hotel in town?" Proprietor: "Well, it is." "Well, that may be a fine boast for the hotel, but it's a bad look-out for the town." were begotten of sad experience! "Hurry to the Doctor." Dr. Norris' advice to New Yorkers is: "If you drink in this bootleg era, do your drinking no more than five minutes away from a doctor. As soon as you swallow 'pre-war' or 'right-off-the-liquor' drink, your eyes a few times. If they seem blurred, hurry to a doctor and have him use the stomach pump."

WHAT HE WANTED

A well-set-up young man was Walter Wheeler. Always buying new suits and so on. His tailor was fitted a new pair of trousers, and pointed to the reflection in the mirror. "There you are, sir," he said. "What about that for a fit, eh? They go on you like gloves." Walter Wheeler was rather particular, and he did not like what he saw in the mirror. "They're agreed shortly," said the tailor, "but I'd much rather they went on me like trousers."

Driven to Conclusions

DON'T DRIVE SO FAST, MYTLE! HERE'S SOMETHING COMING!

AND I'M JUST AS SURE THAT FIFTY PER CENT OF THE FOLKS IN THIS CAR THOUGHT SO, TOO!!!

I'M CERTAIN THAT FIFTY PER CENT OF THOSE PEOPLE THOUGHT WE WERE GOING TO BUMP!

WESTGARTH TALKIES.

"SHOW BOAT"

This week-end one of the greatest entertainments ever brought to this district will be presented in "Show Boat." Universal's gigantic singing and talking motion picture, in which have been combined all the romance, color, sweep and drama of Edna Ferber's novel, and the sensational musical bits of the Ziegfeld stage production, sung by famous Ziegfeld stars. A stellar cast includes Laura La Plante, Joseph Schildkraut, Otis Harlan and Alma Rubens. This programme includes a number of talkie shorts, including a speech by Mr. W. M. Hughes.

Monday will inaugurate programmes of outstanding merit, when 100 per cent. talkies are to be presented. "Syncope" is a melodious, turn-of-mind, sprightly film music extravaganza, with Fred Waring and his world-famous Pennsylvania 55, one lifting band hit after another, also Morton Downey sings three new song numbers. "Melody Lane" lifts the curtain on the lives of vaudeville players, their struggles, their hardships, their heart-aches, and their triumphs. You'll see and hear Eddie Leonard, regarded as the last of the great minstrels, in the songs that made him famous, in addition to three new smashing songs his, written especially for this picture. In the cast are Huntly Gordon and Josephine Dan.

Next Thursday the management of this theatre has one of the biggest treats of the year in store for its patrons, with "Broadway" a melodious, all-talking production, will be screened. "Broadway" is reported to have everything that makes for good entertainment. The story is a dramatic tale of two young innocents who become involved in a gripping underworld plot in connection with the night club activities of Broadway. The cast includes Evelyn Brent and Glenn Tryon.

CHEAPER GRAVE SITES.

NOT THOUGHT HEAVY BY MR. BECKETT

Complaints have been made that the charges made for grave allotments in some cemeteries in the metropolitan area are excessive.

The Minister for Health (Mr. Beckett) said that he did not think that the complaints were justified. The costs of maintaining cemeteries were high, and had increased considerably in recent years. Moreover, they tended to rise as the cemetery became filled, and the income from the sale of grave sites diminished. In response to complaints that grave sites were being bought for speculation and profit, the first Hogan Ministry, providing additional land in certain cemeteries, fixed the price of grave sites at £10. This price could not be exceeded.

WEDDINGS

DYER—GIBSON

Christmas lilies and hydrangeas decorated the St. James' Church of England, Thornbury, on January 4, when the Rev. J. Briggs officiated at the wedding of Mr. Alfred George Dyer, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dyer, of Carlton, and Miss Annie E. Gibson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gibson, of Collins street, Thornbury. The bride was given away by her father, and she wore a charming gown of white crepe de chene, over which fell a tulle train, held by bands of orange blossoms. Her flowers were white Christmas lilies, carnations and heath. Miss Mary Gibson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was dressed in pale blue crepe de chene trimmed with white tulle. A large picture hat was relieved with blue and her bouquet was of pink carnations, lilies and heath. Mr. J. Gibson, jun., was best man. The bride's mother was gowned in brown, georgette trimmed with gold, and a hat to tone. The bridegroom's mother chose navy blue crepe de chene for her frock, and a hat to tone. About 70 guests were entertained at a wedding breakfast in Pender's Hall, and the catering was in the capable hands of Mr. J. Ferris, Rossmoyne street, Thornbury, which left nothing to be desired. The ceremony was indulged in by the guests until a late hour.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Saved for the Salad!

Bought mayonnaise frequently proves extravagant, especially if it is of the thick variety and difficult to get out of the bottle. So often the last of the mayonnaise proves obstinate and so is wasted.

If you have not a long-handled spoon by you, try warming the bottles in a saucepan of hot water. The steam will invariably loosen the mayonnaise at the bottom. If it does not seem worth while, a few drops of vinegar shaken into the bottle will loosen it. You may use this for the salad you wish to add to table already dressed, or transfer with other remainders to a small jug.

Lemon Plaque.

One lemon, two teaspoonful of sugar, a pinch of cinnamon, soda-water, etc. Half fill a tumbler with small pieces of ice, sprinkle the cinnamon over, add to it the strained lemon juice and sugar. Fill up the glass with soda water.

Sugar Does It.

Sugar is excellent for bringing out the flavor of tomatoes and green peas that are getting rather old.

Mint will chop much more easily if a little sugar is sprinkled over it. The sugar is in no way harmful to the flavor of the mint.

Cheese will not become mouldy in warm weather if a lump of cast sugar is placed beside it in the dish.

When a piercest is difficult to brown, brush over lightly with a solution of sugar and hot water and return to the oven for a few minutes longer.

Strawberry Preserve.

One pint fresh strawberries, 4 slices pineapple, 1½ cupfuls sugar. Cut pineapple into small pieces. Add strawberries, and cook till part of liquid has evaporated from the cooked strawberries. Add hot sugar, and cook till the syrup "sheets" from the spoon.

NORTHCOTE THEATRE.

COQUETTE

Last week-end was one of the most successful programmes yet produced at this popular theatre. To-night another very fine and entertaining picture will be screened, "The Four Peppers," in which there is a very strong cast consisting amongst others of William Powell, Richard Arlen, Fay Wray, Olive Brook and Noah Berry. The greatness of this production bears description. The story is one of courage and essentially British in sentiment, a tale that arouses pride of race and tells of one of the glowing episodes of the expansion of the British Empire.

On Monday next the programme is especially interesting. The popular favorite, known as the world's sweetest film, "Coquette," will be screened in the all-talking sensation, "Coquette." This has been described as her most vivid drama. Mary Pickford, whose curls have for many years been the envy of the most famous beauties, has discarded permanently the Pickford coiffure in favor of a modish bob. As long as her mother lived Mary would not bob her hair. To Charlotte Pickford, Mary's curls were the symbol of the wonderful child and artistic genius she had given to the world. They represented her mother's greatness. When it could no longer wound her mother, Mary cut off her curls. Come, let us salute the new Mary Pickford, "Coquette," is the dramatic and emotional Broadway success. Long live the new sweethearts with the charm and modern appeal.

On Thursday next "The Rainbow Man" is announced to be screened. This very fine all talking and singing musical, in which three well-known popular songs are featured—"Sunny Valley," "Little Pal" and "Rainbow Man." Patrons are advised to reserve their favorite seats, as there is no charge for booking.

PERSONAL.

Ex-Cr. and Mrs. Schwabach, with their daughter and son-in-law (Mr. and Mrs. T. Tomkins) left by motor car on Saturday morning for Sydney and Brisbane. They expect to be away about a month.

Rev. J. O. Hughes is spending a holiday in South Gippsland. He will return in time to resume duty on January 19.

A motor trip to Sydney was the manner in which Mr. and Mrs. S. Moyle, of Northcote, and party spent the Christmas holidays, and a very enjoyable pastime it proved.

The many friends of Mr. Walter J. Bott, of "Ikelle," South street, Preston, will be pleased to learn that he is progressing favorably after having undergone a serious operation at "Epworth" private hospital. He will spend the period of his convalescence at Frankston.

The death occurred at a private hospital on January 5 of Mrs. Helena and Mrs. S. Baroutrey, wife of Mr. S. Baroutrey, of Shaftesbury parade, Thornbury. The family are George, Gabriel, Stanley, Alf, Annie, Arthur and Evelyn. The interment was made at the Coburg cemetery on Monday.

The death occurred on January 4 at a private hospital in Melbourne of Mr. Arthur Alexander Hall, of "Woodlands," Flowerdale, at the age of 64 years. The late Mr. Hall was widely known and respected, and his death removes one of the best-known residents of the district. He was a son of the late John and Eliza Hall, Mr. Edwin Hall, of Glenburn, is a Monday. The funeral took place on the Melbourne General Cemetery, Carlton.

ASTONISHING FAMINE IN CHINA.

COLOSSAL DEATH ROLL

WOLVES AND DOGS EAT CORPSES

Ghastly details of the famine conditions prevailing in the Kansu Province of Central China were revealed by Mr. Finlay Andrews, director of the China International Famine Relief Commission, who has returned to Shanghai after an exhaustive investigation.

"Lanchow, the capital city of the province, is practically a city of the dead," stated Mr. Andrews. "Sixty per cent. of the population has been exterminated by pestilence and starvation, and the remainder are faced with the same prospect. Huge pits are being dug for the burial of the dead. Typhus is raging in many districts, and rotting bodies and skeletons are littering the roads. A pitiful sight at Lanchow is that of hundreds of tiny children being offered for sale by their parents in an impotent panic market. When the parents are unable to find buyers at the average price of six dollars (about 12/-) the children are turned aside to starve.

"The whole countryside is denuded for hundreds of miles. Trees are stripped completely of their bark, which has been used for food, while the ground resembles a rabbit warren due to the Chinese have been digging for roots."

Mr. Andrews states that investigation shows that there is little hope of relief owing to the fact that the roads are not suitable for motor cars. Every animal useful for transport has already been eaten. Dogs and wolves have been living on human bodies. "I have seen with my own eyes evidence of human flesh having been devoured by starving Chinese," he adds.

A report made by Mr. Grover regarding the conditions in the provinces of Shansi and Shensi indicates that the transport difficulties will prevent the arrival of relief from outside.

ST. GEORGE'S ROAD BEAUTIFICATION.

START TO BE MADE NEXT WEEK.

A start will be made about the middle of next week with the beautification scheme in connection with the pipe track in St. George's road, Preston, at a cost of £8000. The work will be started at Dundas St., and will be carried northward on the same lines as the work was done in Northcote.

TOPPED FRUIT.

A salutary fine was inflicted on William Hawke, of Mitchell street, Northcote, a stallholder at the Preston Market, at the Preston court on Thursday, when he was charged with having "topped" fruit on November 26.

An inspector related how he visited the market and saw a quantity of oranges on Hawke's stand. There were large oranges in front and small ones behind, and there was a notice on the stall, "Ten a shilling." The fruit was found.

Police Magistrate Wilson said that this kind of thing must be stopped, and imposed a fine of £5.

ST. GEORGE'S ROAD BEAUTIFICATION.

START TO BE MADE NEXT WEEK.

A start will be made about the middle of next week with the beautification scheme in connection with the pipe track in St. George's road, Preston, at a cost of £8000. The work will be started at Dundas St., and will be carried northward on the same lines as the work was done in Northcote.

Mr. Andrews states that investigation shows that there is little hope of relief owing to the fact that the roads are not suitable for motor cars. Every animal useful for transport has already been eaten. Dogs and wolves have been living on human bodies. "I have seen with my own eyes evidence of human flesh having been devoured by starving Chinese," he adds.

A report made by Mr. Grover regarding the conditions in the provinces of Shansi and Shensi indicates that the transport difficulties will prevent the arrival of relief from outside.

A STOLEN MOTOR CAR. ENGINE NUMBER ALTERED. YOUNG MAN SENT FOR TRIAL.

Maurice Horinack, aged 20 years, fruiterer, of Laura street, Brunswick, appeared at the Collingwood court on Monday charged with having on December 11 stolen a motor car valued at £125, the property of James George Neilson, manufacturer, of Ballantyne street, Thornbury.
 Neilson said that he left his motor car in Johnston street, near the corner of Smith street. Half an hour later it was gone, and he next saw it on January 6 and motor auction rooms in Swanston street. The number plates had been removed, and the engine number had been repainted.
 Detective A. C. Lee said that on January 6 he saw Horinack in the missing motor car outside the auction rooms, where he was seen to start the engine. In reply to questions he said that his name was Marks, and that he lived in Legon street, Carlton. He explained that he was trying to sell the car for £30. Asked where he had obtained the car, he said he had bought it from a man at East Melbourne before, and produced a receipt. Further questioned, he admitted that his name was Horinack, and that this was his brother's name.
 Horinack pleaded not guilty and reserved his defence. He was committed for trial at the Court of Sessions on February 3. Bail was fixed at £100.

TALKIES AT THE REGENT.

To-night and Saturday the 100 per cent. talking and singing "Broadway" and the comedy "The Duke" will be screened. Tracy Ruth Miller, will be screened; also the Fourth Collections No. 2, a funny, peppy picture of real life.
 Monday brings the wonderful production, "Broadway Melody," with its winsome stars, Bessie Love and Anita Page. This story is well presented and will hold the interest and sympathy with its varied scenes and situations. Mirth and sentimentality are colored version of "The Wedding of the Painted Doll" is vividly traced. In support comes "Warmed Off," a thrilling drama, with comedy relief, starring Cliff Howland and Genevieve.
 The mid-week brings "The Cinema," a 100 per cent. talking drama with Jean Hersholt and Kathryn Crawford in the leading roles. "Jazz Age," the supporting picture, brings the life of modern youth beneath the microscope, presents in fair trial and, through the spoken dialogue, allows it to be its own advocate. Marjorie Day, Josephine Frank, Jun. Henry B. Walhall and Gertrude Meyer singers are starred. The RCA Phonograph method of sound synchronization was used.

THE MONEY VALUE OF AN AUSTRALIAN CITIZEN.

It is difficult to convince humanitarian people and many public men of the value of the individual life. Yet the question of alienating the great bulk of the Commonwealth's wealth is being considered by the Government. The Commonwealth's wealth is being considered by the Government. The Commonwealth's wealth is being considered by the Government.

MERENDA.

At the ball arranged by the newly formed Mernda Tennis Club on Wednesday night, the club funds will benefit by £5 profit.
 There was some alarm in the district on Monday when smoke was seen rising from the railway crossing. Some residents rushed out thinking it was a grass fire; others began to make preparations for fighting it. It was found that it was the railway road men burning off. There is a feeling that Government departments should comply with the law in this matter and also in the matter of clearing noxious weeds from Government land.

CR. ADAMS HAS ALARMING EXPERIENCE. BRICKS DROP ON HIS HEAD.

On Tues. ev. Cr. J. W. Adams, J.P. of Preston, had an alarming experience and a very narrow escape from death. Whilst supervising work on the election van and offices being erected at the rear of the Preston town hall two bricks fell from a scaffolding and struck him on the head and back. He fell to the ground with blood streaming from his head and a doctor was summoned. It was then found that he had a long incised scalp wound, which necessitated several stitches. After further treatment, he was taken home.
 Cr. Adams, who made light of his injuries, was up and about again on Wednesday, and was to be seen at the scene of the building operation which he is supervising in an honorary capacity for the Preston council.

MR. C. J. WATSON INJURED. ARTERY CUT BY BROKEN BOTTLE.

Mr. C. J. Watson, of the firm of Stott, Son and Watson, met with a painful accident while spending his holidays at Frankston. In taking a walk on the beach he sat on a piece of broken glass, which caused a serious laceration. Mr. Watson had about a mile to walk to his residence, and when he arrived home his clothes were saturated with blood. A doctor was called in and he found that an artery had been severed. The doctor had to cut the artery and insert three stitches in the wound.
 Mr. Watson will have much sympathy in his injury. This goes to show how dangerous it is for persons to screw broken glass in public places. Such a thing is usually the act of selfish or thoughtless persons, and it behooves parents and others to correct the offenders.

Gardening Notes DAHLIAS—ANCIENT AND MODERN.

SOME CULTURAL HINTS. Dahlias are very accommodating, and there are very few gardens where they cannot be successfully grown. The plants should have an open sunny position to enjoy full exposure to the sun. Free circulation of air. Planting where they are surrounded by trees or buildings is highly detrimental, as the trees will deprive the plants of sunlight and plant food. Shelter is of the utmost importance, as exposure to high winds will cause plants to suffer. Select, therefore, a position where they are protected by a hedge or fairly high fence.

Soil and Its Preparation.

It is somewhat injudicious to state that an ideal soil for dahlias is a white or medium loam but a good garden soil, if prepared in time, and certain simple directions carried out.
 Deep cultivation must be regarded as the most essential, but manuring, which is so essential, and of which the ground should be prepared six or eight weeks prior to planting. The soil should be dug, say 12 inches, and in this is an essential, and of which the ground should be prepared six or eight weeks prior to planting. The soil should be dug, say 12 inches, and in this is an essential, and of which the ground should be prepared six or eight weeks prior to planting.

Watering and Liquid Manure.

All dahlias derive much benefit from a liberal amount of moisture in the soil. The soil should be kept moist, but not saturated. Watering should be done in the forenoon, and the water should be applied to the surface of the soil, and not to the plants themselves. Mulching the surface with short manure is highly beneficial, as it keeps the sun's rays away from the roots and prevents the rapid evaporation of moisture.

Preparation.

Dahlias may be propagated from cuttings, or by division of tubers. The former method is much in vogue, and commercially the most largely adopted. Perhaps the most successfully followed of any. Propagation by cuttings is not largely adopted by amateurs, as the process is somewhat tedious, and whilst in the case of wholesale growers who propagate cuttings and systematically divide the tubers, this method can be carried out successfully, it is scarcely worth while for the amateur to attempt it.

When and How to Plant.

Do not plant too early. Tubers are always greatly in demand, and many gardeners suggest and anxiously to have their tubers first in the ground inclined to let their enthusiasm outrun their judgment.
 Tubers may be planted as early as September. This will mean a flowering season, say, from January onwards. That is all right if early flowers are desired, but green plants—that is to say plants obtained from cuttings and grown on in pots—should be planted from the end of November till the middle of January, according to the district. An ideal time would be about mid-December, and plants put in then should give a steady crop in bloom during March and April, and make garden and homestead gay right on till the cold weather comes along.

Feeding the plants when in full growth can be overdone, but they occasionally require a fillip, and such is easily and readily applied. It should always be borne in mind that prior to applying manure in liquid form to any plants, an ample supply of pure water should be given. A solution of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia will prove good feeding and help the plants to stand the winter of life, and make healthy plants more healthy still. Once once to a gallon makes a suitable solution. During the winter when the plants are dormant and listless, potash in the form of nitrate of potash or sulphate of potash in quantity similar to the former is equally desirable. It is important that the flowers look up. To put color into the blooms and vitality into the plants, a dressing of superphosphate and sulphate of potash put around the plants, care being taken not to touch the foliage, or applied in liquid form, will be found to be beneficial. (From the "Garden Lover," published by the Horticultural Press.)

A RACE TRAGEDY.
MAN DIES AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

The death took place at the Melbourne Hospital on Thursday of Ernest Rosenthal, aged 40 years, of Mansfield street, Thornbury, taxi driver, whose arm was amputated following the overturning of his car near Gisborne.

Rosenthal's arm was amputated immediately after his admission to hospital. He was a driver of a car containing eight men when overturning occurred on Wednesday morning (January 16) on the road between the road and the side of the car and almost torn off at the shoulder.

Evidence was given by a special checker that when questioned Rosenthal said he had gone to sleep in the taxi.

A fine of 10/- with 7/6 costs was imposed.

FANCY'S FASHION
LADIES' FLARED DRESS.

The figure for dress has apparently become a study for a busy period, and especially the most popular of the present-day styles. The flared dress is a style which, if properly made, is extremely graceful and feminine in appearance, and certainly allows for freedom of movement.

Our illustration for this week shows a very charming version of the flared dress, one which is quite simple in construction, a design that even the most timid woman can be afraid to undertake. The flared skirt is joined to the bottom edge of the rather low-waisted bodice, the join being covered with a band and a bow of contrasting color. FANCY'S FASHION
CROSS-OVER FROCK

Nothing could be smarter than the neat little cross-over frock which is offering for this week—a style which is particularly suited to young or middle-aged matrons and women of rather ample proportions. The dress is exceptionally elegant in design, being in one piece from the neck to the hem, and confined at the low waist with a belt of the material.

A neat section is joined to the lower part of the right front, and the top part is finished with a mitered strap, the pointed end of which should cover the top edge of the pleats. Buttons are added as a trimming.

Care of Your Hands.
SHAPE AND CULTURE

You can't alter the shape of your hands, but you can make them more attractive by regular care and attention.

I am not prepared to say that everyone can have beautiful hands. No amount of beauty culture can make ill-shaped or stubby hands look pretty. But ordinary hands can be made very attractive, pretty ones prettier, and even rather ugly hands much less noticeable by regular care and attention.

A neat section is joined to the lower part of the right front, and the top part is finished with a mitered strap, the pointed end of which should cover the top edge of the pleats. Buttons are added as a trimming.

PROTECT THE HANDS

The girl who is working in the house ought to wear a pair of rubber gloves, as a surgeon does, for washing up dishes and other work of that kind. And she should always wear a pair of gloves to be used for dusting and sweeping or working in the garden.

Protecting the hands in this way does not make them beautiful, but it does prevent them from getting rough and coarse. Another very important precaution which should be taken by all women, no matter what their occupation, is to make sure that the hands are thoroughly dried after washing. Check over roughness in the skin are nearly always due to leaving the hands moist.

Supreme cleanliness is essential. Use good toilet soap, and wash the hands with water with borax or toilet vinegar if you like. See that your nailbrush is firm and well bristled, and use it vigorously.

MANICURE REGULARLY

The rest, I think, depends on careful and regular use of your manicure set. Nails should be cut in a pretty free hand, and kept well polished. The ideal nail is oval-shaped, but falling the ideal, I think it is best to trim the nails so as to follow the curve of the finger-tips.

Keep the cuticle at the root of the nail in good order with your orange-wood stick, and the white half-moon is always clearly marked, and, if your nails are not naturally transparent, rub them with a very little vasoline until they have the natural pink tint.

I have only one other word of advice as regards the care of the hands. Do not ever get sick in attending to these matters. Beauty can be cultivated, but it cannot be cultivated by fits and starts.

Make up your mind to give the little necessary attention to your toilet every day. A regular ten minutes is worth infinitely more than an occasional half-hour.

Form Good Habits.
OR MAKE YOURSELF UGLY

USEFUL RECIPES.

Frozen Apricot Salad
Heat in a double pan 1 cupful each of apricot jam, blue-colored jam, and spoonful of lemon juice, and a pinch of salt. Beat two egg yolks with half cupful of sugar, and stir the hot juices into them, then cook over water, stirring until thick and smooth. Cool and stir in the stiffly-beaten egg whites, and add a teaspoon of whipped cream and 1 1/2 cupful of canned apricots cut into quarters. Leave on ice for four hours, and garnish according to taste.

Peach Puffs
Melt a quarter of a cupful of butter in a small saucepan, add half a cup of boiling water, and when it boils again add, all at once, half a cupful of flour. Stir until the mixture leaves the sides of the saucepan, remove from the fire, and add two eggs, one at a time, beating the mixture thoroughly as each one is added. Drop by the spoonful on a buttered sheet, leaving plenty of space between each for spreading. Shape as evenly circular as possible, heaping slightly in the centre. Bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven. When cool make an opening in the side of each and fill with a teaspoon of peach preserve. When serving cover with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored.

Pickled Daisies
Take 1 lb. of loaf sugar, 1 pint of vinegar, 2 dozen cloves, 1 pint of little mace and cinnamon. Boil all together in a quart of water until the sugar is dissolved, then pour the liquid over 1 lb. of daisies in an earthenware vessel. The pickle stand for 24 hours, then pour off the liquid and boil it again. Pour back over the daisies once more and let stand for another day, then boil altogether for five minutes and store in jars for use.

SODA VIRTUES

A small piece of washing-soda dissolved in a little warm milk will remove sea-water stains from leather. Add a little washing-soda to the water in which new potatoes are to be scraped, and the skins will come off much more readily.

When preparing blue add a small piece of washing-soda to the water, and there will be no danger of the blue turning out streaky.

If the spout of a teapot or coffee-pot becomes blocked fill the vessel with boiling water, add a fair-sized piece of washing-soda, and boil for an hour or so. The spout will then be quite clear.

BULBS OR SEEDS?

The question of whether a flower that grows from a bulb goes to seed or vice versa has often started an argument.

Out of curiosity, let a daffodil die, and then cut the seed box open and you will discover that it is full of seeds. Naturally, every daffodil produces seeds, but the process of germination is so slow that it is seldom resorted to. It takes from four to seven years to grow a bulb to the flowering stage from a seed, while in the case of off-shoots it is almost proportionately as fast.

It might be an interesting experiment to let some of the daffodil narcissus seeds ripen and then sow them. But I fear that you will go on buying bulbs ready ripened.

THE COBBERS' CLUB

CONDUCTED BY "UNCLE PHIL."

Dear Cobbers,—Such a nice lot of letters the Pets got for me to-day, and we had great fun opening them and reading for the Limerick, so hurry up, Cobbers, and send in your entries. I expect you are all back from holiday now and ready for school again. Make a resolution to come out on top at school, and have a happy year of work and play. The Pets are looking forward to the A.N.A. holiday, and we are all hoping it will be fine, as we are going to the beach. Last week-end we went down to London Bridge and we were dashing on the rocks, with spray shooting up everywhere. We stood watching for a while and then suddenly a large wave than usual came over and the spray flew all over us. Jacko and Fluffy ran for shelter, but got wet just the same. We were just about dry and looking at the beach from another angle when a sharp gust of wind sent the spray over us and we had our second splash for the day. That was enough. The Pets refused to stay and we all clambered back to the beach and sat down to a huge lunch. By the way the Pets ate you'd have thought they had been heaving coal for 24 hours on end. After a little rest we rambled along the beach picking up a few curious things, but the sea was so high that it was difficult to get to the water's edge. Don't forget the competition, Cobbers, and heaps of love from
THE PETS and UNCLE PHIL.

BIRTHDAYS

All the Cobbers, Uncle Phil and the Pets wish the happiest and jolliest of birthdays to Elva Stubb and Jack Lamb (Jan. 20), Joyce McMenamin (Jan. 28), Wilma Price (Jan. 29) and Betty Ryan, Winnie Birmingham and Cyril Henderson (Jan. 31).

NEW COMPETITION

LIMERICK
A prize will be awarded to the Cobber who sends in the best line for the following: "The best word in the medical dictionary as well as used in the game of football." A Tribune by name of Park once punned, "Hip, hoover."
"Was a jolly fine day."

OUR MAIL BAG

Dear Uncle Phil—I hope you and the Pets are all well, and I hope they had a very happy Christmas. I am going to Gippisland for my holidays and I will write to you while I am there. There are a lot of little rabbits about so I am going to try and catch some. I will close now, hoping you have a bright new year. Your loving Cobber,
Ruby Kusch (GOOD)

You will see the story about the Blackbird in this corner with another Cobber's name beneath it. As I received this contribution before yours you will understand I cannot also use yours. Please send along something else, and I will be glad to publish it. I have just had a good holiday and caught a rabbit for a pet. Heaps of love from the Pets and U.P.

Dear Uncle Phil,—You may think that I have forgotten the Cobbers' Club, but that is not so, for I am always thinking about it and its members. I hope you have had a happy Christmas, and that you are going to have a happy new year. We had a little baby sister born on the second of November, and we called her Alice Joyce. (GOOD)

I like hearing from old Cobbers. Dorothy and I were good to you to write. We had a lovely Christmas and holiday. I guess you're ever so glad about the baby sister, and Jacko says he bets you will love her and both Pets think the name you've chosen is a lovely one. Have a try at the "Black Bird" Love—U.P.

Bruce Kohn—Congratulations on painting your 100 marks again. The prize will be here on Monday, and I hope it will suit. Are you entering for the Limerick? Jacko and Fluffy are guessing who'll win the prize, or a boy. Love from the Pets—U.P. Antonson.—Congratulations on your prize of your seventh 100. Your prize is here waiting, if you will call for it. Are you trying the Limerick? Love—U.P.

Alice Murphy—Another 100 marks! Congratulations. Alice, on getting the prize and the prize is ready if you'll call in for it. How do you like the idea of school again? Don't forget the Limerick. The Pets send love—U.P.

HOW THE BLACKBIRD BECAME BLACK

Once upon a time, ages ago, there was a bird, who he knew to everybody as the Blackbird. But in those days it was known as Whitebird, because of its lovely snowy white feathers. One day he saw a Magpie on a tree counting some glistening jewels. The Whitebird was jealous and determined to know where he got them. He entered the first room, and his greedy eyes gleamed; but he determined to go to the second room. This, however, was too great a temptation, and he was just picking up as much as he could carry and preparing to fly away when an ugly black demon came in and blew soot all over his lovely white feathers, making them quite black. And for his greediness all Whitebirds are glad; for which we are glad; for no one yet can this thing rule, which often makes us late for school. Answer: Fog. Andrew Antonson (GOOD)

TRIA COMPETITION

THE COCO-PALM
The coco-palm grows in Ceylon in the Malay Islands, and in the warmer parts of the Pacific Ocean. It is a very useful tree, and reaches a height of from 80 to 100 feet. At the top is a feathery crown made up of about 20 long leaves. Under up of about each of the big nuts grow in clusters every year. These are gathered by climbing the trees for them. The badly off without the coco-palm, as its nuts furnish both meat and drink.

TONGUE TWISTER
My mother was feeling very lonely as she sat on her stool gazing at a queer looking cloud. Suddenly the cloud turned into a mother-of-pearl airship, and in it was a Pixie, who was steering it towards Peggy. When the airship settled on the ground beside Peggy the Pixie jumped out and said,

AN ACORN FRAME

If you have a plain wooden picture frame you can make a quite nice with a few acorns and some gold paint. First gather a dozen or so large acorns. Slice them in half downwards so there is half a shell and half a cup in one piece. Glue your acorns in a straight line round the frame, and when quite dry glaze over with the gold paint. (GOOD) Bessie Goldstein

BUTTERFLIES

These insects are most beautiful and delicate in form and color, and our butterfly will delight with their riot of color. The commonest, perhaps, is Pyrausta, and the Australian Admiral of tortoiseshell is a handsome orange brown, and black butterfly, with a large cream spot on the front wing. Another one is the blue spotted Lady, orange-brown in color, with black markings. On each of the hind wings are three blue spots, and one black. These are many more different ones to be seen flying from flower to flower. (GOOD) Tommy Craig

GOLLY AND TEDDY

Golly, you are very black, and your hair is very rough; but I could tell you, Golly, you've never had enough. Dear Teddy can no longer squeak. But I love him every bit as much. Although his ears are torn. Dear Teddy and dear Golly, I will never part. No, not for strawberry jam! Or the loveliest jam tart! (GOOD) Ron Kusch

MY LUCK
(Original)

As I was walking along the street one day I had an umbrella which I was dragging along in the wet gutter. Imagine my surprise when I lifted my umbrella to go in the gate and found that threepence had stuck to the bottom of the umbrella! (GOOD) Joan Westmoreland

HE GOT THERE

Old MacTavish slept heavily of a morning. There came an occasion when it was most important for him to rise at 8 sharp. As he lived alone seemed probable that he would oversleep and miss his appointment unless someone called him. Then came his brain wave. He posted a letter to himself which might save enough next morning came not one knock, but a double rat-tat. Mac peeped out of the door. "Threepence to pay on this letter; it has no stamp," announced the postman. "Tak it awa', man, I'll pay for another's forgetfulness!" said MacTavish, and slammed the door. (GOOD) Roy Murphy

THE KNIGHT IN BURNISHED ARMOUR

At that moment a trumpet call came ringing from among the trees behind the castle. "Sir Guy! Sir Guy! The servants cried, and at the words the strange knight put up his horse and rode away. A few minutes later a troop of horsemen filed out of the forest and came swinging round to the castle. The drawbridge was let down, and the horses went excitedly. "Well, then step into my air-ship," he said. Directly Peggy put one foot in she began to shrink, and soon she was as small as the Pixie. They were soon across in Fairyland, where the queen held a lovely fete. Later there was a dance, but Peggy thought it time for her to return, so she jumped into the airship which only took her half-way home because a great storm arose and the airship bumped up against a cloud. There was a loud crash and Peggy woke to find that she had fallen off her small stool. (GOOD) Myra Whipp

LADY'S PETTI-BLOOMERS

Here is a useful combination garment designed on lines to give a slenderising effect by doing away with unnecessary thickness of material at the hips, besides being particularly suited for wearing with light summer frocks.

The garment consists of petticoat and bloomers in one, the bloomers being joined inside the petticoat at the waist. A casing is stitched to the inside of the waist, and the petti-bloomers are drawn in with elastic, the fullness at the knee part of the bloomers being treated in the same way.

3277

The illustration shows the trimming of the petti-bloomer, which may be omitted if desired, and the garment may be trimmed with cotton cloth piping and a pretty design of hand embroidery work.

The pattern is No. 3277 (price 10/4), and is cut in sizes to suit medium and outside women. The pattern can be purchased from any of the dress-makers, or direct from Demarc's, Derby Street, Collingwood. Enclose amount for pattern and postage.

What the Housewife Should Know. If a housewife is rubbed at once with a piece of onion she will relieve the pain and prevent swelling.

Warm a knife-blade before using it, and the knives will polish more easily. If a piece of knife-blade wears out, the cover of linoleum may be used to replace it.

Better still, use stainless steel knives, which need no cleaning. Cakes should not be left to cool in the tin in which they were baked, neither should they be placed flat on a solid surface to cool. Take them out of the tin and put on a sieve or lift them up so that the steam can escape.

To clean a bath, first wipe it over with a rag dipped in paraffin, and then the same rag in salt and rub, leaving for about three minutes. Then wash with hot soapy water.

Wahnet furniture should be cleaned with a piece of flannel dipped in paraffin.

MOTOR FATALITY IN ST. GEORGE'S ROAD.

DEATH OF MR. HENRY GIBAUD.

An accident, which unfortunately took a fatal termination, occurred on St. George's road, North Fitzroy, on Monday about noon. Mr. Harry Gibaud, of the firm of Gibaud and Son, brushmakers, of Fitzroy, was about to enter a tramcar near the Fitzroy cricket ground, to return to his home in Northcote. Olorenshaw is under the impression that he made a somewhat hurried attempt to board the tram going north. He was struck by a motor car, but the approach of a second car, which was about to pass, knocked him down, injuring him seriously. He died about three hours later of his wounds.

The deceased gentleman had many years since made his home in Northcote. He was married and had a family of five boys, all save one being married. His widow is the daughter of Mrs. W. A. Moon, of Westbourne Grove. One of his sons is a well-known racing cyclist, whilst he himself always took a keen interest in cricket and other sports. He had made preparations for a motor trip to Warrambool on Tuesday. Much sympathy is expressed for the widow and family in the loss of a good husband and father.

The funeral took place on Wednesday at the Heidelberg Cemetery, and was very largely attended.

PRESTON BRANCH A.L.P.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Preston branch of the A.L.P. was held in the Bradford Hall last Friday (January 24), with the president (Cr. G. C. McPherson) in the chair.

The auditors (Messrs. McPhee and Jones) reported having examined the balance sheet, and it was adopted.

Election of Officers. Office-bearers were elected as follows:—President, Mr. T. W. Andrews; vice-president, Mr. L. Horwood; treasurer, Mrs. Hills; secretary, Mr. J. E. Hannan; committee, Messrs. Block, Eggleton, McPhee, Williams and Cr. Maynard; press correspondents, Mr. F. Block; delegates to State Electorate Council, Messrs. Andrews, Stafford and Hannan; delegates to Federal Electorate Council, Messrs. Block, Baker and Eggleton; delegates to Municipal Campaign Committee, Messrs. Andrews, Eggleton and Stafford; ladies' organising committee, Mrs. Hannan and Miss Hooker; delegates to Metropolitan District Council, Miss Hooker and Mr. Major; auditors, Messrs. McPhee and McCauley.

The balance sheet showed a credit of £3.

A vote of thanks to Mr. A. P. McPhee for his generous good will to the branch in allowing the use of the Bradford Hall to the branch free of charge.

A resolution placing on record an appreciation of the services of the mayor (Cr. McPherson) as president of the branch for the past 12 months was carried by acclamation.

MOVIES & TALKIES

"DR. FU MANCHU"

Every audience will love to join the great detective Nayland Smith in his mad, adventurous chase of that wily, oriental character, "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," from the pages of Sax Rohmer's world-famous book, and made to live on the screen. Gripping, weird mystery—erie footprints in the dead of night—an unseen hand spreading terror and destruction—a beautiful girl hypnotised to work the will of a cruel maniac—and love dominating, controlling, triumphing in the mystic maze here re-created on the screen. The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu is one of the greatest mystery stories ever written, and it is one of the greatest moving pictures ever made.

In swift action, the strange, crafty villain, who thrilled millions in Sax Rohmer's books, comes to life, spreads out before us on the screen, and unites us with a nameless terror, spurs us on to his capture, and leaves us with a thankful feeling of relief, when, captured at last, he clears the way for true love. Warner Oland in the title role is great. The master villain of the screen has been doing oriental roles for years, but never have his performances approached the perfection of this one. The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu is irresistible as a pair of young lovers. Everybody loves with them.

SUE CAROL IN TRAVEL MANAGERS "Chasing Through Europe" a thrilling romantic screen drama produced for Fox Films, had the combined directional ability of David Butler and Alfred Hitchcock in its transfer to the screen. Sue Carol and Nick Stuart enact the leading roles. They are supported by a cast that includes Gustav von Seyffwitz and Gavin Gordon. The scenes were taken in Europe, as the title indicates and both the scenic beauty of the continent and the story are to do with a young American who founds Europe with a motion picture camera, and who becomes involved in a plot for the sale of a business to an assassin in order to rob her of her inheritance. He rescues the girl and falls in love with her, while her scheming guardian comes a legal cropper.

"THE GREENE MURDER CASE" "The Greene Murder Case" is a gripping murder mystery story, but as moving picture it is even more gripping, more exciting. The reason for this can be ascribed to the intelligent characterisation of the story by the actors and the excellent direction of Frank Tuttle. The plot has to do with the strange killings which occur in the Greene family's household. An elder son, his younger brother and then their mother succumb to the fatal hand of an unknown murderer. William Powell, as Philo Vance, is called in on the case by his friend, E. H. Calver, the district attorney. Working on the case with Powell is Eugene Pallette the practical-minded and blundering comedy detective who goes along on the sly with the "Canary Murder Case." After a series of uncanny and thrilling events, Powell solves the deep mystery with the aid of his superior intelligence, that S. S. Van Dine wrote into this character in his novels. Powell's performance is a success.

"BEWARE OF BACHELORS"—A JAZZ LOVE STORY The cast is headed by Audrey Ferris and William Collier, junr., respectively, as flapper bride and philandering doctor-husband. Others in the all-star roster are Clyde Cook, Andrew Benanger, Dave Morris and Margaret Livingston. The story is from the leading pen of Marc Coniffe. Robert Gould did the screen adaptation. Direction was in charge of Roy Del Ruth. "Beware of Bachelors" is the zippiest screen comedy of the year. It is one of the ways and means adopted by a shrewd director's flapper bride to get even with him for his foraging in forbidden pastures. She succeeds in putting the lady patients to rout, but in following her husband's own tactics, finds herself in some tanglers which make her as glad to get back to her poppet man as he to have her back. It is appreciably funny.

"MADAME X" The cast is one of the most notable ever assembled for a recent picture. Raymond Hackett plays the son and attorney for the defence, and Holmes Herbert, Eugene Bessner, Mitchell Lewis, Arthur Rosson, Robert Livingston, Richard Carl, Carroll Nyc, Claud King, Chappell Dossett and others, note are among the principal players, and give of their rapid movements. In the opening scenes she is a lady in Paris. The locale shifts to China, Honolulu, South America, and ends back in the room scene, where she goes on trial for her life.

"Stunt" air performances of any kind are forbidden over cities, towns, regattas, race meetings, and any other functions where crowds collect.

A number of parents were fined at the Preston court on Thursday for failing to send their children to school.

PROHIBITION PROBLEM

POLL IN MARCH.

FACTS FOR ELECTORS.

(Published by arrangement.)
Prosperity and peace—or prohibition, with corruption, crime, higher taxes, and even poverty for a vast army of workers? That is the question with which the people of Victoria will be confronted on March 29 —that is the problem they will have to decide, and on which they will have to vote according to the dictates of their consciences.

Prohibition enforcement on a Statewide basis, while neighboring States remained "wet" is not reform. Even the most ardent "reformer" will admit that. The dividing lines between the States are not miles of ocean, mighty chasms or towering walls. They are merely imaginary lines, over which the people of adjoining States may pass at any hour of the day or night without fear of challenge.

American Farce.

In America, where the national prohibition law is supported by all the resources of a powerful nation—navy, coastguard, Customs Department and special prohibition bureau—attempted enforcement had cost the Federal authorities 200,000,000 dollars (or £40,000,000) to the end of 1928.
This, it will be agreed, is a great deal of money to throw away for such appalling results.

Prohibition has not stamped out the drinking habit in America. It has merely dragged it from the open public bar to the dark doorways of sly-grog shops (they call them "speak-easies"), increased the price tenfold, provided poison liquor in place of the genuine article, and made it a criminal offence to have a drink at all. Prohibition assuredly has not prohibited.

What It Would Cost

Abolition of licenses in Victoria would transfer the liquor trade from reputable citizens to criminal slyroggers, and would cost the State more than £4,000,000 yearly, made up as follows:—

Loss of customs and ex- cise duties to be made up (1928-29 figures)	£2,989,400
Plus additional £400,000 for increased duties in 1929-30 and following years	400,000
Loss of revenue from li- cense fees	365,550
Loss of estimated amount received yearly by Victo- rian Railways Depart- ment from the trade	200,000
Plus lowest possible year- ly cost of enforcement	500,000

Total yearly cost . . . £4,454,950
This huge sum would have to be made good every year by extra taxation. Not one item here set out may be challenged. No allowance has been made, for instance, for closing 1828 hotels valued at £21,000,000, ten breweries valued at £1,500,000 (machinery, land and buildings only), eight distilleries valued at £276,400
(machinery, land and buildings only),
and the wine industry with a yearly vintage of 2,000,000 gallons, of an estimated value of at least £250,000.
Details need not be given of allied trades and industries.

Unemployment of Breadwinners
One phase of the question, however, which must be emphasized at all times and in all circumstances, is the part played by the various sections of the liquor trade in employing labor.
It may be stated without fear of challenge that no fewer than 20,000 breadwinners would be thrown out of work. These would have at least 10,000 dependents. Prohibitionists talk airily of "other industries" that would spring into being to provide employment for these people. But according to Labor leaders in America such airy promises were made over there and were not fulfilled.

The "Mixer and Server," the official journal of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International Union of America, condemns prohibition as the most foul blow ever dealt its members, many thousands of whom have been unable to find regular employment since prohibition came into force in 1919.

People Will Vote "No."

Although necessarily curtailed, this brief review will suffice to convince the people of Victoria that at an early date they will have to decide whether they want prosperity or prohibition.
The two cannot go together. After having weighed the evidence for and against, it will not be surprising if they record a bigger "No" vote on March 29 than did their neighbors in New South Wales last year.

BOWLS

A.N.A. DAY AT THORNBURY

The president (Mr. E. W. Forth) and vice-presidents (Messrs. H. Dyte, F. Cornish and J. S. Whalley) entertained as usual at Thornbury green on A.N.A. Day, and the function passed off with the greatest success, both from a social and a bowling point of view. At the luncheon, catered for in fine style by Mrs. Olorenshaw, between 70 and 80 sat down. The president offered a hearty welcome to all, and especially to the visitors from neighboring clubs, and proposed the loyal toast. The mayor (Cr. W.
Hayes) submitted the toast of "The Visitors." He said that A.N.A. Day had always been the "day of days" at Thornbury, and was sure that that occasion had been well kept up on this occasion. Mr. E. W. Campbell responded for the Alphington Club, Mr. Lupton for Fairfield, Mr. J. Nash
for Fitzroy, and Mr. J. David for East Camberwell. The bowling events consisted of a progressive rink tournament, of which three games of 7 ends were played in the morning, and five in the afternoon. The winners turned up in the rink led by W. Warren, whose colleagues were White, Thomas and Whitechurch. The trophies (silver spoons of novel design, gifts of the hosts) were presented by vice-president Dyte, who offered his hearty congratulations. The toast of "The President and Vice-Presidents," proposed by the mayor and enthusiastically honored, brought to a close a very happy day.

The Thornbury rink, consisting of Sharp, Frencham, Whalley and Wyatt, has survived to the semi-finals in the Preston rink tournament.

All local bowlers were pleased to see "Freddy" Pike, of the Preston Club, get into the last eight of the V.B.A. single-handed championship, in which 568 players competed. In the semi-final at Middle Park green on Tuesday, when he met the ultimate winner, Trumble, he was evidently a little over-awed by the occasion, and did not do himself justice in the earlier stages of the game. He was putting in brilliant shots at the finish, however, but his opponent had got too big a lead.

Thornbury won their game against Fairfield in the Cock of the North competition, but were beaten on Tuesday by Preston.

CHURCH RINK TOURNAMENT

The following is the draw in connection with the Thornbury Bowling Club's church rink tournament:—

Preston); Baylie (C. of E., Thornbury) v Clarke (C. of E., Colling-wood); Broadbent (C. of E., Preston)
v Sharp (Baptist, Croxton).

PRESTON LADIES' BOWLING CLUB.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent on Thursday, January 23, when Mr. Carthew (President) entertained about 50 ladies, and six clubs were represented, and six rinks entered into a progressive rink tourney with great vigor. The prizes were won by three ladies from the Alma Club, Mesdames Bradford, Pascoe, Slatery, and Mr.
Dahl (Preston). Whilst partaking of the sumptuous afternoon tea provided in a few well chosen words Mrs. Carthew welcomed the guests. Mrs.
Winter, hon. secretary V.L.B.A., singularly responded, and all joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."
The monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, February 6.

TALKIES AT THE REGENT.

On Friday and Saturday two talkies will be on the programme—"The Long, Long Trail," starring Hoot Gibson in and out of the saddle in a Western drama, and "Coquette," in which Mary Pickford, the world's sweetheart, minus her curls, leads in her first talkie.

Monday's change brings Lionel Barrymore's talking pictorial transcription of Alexandre Bisson's stage melodrama, "Madame X," which is an extraordinarily poignant production.
It is Barrymore's first attempt at the direction of a feature-length dialogue film, and his masterful stage technique is revealed in almost all the scenes. The voices from the animated shadows hold the audience to the last bitter glimpse of the frowzy mother after she is defended by her own son. This is another talking picture that shows that this new type of entertainment is bounding ahead in the manner of telling stories. Miss Chatterton lends to her part acting rarely found on the screen, and Lewis Stone and Raymond Hackett are the male stars. The second feature is "Chasing Through Europe," in which Miss Carol is cast as Linda Terry, an heiress. Her guardian, portrayed by Gustav von Seyffertitz has decided notions that she shall marry his nephew, the role assumed by Gavin Gordon. The girl is quite miserable until Dick Stallings, Nick Stuart's character, appears with a movie camera slung over his shoulder. From then on there is plenty of excitement and a wild swerve across Europe.

The midweek change brings "The Man of a Thousand Faces" in an engaging new role. An old railroad engineer—crusty, gruff, his engine and the traditions of the road his religion
—this is the new character Lon Chaney gives his audiences in "Thunder."
It affords a startling variation of his usual bizarre and macabre roles.
Chaney's characterisation is an intensely human one, and will live for life in the memory of those who see it, for he veritably lives the part of the veteran railroad man. He even wears a moustache—the first in years—to make his part convincing, and his make-up is a marvel of illusion. There are thrills galore—thundering rides over frozen rails in a great locomotive —weird scenes in great railroad yards, drama, tragedy and romance.
Phyllis Haver and James Murray are ideally cast to support Chaney. In the "Glad Rag Roll," Miss Costello portrays a musical comedy actress who falls in love with the scion of a distinguished and somewhat snobbish family. He, in turn, loves her. But love sometimes grows cold, or better said, it is a woman's prerogative to change her mind. The beautiful Dolores falls in love with another member of the family, who has previously snubbed her. As one can readily see, the heart affairs in this case become quite complicated.

Miss Cora Hosking, L.T.C.L., L.A.B., resumes tuition (Pianoforte) on Monday, February 3, at 65 Normanby avenue.
