While the durability, and powers of resistance of this substance are fully as great as wood its light weight is considered a great advantage.

HAWKER AVENUE AGAIN

PLANS FOR PUTTING STREET IN ORDER.

Hawker Avenue, a recently constructed street running off Plenty Road with a tremendous cross fall, has been the subject of much controversy lately. The street, it is alleged, was not constructed in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted by the Preston Council.

Officers and councillors of Preston recently met representatives of the property owners of Hawker Avenue and members of the Regent Central Progress Association, as reported in the "Leader" last week. The explanation then given by the city engineer (Mr. W. H. Scott) for departing from the plans was that he thought it would be cheaper and in the interests of the owners if the adopted plans were departed from.

At the same meeting the mayor (Mr. Robinson) gave a definite assurance that if the plans had been departed from the owners could not be called upon to pay for such time as the street construction was delayed in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted by the council.

The meeting of the council on Tuesday night was held in the council chamber at the Preston City Hall. The mayor (Mr. Robinson) presided. The city engineer (Mr. W. H. Scott) reported on the Hawker Avenue matter. He stated that the street had been constructed in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted by the council.

charged for the supervision of work in this street? Mr. Brennan replied that it was one of a group of streets (Hawker Avenue, Shakespeare Avenue and Ellison Street) and the supervision of any one street could not be given at the thought of the grouping system of street construction acted unfavorably to residents.

The point was raised by Mr. Brennan as to what was allowed for the earth work not done in Hawker Avenue. The engineer had said about £100 had been allowed. He would suggest that Mr. Scott's statement about the £100 be accepted and the amount allowed to go towards altering the street.

MISREPRESENTATION EXPOSED

Unable to attack in any way the administration of your present active Member, the Hon. W. J. Beckett, Minister for Public Health and Forests, a despicable leaflet has been circulated, accusing him in his capacity of Chairman of the Victorian Trotting and Racing Association of the victimisation of a returned soldier. That this charge is entirely false and also unauthorised is shown by the following letter from Mr. C. W. Joyce, the State Secretary of the R.S. & S.L.L.A.:

The Hon. W. J. BECKETT, M.L.C. Minister for Health. MELBOURNE.

Dear Sir: In connection with the pamphlets that are being circulated concerning the case of Mr. F. B. McFarlane, and in which your name has been freely mentioned, I feel that it is due to you and to the League to state that this organization is not in any way responsible for or associated with their publication.

This disclaimer is all the more necessary as the pamphlets have been written in such a way as to convey the impression that League Branches throughout the metropolitan area have held meetings to discuss the case, and are taking action.

The Footscray and Yarraville Self-Help Association is a purely local body started to be formed for employment and relief purposes: it is not in any way connected with the League nor is it part of a State-wide organization.

The Collingwood Sub-section of the R.S.S.L.L.A. referred to in the pamphlet is not the Collingwood Branch of the R.S.S.L.L.A., but a section of unemployed men for whom the League provided facilities for employment and relief organization. The same applies to the reference to the Richmond Branch.

To sum up, there is no truth in the statement that branches of this organization are determined to thoroughly organise in connection with the case of Mr. McFarlane and that already branches have convened general meetings to discuss the position.

An opportunity of discussing the case has not yet been presented to the League, and, definitely, no action has been taken or even considered. Yours faithfully, C. W. JOYCE, State Secretary.

The circulation of such a leaflet at this hour in the campaign must disgust honest and fair-minded citizens of all political creeds. DO NOT BE GULLED BY A CONTEMPTIBLE POLITICAL DODGE. ON Saturday Next, June 6

REGENT TALKIES

Monday ushers in "Criminal Code," essentially a romance, based on the overpowering love of a youthful convict for the daughter of the warden of a prison. It runs the gamut of crime facts starting with the commission of a supposed crime, portrays the psychology of district attorneys and convicts, and shows actual penitentiary conditions. Walter Huston plays the lead. Phillips Holmes gives a fine portrayal of a sensitive youth reacting to prison conditions. Constance Cummings, the feminine lead, makes her first appearance in motion pictures and is acclaimed a distinct "find." Many other prominent artists make up an excellent supporting cast.

It is his wife to blame—because her husband gambles wildly in the stock market and wrecks his fortune? Because she is a madly jealous of her former boss who offers to help him? Because, in a moment of mad fury, he attacks the man who offered to keep him out of prison? The husband says she is. What do you think? The answer is in "Honor Among Lovers," with Claudette Colbert and Fredric March.

Of Interest to Women (Conducted by "PENELOPE").

FANCY'S FASHION ROMANTIC CIRCLE.

LADY'S COAT No. 3462 NAGORCKA-HAYES

How is a charming simple tailored coat, specially designed for winter and early spring wear and one which can be easily made up at home at very small expense. It is extremely simple in construction, and no difficulty should be experienced in the making even by those who are novices at sewing. This model is well cut on the very latest lines, and features the belt worn at normal waist line, and a simply looped scarf collar which provides needful protection from the chilly blasts of winter.

A wedding of interest to Thornbury and Hamilton people was celebrated on April 25, at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Melbourne, between Miss Aileen Hayes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hayes of "Geraldine," Clarendon street, Thornbury and Mr. Clarence Nagorcka, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Nagorcka, Glen Park Estate, Tarrington. The Rev. Father Tenevsky was the officiating clergyman. The bride entered the church on her father's arm, to the strains of the Bridal March. She made a dainty figure in her gown of white bridal satin, the skirt falling in full folds to the ground from a tight fitting bodice. A tastefully arranged tulle veil gave her an old world look as she walked to the aisle. She carried a sheaf bouquet of white gladioli, and wishflowers for her future happiness, and placed many horseshoes of orange blossom on her arm. The bridesmaids were Misses Rita and and at the same time is stylish in appearance. Should a reversible collar be preferred, the pattern includes an excellent collar, which could be trimmed with fur if required. The sleeves are finished with neat pointed cuffs. If desired the scarf and cuffs could be made of fur, which would make a charming finish. Our sketch shows the coat made up in flecked tweed, but any other tweed could be used just as successfully, or almost any of the new season's coatings would be suitable. It is most in No. 3462, price 10/6, and is cut in sizes to suit women of 36 to 38, and 40 to 42 inches bust measurement. The pattern is manufactured by Demaree, of Collingwood, and can be purchased from any of the local agents listed in this issue.

TANNING RABBIT SKINS Take 1/2 lb. alum, 1/2 lb. coarse salt, grind both together until you have a really fine powder, almost as fine as flour (or fine powder, almost as fine as flour). It is most important to mix the powder thoroughly and the skins of goegetic hung in full even folds to the ground. Their uncommon blue lace Dutch bonnet-shaped hats were turned off the face, and studded with tiny pink oscarbuds. Blue dolphins were their hairpins. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Jack Hayes as best man and Mr. Harold Wort acted as groomsmen. A reception was afterwards held at the Hotel Windsor, where the mothers of the couple received the guests. The bride's mother wore a smart black georgette gown with chic toque of black felt and velvet and carried autumn-tinted pansies. Black georgette was also favored by the bride, groom's mother, and it was relieved at the waist by a brilliant cabouchon. Her hat was a becoming black felt and velvet, and scarlet carnations were her flowers. The couple are spending the honeymoon at Lorne and Coway, the bride travelling in a wine, suede de chene frock under a marmot fur coat, and a wine turban to match her frock.

DINNER BLOUSE NEW MODE IN HOLLYWOOD A new style has recently made its appearance for evening wear in the film colony. This is the dinner blouse, and was first introduced by Fay Wray after she returned from a Paramount production, starring "The Conquering Horde," a Paramount production.

They Wray's costume comprises a blouse of pink tulle, embroidered with crystals, and a skirt of black chiffon-velvet that terminates at the instep.

BACKS COME BACK The importance of being earnest about one's back is stressed by Ruth Chatterton, who is appearing in "Paramount's" "Unfair Game." "The smart woman realises," Miss Chatterton says, "that with all the tea dancing and night clubbing the changes in these days, it is important that the back be as attractive and as much care be apporportioned to it as in dressing the front. The crystal beads are worn longer down the back than in front. The tri-cornered hat in the afternoon dress comes in an attractive point at the rear of the head. Evening dresses are more decorative in the rear and more attention is paid to the decorative motif.

UNEMPLOYMENT

NORTHCOTE UNEMPLOYED ASSOCIATION

At the usual meeting on May 29 the president (Mr. H. Brooks) occupied the chair.

An address was given by Mr. Cross, of the British Migrants' Association, (formerly the Back to England Movement).

Mr. Cross stated that the West and South Australian Governments were each considering repatriating 1000 migrants in Victoria 2000 migrants, who are unemployed and destitute, are making various efforts to be sent home.

Owing to the continued ill-health of the hon. secretary (Mr. J. Cook), it was necessary to elect an acting secretary. Mr. Cook's resignation was refused. The association recognizes the fact that Mr. Cook has done a lot of good work for the unemployed, but for the unemployed to do a whole, Mr. J. Eastway, assistant secretary, will carry out the duties of secretary during Mr. Cook's absence.

A concert has been arranged by Mrs. Ralph, in conjunction with the association, at the town hall on June 11.

At Monday's meeting the Minister of Health and Forests (Mr. Beckett) was invited to give a lecture on the subject of the Moratorium Bill and the new taxation Bill for the unemployed. An amount of £2,114,000 has been spent on relief measures this year, or £18,000 per week.

A questioner asked if it was possible for the Government to make extra provision for young children who were sadly in need of nourishing food and warm clothing. Mr. Beckett replied that the Government was doing all it possibly could, and that £20 per month was allotted to the health centres, towards these particular cases.

Mr. Holland also spoke. A deputation was later appointed to wait on the Minister of Health with a view to obtaining an increased monthly allowance for the local welfare depots.

The social and dance last Friday evening was a great success. The music provided, together with items rendered by Misses Armstrong, Blanks, Horroth, Stutch, Ruth Dixon, and Ellis made up an enjoyable evening. The next dance is on June 5. Owing to overcrowding at the dance it is hoped that the committee will grant the use of the large hall.

The association appreciates the contribution of Ben Brothers, grocers, of 1,300 membership cards.

THORNBURY STATE SCHOOL COMMITTEE ACTIVE

Thornbury State school committee has just had a power point and a room installed in the sewing room at a cost of £8, to provide a little comfort for the pupils and staff.

The correspondence (Mr. H. F. Taylor) has been deposited with the quotations for repairing the tennis courts.

A special spray has been obtained by the committee for disinfecting the class rooms, with the object of preventing the possibility of the spread of contagious diseases.

It has been suggested by the School Committee that with the tax-ation available, a school might be formed, and the head teacher (Mr. W. E. Hall) will probably discuss the matter with his staff at an early date.

HANDS OFF ROAD FUNDS
OPPOSITION TO GOVERNMENT POLICY

Like a snowball gathering momentum as it rolls, opposition to the appropriation of road funds by the Government is gathering momentum.

From being a small movement in the wilderness, the protest has become a State-wide campaign to the Government's action.

Since the R.A.V. has been successful in its efforts to secure the repeal of the Road Act, the Government has been forced to consider the possibility of a State-wide campaign.

Delegates from 25 different shires and boroughs in conference at Auckland in April vigorously discussed the suggestion made by the committee.

In other centres protests have been recorded by municipal authorities who are also protesting against the Government's action.

The essential point of all transport is the reduction of its cost. Every reduction of such cost by means of roads will open up a new area of country for development.

ATHLETICS

The club will have their first big battle of the season tomorrow at the Auckland when the five miles junior champions will meet.

HOW TO GROW THEM

Set a place, if possible, sheltered from severe winds and make a small raised bed on top of the hard ground.

When you have the soil ready, put in the bed and tramp it down lightly so that when the bed is finished it will have about four inches of soil.

Knock the top of a kerrosene tin and flatten the edges as if making a bucket. In it place about two inches of water and a brick.

NORTHCOTE COUNCIL

TUESDAY, JUNE 9. The usual meeting was held on Tuesday on account of the King's Birthday holiday. Present were the Mayor (Cr. J. H. Green, J.P.), and Crs. B. E. Johnson, S. Dennis, S. Dinkley, J. O. Hughes, W. Oliver, W. Hines, A. J. Cornish, A. E. Peters, J. Smith, A. H. Oldis, W. Glanfield, W. Turner and Mr. Birrell.

Correspondence. The Mayor presented the Mayor's Report on the Municipal Council's position is $50,114 for the year.

Cr. Oldis: Is it in the province of the council to make inquiries at this stage of the proceedings at the conference held in Wellington?

Cr. Dennis said it must be taken for granted that any decision arrived at would cover all Government and semi-Government matters. There had been too much meeting in the work of the conference already.

Cr. Hughes supported the proposal. Cr. Bird said the land proposed for the level was not exactly Meyer Park but portion of land obtained from the Board of Works, adjoining the park.

Cr. Dennis said there was a great deal of broken footpath slabs, which might well be allowed to remain in the paths.

There are many gaps to be filled in our knowledge of after-death conditions, but science is gradually filling them in. The philosopher states principles; the scientist proves them. Philosophy says we are immortal; science proves it.

WESTGARTH TALKIES

"Raffles"

The biggest problem that confronts parents is the proper rearing of their children. This is handled in an unusual way in the Westgarth Talkies production, "The Man Who Came Back." Here is a story which is one of the most dramatic comedies of the year. It is a story of a man who is suddenly confronted with the fact that he has a son. He is a man who has been in the army for many years and has been in the front lines. He is a man who has been in the army for many years and has been in the front lines. ALCOHOL AND YOUTH

The following address was delivered by Mrs. Swain, president of the Westgarth branch of the W.C.T.U., at the last monthly meeting of the Union. It was a most interesting address and one which should be read by all parents and young people. Mrs. Swain said that she had been thinking a great deal about the subject of alcohol and its effect on the youth of our country. She said that she had seen many young people who had been ruined by alcohol. She said that she had seen many young people who had been ruined by alcohol. POLICE PROTECTION

FURTHER CRITICISM BY NORTHCOTE COUNCIL. At the meeting of the Northcote council on Tuesday evening, Cr. Batters spoke of the numerous robberies occurring in the neighborhood, and also spoke of a robbery of ten tons of sugar from a Fitzroy factory. These robberies, he said, were a sure sign that further police protection was urgently needed. It was apparent that thieves were becoming more daring. They would have taken three lorries to carry away the sugar stolen, and he said that a letter to the Chief Commissioner of Police asking for more police protection was necessary.

PROTEST AGAINST HONORARIUMS

(To the Editor)

"We wish to bring under your notice the people of Preston who are so well towards the relief of local unemployed. We are in no way responsible for the granting of honorariums to Messrs. Paton, Jenkinson and Coates from funds raised to assist the unemployed. We, as members of the committee, were not invited to attend the meeting which decided to grant these honorariums, and were not aware of the same until we saw the balance sheet, which was strongly protested against, such as the rule of forming a queue for the unemployed and should have been used for that purpose. The various committees and secretaries operated with the one object in view to get as much money as possible for the men who are unemployed and we were given to understand that such money would be distributed in any other way. We are not in a position to make our own emphatic protest against the granting of money to the general public. Yours etc.

FORM A QUEUE, PLEASE!

(To the Editor)

Why is it that the managers of our local theatres do not give the rule of forming a queue the same treatment? The same thing happens. The patrons who come early and the queues are pushed back by the managers who are not interested in the doors open act more like a herd of cattle than human beings. It is particularly noticeable at one of our theatres, where on Saturday an elderly lady who had been waiting for 6 o'clock was knocked down when trying to get into the theatre. We are entitled to more consideration than this. It only needs a manager to go outside a few minutes to see that the queue is not too long, and instead of the usual cost, a special layout for the whole of the design should be included in the programme. While it may be the electrician's job to make the installation, the actual design should include lighting, one of the main attractions of the house. This may possibly increase the building costs, but the increase in value of dwellings will quite definitely compensate for the added outlay when the sale is effected.

WAR PENSIONS

The seriousness of the position in regard to war pensions is a view of the R.S.S.L.A. is that the Government should be obliged to maintain the payment of war pensions, and to the extent of a minimum figure in relation to the losses sustained, no reduction in the present rates should be made. Pension rates were established in 1920 to provide a compensating payment to disabled men and to the widows of those who died in the war. LIGHTING AND THE BUILDER

It frequently happens that two houses in the same locality and costing exactly the same amount for construction, bring different prices. In spite of standardization of design, it is inevitable that one place will have a distinctly stronger appeal than the other, and in consequence the builder's value is asked to share in a reduction along with everyone else. He is being asked to make a double sacrifice. Yours etc.

PRESTON COUNCIL FINANCES

GREAT IMPROVEMENT ON PREVIOUS YEARS
The Town Clerk (Mr. Williams) reported to Preston Council that current rates collected up to June 15, 1931, were £31,357, and arrears £2,996, and that the overdraft at that date was £10,509.

For purposes of comparison figures for 1929 and 1930 were also given. Rate collections to June 15, 1929, were £28,200; arrears, £2,422; overdraft, £16,410. To June 15, 1930, current rates, £38,663; arrears, £2,725; overdraft, June 15, £30,158; September 30, £14,841.

The Town Clerk also reported having had an interview with the assistant treasurer of the Commonwealth Bank, who had commended the council's system of financing, and had added that Preston Council was managing its finances in a better way than most municipalities. The council's system of budgeting its monthly statements and the preparation of the monthly statements were given the fullest approval, and the suggestion was made that some such system might be used in collecting moneys but the Town Clerk explained that whilst it was possible to control expenditure, it was not always possible to control receipts to the same extent.

Cr. Hemburrow said the report was very reassuring, as the overdraft now was lower than it was at the corresponding period of 1930, and this indicated that the finances were well under control. Cr. Hams said that this year all expenses had been rigidly controlled, and the rates being payable three weeks before June 10, as had been done last year, probably would have meant that the council would have been very close to having a credit balance.

Cr. Newton commended the officers in aiding to keep expenses down. The report was referred to the committee of the council, and it was resolved to tender thanks to the officers concerned.

BOY SCOUTS NORTHCOTE AND PRESTON SCOUT MASTERS' AS SOCIATION

Guide and Scout P.S.A. Headed by the Northcote Scout band the parade left Dundas Street at 2.35 p.m. and marched along High and Mary streets to the park, where they were met by the Scout Masters' Association. The parade was led by Captain Tribe, the salute, Guide. There were 114 guides, 256 scouts and 181 cubs on parade. The Preston Ministers' Fraternal conducted the service. Owing to the inclement weather the number of people present was small. A collection was taken up in aid of the Children's Hospital, the total amounting to £8/1/4. Thanks were expressed to M. Sheldrick and to the Second Preston Rovers for the work they did on the ground.

First Croston Cub. On Tuesday about 50 cubs were in attendance. Sixer Jack Eccles, Second Reg. Almond, Ray King, and Norman Hicks, received their badges. On Sunday 44 cubs attended the district parade at Preston Park. Music was rendered by Northcote Scouts band and proceeds were given to the Preston Ministers' Fraternal.

First Preston Troop. The football team defeated first Brunswick on Saturday by 6-14 to 4-1. The best players were—A. Rackham, W. and E. Goujon, B. Pincen, B. Kilpatrick. Next week we meet sixth Melbourne at Newmarket, and players are to meet on Friday's Bridge station at 2 p.m. The cubs will parade as usual on Thursday and scouts on Friday. Scouts are reminded of the three act play The Family Affairs to be held in the Town Hall.

Las Sunday 40 scouts and 32 cubs participated in a combined district church parade at Preston Park. The service was conducted by members of the Preston Ministers' Fraternal, and the address was given by Mr. Fisher.

First Northcote Wilkin's Rover Scout Crew. The syllabus item for Thursday night was a general meeting. Afterwards a small token was presented to Rover E. Cooper, who came of age a few weeks ago. This was followed by medicine ball throwing.

On the week commencing June 25 the rovers intend to visit Boronia. They will stay at the house of Rover A. Williams.

Fatal Motor Accident. John Alexander, 89 years, of James Street, Northcote, was crushed between a motor car and an electric light pole in Spring street, Melbourne, on Friday last, and received fatal injuries. At the Melbourne Hospital it was found that he had fractured his skull and his right leg was broken. He died shortly after being admitted. The driver of the car was Mr. C. G. Duffy, barrister, of Toorak.

A PRESTON COUNCIL CAR IS IT BEING ABUSED?

Questions at Meeting. At Preston Council meeting on Monday, Cr. Newton asked if a motor car was kept of the movements of the Morris car owned by the council? The Town Clerk (Mr. Williams) said:—Yes.

Cr. Newton: The records show that this car has used five gallons of petrol in the last fortnight and I presume the car is not now being used by the works manager (Mr. Brennan). I have heard that the use of this car is being abused in the same way as the former motor car, and if that is so, I want to take steps to put a stop to it.

The Town Clerk: The mechanic in charge of the car has instructions that it is only to be used on my written orders, the only exception being the works manager who can use it when necessary and to my knowledge the car is kept under lock and key. The works manager has told me that he still uses the car. The car is also used to take urgent cases of sick patients to the hospital, and in the collection of goods for relief work.

Cr. Newton: The Town Clerk may give instructions, but he doesn't know if they are always carried out.

"Petrol Consumption Dropped Suddenly. I am quite in accord with the car being used for legitimate purposes, but I will not have it used for 'joy-riding'. When I drew attention to the amount of petrol being used by this vehicle, the consumption dropped suddenly.

"Can Sell Car if Necessary? Cr. Jones: The matter should be referred to the committee of the council for investigation, and if necessary we can sell the car. I do not know what Cr. Newton's mind, but an investigation will do no harm.

Cr. Robeson said the Town Clerk had taken every precaution to prevent the car being abused, and had gone so far as to fit a new lock to the car garage. He has also visited the garage at night to see that the car was in.

Concluding, Cr. Robeson said: "There is only one fault I can find with the town car, and that is that it does not stand up enough for itself."

Cr. Zwart: The Town Clerk did not say where the car was kept at night, or we'd learn something. He can tell us that in committee.

Apparently a "flapper" to the Other Car. Cr. Maynard: Apparently this car is a "flapper" to the other one. (Laughter). When the works manager was appointed to the use of the car, he was told that it was not to be used for anything but the work he does use it.

I learn tonight for the first time that it is alleged there is something wrong with the uses to which the car is put. I think the matter when discussed, should be dealt with by the committee in camera.

Axe Buried Instead of Being Used. In the last case when the "axe" should have fallen instead of being used, the council buried it (laughter). I do not want this matter discussed at length by the council and given publicity. If anything is to be done, let it be done quickly.

The Mayor (Cr. Robinson): I learned that the "axe" was buried, and I am glad to hear that the car was used for the work it was intended for, and did not get back to the garage that night.

The car is very useful to the council for other purposes besides being available for the works manager.

The Town Clerk: Mr. Brennan has authority to use the Morris car when he desires to do so in the course of his duties, and he has told me that he still uses it. When the car is used for other purposes, it is not allowed out except on my order.

Cr. Newton: The car is being used more than it should, and if the Town Clerk cannot look after it, who can? A Voice: You, (laughter). Cr. Newton: All right. Give it into my care and I'll see that it is not abused.

The matter was referred to the committee of the council for investigation.

WHITTLESEA.

A concert party, under Mr. Norman Leslie, visited Whittlesea last Monday as a result of £29/6 was forwarded to the association by Mr. W. B. Campbell who is the local secretary.

The sale of buttons by the school children in the shire resulted in £14 being forwarded by the Shire President (Cr. L. W. Clarke) to the secretary of the Shire Appeal.

Archdeacon Herring was the preacher at both services at Christ Church on Sunday when there were good attendances. Next Sunday a preacher will be sent from the Mission of St. James and St. John. It is expected that an announcement will be made regarding the appointment of a vicar to take charge of the parish in place of Rev. A. J. Pearce, who recently retired.

Owing to the falling off in attendances the local picture show has been closed for the winter months.

The Northcote Football Club invites you to visit the training rooms every Sunday morning to meet the players, see their training methods and preparations.

NORTHCOTE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

HOW TO PLANT AND PRUNE ROSES. Addressing the members of the Northcote Horticultural Society at the last monthly meeting of that body Mr. G. Hardham, vice-president of the National Rose Society, dealt with the subject of Rose Planting and Pruning. He said that planting operations should be carried out this month or during August, good drainage being most essential. Planting holes about two feet square and eight inches deep should be dug a few days prior to planting. No manure whatever should be used in planting, and the roots should be kept moist.

In the bottom of the holes place two inches of fine virgin soil; the centre of that and sufficient to form a mound two inches high. On the top of this the base of the plant should rest with the roots spread out all round, inclined downwards. Make the soil, with which the roots are covered, as firm as possible and water nearly full, firm again with the foot, and then add a bucketful of water. This has soaked away fill in with the soil, and repeat the job if finished. If the weather is fine water regularly. If planted in June, go round the plants early in August and water them.

Pruning should not be started until July and should be finished by the middle of August. Pruning is carried out for the purpose of keeping the plant, giving it the desired shape, and improving the quality of the bloom. The second cut should be sharp and clean and should be dipped in a disinfecting solution after each plant is finished. First decide which branch to cut, and then cut out all the rest. Of the vigorous growers, one third should be removed and cut at a diagonal in the remaining wood. One third of the shoots should have two thirds cut away. All foliage should be removed. Roses of the climbing type such as Madame E. Heriot and any of the very thorny ones should not have the main shoot cut back till the beginning of next year. One shoot that commenced late in the autumn should be cut right away. All leaves and pruning cuttings should be burnt. For lists of suitable varieties the lecturer advised his audience to apply to experienced local growers.

After a number of questions had been answered, a vote of thanks was enthusiastically carried.

The cut flower competitions were concluded, Mrs. Bonnel scoring 5 points, and Mr. W. G. H. for a basket of flowers, and Master Frank Birkell scored 5 points in the novice class.

The next meeting will be held on July 8 which will be the annual meeting, election of officers, and eucuro treatment. Visitors are always welcome.

STEAM ROLLER RUNS AMOK.

Quite a sensation occurred in High Street, Northcote, at about 5.30 on Tuesday evening when a steam roller got out of control temporarily, and before it could be stopped it knocked down the main pillars of the shops on the corner of High Street, 313 High Street, Northcote, and the one next door.

The roller was being north along High Street, and it is understood a fault developed in the steering. Four cast iron verandah posts were snapped like carrots, and the verandah being supported only by resting on the hood of the roller.

The roller is the property of Victoria Roads Ltd.

FEDERAL LABOR CANDIDATES

Mr. Brennan Again Receives Selection. Mr. Frank Brennan, M.H.R., Federal Attorney General, obtained a very large majority in the pre-selection ballot for the Batman seat. There were something like 5,500 votes polled, and considerable interest was taken in the ballot. Mr. Brennan's opponent was Mr. A. S. Anderson.

Mr. Blackburn at Maribyrnong. Mr. M. Blackburn, M.L.A., for Clifton Hill, has been elected as Labor representative to contest the Maribyrnong seat. There were many candidates at the pre-selection ballot and when all preferences had been allotted, Mr. Blackburn's majority was 168.

W.C.T.U.

At the meeting of the Westgarth Branch of the W.C.T.U. a non-alcoholic product of the wine was made. Mrs. Monborough, state superintendent of the department of non-alcoholic wine, was present and made an interesting and instructive address showing that the grape can be put to many other uses than wine and spirit making. The address was illustrated by charts. Mrs. Swain (president) occupied the chair. Miss Hazeldine conducted recitations and Messdames Pilard and Williams rendered a duet. A vote of thanks to the speaker was presented at the meeting by Mrs. Pearce, who was seconded by Mrs. Kemp. Afternoon tea was served.

VEFANDAHS KNOCKED DOWN

Quite a sensation occurred in High Street, Northcote, at about 5.30 on Tuesday evening when a steam roller got out of control temporarily, and before it could be stopped it knocked down the main pillars of the shops on the corner of High Street, 313 High Street, Northcote, and the one next door.

The roller was being north along High Street, and it is understood a fault developed in the steering. Four cast iron verandah posts were snapped like carrots, and the verandah being supported only by resting on the hood of the roller.

The mayor said that if plans for new streets were to be prepared, a committee would be appointed to consider the matter. The engineer's staff will be paid out of private street construction money.

Cr. Robeson: I am in favor of making paths, even if we cannot make the roadways, so as to give the road a better appearance.

Cr. Newton: The people want the streets made. This is not a time to say we cannot do it. We must try to do it in a practical way. I do not want to burden myself with the responsibility of saying that we cannot do it. I will try to do it in a practical way.

function restraining the use of the hall for this purpose. Cr. Newton was told that this matter affected the council only, insofar as the council was the controlling body in regard to licensing halls in the city.

The matter was referred to the committee of the council, the secretary being asked to attend.

Cr. Jones: I saw the sign, and I go by the engineer, and this was found to percolate into the board's scour channel, so the board is holding to relieve the situation and not aggravate it. It appears that the water is going down through our road.

The Mayor: It is an underground mystery. Cr. Newton: Is the board going to pay any money in this, but we must give it—immediate attention to be given to elucidate the mystery.

Cr. Jones: It only fell in today. Cr. Hemburrow: I wouldn't be surprised to see Clinch's house fall in too.

A Voice: He would get the insurance on it then. The matter was referred to the P.W. committee.

Cr. Hemburrow: I wouldn't be surprised to see Clinch's house fall in too. Cr. Jones said the committee might give consideration to constructing the footpaths and channels as soon as possible and do the road later on.

IN THE GARDEN

GARDENS OF OTHER COUNTRIES
 (By B. B. and M. Shannon)

We hear of gardening in early Persian history. The Oriental alone was always enclosed by high walls, and the grounds were often laid out in a series of walled subdivisions. A lofty and massive gateway with only a small opening usually led to the house by means of a straight way.

Symbolism played a very large part in Eastern gardens. In Persian India a favorite combination was that of a slender dark green cypress contrasting with the pale flowering branches of an almond. Theypress represented death and the almond life and hope.

Water was a great delight to the Persians, and tanks, fish ponds and fountains decorated the gardens. Water was used for irrigation, and covered paths afforded protection from the sun, as did shady walks of fruit trees, palms and acacias—indicated in the garden plan.

When the Moorish character was introduced into the garden, the water was used for irrigation, and covered paths afforded protection from the sun, as did shady walks of fruit trees, palms and acacias—indicated in the garden plan.

The Japanese garden is essentially a garden of surprise, there being at every turn some novelty to greet you. The temples are always built on a rise or on the boulders of a precipitous bank.

DOWN WITH COMMUNISM

Mr. Lang has started on a systematic propaganda for the socialization of industry. Unless the people wake up, New South Wales will be a socialistic State before they realize it.

There is a definite trend away from the democracy that has been the proud boast of Britons, and a drift towards a dangerous oligarchy. The drift is extending into municipal affairs. We have seen during the last few years a gradual introduction of the party system of government in our municipal councils which is resulant delays and its party strife.

The individualism both of the citizen and the State is being destroyed. Unless we check this downward trend, we will drift towards Socialism. It is generally agreed that the Australian is such an individualist that he will not allow himself to be ruled by a machine governed country where the State decides everything and where the citizen is a passive subject.

There is great need in Australia of Parliamentary reform in order to restore government by the people. It is responsible for much of the present bitterness. It has divided the people into camps. The country has been divorced from its own interests.

To achieve this end, the All Australia League is working. Like all great reform movements it has met with opposition. It is opposed by the old conservative who objects to any form of change, and is opposed by those whose interests are vested in the existing party system.

Thank God, the public are awake! They see the fearful dangers confronting Australia. They see the evils of the present undemocratic and unrepresentative form of government. They see how in other countries the Communist has obliterated the Christian religion, destroyed the Churches, and murdered the priests.

The A.P.A. League has been created to kill Communism. It can only do this by reforming our parliamentary system, which has allowed this poisonous viper to thrive in the country. The League appeals to all good Australian citizens to join the movement and help it to carry out its difficult task.

WHY SO MANY FAIL

(Contributed by H. J. B.)
A multitude of men are being whipped every day in the battle of life. They desire success but they are afraid of everything and every stage where they have ceased to struggle for the goal of success.

The scourgings of life rarely help such men in fact the more lashings they receive they become. What becomes of these men? They are the wage slaves, the millions of clerks, minor managers, storekeepers, bookkeepers, laborers, assistants, secretaries, salesmen, solicitors and petty managers of a puny business. They are the millions who work and sweat to make others rich and happy.

Confirmation classes are continuing and the opportunity is presented to all who may desire to join the classes. Both young people and adults are invited to attend. The vicar is Rev. Alfred Shaw.

"The Yankee at King Arthur's Court."

It's really too bad that Samuel Clemens couldn't have lived to see Will Rogers as Hank Martin, the Connecticut Yankee who was transported back through the centuries to King Arthur's Court. Of course, certain liberties have been taken with the Mark Twain book, but his film is filled with the spirit of the original.

Of Interest to Women

(Conducted by "PENELOPE")

ROMANTIC CIRCLE. FANCY'S FASHION.

At the Church of the Epiphany, Northcote, on June 6, Rev. T. Cole officiated at the wedding of Mr. John J. Thompson, eldest son of Mr. J. Thompson, 201 Heidelberg road, and Miss Hazel Sarah Ford, daughter of the late Charles and Mrs. Sandford, 17 Valley street, Northcote.

In the opening sequence Hank Martin has a plumbing shop in little Connecticut town, but also conducts a broom casting station—most of which he does not understand.

As a shrewd Connecticut Yankee he probably values advertising. "Advertising," he says at another time, "makes you spend money you haven't got for things you don't want."

TWEED AND FOX COAT.

Mr. J. J. Johnson and Mrs. M. J. Johnson, of "Tallangatta," 22 Clough street, Northcote, celebrated their golden wedding on Friday, June 19. They were married in St. Matthew's Church, further on June 19, 1881 by the Rev. Canon A. Lees.

RESERVOIR BAND INSTRUCTION CLASSES.

Instruction classes will be commenced by the Reservoir District Band on Thursday next for youthful handymen. This is a unique opportunity for those who desire to learn music to gain a good grounding, and those who are already musicians will find it a most interesting and profitable experience.

AN APPEAL WILL BE MADE.

An appeal will be made between July 1 and 8, and it is proposed to close each street in the main city and canvassers go from door to door seeking parcels of clothing and boots. It is requested that the residents of Northcote will wholeheartedly support the appeal, as the demand for clothing is very great and at the present time numbers of our children are in need of warm clothing.

HELPFUL HINTS

Chairs.—When cane chairs become slack through constant use, sponge both sides of the cane with hot soap-water in which a handful of salt has been dissolved. Then place the chair in the air. When the seat is fairly dry, cover it over with a cloth and iron well with an iron. The seats will become firm again if treated in this way.

Pouring Hot Fruit into Glass Dishes.—If wishing to pour stewed fruit into a glass dish directly after cooking, place a wet cloth under the dish, and there will be no fear of the glass cracking from the heat.

To Keep Milk Fresh.—Put a bowl of water, add a good handful of common salt, and a piece of washing blue. Stand the milk in a canister and it will be found to keep quite sweet.

Rid Your Garden of Slugs.—Take a quantity of cabbage leaves and cut them up into small pieces. Heat them before the fire till they get quite soft. Rub them with unsalted butter or any kind of fresh dripping, and put them in the places infested with slugs. In a few hours the leaves will be found to be covered with snails and slugs, which may then, of course, be destroyed.

Feeling almonds.—An easy way is to put a quantity of almonds in a bowl of boiling water and let stand over for 10 minutes. Then take out and put into cold water. Let them stand for 5 minutes; then the skin on the almonds will come off very easily.

Make Soap.—Take 9 pints of water, 1 lb. of tallow, 1 lb. of soda, 10 oz. resin, and 4oz borax. Put all in a Kerosene tin and boil for 10 hours. Then take out and put into cold water. Let them stand for 5 minutes; then the skin on the almonds will come off very easily.

Verdigris.—Marks caused by verdigris on a kind of fabric can be washed away with soap if they have not been neglected. When they have remained a day or two they are very difficult to remove. The marks will often yield if lemon juice is applied to them and allowed to remain for a little while, and then rinsed off in water.

Medicine Stains.—If medicine has been spilled, it will usually yield to a little water. If not, a little carbonate of soda in warm water and sponge the spots well with the solution and then dry with a clean cloth.

Mud Stains.—Dissolve a little carbonate of soda in warm water and sponge the spots well with the solution and then dry with a clean cloth.

GROWING POMPONE DAHLIAS

THE Pompone dahlias have once again come to the front, as at the present time more pompones are grown than any other kind. Last season the demand was so great in Sydney that most of the good varieties were used up. The reason for the popularity of this little dahlia can easily be understood—the wonderful variation of colors, the large quantity of good blooms that can be cut from each bush and the ease with which it can be cultivated. All the attention to pompone dahlias should be given to the water and the soil. The soil should be rich and the water should be plentiful. The plants should be watered every day, and the soil should be kept moist. The plants should be cut back in late autumn, and the roots should be stored in a cool, dry place.

Watering

The pom that all dahlias love plenty of water, never allow the plants to get dry. Providing drainage is good, and the pom is over the baby stage, it will take plenty of water. I add my best at least twice a week, on an amount given to the pom. The pom is a green berry or berries is all they require. They can be grown in any poor soil, and it is not necessary to give them any special treatment. The pom is a very hardy plant, and it will grow in any soil. The pom is a very easy plant to grow, and it will give you a large quantity of good blooms. The pom is a very good plant to grow, and it will give you a large quantity of good blooms.

Husband Alleged Assault by Lodger

How a husband was assaulted by a lodger was told at the Preston court on June 18 when Frederick George Brewer, butcher of Haglan street, Preston, sued Charles Coker, tally clerk, of Middle Park, for £40 damages for assault. The claim was heard before Mr. C. Brown P.M. Plaintiff Const. Irwin gave similar evidence and said "I endeavoured to get those two to leave the house quietly, but without success." Const. Buchanan also gave similar evidence, and said that after being charged Doris Norton said to be carried part of the way from the police station to the cell. Norton said: I went to see Mrs. Lawrence, being accompanied by my sister. When I opened the door, I saw the police, and Mrs. Lawrence, who was crying. My sister put her arms round Mrs. Lawrence's neck, and the police asked me my business. I said I had come to see Mrs. Lawrence, and the police asked me "get out." I said to Mrs. Lawrence "Do you want me to stay?" and she said "Yes." One of the police got me by the scruff of the neck, and when another opened the door I was thrown out of the house.

Senior Const. Matthews: Had you not interfered you would not have been here?—I did not interfere. You are hostile towards the police, and myself to get out. I went up to the police station with Mrs. Lawrence to try and comfort her little thinking that when I got to the station I would be charged myself. The bench found that all charges were proved.

Senior Const. Matthews said that he did not press for heavy penalties. On the obstructive charges, each defendant was fined £2 in default of 14 days' imprisonment, and for insulting words, Doris Norton was fined £5.

OAKLEIGH WINS DISAPPOINTING CONTEST

GAME SPOILT BY FARICAL UMPIRING AND UNPLEASANT CONDITIONS

Northcote Play Lifelessly In An Uninteresting Struggle

OAKLEIGH TAKE FIRST PLACE ON THE LIST

(By "Aequus")

The two leaders, Oakleigh and Northcote, met last Saturday at the Northcote Park. The ground, as was to be expected after the recent rains, was unsuited for a high-class display, but whatever possibility there was of an interesting game was spoilt by over-umpiring. From the bounce of the ball there was one continuous blast of whistle. Play was needlessly checked time and again, with the result that the players were thrown quite out of their stride. There was an entire absence of continuity of action, the play lacked fire, dash and thrills, and the proceedings were so drab that it was a relief to hear the bell terminating the various quarters. Rarely did spectators work up any enthusiasm, the match being one of the poorest exhibitions of football seen, and the crowd one of the quietest. In the glorified scramble Oakleigh adapted themselves much better to the circumstances, and gaining a well-earned lead in the first term, held it quite comfortably to the end.

Eight thousand spectators assembled, expecting a rare struggle, but they left disappointed and disgusted.

The conditions were such that the game was a farce, and the players were unable to show their true colors. The game was a farce, and the players were unable to show their true colors.

Red and Whites' Staunch Defence A Feature of Interesting Game

THE SEASIDERS DIE HARD (By "Follower")

Preston were superior to the vastly-improved Sandringham side when they handsomely defeated them last Saturday. Preston's success was mainly due to the players keeping in front of their opponents. It was gratifying to see Preston's team work, which contributed in no small measure to their success.

Preston were at home to Sandringham on Saturday and outplayed the visitors throughout. The success of the state of the ground, which was particularly bad in the centre.

Continuing, Summers passed to Cazaly, who commenced a run of success which overpowered Sandringham. Cameron was doing well forward, and Warr was prominent with his charging, which Cameron kept up the pressure and Cameron forwarded to Piper, who marked splendidly and scored.

Leading his side coolly and collectedly, Cazaly forwarded to Summers, who, after a few yards out, hit the post with a hurried snap.

Sandringham swung the pendulum in their favor, but Smith and Taylor frequently beat them off. With a kick of the ground R. Kenna piloted the leather clear. A further rush forward saw Beckton snap a sixer by turning out of the park.

Preston again dominated the play and Dowling, beating T. Anderson, who sent the ball to Cazaly, whose judgment in anticipating Cameron's position was rewarded by the latter's booting second goal for the term.

The visitors again attacked, but without success, and the scores at the half-time were: Oakleigh, 4-5; Northcote, 3-1. With a four-point lead and a wind advantage Oakleigh appeared in a sound position. Honig, Smith, Newton, Forward: Cameron, Emmens, Bresnahan. Followers: Honig, Cameron, R. Kenna, D. H. Smith, Newton. Forward: Cameron, Emmens, Bresnahan. Followers: Honig, Cameron, R. Kenna, D. H. Smith, Newton.

During the third term Preston's skipper had the misfortune to injure his toe, and he then directed operations from the forward line. Miller also tore the muscles of his leg and his place was taken by Gall.

The visitors made a determined effort to make up the leeway and a couple of singles were registered. A dash by Warr found Cazaly, who, although injured, easily scored full points. Sandringham replied with a similar score by Yenn.

Attacking, Sandringham forced the play along the Mary street wing and found added a single. Staving off another thrust, Smith cleared his goal. Warr carried the play further afield, and Summers passed to Cazaly. The climax was reached when Dave ran into an open goal and scored a goal.

Although in an almost hopeless position, Sandringham battled their way forward and a free to Hudd resulted in a goal.

A neat short pass by Cameron to Cazaly, who hand-balled to Dave, led to full points being obtained. Sandringham, unable to stand up to the continued onslaught, tired rapidly. Cazaly scored another goal, followed by a behind shortly before the half.

EAST PRESTON

A meeting was held at St. Mary's Hall, Fryer street, on June 22, Mr. Houghton being in the chair. The delegates reported on the formation of a new Central Council. This matter was keenly discussed and a new scheme is to be placed before the other associations for their assent.

The secretary reported on the debate between East Preston and West Preston, held at West Preston Progress Hall on June 17. East Preston were declared the winners by 42 points, the totals being 215 points to 173. Mr. Smith was the adjudicator and the subject was "Is Prohibition Desirable?"

A report was tabled with reference to 10 Paterson street. Although the association had correspondence from the town hall stating that the council had no objection to the principle of disallowing factories and shops in residential areas, definite advice had been received from the Shops and Factories Department that the council had given a permit for this private residence. It was pointed out by several speakers that although the council was supposed to uphold its own by-laws, that course had not been followed in this case. As to who is responsible for the investigations will reveal. Several cases were cited where local unemphed had been refused permits to sell fireworks, wood, etc. and it would be very interesting to get the reason why this extraordinary preference is shown to this applicant as he has a hand in a constant employment in one of the best protected industries in Australia.

Another matter dealt with was the spoils of police in Preston. It was pointed out that several policies had occurred lately in the vicinity of East Preston school. It was decided to write to the council and ask them to consider the advisability of making Victoria road. This is a public street and will have to be made out of revenue. Members remarked that although the council is taking steps to find a loan in the near future, the East Ward members must have been asleep, as not one penny has been spent in the East Ward. The question was asked as to why Victoria road was not added to the schedule.

Owing to the large number of would-be debaters it was decided to run debates amongst the members and Messrs. Andrews and Block are to be the leaders of the respective teams.

"Whoopee" being screened this week-end, and the picture which was the public eye's direction one can find it in the direction of such experts as Eddie Cantor and Ethel Shuster, typical songs of every variety, leaving girls as only Ziegfeld can play them, and a general air of satisfying lavishness make it an outstanding picture. The story takes place in New York. "The Nervous Wreck" is concerned with the adventures of an imaginary "Nervous Wreck" who finds himself obliged to marry the daughter of an unweemone marriage. This plot with Eddie Cantor as the central figure, and the scene at the end is most striking. "Whoopee" leaves nothing to be desired.

The last word in serio-comic absurdity is the part of that sanctimonious reformer played by Arthur Hoyt. "Dumbbells in Ermine" strings such names as Robert Armstrong, Barbara Kent and Beryl Mercer. A great story set to music is the simplest description of its screen triumph "Lottery Bride" to be presented on Monday next. With magnificent settings and backgrounds, the dramatic opera runs its course of song and emotion through a high modern plot which includes the advent of an Airie flight and the crash of a gigantic dirigible. The leading lady is Jeanette MacDonald, supported by Boby Gurick, the possessor of a splendid voice, Joe E. Brown and Zazu Pitts provide the comedy and characterizations.

On Thursday next, "May I Come In?" will deal with the difficulties of a young married couple, separated by the husband's insouciant temper and bride's arrogant pride, which lead to a series of complications which bring them to reconciliation. Edmund Lowe and Leila Hyams play the lead. The music in "Abraham Lincoln" is the whole of Lincoln's life is portrayed on the screen. From the time of his birth to his assassination at Ford's theatre in Washington last year, the picture is a masterpiece of the superb script of Walter Huston.

The handsome Johnny Mack Brown has been mostly concerned in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with stories which require him to act only. In King Vidor's "Bride of the God" however, the former collegiate football star shakes a well-trained foot in a riotous game showing that the social graces learned at balls of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, University of Alabama, still stay with him.

At the fortnightly meeting at Huton Street School on June 18 over 100 persons were present. The president (Mr. Thomas) expressed pleasure at the large gathering and said that the West Ward Association was fast becoming one of the largest associations in the metropolitan area. The treasurer (Mr. S. Clarke) reported having handed to the Town Clerk the sum of £10 as a donation from the association towards the Mayor's Unemployed Relief Fund. Mr. Deslandes reported on Central Council activities. He reported on a deputation to Mr. Clapp (Chief Commissioner for Railways) seeking reductions in fares. Mr. Clapp had listened attentively to all arguments, but after blind folding the deputation with figures and statements especially referring to road construction, Mr. Clapp stated emphatically that present reductions in fares were impracticable and that if concessions could be granted in any direction the primary producers had first claim.

The secretary reported having successfully negotiated with the school committee for the use of ratios in the meeting room. These should be available for next meeting. Complaints are still numerous and what is considered to be excessive valuations. Northcote ratenagers are not alone in this matter. Representatives of Essendon Progress Association have been seeking information from the Central Council as to the methods by which they could tackle this subject. Members were carefully read their valuation notice and if aggrieved to carry out the instructions contained therein. At this association is preparing a course of action and it is anticipated that at the next meeting which will be held on Thursday, July 2, a plan will be submitted by the committee. The business of the meeting, concluded at 9.15 p.m. and numbers indulged in dancing until a late hour. The music was graciously supplied by Mr. Cronin (violin) and Miss Cronin (piano) added greatly to the success of the evening. During the evening a fine spirit was exhibited by Mr. C. Lack, who donated a hand-out of book design to the association. This gift was acknowledged by the president, on behalf of the members.

Rateneys of the West Ward are reminded that the Progress Association exists in the "Big Red" however, the former collegiate football star shakes a well-trained foot in a riotous game showing that the social graces learned at balls of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, University of Alabama, still stay with him.

UNEMPLOYMENT

PARENTS AND CHILDREN HELP.

Activities at East Preston School.

Just 12 months ago a branch of the Children's Hospital was formed at the East Preston School. Its activities were at first confined to the alleviation of the distress which existed among families attending the school.

In this way eight families were supplied weekly with meat, groceries and vegetables till Christmas last year. Mothers and girls knitted 50 pairs of socks, while boots and clothing were distributed among needy children. At Christmas, each of 12 families were supplied with 7/6 worth of groceries and with 5/ worth of meat. Bazaars held in aid of the fund netted £10 which was sent to the Children's Hospital.

Their efforts have been conducted on a somewhat larger scale since Christmas last. Clothing sent to school has been carefully distributed to children in need. It was then found necessary to provide lunches for over 30 children daily. An appeal to parents brought a ready response, and in a number of cases the children were taken home to a hot midday meal, whilst others received lunches to school for distribution.

The total money received for the month was £235/5/6, of which £26/13/7 has been expended, leaving a balance in hand of over £26. During the last month, great activity has been displayed by a number of mothers of children attending the school. They decided to give the children of unemployed parents a cup of cocoa at the luncheon hour. At present 70 children are thus provided for in the month, and attention is being given to the needs of the children in this school. The children appreciate the fact that they are able to do something for their parents, and in this respect, the school is a valuable asset to the community.

STAMPEDES DEFEY FAKERY

Charges of fakery have been made against scenes of stampeding in motion pictures. When a Texas longhorn paws at the ground, and puts his head over the charge there is no pretence that he is anything but a real animal.

There are unusual and extreme precautions for safety were taken by Richard Arlen's new Paramount picture, "The Conquering Juggler." The thrill of the picture is provided by an ungovernable dash of a vast herd of stampeding herd camels, and the cameras, and the best cameramen of the west were assembled to do the job.

In addition, a big stock of Roman candles was laid by. Roman candles fired over the heads of an oncoming stampeding herd camels, and the cameras, and the best cameramen of the west were assembled to do the job.

FARMING EXPERTS VISIT KINGLAKE

PASTURES IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION FORMED

The value of proper treatment of grasses in Australia by the use of a balanced superphosphate and nitrogen fertiliser combined with efficient farm management was the subject of a visit to Kinglake on Saturday, June 13.

Mr. W. H. Everard, M.L.A., representative for the district, was instrumental in arranging a visit on Saturday by Mr. R. Crowe (Director of Agriculture) and Messrs. W. V. Blewett and O. H. Gepp (Imperial Chemical Industries), Major McCormack (chairman C.R.B.) and Mr. F. W. Fricke (Commissioner C.R.B.) all of whom are keenly interested in grass cultivation in Victoria.

The party arrived at Kinglake at 3.30 and after being met by the Progress Association and entertained at Kinglake Hall, were invited to afternoon tea by Mesdames Jennings and Trousson.

The properties of Messrs. Chas. E. Eton, and John Lawrey were visited during the afternoon and practical evidences of the value of balanced feeding of Mother Earth were demonstrated. In the evening an instructive lecture was given at the Kinglake Central Hall. Mr. W. H. Everard was voted to the chair.

Mr. Everard said one of the most important things to a producer he thought was the provision of good roads so that his products could be taken to market with a minimum of difficulty and a maximum of speed. In the Country Roads Board, Victoria had an institution which had proved a boon to the primary producer. Far seeing and capable men were at the head of the Board and they were a credit to the State. Kinglake was particularly fortunate in its main road. He had always agitated for better roads and would always advocate them in spite of all opposition. (Applause.)

Mr. Crowe, Director of Agriculture said it was his first official visit since his appointment, which took place about a week ago. He considered that the most important thing in a district was rainfall. Given the proper amount of rain anything was possible. Comparisons were drawn with New Zealand and instances of what had been done on an indifferent country where abundant rains fell were cited. The annual value of wheat grown in Victoria was between ten and eleven million pounds sterling. Great advancement had been made in the cultivation of wheat in the past few years, and the yield per acre had been greatly increased. Thirty years ago in the Wimmera, about seven bushels per acre were grown and to-day the average yield was 21 bushels. This demonstrated what had been done with wheat cultivation. The value of milk products exceeded the value of wheat, and wool was approximately the same value annually. Yet despite the fact that immense strides had been made in wheat cultivation comparatively nothing had been done to increase the yield of grasses. The possibilities of pasture improvement by the selection of suitable grasses, subdivision of large areas, and elimination of waste, combined with the use of proper fertilisers, were unlimited. Mr. Crowe quoted a Tatura farmer who had achieved remarkable results by subdividing a 48 acre paddock into 20 different paddocks and giving his dairy herd a "clean plate" each few days, and conserving for silage the grass not used during the spring. The selection of seed also had an important bearing upon the results obtained.

Mr. W. V. Blewett said it was important to grow fodder in the spring-time and feed in the late summer. In Kinglake the rainfall was abundant but rainfall alone was not sufficient. It had to be backed up by the use of super which was the backbone of pastures. Grass, today was coming to be recognised as a crop. The application of 1 cwt. of super per acre was insufficient, and in many places up to 6 cwt. per acre were used. This was arrived at by gradually increasing the amount until it was found what quantity gave the best grass and the greatest return. It resolved itself into a matter of f.s.d. Systematic harrowing too was important.

Mr. O. H. Gepp depicted by the use of slides results achieved in N.Z. Drainage was an important item, but Kinglake was fortunate in that respect. The next essential in grass farming was the use of super, which brought clover. The next again was to add nitrogen to feed a balanced ration to the soil and so obtain mixed grasses which gave a yield in both summer and winter. Nitrogen could be added by the use of sulphate of ammonia. In sowing grasses about 60% should be perennial rye grass and 20 to 30% clover. This gave an ideal all round mixture and if fed with the mixed super and nitrogen it gave the best conditions. In using rye grass and cocksfoot it was important to sow the best strain (thoroughbred). A slide depicted what had been done in Mernda by the admixture of nitrogen. The same plot was shown one season without nitrogen and the next season with a balanced ration.

Major McCormack (C.R.B.) said Kinglake was a wonderful spot; it had splendid land and was only 40 miles from Melbourne on a good road. The Roads Board were anxious to help the settler. In Kinglake the board had taken the first step and put down a main road. They were anxious now to see settlers take up land and they would endeavour to build feeding roads to it. He suggested that a Pastures Improvement Association be formed at Kinglake and that a badge be adopted.

Mr. Fricke said if two blades of grass could be made to grow where one now grew we could double our wealth in Victoria. Gippsland under ideal conditions would be capable of bearing the whole national debt of Australia.

It was decided to form a local branch of the Pastures Improvement Association at Kinglake and to accept the offer of Major McCormack and Mr. Everard for the supply of suitable badges.
