£50 FINE
Unregistered Dentist in Court
P.M. SAYS LAW WAS FLOUTED

SAYING that he was of the opinion that defendant, who had been convicted three times within a space of fifteen months was flouting the law, the P.M. (Mr E. C. McLean) at Northcote Court on Tuesday imposed a fine of £50 upon Morton Clarke, of High Street, Croxton.

Clarke was charged that between October 12 and 20, not being registered as a dentist, he practised dentistry for reward.

Mr Ernest Joske, Registrar for the Dental Board of Victoria, prosecuted. Keith Walter Blackham, accountant, Hampton street, Brighton, said: "On October 19 I went to McCall's dental rooms at Croxton and asked to see the dentist. I was later treated by Clarke in the surgery. He examined my teeth and said I needed a plate. He also cleaned my teeth, for which I paid 5/."

Cross-examined: Are you employed by the Dental Board?—No. I am an accountant with my own practice.

Robert Victor Goodman, of Frankston, said: "On October 13 I went to a dental surgery at High Street, Croxton, where Clarke inserted a filling, I paid 5/."

Cross-examined: You came from Frankston to go to this particular surgery?—Yes.

How did you come to do that?—I was sent by my employer.

Millie Code, State school teacher, St Kilda road, Middle Brighton, said: "On October 16 Clarke cleaned my teeth at a dental surgery at High Street, Croxton and I paid him 5/."

As I was leaving the surgery I said to him "Are you Mr McCall?" He hesitated and said "Yes."

Cross-examined: "How did you come to visit this surgery?—I just went there."

Do you know Blackham?—Yes. We went to school together.

Is it not a coincidence that both of you should come to visit this surgery about this particular time?—I don't know. One can surely go where one wishes.

Did anyone ask you to go to the surgery?—No.

You are the lady who smokes?—Yes. I wanted my teeth cleaned.

Mr Doria (for defendant) said that Clarke had worked at mechanical dentistry all his life and had been unfortunate in that he had just misadventure being recorded as a dentist, and was thus prevented from practising.

The P.M. said that Clarke had flouted the law. He had three convictions within a space of 15 months. A fine of £50 would be imposed, together with £3/5 costs. A stay of one month was granted.

RESERVOIR NOTES

The Reservoir Baptist Church organised a community singing session on Monday night. Mr Mackay was the conductor and Mr Gaunce was at the piano.

Owing to Saturday morning being chosen for the deputation to the Minister of Railways to the railway crossing, the executive officers of the Progress Association, all being business men, could not leave their businesses, so the Rev Brimacombe was deputed to put their views forward.

Hospital Sunday collections were—Reservoir Methodist £3/10/8; Presbyterian £1/10/2; and Anglican £1/2/10; St Gabriels £2/2/0.

The stork left a baby girl (Faye Roberta) for Mr and Mrs Thomas Doran, of Leamington street, Reservoir.

The Police Charly Carnival was locally celebrated by a dance at the Palais de Danse. Senior Constable Joiner was the energetic organiser. It was a social success and Miss Livingstone's pupils gave a display of dancing.

Fixtures for the approaching season were discussed fully at the monthly meeting of Preston Ladies' Bowling Club on Tuesday afternoon. There were a large number of members present and the president (Mrs. How) dispensed afternoon tea in her usual lavish manner.

DISAPPEARANCE OF CARS

TWO MEN FOR TRIAL

James Albert May, laborer, who gave his address as St Paul's Training School, Newhaven, Phillip Island and Clive Albert Muir, unemployed electrician, of no fixed place of abode, both aged about 20 years, were charged at Northcote Court of Tuesday with having, at Preston, on October 20, stolen a Baby Austin motor car, valued at £100, the property of Edward Nobbs, Jeweller, High Street, Thornbury; with having, at Alphington, on October 20, stolen an Essex motor car, valued at £90, the property of Michael Flanagan, paper-maker, Heidelberg road, Alphington and with having, on October 20; broken and entered the garage of Herbert G. Peacock, Yarra street, Alphington, and stolen a pair of gloves, a two-gallon petrol tin, and

EARLY COPY

Owing to Cup Day holiday on Tuesday the Editor requests correspondents to forward copy as EARLY AS POSSIBLE for next issue.

The Sporting Editor requests Cricket Secretaries to send in reports and scores by MONDAY MID-DAY and asks their cooperation in this matter.

An oil tin containing about a gallon of oil, valued in all at £1.

Both Muir and May pleaded guilty to having stolen both cars. They pleaded not guilty to the charge of having entered the garage, but May added that he pleaded "guilty as an accomplice." They were both committed for trial at the sitting of General Sessions, beginning on November 15. Bail was fixed in each case at £100 and a surety of £100.

TWO SISTERS DROWNED

DEEP regret will be expressed for Mr Arthur Jones, formerly of Preston, at the loss of his two young daughters Betty Edith Jones, eight and Eileen, five, of Boronia, who were drowned in a dam 200 yards from their home on Wednesday.

The children went to the dam at 6 p.m. accompanied by two other little girls and a dog. Eileen began throwing sticks into the dam for the dog to recover but slipped into the water. Betty endeavoured to pull her to the shore. Betty was pulled in also, and both were drowned while their companions made fruitless efforts to assist. Mr A. McPherson recovered the two bodies in five feet of water.

Doctors applied artificial respiration unsuccessfully. Mr Jones, the father of Betty and Eileen Jones, moved from Preston to Boronia only last Tuesday.

Preston Anglers' Club

ON Saturday afternoon 18 members journeyed to Big River 12 miles above Eildon Weir for a week-end's fishing. The weather was fine and the 100 mile trip was done in good time. 32 trout were gassed, the biggest being a 3½ lb brown trout, caught by F. White.

The following watched in: F. White 4; A. Watkins 5; D. King 5; W. Curwood 3; J. Brighton C. Mulder 3 each; J. Fisher, A. Gould, Cormick 2 each; E. Gardner, 2 each; J. A. Watkins, E. Gardner, 2 each; T. Butler, L. Downie and W. Murray 1 each. The trophy fished was donated by Mr A. F. Deacon, auctioneer, and estate agent, High Street, Preston, and was won by F. White. Next competition—Sunday, November 5, at Jackson's Creek, Holden.

Fatal Cycling Accident

Contestants in Two Races Collide

TWO KILLED; ONE INJURED

WHEN members of the Fitzroy and Northcote Amateur Cycling Clubs riding in club events and in opposite directions collided head-on at Thomastown on Saturday afternoon Richard Bailey, 13 years, Stewart street, Brunswick, a member of the Fitzroy Club, was killed, instantly and Norman Fraebain, 17 years, fruiterer, Eastment street, Northcote, received concussion and abrasions and John Gibson, 17 years, factory worker, South street, Preston, received severe abrasions.

The Fitzroy Club was holding a 5 mile "out and back" event, to finish at the Thomastown Hotel, and the Northcote Club had under way a half mile sprint, the starting place being the transformer station, which is half a mile on the Melbourne side of Thomastown.

The hotel was thus the finishing point of both races. When the programme was compiled an allowance of a quarter of an hour had been provided between the finishes but some delay occurred, and it was not until the accident was imminent that the danger was realised.

Leading riders in both races were able to swerve aside, but the main bunches could not do likewise on account of the large number of vehicles and pedestrians lining both sides of the road at the finishing point.

The main bunches in each case came into collision, and at once a scene of tremendous confusion reigned. The cyclists had been riding at something like 30 m.p.h. and the impact threw them amongst the crowd. People were knocked over and bicycles were smashed.

Bailey, who was having his first ride, was killed outright. The other two injured were taken to hospital in an ambulance.

Second Victim Dies

On Wednesday afternoon Norman Fraebain passed away at St Vincent's Hospital.

CORRESPONDENCE

PRESTON NIGHT PATROL

(To the Editor)
Sir.—Several rumors of an unsavory nature regarding Preston Night Patrol men have been circulated in Preston and I wish to announce that they are in no way connected with the staff of the Preston Night Patrol and Escort Service, who are men of integrity and have the approbation of several councillors, business men, and the Returned Soldiers League. Above all, they are doing their job.—Yours &c. STANLEY T. GREY, 278 Tyler St., Official Organiser.

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS

At the September examinations conducted at the University by the Australian Music Examination Board, the following students were successful.—Lesley Mavis White, Grade V, pianoforte honors (95 marks); Elsa Marie Purcell, Grade IV pianoforte honors, Theory of Music.—Lesley Mavis White, Grade V honors; Elsa Marie Purcell, Grade V honors; Marjorie Norma Williams, Grade III honors; Mary Lamb, Grade III honors; Rhoda Rosiland Peck, Grade II credit harmony and counterpoint.

The above students have received their tuition from Miss E. P. Rao, of Normandy Hall, Northcote.

St Mark's Church, of England, St Mark's Church of England, Beatty street, West Preston, has arranged an Olde English Fayre to be held on Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11. This function will be officially opened on Friday at 9 p.m. by the Hon H. H. Ojney, M.L.C. Proceeds will be devoted to improving the church building and furnishings.

The stalls will be well stocked with a large variety of useful articles and a visit to this fayre will be well worth while. Refreshments will be available and interesting competitions have been arranged.

In conjunction with the fayre a grand baby show will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. Particulars of this event appear elsewhere.

MELBOURNE CENTENARY CELEBRATIONS

The hearts of the people of Victoria are throbbing in unison—for the greatest event in the history of the State—the Melbourne Centenary. From Crown colony to autonomous government; from bush track to settled commercial city and urban prosperity; from pioneering effort to the consummation of mature status, and political prominence, Victorians have witnessed an unpeopled bushland grow to an importance of potential eminence in national life!

All this has been accomplished through the hardihood and indomitable courage of her pioneers, and the keen spirit of emulation of their ambitious descendants. Everywhere the enthusiasm of celebration is moving—moving in unison in every city, town and hamlet in the State. And here, in the northern centres of our splendid metropolis, the pulse of the people is beating with a feeling of ambition to be in the forefront of the events which are to mark an epoch in our country's historical achievements.

It has been suggested to the proprietors of the "Leader" that a fitting tribute should be contributed to the men, who, with foresight and persistence, built and fostered the good fortunes and success of these prosperous suburban cities.

The proposal is to take the form of an historical and biographical story of the lives of the men who have figured with conspicuous success in this work.

We have decided to give the proposal favorable consideration, and will ask our readers to interest themselves and help us; this they can do by forwarding to us any items of historical value which they can authenticate.

NORTHCOTE COURT

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31

Before Mr E. C. McLean, P.M. and Messrs H. Evans, P. Carney, P. J. Keen, B. E. Johnson, J. Hartnett, W. Jones and Mrs A. A. Glanfield J.R.P.

Ejectments

William Hodgkinson, obtained an ejectment against A. W. Clarke, West-garth street, Northcote.

Jessie Childley obtained an ejectment order against Thomas Brown Arthurton road, Northcote.

Maintenance Order by Consent
Mary Ann McNeill obtained a maintenance order by consent against her husband, Charles Edward McNeill, Neerim road Carnegie, for £1 weekly.

A Tube of Toothpaste
Elizabeth Esther O'Neale, married, Waterloo road, Northcote, was charged on October 13 she stole a tube of toothpaste valued at 1/8 the property of S. E. Dickins, Pty. Ltd.

The evidence of Alice Hand, Arthur and Hilda Graydon, assistants, employed by S. E. Dickins, Pty. Ltd., was that they saw defendant place a tube of toothpaste in her pocket whilst in the self-service department.

Mrs O'Neale, pleading not guilty, said that she did pick up the toothpaste, but she paid for it together with other goods.

The charge was dismissed.

THE RESERVOIR CROSSING

Provision of Gates Urged
DEPUTATION TO MINISTER

URGING that gates should be provided at the Epping road level crossing, Reservoir, where a fatal accident occurred recently, a deputation representing the Preston Council and Reservoir Progress Association waited upon the Minister for Railways (Mr Menzies) on Saturday last. Cr L. Jones described the crossing as an absolute "death-trap." Mr Menzies promised to inspect the crossing at night and during the day.

The Mayor of Preston (Cr H. P. Zwar, M.L.A.) who introduced the deputation urged that gates should be provided. It had been said that the cost would be great, but cost should not be taken into consideration when human lives were in danger.

Cr. H. Swain said that indignation in the district had increased considerably since the death of Dr Fullerton. A public meeting had unanimously adopted a resolution expressing indignation that nothing had been done to make the crossing safe.

Cr. L. Jones said the crossing was a death trap to the travelling public. There should be interlocking gates there.

Cr. Adams said the people of the district were up in arms at the apathy of the railway department in not taking some steps to protect the public.

The Rev G. D. Brimacombe presented a petition signed by residents of Reservoir. He said that since the death of Dr P. J. Fullerton, whose motor car was struck by a train on October 9, three narrow escapes had been notified officially.

Mr Menzies said that one proposal was to alter the road to provide a square, instead of an angle crossing.

Minister to Inspect Crossing

Explaining that there was only one satisfactory way to form an intelligent opinion, Mr Menzies said that he would inspect the crossing during the day and at night. The department had been reluctant to incur the expenditure involved in providing gates, unless it were satisfied that there was no cheaper way. The department had suggested altering the road to provide a right-angled crossing, but the Country Roads Board had not considered the expenditure to be justified. The Board had expressed the opinion that as the viability at the crossing was reported to be good, the erection of a danger sign would give suitable protection for the public.

"However, I quite agree," Mr Menzies continued, "that the safety of the public is the first consideration, and we must be prepared to incur any expenditure which is necessary to provide reasonable safety. Of course, we know that motorists are 'reasonably careless,' if I may use the expression."

Northcote Horticultural Society

SPRING SHOW ON SATURDAY

For a few hours on Saturday evening the supper room of the Northcote Town Hall will be converted into a beautiful garden. The occasion will be the spring flower show conducted by the Northcote Horticultural Society. For months past exhibiting members of the society have been preparing for this event and the result of all that work will be shown on Saturday evening. Roses which have made the gardens so glorious this season will be the main feature, while close up in popularity will be the ladies' exhibits in the bouquet section. In this section members of the society stand pre-eminent. A euchre tournament will also be held after the exhibits have been inspected. A charge of sixpence will be made for admission.

The little bun sighed miserably and the tears rolled down his cheeks. Just then Cook put them on a plate on the nursery table for Master Bobby's tea.

Spring, Spring, you always bring beautiful thoughts to me. Specially when I see the almonds blossoming on the tree.

THE LITTLE BUN. He lives amongst the ice and snow. No summer sun does he know there. To be warm his cheeks and blench his hair.

MY RABBIT. My naughty little rabbit somehow got out of his hutch. And at up all the lettuce; And, though I love him much.

SILLY SALLY. Silly Sally saw six thick thistle stalks, where are the six thick thistle stalks that Silly Sally saw?

THE CHILD. The little new soul has come to earth. He has taken his staff for the pilgrim's way.

THE LAST OF THE. He crouches; and buries his face on his knees. And hides in the dark of his hair.

WORDS. Words are deeds. The words we hear may revolutionise or rear a mighty state.

MISSING LETTERS. Can you put the missing letters in this sentence? All the letters are the same, so it should not take long.

GOOD ENOUGH. "Is your name Goodenough?" said a gas collector of a man on whom he was calling.

AN OUTING AT SOUTH MORANG. It was a nice sunny afternoon when we set off for South Morang in the rain.

MUD. A Scotchman went into a restaurant for a cup of coffee the other day and noticed that it tasted rather queer.

THE LIFE OF A BUN. One morning I was baking buns and she made a very little one with some left-over dough.

Works of Art

A GREAT batch of roses was coming down Bond street towards me. I discerned George Hinington behind it. "Whither with the vegetation?" I inquired.

"I am carrying it along to assist in the great cause of Anglo-American friendship," he stated. "I shall lead me to the ceremony. I shall lead."

"Well, it isn't exactly a formal occasion. More a case of 'cetera in omnia' and making 'om' feel welcome, and all that sort of thing."

"What do you mean, 'always'?" he demanded. "I recite your table of remembrance. I can't recite it chronologically, but—"

"It doesn't matter, thank you," he interrupted. All the same, I'd like you to meet this Mr. Theodore Q. Quillan, my friend, a self-made man, who knows a good many stacks of books, and is spilling it all over Europe.

"Melita—that's Miss Ruth Meyer—she's travelling with him. She's all his in the kitchen and dinner. They're making a stay in London—putting up at the Hotel, Quiet little place, but Theodore isn't out for ostentation."

"Only a private secretary bloke, Elmer P. Jaggors, by name and nature. No one's going to bite the old man while Elmer P. is around, you understand me. He does the scotting business for Theodore, you understand."

"Shoes away the confidence tricksters, the three-card trick professors, and so forth, I suppose?" I surmised. "Yes; and sorts out Melita's friends, too. She gets lots of 'em after her. Best butler who seeks to have about the Ex-Pickles Prince's dollars. Elmer P. Jaggors just seizes them by the nape of the neck and dollars of the one rattling in their pockets. If they haven't their hands full of their own, they've got a formidable amount of the use of them."

"Doesn't his mind being excused the first round?" "She's all for it. She told me so. Saves her lots of time and guess-work."

"Have you passed safely through Elmer P. Whose's first degree?" "Sort of scraped it through, but only just," admitted George. "The dough I've not daken't put me away among the big bucks, you know. I'm not like Monty Clegg, who doesn't know how much he's got till his bankers."

"How did you manage it?" "Oh, made a bit of a fuss of him, where possible. That reminds me, 'm' lurching him at the club to-night."

Having given a promise of support out of me, George told me he was to nose about the junk dumps for a sniff of Van Slydsters'.

HALL MARK FOR MELBOURNE CUP

Oro and Rogilla the Chief Dangers

CANDIDATES' CHANCES DISCUSSED

(By "Luteplayer")

THE Melbourne Cup is a bewitching event that grips the people of a continent. The famous two-mile handicap is a magnet which lures people to the fair city of Melbourne as no other racing event in Australia can attract people. And the thousands who cannot find the excuse or wherewithal to visit Melbourne, their thoughts on the first Tuesday in November are on Flemington and—"What'll win the Cup?"

Modern science has given us a new way to bring to our homes everything but the actual view of the race, but television, they tell us, is definitely on its way. The first Melbourne Cup was run 28 years after the birth of Melbourne, and the city next year will celebrate its Centenary. What a wonderful day it will be when the Cup arrives at its with us then.

But why try and anticipate so far ahead when we have the 75th Melbourne Cup to interest us next Tuesday? There is no greater test of stamina in the world than the Melbourne Cup, and always it has been a hard race to pick, and this year is not likely to be an exception.

THE CANDIDATES
Of the 23 acceptors for the race I am selecting Hall Mark as the probable winner. He is a three-year-old colt in having to give my opinion before seeing the colt race in the Derby, so make the proviso that he has to win the Derby.

Bad luck in running, of course, can rob him of victory in the classic, but it is only logical to assume that if he cannot succeed in the Derby he cannot win the Melbourne Cup, a much harder race.

Hall Mark was definitely the best of the two-year-olds last season and is entitled to be ranked as the best of the three-year-olds to date. He is the Underwood Stable's colt, bred by the A.J.C. Derby, and has been placed in a three-year-old event at Flemington, the Mermale stakes and the Caulfield Guineas. In the latter event he was beaten in a test of brilliance, and for a horse being prepared for long races he was not a speedy galloper.

Although he has been beaten in races, Hall Mark has never given a really bad display, as he always has been right in the hitting line in his races, even if he has not always fully realised expectations. As a two-year-old he was the master of Blitzen, and in the A.J.C. Derby and the Break Up. It is true that the slow pace in the first-mentioned event, and in the A.J.C. Derby, was against these colts, who are likely to enter over the longer journey and in a fast run race.

Hall Mark, on the other hand, appears to be able to make his own circumstances, and his superior class will carry him a long way. He is strongly represented by stamina on his dam's side, and what is more, he gallops like a flyer. Evidence comes through his Derby engagement all right, whatever beats Hall Mark in the Cup will win.

ORO AND ROGILLA
Oro and Rogilla, who are both by the same sire, Rogor de Bussel, should be the ones to trouble Hall Mark. Both we know as a proved galloper, and a winner of the Caulfield and Sydney Cups. He has done well in his engagements in'wought-for-age races this spring and won in great style at the Valley View Saturday. Still a horse has to be a near champion to win a Melbourne Cup with 24. On actual performances I suppose Rogilla is entitled to be ranked as something of a champion, as he must be listed as a likely place-getter, but I repeat he has the task.

Oro is a much better galloper than when here last spring. He won over a mile and three furlongs at Flemington and has since finished third in both the Metropolitan and Caulfield Cup. The latter was a great finishing effort and one that entitles him to serious consideration for the two-mile. Oro should be better suited by bigger galloping stretches at headquarters, and perhaps will prove a greater danger to my first selection than Rogilla.

Melbourne Cup Reflections

SOME INTERESTING POINTS

(By "Luteplayer")

FROM a modest beginning in 1861 the Melbourne Cup has become one of the most famous races in the world. The English Derby (a classic race) is regarded as the greatest of all equine tests, and the Melbourne Cup has strong claims to be ranked second in a handicap race it probably is the leader, and certainly is pre-eminent in the Southern Hemisphere.

When Archer won the first Cup in 1861 the total prize money was £710, all of which went to the winner. Next year it was £830, of which the winner (Archer) took £110, and the second horse £20. In the third year, when there were only seven starters, the smallest field on record, the prize money dropped to £690.

Some huge sums have been won and lost over the Cup. Perhaps the highest individual pay out concerned Chester's Cup in 1877, when John Thompson, "King of the Ring," paid over £20,000 to the representative of Mr. James White, owner of the colt. Settlement took place on the footpath in Collins street, outside the Old Exchange Building, where the Commonwealth Bank now stands. Joe paid over the £20,000 in 20 10000 notes. The man who collected the money for Mr. White is said to have been suffering from leg trouble, and took a horse to act as escort until he reached the bank with the money.

When Bravo defeated Caroline in 1889 the late Bob Phillips, a leading member of the ring, is said to have collected £10,000 for an investment of only £10. The unusual odds were due to the fact that Bravo had been suffering from leg trouble, and took a horse to act as escort until he reached the bank with the money.

Old-timers would have difficulty in recognizing the course to-day with its well grassed tracks, roomy stands, and the absence of anything like the famous roses which were the pride of the late H. Byron Moore, secretary of the club for many years. His natural hill gives it an air of distinction, and the other course, and it is deserving of its title "Famous Flemington."

There was a time when to meet under the stars was as popular a place for appointments as "under the clocks" at Flinders street. But with the building of the new members' stand, and the transference of the betting ring to the other end of the ground, the glory of the elms has departed.

Hawkers Have Disappeared
Another feature of past Cup days which has disappeared is the presence of hawkers on the flat. This part of the course, often referred to by the punter as the "hit-for-hit" or "hit-for-hit," was until the war years free to the public. During the war, however, profits from race meetings at headquarters were devoted to the War Comforts Fund. (Cain idea.) In "The Desert Column," says grateful tribute to the V.R.C. for a welcome parcel (or two). To increase the profits for the war effort, the V.R.C. decided to charge for admission to the flat, and so it has continued; but the charge of 1/1 is a modest sum compared with the minimum to other courses.

But back to our nuttuns. The hawkers on the flat were caterers to the proletariat. Improved tables, open-air coffee bars, and a dining room made up the restaurant. They were supported by numerous vendors of pies, pasties, "hot dogs," &c. These vendors provided much of the "hit-for-hit" and "hit-for-hit" and smart repartee. Then there were stalls where one could purchase lollies, fruit, smokes and soft drinks. Families holding picnics on the flat obtained their hot water from the light luncheon merchants, however, these vendors came under the modern axe of improvement. You can still purchase any of the above-mentioned items, but at a special booth provided for the purpose. Everything is now hygienic, of course, but with the departure of the hawkers has gone a good deal of the color of past Cup days.

One time almost anyone could stand up and "make a book," but those "welfare" days also have gone. Today there is no stronger betting ring in the world than that which operates at Flemington on Cup Day. It is possible to back a horse for more money in the Melbourne Cup than on any other racing event, even with having used obscene language on October 26 within the hearing of persons passing in Dennis street.

OBSCENE LANGUAGE CHARGE

CASE DISMISSED WITH COSTS

Differences between neighbors often start over very trivial happenings. A word or a notion, sometimes given offence, and a feud then grows, fed by little incidents which to others would be of no significance. Some time ago there was a "rift in the air" between the Bakers and the Russells of Dennis street, and on Tuesday both parties appeared at the Northcote Court, when Leslie Baker charged James Russell with having used obscene language on October 26 within the hearing of persons passing in Dennis street.

Not a Race for Top Weights
Top-weights have a poor record in the Melbourne Cup. Of the 72 Cups that have been decided only six have been won by top-weights. The best six are Archer (1862), 10.5; Warrior (1869), 8.10; Carbine (1890), 10.5; Poltro (1920), 10.0; Phar Lap (1930), 5.12; and Spearflet (1924), 5.3, who was only an equal top-weight with Pantheon, who finished third in the race.

Some huge sums have been won and lost over the Cup. Perhaps the highest individual pay out concerned Chester's Cup in 1877, when John Thompson, "King of the Ring," paid over £20,000 to the representative of Mr. James White, owner of the colt. Settlement took place on the footpath in Collins street, outside the Old Exchange Building, where the Commonwealth Bank now stands. Joe paid over the £20,000 in 20 10000 notes. The man who collected the money for Mr. White is said to have been suffering from leg trouble, and took a horse to act as escort until he reached the bank with the money.

When Bravo defeated Caroline in 1889 the late Bob Phillips, a leading member of the ring, is said to have collected £10,000 for an investment of only £10. The unusual odds were due to the fact that Bravo had been suffering from leg trouble, and took a horse to act as escort until he reached the bank with the money.

Old-timers would have difficulty in recognizing the course to-day with its well grassed tracks, roomy stands, and the absence of anything like the famous roses which were the pride of the late H. Byron Moore, secretary of the club for many years. His natural hill gives it an air of distinction, and the other course, and it is deserving of its title "Famous Flemington."

There was a time when to meet under the stars was as popular a place for appointments as "under the clocks" at Flinders street. But with the building of the new members' stand, and the transference of the betting ring to the other end of the ground, the glory of the elms has departed.

Hawkers Have Disappeared
Another feature of past Cup days which has disappeared is the presence of hawkers on the flat. This part of the course, often referred to by the punter as the "hit-for-hit" or "hit-for-hit," was until the war years free to the public. During the war, however, profits from race meetings at headquarters were devoted to the War Comforts Fund. (Cain idea.) In "The Desert Column," says grateful tribute to the V.R.C. for a welcome parcel (or two). To increase the profits for the war effort, the V.R.C. decided to charge for admission to the flat, and so it has continued; but the charge of 1/1 is a modest sum compared with the minimum to other courses.

But back to our nuttuns. The hawkers on the flat were caterers to the proletariat. Improved tables, open-air coffee bars, and a dining room made up the restaurant. They were supported by numerous vendors of pies, pasties, "hot dogs," &c. These vendors provided much of the "hit-for-hit" and "hit-for-hit" and smart repartee. Then there were stalls where one could purchase lollies, fruit, smokes and soft drinks. Families holding picnics on the flat obtained their hot water from the light luncheon merchants, however, these vendors came under the modern axe of improvement. You can still purchase any of the above-mentioned items, but at a special booth provided for the purpose. Everything is now hygienic, of course, but with the departure of the hawkers has gone a good deal of the color of past Cup days.

One time almost anyone could stand up and "make a book," but those "welfare" days also have gone. Today there is no stronger betting ring in the world than that which operates at Flemington on Cup Day. It is possible to back a horse for more money in the Melbourne Cup than on any other racing event, even with having used obscene language on October 26 within the hearing of persons passing in Dennis street.

Differences between neighbors often start over very trivial happenings. A word or a notion, sometimes given offence, and a feud then grows, fed by little incidents which to others would be of no significance. Some time ago there was a "rift in the air" between the Bakers and the Russells of Dennis street, and on Tuesday both parties appeared at the Northcote Court, when Leslie Baker charged James Russell with having used obscene language on October 26 within the hearing of persons passing in Dennis street.

Have You Heard?

THAT on Cup Day there was a marked increase in traffic from the railway station to the city and other parts as compared with Cup Day, 1932.

That progressive bowling was indulged in by members of the Preston Bowling Club on the afternoon of Cup Day.

That the bazaar committee of the West Preston State School return thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who worked so hard to make the school bazaar a big show, in aid of school funds, a success.

That a nice drop of rain fell in Preston on Wednesday.

That Preston juvenile anglers, accompanied by a few of their elders, held an enjoyable outing at Warrandyte on Cup Day.

That a local fireman paid a recent visit to a dentist. When he entered the surgery he was the proud possessor of 32 teeth. When leaving the surgery the fireman was minus that number.

That just now he is mulling his way through life.

That Sergt. Lang shot a snake at Dees Creek recently.

That Cr. H. Swan was a host in himself at the Colburn Church of Christ Sunday school picnic at Heidelberg Park on Cup Day.

That the Preston juniors, played rounders and became a boy again.

That he flung himself into the wind of other helms and joined in the good old childish game of "Hing-a-ring-a-roo."

That "cat and mouse" and "orange and lemon" are the order of the day, and he kept the ball of fun rolling until eventide.

Fire Brigade Items

PRESTON firemen had a run to plenty road and they established a blaze which had broken out at a rubbish heap. Later on there were false calls to Crookston and Cheddar roads, Bell and Main streets, and Waterloo street and Guthbert road, Haverhill.

Snooker

PRESTON and South Melbourne branches of the R.S.L.L.A. played snooker, with the result that South Melbourne won by 2 games to 1. The match between Preston and Sunshine will bring the tournament to a close.

Vocational Guidance Lectures

THE Preston Town Hall was well filled on Wednesday afternoon by boys from local State schools, including 150 from West Preston, when a Vocational Guidance lecture was delivered by Mr. Tilley, an officer of the Education Department. The next lecture will be for the benefit of school girls on Wednesday, November 22.

School Sports Postponed

ARRANGEMENTS had been completed for holding the annual sports in connection with the Preston Girls' School on Wednesday afternoon at Cramer Park, but owing to the heavy rain the sports were postponed until next Friday.

Preston Baby Health Centre

THE attendances of mothers and babies for October were 1,272, the second highest record on the books.

Proposed Central School

MR. H. C. Johnson, secretary to the West Preston State school committee has written to Mr. Pennington, Minister of Education, asking him to receive a deputation from the committee on Wednesday, November 15, at 11 a.m. at the Preston, Tyler street, Bell street, Reservoir and West Preston with reference to the proposed establishment of a central school at Preston.

Preston Angling Club

TEN members visited Jackson's Creek last week-end. Mr. D. McIntyre was winner of the trophy with three perch, which turned the weight of 11 lbs. Mr. McDonald was second, and "Dad" Hills third.

More About Snakes

LAST week-end a party of anglers was proceeding from Preston to Jackson's Creek on a fishing excursion. A few miles out a brown snake was seen wriggling its way along the road. A valiant angler hopped out of the car and in a few seconds the snake was despatched. Before the journey was completed half a dozen other reptiles were sighted and were promptly killed. The excursions were then divided between Mr. Dalson, and Hocking. The snakes were mostly of the brown species. It is reported that one of the fishermen concealed two "snakes" and on his return tried to pass them off as eels. Then they all began to "see snakes!"

Boxing Carnival

AS a result of a recent boxing carnival at Preston the P.A.C. will benefit to the extent of £12/15/-.

Bell Railway Station

THE total monthly revenue collected at Bell railway station for October was £2674 against £2154 for the same month last year. The increase of £520 is the greatest and most pleasing monthly improvement since we have turned the corner towards better times. The passenger traffic showed an increase of 148 and 1067 journey. More workmen's and periodical tickets being sold was an outstanding feature of the improvement. The goods and live stock traffic showed a very satisfactory increase of 187 and 3136 tons received compared with 2339 tons last year. The increase in fuel, fodder, timber and live stock.

Preston Junior Angling Club

ON Saturday the club went to Kangaroo Ground for fishing, but the outing was unsuccessful. The day was one of experience. The homeward journey was enjoyable, for the boys were all old ones. On the way a picnic was held at Warrandyte, where the fish were temptingly unsuccessful junior anglers.

Although Vables Cameron caught a small cod but it back. During the day there were races and games for prizes. Competitions were won by the following—G. Campbell, boys' flat race; J. Henderson, girls' flat race under 12; G. Campbell and J. Henderson, Siamese race; E. Sharp, Beheading the Turk; I. O'Neil, boys' flat race over 12.

Reservoir Citizens' Band

GREAT progress is being made on the social side. An energetic army of workers is gradually joining in with the band to help them to success. A house party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. Partridge was a great success. They are to be complimented on the arrangements and on a most enjoyable evening. At the usual weekly social many new faces are appearing each week. The eulphic prizes were won by Mrs. Dinning and Mr. Addicote. The hooley was won by Misses Abley and Mr. Zosky. A committee is being formed to arrange a young people's club, over 100 having promised to join. Those desirous of information should communicate with Mr. J. Kelly, secretary, 6 Birdwood avenue, Reservoir.

57/60th Battalion

LAST Sunday the officers of the 57/60th Battalion met in the afternoon at the East Kew tram terminus. Col. McKenna, the commanding officer, gave an instructive lecture on the work to be done in camp, and some of it was then rehearsed by the assembled officers. An "attack" was made on a nearby farm house, and machine and Lewis guns and some of the officers then rehearsed by the assembled officers. An "attack" was made on a nearby farm house, and machine and Lewis guns and some of the officers then rehearsed by the assembled officers.

Moonlight Promenade Concert

AN innovation in the way of amusement is to be tried at an early date when a moonlight promenade concert is to be held at Matron Wilson's hospital. A contingent of military men has promised to give the movement, which is in aid of Preston P.A.C., a push forward.

WEITTLERSEA.

The Church of England Ladies' Guild conducted a choral party to mark the close of the series. Miss Ethel Teek and Mr. McPherson were the successful players. The winners of the aggregate were presented with their prizes. Mrs. Walker presented with hair brush and comb (donated by Mrs. J. Gibbs). Mrs. Howard won the second prize, a hand bag. Mr. Walter Andrew received a pair of crystal vases and Mr. James Marshall took second prize.

Bro D. A. Funston has been installed as master of the Whittlesea Masonic Lodge.

By a margin of 101 points the Evelyn Electorate won the prize given by the Royal Agricultural Society. The prize money (about £50) will be divided between Whittlesea, Yarran Glen, Diamond Creek and Doncaster Societies.

Whooping cough is prevalent. At the Whittlesea Football Club's dance, which was taken at the door, the waiting competition was won by Mr. Ray Holding and Mrs. Ernie Holding. The novelty dances were won by Scott Coulthard and Jean Adams; Lee Andrew and Sylvia Ford.

BOY SCOUTS.

2nd Thornbury Troop

The above troop has arranged an indoor competition among members for the collection of newspapers and bottles for patrol funds. The final winners will be decided on December 22. Those who are interested are asked to advise the Patrol Leaders if they have any bottles or papers they would like the boys to pick up. An afternoon party was held on October 28 when members visited the Shrine of Remembrance and the H.M.A.S. Canberra. A similar parade trip will be made to the Zoological Gardens, leaving Thornbury station at 2 o'clock. A cricket match will be held on November 18.

Our Cubmaster, Mr. Murdoch

is at present engaged in a holiday on a fishing tour. We are pleased to report that our G.S.M. (Mr. Frank) is about again, and hope he will have a rapid recovery. Our troop leader would be pleased if some of our boys could make the trip to Sydney at Christmas and if so would be pleased to hear from them on their return. The goods and live stock traffic showed a very satisfactory increase of 187 and 3136 tons received compared with 2339 tons last year.

Armistice Day at Preston

Armistice Day will be celebrated at 11 a.m. on Saturday at the Memorial Arch, Preston. The laying of wreaths will be represented at the farwell dinner to Lieut-Col. Kitson, District Commissioner, and from reports enjoyed themselves immensely. We regret that P.L. Critchley has resigned from P.L. and position of Troop Guide.

4th Northcote Boy Scouts

On Friday evening the weekly meeting was held, and instruction in first aid, signalling, etc. was given, followed by boxing, games, etc. and a camp fire was held by the A.S.M. On Saturday afternoon the troop held a field day at Reservoir, and instruction was given in tent pitching, and the boys will be given an opportunity to show their progress early next month, when the first camp for the summer will be held. Membership for the troop will shortly be closed, there now being only a few vacancies.

HALL MARK A CHAMPION

Scores Narrow Victory in Cup

EXCITING FINISH IN FAMOUS RACE

(By "Luteployer")

Suffering from a cracked heel, Hall Mark raced gamely and scored a narrow win in the 73rd Melbourne Cup on Tuesday. It was an exciting finish—one of the best in the history of the famous race, and one that thrilled 90,000 people.

When Hall Mark won the A.J.C. Derby he failed to convince many people that he was a stayer because that Sydney race was run at a middling pace. At Flemington on Saturday, however, he was put to a severe test by making hacks of his rivals in the Victoria Derby, when his time equaled the race record of 2:31.1 established by Phar Lap.

His form brought him to the position of favorite for the race, and it is certain that he would have started at a very short price but for the development of heel trouble. The loss of his hind leg before he ran in the Derby, but the strain of that race caused it to become infected, and on Sunday he could hardly put his foot to the ground. It looked as though he would not be able to race in the Cup, but veterinary treatment and constant attention enabled him to appear in the field, although it was not until two hours before the race that it was definitely decided to run him.

HAD A GOOD RACE

AS to the actual race itself, it can be said that Hall Mark had the run of the race, and always was going like a winner. When he drew clear at the distance he seemed likely to win the Sydney Derby, but he weakened at the last but just managed to last long enough to win by a head from Shadow King. As he was suffering from a cracked heel, no doubt the pace, which was unexpectedly slow, was in his favor. It was a courageous exhibition of gallantry, and the colt thoroughly deserved his success.

When Hall Mark returned to scald the wound was bleeding freely, but later reports indicate that he is making good progress and that there is no great danger of it causing any serious harm as regards the future. Hall Mark will not race again until the autumn.

Superior to his rivals was a two-year-old, Hall Mark has proved that he is at all events the best of the three-year-olds. He is the first colt to win the Derby and Cup double since Trivey in 1927. Through his dam Hall Mark has a double strain of Carbine blood, as also has Trivey, and again like Trivey, Hall Mark won the Victoria Derby and Cup double since Trivey in 1927. Through his dam Hall Mark has a double strain of Carbine blood, as also has Trivey, and again like Trivey, Hall Mark won the Victoria Derby and Cup double since Trivey in 1927.

Hall Mark measures up to the best colts who have gained classic and Cup honors. Just as I was confident that Hall Mark would win the Victoria Derby, whether the pace was fast or slow, so do I believe that, free from heel trouble he could have won the Cup if it had been run at a fast pace. With an injured heel a fast pace might have placed too great a strain on him, so the slow pace was something of a compensation for his injury.

Hall Mark is entitled to be ranked in championship class, and should he make a complete recovery from his heel trouble he is likely to be one of the standing performers for the next couple of seasons.

THE OTHERS

The unlucky Shadow King recorded his fourth minor placing in the race. He was always well placed, but met with some trouble at the end, but he came home well, and in another strale or two would have caught Hall Mark, who was feeling the effects of the race on his injured heel.

The judge was unable to separate Gaine Carrington and Topical for third place and they were only a head behind Shadow King.

Gaine Carrington had every chance and was in front at the distance, and he battled on gamely from that point. His form was decidedly good and it makes it clear that he will be a field cup on his merits. Of the horses who finished behind him in that race, several appeared to be unlucky, but the showing of Gaine Carrington on Tuesday suggests that the alleged unluckies, even with a clear run, would have had to produce something extra good to have beaten him in the Caulfield race.

Topical finished very fast to make the dead-heat with Gaine Carrington. He was blocked on the rails at the straight entrance, and he was not able to put in his run until it was late. Probably Topical was the unlucky runner of the race.

Pretzel recorded a good finishing effort and was a close fifth. He did not have the best of luck in running, particularly in the early stages.

No doubt as the race was run Shadow King, Topical and Pretzel were unlucky, but as against the odds they were taken into account that they met Hall Mark suffering from a cracked heel. With the colt free from injury and the luck evenly distributed it is probable that the result would have been the same.

The big disappointment of the race was Topical. He never appeared likely to take a head in the final. The slow pace caused him to pull hard in the early stages, and this no doubt took a lot out of him; otherwise he had every chance and also has a good chance to win the Melbourne Cup.

THEIR FIRST SUCCESS

Mr. C. B. Kellow has been a leading owner for years, and Jack Holt's ability as a trainer is summed up in his handling of "The Wizard," but with Hall Mark the pair gained their first success in the Melbourne Cup.

Mr. Kellow purchased Topical for 14,000 guineas and also has purchased Herowick, so he has the added pleasure of having bred a Melbourne Cup winner.

Jack Holt has trained the winners of so many big races that he must find it difficult to keep tabs of them. Among his successes are three Caulfield Cups and a Sydney Cup, and now the Melbourne Cup. In fact, Holt has now only to find a winner of the Australian Cup and he will have won every big cup staged in Melbourne and Sydney.

Superior to his rivals was a two-year-old, Hall Mark has proved that he is at all events the best of the three-year-olds. He is the first colt to win the Derby and Cup double since Trivey in 1927. Through his dam Hall Mark has a double strain of Carbine blood, as also has Trivey, and again like Trivey, Hall Mark won the Victoria Derby and Cup double since Trivey in 1927.

LONDON PRICES AFFECTED

TOO MANY APPLES
A more scientific method of distributing Australian apples in Great Britain is suggested in a letter sent by the Agent-General for Victoria (Mr. Linton) to the Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Allan). The writer of the letter is Mr. H. M. Ford, manager of the Clyde Navigation Trust, of Glasgow. In Glasgow, where apples had been sold in London at prices as low as 1/8 a case, although there was little or nothing wrong with the condition in Glasgow, however, all the apples arriving in bad condition had sold for as low as 1/4 and 5/10 a case, prices generally had been much higher.

Mr. Ford believes that these figures provide a glaring example of the disastrous results of glutting the London market in inland or distributive consignments between London and Glasgow.

Cathedral Hall, Fitzroy, will be the scene of a combined dance on Tuesday evening next. The function is being organized by the Good Samaritan Past Pupils. The dancing will commence at 8 a.m. Tickets are obtainable from Branch secretary.

THORNBURY CLUB

Thornbury has not such a happy story to tell this week, meeting with defeat in all three grades. There is only one thing to do—try and do better next time.

The A team entered upon their game fairly confident of victory, but the Glen Iris men gave them a surprise, winning in three out of four rinks. Studied as a quartette a rink of good bowlers—failed unaccountably, going down by no fewer than 17 points to Bennett, Gen. Allen's rink, which only bowled for some attention, was again down, this time to the tune of 12 points. Johnson's rink again tasted the sweets of victory, finishing 3 to 0. Sharp's rink met with defeat for the first time, and that by a single point. They had a battle royal against Dunn's rink, which hitherto had also been undefeated. The bowlers were of a high order and the game saw-sawed all through, each side alternately having a lead of 2 or 3 points, whilst the scores were level on several occasions. In drawing the short the Thornbury four were superior, but Boskio (Dunn's third) and the skipper himself drove with such deadly accuracy that he had after he had broken up, the result being that when all other rinks had finished these opponents had still five ends to play. All watched the play and on the 20th end Sharp was 21 to 20. Then Dunn scored a point, bringing the scores level. At the 23rd end Dunn scored another single, but was up with one end to play. In the final end Morris, White and Whalley all drew close shot, but Boskio's rink were superior. When Dunn, the skipper, drew another the bowlers were so placed that it was practically impossible for Sharp to score, and so the honor of the first contest went to the Glen Iris rink.

Mr. Roughton (Glen Iris president) to recognize the fine play of Sharp's rink, called for three cheers, which were heartily responded to.

Thornbury members please note that entries for the club championship and single-handed hand-on-cup on Saturday, November 11, at 9 p.m.

PRESTON CLUB

The "celts" of October 25 was only partly lightened on Saturday last. A and C teams again were in the dark, while B team welcomed the best bowlers in the club to their own green with a bright patch.

A team trial conclusions with Coburg, but with the exception of Pike and his rink, the other 18 all rinks scored a defeat. At the end of the contest Coburg had a majority of 19. A sustained effort by the A

WORKS OF ART BY F. MORTON HOWARD

"I suppose," remarked George, during the course of lunch, "Mr. Ruthmayer's portrait is not on the trail of that portrait yet?"

"To you 'know anything about him?" cried George.

"No," replied George, "I don't know anything about him."

"I wish I could happen on that portrait," observed George.

"Well, you'd be being wrong," declared Mr. Jaggars.

"I don't think you've the least chance of finding it," exclaimed George.

WHITTLESEA COUNCIL

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8

Present the president (Cr H. K. Deering) and Crs H. McCormack, A. Foran, M. G. Gardner, T. M. Brown, R. J. Smith, T. H. Hurry, A. V. Wood, J. Downie, and R. Reid.

Correspondence.—Sustenance Administration.—Department of Labor advised that it was in the discretion of the council to pay for sustenance administration. The Act fixed the maximum liability of the council in this direction, but the council had the right to say what payment is made.

Morning-Epping Road.—C.R.B. advised it is not prepared to declare this a public road.

The President said the Board had no money at present, but it had been suggested that early in the next year the engineer submit a report, and that an application be made for assistance. It was agreed to adopt this course.

Turnley's Corner.—C.R.B. requested preparation of plans &c. to relieve flooding at Turnley's Corner at a cost of about £330.—Yan Yean Riding Council and the engineer to interview the B.C. engineer.

Cr Hurry: They won't get any culvert (laughter). Whooping Cough.—Dr Day reported that no cases of whooping cough occurred during the month. Whooping cough was prevalent, otherwise the health of the shire was good.

Licenses.—The following renewals were granted: Charles Smith, South Morning, boiling down and slaughter ing license; Albert Bell, Epping, pigslaying, slaughtering and killing down.

Epping Ratepayers League.—J. N. Brock, hon. sec, wrote re the bad state of the Epping-Morning road.—Matter being considered by the council.

Notices of Appeal.—William R. Goss, Gilbert road, Thomastown; Charles S. Bickley, Wolcott; Hepworth and Co., Whittlesea; and the Corporation of Thomastown. B. McCormack, Kew, wrote of intention to appeal against rates.—To be advised that appeals should be lodged after the rate is struck.

(This means that appeals against valuations should be lodged within 28 days of the date of the council meeting held on November 8).

General.—City of Oakleigh representation of other municipalities on the Board of Works.—Crs Towt and Smith to attend a conference on November 27.

M. N. Wilton, District Land Officer, re flooding at W. L. Young's property, Masons Lane, Epping.—Engineer to report.

D. Funston, Whittlesea, objecting to proposal to widen and clean out drain in Thomas' road, adjoining his property, on account of erosion.—Drain to be left in its present state.

Cr Downie said the best section of the drain is in its present state, but about 20 yards all the water would be taken away from the corner.—Suggestion not agreed to.

R. P. Worn, cost of reported impounding 5 head of cattle. Robt W. Crozier, Epping, re Morning-Epping deviation, advising that he was willing to accept £10 for the land used. The difference between that sum and the full cost of the land used to be his contribution towards the deviation.—Amount to be paid when transfer is completed.

Mrs G. Murphy, Whittlesea, requesting that gravel royalty be finished.—A total payment of 60 per yard to be paid.

Finance.—Amount received since last meeting (including rate arrears £350/12/10) £577/4/2; C.R.B. A/c Dr. £620/4/9; Water Rate Cr. £22/11; Loan Cr. £118/8/8; Trust A/c Cr. £214/10/1. Payments recommended.—General account £612/6/4; and C.R.B. A/c £184/10/11.—Adopted.

A LESSON IN LIGHTING

THE PROFESSOR PUTS IT IN FIGURES

By far-fetched reasoning that great German scientist, Einstein, has proved many an accepted fact to be mere illusion. It is a scientific thing that always holds true, and it is always that they seem to be that deep consideration is necessary for a correct conclusion.

It is the case of Professor X, who gives lectures every Wednesday evening to a select band of followers. These good people provide posers for the professor at every meeting, and he holds fast to the idea that on the particular night with which we propose to deal, the professor was asked to disprove the value of cheap lamps, giving an instance of false economy.

"Let us consider the ordinary household electric lamp," began the professor. "It is an item which we all use for the home at one time or another, and it is therefore a splendid example for our consideration. I have here two lamps—one is a 'cheap' inferior lamp, and the other is a 'Phillips' lamp, which is a small Edison lamp, and the several reputable makes of lamps known all over the world. The 'cheap' lamp looks almost identical to the good one, except for minor details in the finish. In spite of the fact that the Phillips lamp costs twice as much as this particular 'cheap' one, I propose to show you that it will not only save the difference in cost, but, over a period equal to the normal life of a lamp, it will save many more shillings."

The fact is that the first cost of a lamp is a small consideration compared with the amount of money which is involved in getting light from it.

"It can be bought as a second-hand car 'A', and it may not cost as much as a less pretentious car 'B', but car 'B' is in greater demand because, over a period, your motor will be cheaper, due to less oil consumption. You are really buying motor, and not just the car itself. With a lamp you are buying lighting, and not merely the lamp."

"Now let us put this into figures. The 'cheap' lamp costs, say, 1/-; the Phillips lamp costs, say, 2/-. Both lamps are supposedly of 60 watts, and the normal life of 1000 hours will then turn 60 units of current. These 60 units at, say, 4d. work out at 20/- for current.

"Unfortunately, however, the 'cheap' lamp usually consumes more than 60 units of current without, in most cases, giving as much return in light as the good quality lamp which seldom varies by one unit from its normal consumption of 60 units of so-called 'cheap' lamps is about 25 per cent. Therefore it costs 25/- for current.

"School Teacher (to boy at head of class): "How many kinds of force are there?" Boy: "Three, sir." Teacher: "Name them." Boy: "Boilly force, and mental force, and the police force."

The bullying schoolmaster finished his holiday lecture and dismissed the pupils, saying that he hoped that they would come back with some sense in their useless heads. The class, in unison, replied, "Same to you, sir."

Difficult.—"Now, then," said the Irish schoolmaster, "show many of ye are there in the class?" "Eleven, sir," answered the head boy. "Eleven eh? Well, the half of ye come over here."

Teacher: "And what lesson do ye learn from the busy bee, children?" Boy: "Not to get stung."

A burglar, after a big haul, was about to jump out of the window, when a voice called out, "Hands up!" Turning round, he saw the occupant of the house with a revolver in his hand. Suddenly a small voice piped out, "Daddy, what are you doing with my water-pistol?"

74 watts consumption. And now the Phillips—exactly 60 watt consumption! "So you see, ladies and gentlemen, that false economy is aptly exemplified in the purchase of 'cheap' lamps."

"In addition we have been very generous in supposing that the 'cheap' inferior lamp will burn for 1000 hours, which is the guaranteed average life of good brands.

"In many cases the 'cheap' lamp does not light at all. In others it has been reported that serious accidents through bursting into fragments. Others have faulty caps and blow fuses. And so on.

"What proof have we that so-called 'cheap' lamps consume more current? Well, we can find out by a simple experiment, in which case we pay for the knowledge obtained in an oversize lighting bill. Better still, here we have a simple instrument which can test any two lamps, and show the percentage of light-current given for current consumed. This instrument has definitely proved to large extent the inefficiency of so-called 'cheap' lamps.

"I am now placing the two lamps into these two compartments. Note the yellowish glow of the 'cheap' lamp as compared with the clear white light of the good one. If we glance at the percentage meter and switch on to the 'cheap' lamp, what is the result? Sixty-seven per cent! Now, as you see, the professor broke his 'cheap' lamp gently but firmly on the side of a waste paper basket.

PRESERVE SHORT CUTS

HELFUL HINTS ON MAKING AND KEEPING

HALF the trouble in picking red and black currants for preserve making can be cut out by pulling the fruit through an ordinary table fork. This is both quicker and cleaner than using the berries by hand, and it does not stain the fingers. The color of the preserve is also vastly improved, since the "bloom" of the fruit is not destroyed by handling.

The right kind of sugar makes all the difference between successful and unsuccessful jam. Broken lump is the best, crystallised demerara is good, but never use coarse brown or beet sugar, as it destroys the flavor of the fruit. And if the sugar is heated on plates before using, its sweetening properties will be increased. Another good plan is to add a teaspoon of salt to one pound of fruit. This is particularly good with acid fruits, like currants and raspberries.

To give our jams a clear, rich look we add a piece of butter the size of an egg a quarter of an hour before the jam is finished boiling. Butter, and not margarine, should be used for this purpose.

If we are making jam with fruit that is very sour, or underripe, we know that we may have to sweeten with less sugar if a pinch of soda is added to the fruit. This tends to do away with some of its tartness in the good one, which keeps the jam good for long periods.

Make your jam covers by dipping two layers of tissue paper into skimmed milk, then into the covers on the pots while wet. Care must be taken not to tear the paper, which should be carefully pressed to the sides of the jar. When dry the jars will be airtight, the covers becoming tight across the mouth of the jar as it dries.

To prevent the sugary formation on top of our jams, which have to be kept a long time before using, we add a tablespoonful of glycerine to each pound of fruit used in making the preserve. This method also ensures the jam keeping a good, clear color while it is being stored.

Where preserves have to be stored for a long time before use, and we suspect the least sign of damp in the cupboard, the trouble is overcome by placing a bowl of lime in the cupboard in the shelf where the preserves are to be kept. This prevents mould forming on the preserves, since the lime absorbs the undue moisture. Change the lime every two months.

Northcote Red Cross Auxiliary.—The following is the monthly report of work for October sent to the Melbourne Press:—21 pillow slips, 64 washers, 44 binders, medicine bottles and dressing tins. Two new members were proposed. A card evening was held on Monday, November 6, at Northcote Town Hall in aid of general funds, and a card entertainment for December 5 in aid of the hotel endowment fund.

Merri Creek Bridge.—The result of the conference between Heidelberg and Collingwood councils on the question of improvements to the Merri Creek bridge was communicated to Collingwood Council in committee Monday night. The committee recommended that the delegates urge their councils to bring before the Government the need for widening or rebuilding the bridge. On the matter, Cr. Langley was advised not to accept responsibility for expenditure on the bridge unless an assurance was forthcoming that such works should be financed from other sources, or relief funds by a Government loan. Won £380

Mrs. A. E. V. Hartopp, of High Street, Northcote, was the winner of the first prize of £30 in the Herald Obsolete Artist competition last week. Her entry was, "She Han" held a Hand All Night."

Theatre Party.—To assist the Congregational Building Fund the Northcote Congregational Young Men's Society has arranged a theatre party at the Northcote Theatre, on Tuesday next, November 14, at 8 p.m. Tickets are 5s. From the secretary, Mr. Chas. Batten, at 8 Ilms grove, or Ring JW 2901.

A Beauty Recipe.—Irene Bentley, newcomer to Fox Films, in "My Weakness," has that lovely creamy skin that makes one think of emmalias, who follows in the wake of a man, keeping her skin in condition—one that her grandmother used before her, but one she considers better than any of the more modern make-up.

"Squeeze the juice from four or five ripe cucumbers," she says, "first removing their skin and most of the pithy contents. Apply this juice to the face and neck, and leave it on for twenty minutes, relaxing while it dries. Next pat your cream into your face and neck and leave it on for ten minutes. This will give you a soft washcloth. You may apply any skin lotion you like before you go to bed. It will make the skin with pure cold water. Try using this old-fashioned recipe once a week and see how your skin improves."

The Philips Photometer, which demonstrates the extravagance of "cheap" lamps.

ferior lamps. One thinks that they are cheaper if they last as long, but forgets that they are creating good money all the time through high current consumption. Cheap price of a magnetic appeal for most of us, and so that no one will be tempted to use such a lamp as this. I will add an example which, if followed, would make for better and more economical lighting generally.

So you see, ladies and gentlemen, that false economy is aptly exemplified in the purchase of 'cheap' lamps. Here is the water-meter with the 'cheap' lamp connected; it shows

The Professor gives some facts.

NORTHCOTE NOTES

Thornbury Younger Set

An enjoyable picnic was held at Frankston on Cup Day. Many members and friends made the trip, and during the afternoon sports were held on the sand. Prize-winners were Misses E. G. Gardner, M. G. Gardner, M. G. Gardner, K. Swain and J. Rawdy. The second annual meeting will be held on November 14 in Normanly Hall, among those who have expressed their intention of being present are the mayor and mayoress (Cr. and Mrs. M. C. Jones), Mrs. Norman Brookes (President), Mrs. Victoria (Honorary Secy.), Mrs. E. G. Gardner, J. Sutherland (vice-president and secretary of Queen Victoria Hospital Auxiliary) and Miss Philadelphia Robinson (secretary of Red Cross Society of Victoria). An open invitation is extended to all who would like to attend.

ARMISTICE!

Peace comes, pain flies, a breathless stillness falls.

With healing balm, from heaven's store, O'er shattered earth and broken city walls, There breaks a dawn of hope for happiness, And soon o'er Flanders fields fair poppies red, Will wave their blooms above our noble dead.

Peace comes with silence as of dream unreal, Hears the robbed of love find time to mourn, Grim wounds remain, but time may never heal, He who hears dark scars of hatred's cross, So wear we each the Flanders poppy red, Remembering noble blood for others shed.

Come lasting end to war's insane alarms, Let Peace remain the way of Love to show, For nobler ends than use of blood-red arms, Teach us the art of peace, Love to know, Help us the way of happiness to tread, For their dear sake who lie in deathly poppy red, O Father God! Reveal as Love Thy will, In peace with true joy's perpetual food; Check hatred which bids man his brother kill, For His dear sake who gave Redemption's blood, So shall we know, who wear these poppies red, The deathless word of youthful warriors dead. —H.E.H.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR

CONVENTION OPENS TO-MORROW

After months of anticipation and careful planning the fifth annual convention of the Northcote and Preston C.E. Union will open to-morrow afternoon at the Northcote Town Hall. The convention theme is "The Christian's Heritage," which will be studied under different headings. Delegates will receive a souvenir programme at luncheon and will be under Mr. C. H. Dyer, will provide some great singing and lead the song service. On Saturday at 2.30 p.m. the introduction address will be given by Rev. Duncan E. Reeves, 4.15. Open Air Meeting; and at 8 p.m. a Monday Rally, when the speaker will be Rev. W. H. Hinton. On Sunday at 7.30 a.m. Quiet Hour Meetings will be held in the various churches, and at 8.30 p.m. three simultaneous prayer and testimony meetings. Monday, 8 a.m., great opening meeting. Conventions meetings are open to all. The Intermediate Society of the Young Men's Christian Association has graduated into a Y.P. Society, and on October 24 at an inaugural rally a fine message was given by Mr. A. J. G. Smith, president of the Y.P. Council of the Churches of Christ. An Intermediate Society has grown from the Junior Society so that this church now has three societies.

On October 25 the annual banquet of the Preston Methodist Intermediate Society was held. After a short devotional period, in which Miss Mildred Craig led the meeting of the Synagogue Y.P. Society, and Miss Grace Gardom read a paper, committee reports were received, and the work for the future six weeks was planned.

Activities at Preston

By The Houseabout

Have You Heard?

THAT a wonderful work is being done at the Preston Baby Health Centre?

That ever so many mothers, to say nothing of the fathers, consider it a boon to have such an institution in their midst?

That during the last quarter 300 individual babies paid 1,800 visits and received the attention necessary, thanks to the capable consideration and assistance of Miss Colchin?

That Messrs. Geo. Pike, Fred Bird, Sgt. Lang and C. A. E. Newton and other fishing notabilities are anticipating a visit to Marie with a view of responding to the tempting bait to be offered for their defection? Whether they will obey the response is another tale to be told when the quartette return to Preston.

That Bill Murray and Alf Watkins had a fine time fishing at Big River not so long since?

That they landed in Preston with about 60 trout, some of which weighed 6 lbs.

Wainfall at Preston

THERE was a deluge on Wednesday, November 8, at Preston. The record was 123 points of rain, making 122 points in all for this month.

Preston Council called for tenders for the construction of Colliers street, but only two tenders came to hand, and it has been decided to re-consider the contract. It is thought that in the present state of affairs there should be more competition in the contracting line. It happened only recently that tenders for the erection of a lodge at Preston cemetery had also to be advertised a second time.

They Went Fishing

TWO of them got out journeyed last Sunday to Morifalua last Sunday. Not much doing, so the report goes. Fish few, and far between, and small at that—rock cod and luteous percid. Frank Pittard, a member of the local angling club, headed the list with about 10 lbs. Geo. Fell coming second with a 7 lb. weight. Alf Beck was a full 3 lbs. behind. Sunday the same fishermen will try their luck at Exford Weir, and Murray and party will do a look-out at Stony Point on the off chance of catching anything from sheeps to emu, or even seals, to respond to the call of the bait.

Four Fell in the Creek

ST. Mark's Church of England boys' and girls' Societies, Preston, had a fine time, taking it all round, at Mr. Evelyn on Cup Day. There was one somewhat startling incident during the day when the pleasure of the picnic was marred to a certain extent. Four of the party—two boys and two girls—got into difficulties by falling into the creek. The members of the Societies were to the rescue and rescued the boys and girls who were in the water. A game of cricket was played by the boys and ladies, but the sexes got so mixed that the boys' looking girl who told the story of the picnic to "The Houseabout" said the actual result of the game was not known!

Snooker

IN the final round Preston branch, R.S.S.L.L.A., visited Sunningdale, and the honors fell to the Prestontones, who celebrated the occasion in the customary "For We Are Jolly Good Fellows" manner and returned to the home town announcing to their personal friends that they had won an points—not hints, as one of the Preston players remarked pathetically.

Preston Public Library

THE annual general meeting of the members of the above has been arranged for Tuesday evening next, November 21, in the Library Hall.

Australian Women's Association

THE quarterly meeting of Preston branch was held on 13th inst. The president (Miss J. White) began in the customary manner and returned to the home town announcing to their personal friends that they had won an points—not hints, as one of the Preston players remarked pathetically.

Mr. Hall, the Band's popular M.C. and social organizer, has several big schemes in view to swell the band's finances. He is ably assisted in all his ventures by an energetic committee. The social evening was another success, thus proving the generous support offered by the public. An exciting game of euchre resulted in Mrs. Dinning and Mrs. Youton taking the prizes, while the boozies were shared by Mrs. Addie and Mr. E. Lindsay. Several citizens have given items which were greatly appreciated. Mr. B. Partridge, who has charge of the euchre room, is delighted with the result of the aggregate prize. All competitors are close and the winner will not be announced until the last night—just before Christmas.

PRESTON ST JOHN AMBULANCE BRIGADE

THE Home Nursing Examination (Male) will be held in the supper room, Town Hall, on November 27. Dr. Dunn will conduct the examination. Members were on duty at various places on Cup Day and reports state that 4000 guests were attended. The wisdom is again pointed out of having a first aid official in attendance at picnics. A note to the secretary, 32 Symon street, Preston, is all that is necessary. Members are reminded of the combined break-up social in December. On Sunday members are invited to a demonstration of artificial resuscitation by members of the Preston Ladies' A.S.D. at the Preston City Baths. A donation of £5 from a leading citizen is hereby acknowledged.

Consent by Miss Cotchin's Pupils

THE pupils of Miss Cotchin's Pupils will give their sixth annual concert in Preston City Hall at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, November 29. There will be items featuring physical culture, national dancing, tapping, singing, elocution and spectacular displays. The prize-winners at the Balmart Competition will be featured. The concert for admission is 9d, 1/1 and 1/7s. An announcement appears elsewhere in this issue.

St Mark's Church of England

Baby Show

A VERY successful baby show was held on Saturday last at St Mark's Church of England, West Preston. A difficult task was that given to the Judge, Matron Wilson, in the judging of the numerous entrants the standard of which was exceptionally high. The prizes were awarded in the various sections as follows:—

Under 12 Months: Patricia Keenan, Larman street, St. Preston; Marie Kruse, Leicester street, Preston 2; Under 2 Years: Barbara Owens, Oxford street, Northcote 1; William Griffiths, Connor street, Leicester; Elizabeth Baber, Bernadette Gleeson, Shorts road, North Coburg, under 4 years.

Public Meeting at Preston

UNDER the auspices of the Preston Branch of the Australian Women's National League, a public meeting will be held at the Preston Town Hall on Monday evening next. The Mayor (Mr. H. P. Zwar, M.L.A.) will attend, and Mr. Norman O'Brien will talk on current topics, including National Premier's program and progress. The hall has been arranged and will be given at the commencement of the meeting. All interested are cordially invited. It is anticipated a large number will be present.

SLAPPED A CHILD

Man Whose Flowers were Picked

FINED £1 FOR ASSAULT

"Should Not Take Law Into Own Hands," Says P.M.

At the Northcote court on Tuesday a man was fined £1 for having slapped a child aged four years, who was picking flowers over his fence.

The case was one in which Ernest Webber, Elm street, Northcote, was charged with having assaulted Shirley Ezzard on November 6.

Mrs. Olive Ezzard, Elm street, Northcote, said she was the mother of the child, aged 4 years, who was assaulted.

Lechlan Stewart, schoolboy, Elm street, said:—"On November 6 I saw a little girl pick some flowers over a fence. She handed the flowers to another girl. As Webber approached the second girl ran away. Webber hit the other girl on the head and neck and knocked her to the ground. I saw Webber pick up the flowers, give them to the girl, and then slap her on the face."

Constable Findlay said:—"On November 6 I saw a child, Shirley Ezzard, at the Northcote police station. The child's elbow and knees were cut. I did not observe any marks on the girl's face."

Webber said, "I caught a little girl in the act of stealing flowers over a fence, and I wanted to know who she was. I told her not to 'shake' my flowers. The child did not fall over. I have been put to much annoyance by children destroying my garden and breaking my windows with cricket balls."

A conviction was recorded and a fine of £1 imposed.

The P.M. (Mr. W. J. Clarke) said:—"You have no right to take the law into your own hands."

BOY SPOKE

4th Northcote Troop

The usual meeting was held on the 10th inst. Games, badge work, and other items were dealt with. The meeting was followed by a "yarn" from A.S.M., the meeting closing about 9.30 p.m. Saturday was an individual day when each scout went out alone and did some usual scout work. An enjoyable day was spent by all.

A PENNANT

Brighton v Northcote

Northcote travelled to Brighton on Saturday, and the Saunders, on their home green, severely trounced the visitors by 125 to 84. The winners of Northcote club were: Scores—Brighton (123)—Ferguson, Sloane, Duggan, Loy, 42; Iamson, Stewart, Brown, Jun., Hamilton, 27; Shannon, Angus, Grant, Todd, 23; Plunkett, Nash, Loveridge, Stone, 31.

Northcote, 94, 4 Brunswick, 63. Richmond, 104, 4 Alphington, 64.

PRESTON CLUB

Not without some justification, a critic has stated that Melbourne has no climate—only "samples." Who would have ventured to say when the weather was so good as it was on Saturday, 4th inst. It is still unsettled and just as interesting. He is a tonic and an education into Moreland territory. Moreland is level with Preston (4 wins each), with Coburg and S.M.C.C. still ahead with 49 points each. Preston team were: Furnell, 101, 4 Auburn, 90.

HONORING A TEACHER.

TABLET TO MISS WOODGATE.

A memorial to the late Miss E. S. Woodgate, who was Infant mistress of the Pender's Grove School, Thornbury, was unveiled by the Director of Education (Mr. Macdonald) on Thursday afternoon at the school. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends, and school children. The Mothers' Club was responsible for this function, and the school was the scene of a most interesting and touching ceremony. The tablet, which is a beautiful work of art, is a tribute to the memory of one whose whole heart was in the work of the school and for the good of the children. For this reason they desired to perpetuate her memory in some tangible way, which took the form of a brass tablet, mounted on a polished blackwood and suitably inscribed.

The headmaster (Mr. Bethel) was chairman, and he asked the school band to play "Teach of Aes." Mrs. C. Dimmick, president of the Mothers' Club, then gave a most interesting and touching address, in which she recalled the memory of the late Miss Woodgate, who had at all times shown great interest in the school and in the welfare of the children. She recalled the devotion and self-sacrifice of the late Miss Woodgate, who had at all times shown great interest in the school and in the welfare of the children. # HALL MARK, ROGILLA AND CHATHAM

Leading Trio of Spring Carnival

NO OUTSTANDING TWO-YEAR-OLD

(By "Luteplayer")

THE 1933 Spring Racing Carnival in Sydney and Melbourne proved most successful, particularly the V.R.C. fixture at Flemington. An attendance of 90,000 on Cup Day was the best for years, and the aggregate attendance for the four days was up several thousands. In addition the totalisator turnover of 2,226,858 for the four days is a record, and was 245,103/5/- more than for the four days last year. This seems to be a sign of improving times.

The outstanding gallopers of the spring racing in both States were Hall Mark, Rogilla and Chatham.

The hero of the campaign undoubtedly is Hall Mark, for although he was suffering from a cracked heel, he won the greatest honor of the Australian turf—the Melbourne Cup. Also he is the first horse since Trive to win the Derby and the Cup.

Although Hall Mark had proved himself the best of the two-year-olds last season, and had decisively beaten his rivals in the A.L.C. Derby, many have doubted his ability in the Victorian classic. The hero of the campaign undoubtedly is Hall Mark, for although he was suffering from a cracked heel, he won the greatest honor of the Australian turf—the Melbourne Cup. Also he is the first horse since Trive to win the Derby and the Cup.

CLUB NOTES

An enjoyable time was spent in the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening. The nature of the function was "President's Night." About 100 members and ladies were present, and soon among the guests were the Mayor, Mr. Smith (Anzac House), Mr. Reid (secretary, Wollongong branch), and Mr. T. Worrey (life guest). The branch president (Mr. I. S. W. Marshall) welcomed the guests on behalf of the branch. The mayor, in response, paid a striking tribute to the officers and members for the good work that they have done and are still doing, both in helping their fellow countrymen who are broken in health and overcome hardships.

A surprise was then sprung upon Mr. Marshall when he was called upon to receive a presentation from the members of the branch in the form of a solid gold badge of the R.S.S.L.L.A. in recognition of the services rendered to the Northcote branch and the R.S.S.L.L.A. in general. The branch are fortunate in having such an able president. Mr. Marshall, in thanking the members, said it was a great surprise to him, and he would always value the token greatly. The success of the branch was due mainly to the splendid co-operation of the officers and members. He also paid a tribute to the ladies who gave their services in the Poppy Appeal.

Dancing was indulged in and supper was served by the ladies in co-operation with the social committee, and great credit is due to them.

POPPY DAY APPEAL

A fine effort was again made by the ladies of the branch in the Poppy

INSIST ON HUTTON'S "PINEAPPLE" BRAND

WIFE ASSAULTED

HUSBAND GIVEN A SUSPENDED SENTENCE

At the Northcote court on Tuesday James Conlon, 40, of 12, Gough street, Northcote, was charged with having on November 6 assaulted Mrs. Conlon.

The P.M.—You had your husband arrested? The wife.—Yes. The P.M.—(to Serk. Glowacki)—Go ahead, then.

The wife, continuing, said:—My husband came home drunk. He said "I came home to take you to the pictures, but you were not here."

He punched me and knocked me over, and when I was down he kicked me. He dragged me into a bedroom and said, "You won't get out of here alive."

Son intervenes. I screamed and my son, aged 14 years, came to my assistance and punched him in the face.

Senior Constable Nolan said:—I received a complaint from Mrs. Conlon, and then saw defendant. As we were taking him to the police station he called out to his wife, "Don't let them take me away."

"Cannot Stand It Any Longer" She replied, "You have been knocking me about for 15 years and I cannot stand it any longer." He said, "It will be the worst day's work you ever did."

On the way to the watchhouse defendant resisted violently at times. Defendant.—I am prepared to take the plea. I have nothing to say. Conlon admitted several prior convictions.

The P.M. (Mr. W. J. Clarke) said that the wife had not wanted to give evidence against the husband, and bench would impose a sentence of a month's imprisonment, the sentence to be suspended on a bond of £10 to be of good behaviour for two years, and to abstain from intoxicating liquor.

NEW STORM DRAINS

Materials for storm drainage works, proposed to be carried out in the near future by the Board of Works, are estimated to cost £4,400 for Northcote and £450 for Preston. The cost of the material and labor will be provided by means of a loan from the Employment Council. A schedule for work costing in all £146,000 has been prepared, spread over ten municipalities.

STAR OF NORTHCOTE I.O.R.

The half-yearly meeting on November 12 was largely attended, the C.M. (Mr. E. Schmeider) presiding. Eight new members and two clearance members were welcomed.

Delegates were appointed to attend social functions of the Clifton Hill and Colburg Tents.

Amongst the correspondence was the quarterly circular from District giving particulars of the various activities of the order.

A cordial welcome was extended to Mrs. Pickford (Ballarat Tent), Williams (Garibaldi Tent), and Clarke (Colburg), visitors to the meeting.

The secretary reported on the progress of No. 10 Group Centenary Committee, stating that all tents in the group had reported increased membership and sustained interest in the coming celebrations.

The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers for the coming half-year.

Keen interest was evinced in the elections, ballots being necessary for most of the more important offices.

The new officers are:—P.C.M., Bro. E. Schmeider; C.M., Bro. M. Carthage; D.R., Bro. H. T. Morris; Secretary, Bro. W. E. Findlay; Treasurer, Bro. J. Woodgate; W.S., Bro. J. King; M.S., Bro. E. Welsh; Lev., Bro. A. Tomes; Guard, Bro. L. R. Rold; auditors, Bro. W. Clarke and A. Millingham; dispensary delegates, Bro. Jones, Findlay, Angus.

The officers will be installed by District Officers at the Preston Town Hall on November 20.

The next meeting will be held on November 23, at the conclusion of which a pairs bowls competition will be conducted. All members and their lady friends are invited to participate in this event.

TRANSPORT IN THE NORTHERN SUBURBS

Both Essendon and Brunsvick city councils have agreed to send representatives to the conference being convened by Messrs. Olney and Kilman, M.S.C., to discuss means by which additional transport facilities may be provided for the northern suburbs.

GAS FOR RESERVOIR

SUSTAINED EFFORTS SUCCESSFUL

Over eighteen years ago residents of Reservoir sought the laying of gas mains in Reservoir on the west side of the railway line, and repeated requests have been made from time to time in an endeavour to obtain this convenience.

Success is now in sight, for on Wednesday morning Mrs. Larkins, of Ralph street, Reservoir, received an intimation from the Metropolitan Gas Company that gas mains would be laid in Reservoir streets.

It is understood that the company will proceed at once to lay mains in the following streets—Gilbert road, View, Henry, Lane, Kinzie, Gloucester, Pine, Willoughby, George, Ashby, Olive, Edwardes, Beat, Kelsey, Fairbury, Devonitz, Conynon, Ryfield, and in Spring street (12thward street to Henty street).

The area to be reticulated with gas mains covers the main residential section of Reservoir, and it is considered that once this main work is done there should be little difficulty in obtaining further extensions.

FOOTPATH OBSTRUCTED

FRUITERER FINED

At the Northcote court on Tuesday Felix Lauricelli, 114½ street, Northcote, was charged with having on October 27 obstructed the footpath in Northcote by placing goods thereon.

Constable McFarlane said:—I saw a box of lettuce and a bag of peas on the footpath. I told defendant to shift them as they were obstructing the path, and he said, "They are not mine, they belong to the fruiter, 114½ street."

Defendant, when asked how he pleaded, said, "I'd sooner put something in the poor box (laughter)."

In reply to the P.M. (Mr. W. J. Clarke) defendant said that he was about to put the peas on a stand.

A fine of 10/- was imposed. Defendant.—I don't think it's right. I'd sooner put something in the poor box. (Laughter).

The default was fixed at 25 hours' imprisonment.

Defendant.—I can't pay! The P.M.—How long do you want to pay? Defendant.—I am only working with my father as I have nowhere to go. Where will I get it? (Laughter).

The P.M.—If you don't pay you will be imprisoned for 24 hours.

ALTHOUGH the large attendances which have characterized previous conventions of the Northcote and Preston C.E. Union was not in evidence at the fifth convention at the Northcote Methodist Church on Saturday and Monday last, the meetings were well attended and proved to be of as great spiritual value as in previous years.

On Saturday afternoon the Intermediate and Y.P. Conferences led by Mrs. W. Lawson and Mr. E. Holding, were most helpful and the Communion Service led by Pastor W. Lawson, created the right atmosphere for the Convention.

At the Rally at 7.45 p.m. Rev. W. H. Trenton showed us how "to interpret the Christian's Heritage," musical items being rendered by Misses E. Peters and E. Sandland and Messrs C. H. Dwyer and C. Sandland.

The Praise and Testimony meetings at Ivanhoe, Northcote and Preston, on Sunday evening proved a great blessing and were well attended.

On Monday evening at 8 p.m. Pastor J. E. Thomas spoke on "Approaching our Heritage," musical items being rendered by Mr. Chris Peckie and the Ivanhoe, Northcote and Preston choruses.

The council meeting of the Union will be held in the vestry of the Northcote Methodist Church on November 18 at 8 o'clock. At this meeting the matter of dividing the Union into two or three parts will be decided.

This meeting will be preceded by a quiet hour at the Northcote church of Christ at 3.30 p.m., followed by a basket tea and fellowship at 5.30 p.m.

The meeting of the Fairfield Methodist Y.P. Society on November was led by Mr. W. J. Clark, who gave an interesting address on "The Prodigal Son."

The first anniversary of the Wattle Glen Y.P. Society was celebrated on November 12. Although the leader of the Union Flying Squadron, Mr. Eric Butler, is in hospital as the result of an accident, members of this band visited Wattle Glen and participated in a Praise and Testimony Meeting in the afternoon, this being followed by a tea provided by the ladies. At the evening rally, Mr. Albert of Reservoir, the speaker, and one young man responded to the appeal for surrender to the Lord.

Northcote Methodist Church 79th Anniversary Celebrations

The concluding meeting of the Northcote Methodist Church's 79th anniversary celebrations took place on Thursday evening when a president's reception was held. The church was well filled, Rev. F. J. Jennings, superintendent of the circuit, introduced the President, and brief addresses of welcome were given by Rev. T. W. Indian (representing Prince of Wales Park Church), Rev. E. G. Croxton (Croxton), Mr. L. Lavender (senior circuit steward), and the Hon. J. G. Membrey (congregation and trustee).

The president (Rev. H. W. P. H. L.) in an interesting address on "Our Neighbors, the Nations of the World," stressed the fact that for the realization of the peace of the world it was the church's opportunity. The soldier would not bring peace, and the politician could not.

Dr. Brownell and C. S. Dennis, M.H.R., moved votes of thanks to all who had contributed to make the celebrations so successful. The Northcote District Choral Society provided a splendid musical programme and supper provided by the ladies brought the evening to a close.

RESERVOIR NOTES

The Sunday school anniversary services of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday school were conducted by Mr. P. G. Fleddes and Captain Forsyth. On Tuesday night Mr. Fleddes gave an interesting lecture on "Pioneering in the Western Districts. Messrs R. A. Irwin and Mr. J. Dunlop as hon. secretary and treasurer were the executive officers."

The Girls' Friendly connected with St. George's Church, held a successful social on Tuesday night. New members were welcomed.

In response to the appeal for the extinction of the debt on the parish hall, Cr Adams has donated £2/2, while Mr H. H. Olney, M.L.C., has forwarded £1/1/.

A successful innovation was the holding of the Sunday school anniversary of St. George's on two Sundays, November 6 and 13. The speakers were the Rev. Mr. G. Powell, The Rev. Jones (Secretary to Bush Missionary Association) and Deaconess Shepherd. The children sang splendidly at all services. The supporters were Mr. Rodknicht, and the secretary, Mr. Withers, arranged all details.

Definite preparations are now being made for the erection of a new Methodist Church in George street.

DOGS ELECTROCUTED

Danger of Live Wires

DURING a heavy windstorm on November 2 a live wire fell from a pole in Gough street, Thornbury, just accompanied by two dogs crossed the road, and one animal immediately snuffed at the wire. There was a frightened yelp and the dog stood rigid. The second dog brushed against the first and it also was electrocuted. Both dogs, even in death, stood, the current making the muscles of their legs rigid.

The Northcote Council's electric light patrolman gave the matter immediate attention, and replaced the wire.

People using the roads should take notice of the fact which has thus happened. The current in the wire would probably have been fatal to human beings too, had anyone come in contact with it.

In cases of this kind, should a wire be noticed lying on the roadway the electric light office at the Northcote Town Hall should be notified at once.

Presentations to Retiring Officer.—On Friday evening last a number of his former colleagues assembled at the home of Mr. George Webster, Kemp street, Thornbury, who recently retired from the Education Department, to bid him farewell as an officer. A pleasant evening was spent with music and recitations. After supper, speeches of complimentary character were made by the visitors, and the presentation of an arm chair was made to Mr. Webster. Mr. Webster is well known in the district, and his many friends wish him continued good health in his retirement.

GOOD XMAS TRADE ANTICIPATED

With the advent of the Xmas shopping season Mr. John Smith, jeweller and watchmaker, expects a record busy period. Among his many features is the very latest in ladies' handbags in fashionable shades of calf and hide, also morocco. These are moderately priced and are most acceptable gifts.

His crystal beads are also worthy of mention, and as all are silver wired they will not cause inconvenience by breaking. Other stocks of cut crystal ware comprise dishes, vases, bowls, &c. Silver repair prices have been reduced here as there has been a great response in this department.

Xmas time at Neelands in Preston usually means a great display of toys, but this year the selection is even more varied. Their tricycles at 15/- each should prove a great draw. There will be no need to go further than this store to please the children. Any toy may be purchased on the lay-by system.

JUST NOW

you should be giving your car the "once over." The wear that is unnoticed must be guarded against for an imperfect motor car is a menace. Are your brakes right? Call on us and have them tested by special equipment. It pays to have an expert overhaul, and our prices are right.

Wedding Bells Don't Overdress

PEPPER—FRAME

IDA LUPINO, the young English player who has just been signed by Parliament in a recent interview told the "Pepper" that some facts which she considers essential for the well-dressed woman.

One is more comfortable underdressed than overdressed. Wear the dress which is the most comfortable, pass the jewels, and leave the sables in the closet.

Never overdress your guests. If you know that Mrs. So and so will come to dinner in a street frock, resist the impulse to wear that new dinner frock that is certain to arouse Mrs. So and so's envy and make her evening miserable.

When accepting an invitation, always ask if it is to be formal or informal, you will save yourself many a bad moment that comes from being the only woman wearing an evening gown at an informal gathering, or vice versa.

Another pitfall for the overdressed is the travelling costume. Veteran globe-trotters never indulge in silks, feathers or furs when boarding a train or boat, but the untravelled look upon an occasion to display the latest fashions from the home town. Jewellery is absolutely out of place when travelling, as are light colored costumes and large hats. Fur coats are better at home and a worry on a journey and should be packed safely in a trunk or left at home.

The theatre party is another occasion that generally finds the "dressed" overdressed. Unless a formal dinner goes before or after the theatre, low-cut gowns and hair ornaments should be avoided. A dinner gown, even a smart street costume, is correct for theatre. The opera, however, is a safe place to wear all the jewels, furs, tiaras, and lace one possesses, although one will look a bit more chic if one is just a bit quieter in dress.

DRESS ACCESSORIES

THE trend now is toward the plain, simple glove for all occasions, says nettie blonde Mary Carlisle who is appearing in Paramount's musical "College Humor." For autumn we'll see the most of the leather, the ruffles, the conspicuous embroidery on cuffs. Nor will the massive-looking ornament be the fashion. The next "lightly-wrinkled" glove will be in vogue.

"Also let me stress the importance of the handbag. Of course, the very smartest thing is to have one fashioned of the same material as your gown. If you are wearing a dress for evening wear, if your frock is of silice or gold brocade, just think how gorgeous a small bag of the brocade would be if you have your gowns designed and made this feature is simple enough. If you purchase your dresses ready made, then take time in selecting a bag and get something simple, smart and in harmony with your costume."

"I'll examine you for three guineas" said the specialist "all right" said the visitor. "And if you find it I'll give you half."

FANCIED SHADES

BRIGHT Pelting red, dark beetle red, bright catina blue, light celeste blue, Gobi beige and Tibetan brown are the new colors for the season.

Among the gowns designed for Carole Lombard to wear in "White Woman" is a dark blue wool ensemble with a three-quarter length coat hanging loose like a coolie's coat, a small fur collar and bright red lining. It was accompanied by a blue knit Chinese hat.

A black quilted tullea out worn by Claudette Colbert in Paramount's "Torch Singer," had a jacket with the neckline edged in black ribbon and littered with white Chinese figures.

1st Annual Meeting

Royal Victorian Institute of the Blind

(NORTHCOOTE AUXILIARY)

ROSEB, atcock, gladioli and sweet peas, decorated the small tables set in the committee room of the Northcoote Town Hall on Monday afternoon when the first annual meeting of the Northcoote Auxiliary of the Royal Victorian Institute of the Blind was held. A good attendance listened with interest to the remarks of the various speakers. The Mayor of Northcoote (Cr M. C. Jones) took the chair at the instigation of the president (Mrs W. P. Brownell). Among the guests were the Mayor of Northcoote (Cr M. C. Jones) to whom the secretary presented a charming bouquet; Matron Briggs, from the Blind Institute; Mrs. Hedges, wife of the secretary of the Institute; Mr and Mrs Willmott, Mr Benson, Mr Solomon, representing the Blind; Mesdames D. Neumann and E. B. Scott (Thornbury Red Cross); Mesdames Bedson and Carr (Preston R.V.I.B. Aux.); and Mrs A. W. Harley (Women's Aux.).

The adoption and reception of the report was moved by Cr B. E. Johnson, who outlined the growth of the auxiliary and its functions. The membership of 80 has risen to 120 and success has attended each effort put forth by the ladies.

Mr Willmott, in seconding, spoke of the wonderful manner of educating and fitting blind children and adults so as to make them useful and happy citizens; of the marvellous work done by the Institute; of the happy results which have already been achieved.

Mr Solomon, a member of the Blind Association, supported and added the thanks of the Association for the help given by auxiliaries. He spoke of the concessions gained by the Association which broadened the sphere of the blind.

Cr J. O. Hughes, in moving the resolution generally commending the sheet, congratulated the ladies on their fine efforts, and Mr J. A. Thomson seconded the motion.

In a vote of thanks to the retiring officers, Cr J. O. Hughes, in seconding, lauded the inaugural officers and hoped their success would be even greater in the coming year.

Matron Briggs, in seconding, told of her work with the blind and of the blessing education and music brought to those who could not actually see the beauties all around them.

Thanks also came from Mrs Frost who said the task of providing for the blind was being greatly lessened by the aid received from the fine voluntary work of the ladies.

A vote of thanks to the chairman was moved by Cr B. E. Johnson. Afternoon tea was then served and members and friends enjoyed a social chat.

The afternoon tea was generously provided by the president, Mrs Brownell; floral decorations were arranged by Mesdames E. D. Benson, Hurley, Turner and Gange. Mrs Scott of Ivanhoe was responsible for the charming presentation bouquet.

Office-bearers elected were—President: Mrs W. P. Brownell; vice-president: Mesdames B. E. Johnson, E. B. Scott, A. H. Main and T. Pollock; delegates: president, secretary, and Mrs W. W. Lander, treasurer; Miss Gwen Holden, auditor; Mr L. C. Lavender; secretary: Miss Ethel Johnson.

A splendid report was submitted in which the various activities of the year were outlined. The many functions organised and carried out successfully are a credit to the executive and members who have worked so whole-heartedly for the self-imposed task. Receipts included subscriptions and donations £19/11/7; card parties &c. £11/16/8; dances: £2/16/3; garden parties: £12/4/6; funds were expended on Stationery &c. £5/15/1; catering and rent: £2/17/4; donations: £16/18/9, leaving a balance of £59/9/8 in hand.

Among those who attended the Mesdames T. Hollock, D. J. Sheehan, W. J. Clayton, O. J. Neumann, Wigney, E. J. Johnson, Holden, W. Johnson, H. E. Johnson, S. E. Hedges, A. H. Main, H. Adams, A. W. Harley, H. H. Hedges, K. Hutton, H. M. Owen, H. H. Hedges, McGreggor, Hendrie, G. S. Scott, E. Turner, J. Smith, E. Schneider, Gildard, A. G. Gray, H. Holt, Yates (secy.), Yates, A. Lister, O. Holt, H. Hutton, L. O. Seallock, G. Armstrong, Grigg, Wood, Watson, Hooper, E. Scott, Clappison, A. McAdams; Mrs L. Lavender; Mrs H. Hedges; E. Johnson, L. Wells, G. Mott, Guest, Macmillan, J. S. Bean; Cr B. E. Johnson, Mrs F. J. Jennings and J. O. Hughes and Mr J. A. Thomson.

DEAD MAN IDENTIFIED

The man who threw himself under a train between Victoria Hill and Victoria Park railway stations about 9.30 p.m. on Sunday has been identified as Frederick James Harris, aged about 40 years, railway employe. A woman who witnessed the tragedy said that Harris attempted to throw himself under another train before he was killed. Harris recently became unemployed after 15 years' service in the Railways department.

ATHLETICS

PRESTON AND NORTHCOOTE AMATEUR CLUB

At Olympic Park (Motordrome) last Saturday was the second day for Inter-Club contents of the Victorian Amateur Athletic Association. The condition of the track was good; sprinters and hurdlers were assisted by a strong wind which in turn made the 120 yards hurdles in 15 2/5 seconds. Don McLennan (Coburg) was the fastest man over the 120 yards hurdles in 15 2/5 seconds. Another outstanding effort was that of Harry Yates (Eastern Suburbs) who ran the 100 yards race in 14 1/2 seconds. Mattman (Old Xaverians) broke the 100 yards putting record with 25ft 1 1/2 in. Brilliant pole vaulting by Fred Woodhouse (Old Melbourne) shows that the team has cleared 11ft and a week goes on more records will be broken. Above are some of the outstanding efforts for the day.

B Grade v Glenhenty

Preston and Northcoote B Grade team had its first defeat on Saturday but still it was an even go until the last event. Preston were beaten by 10 points in the 100 yards race. A team from A Grade and an Arab about the strongest team in B; so that shows that Preston's win the Saturday before was no fluke.

Our Owen and Lloyd Bransgrove were the two best and too merchants who finished for Preston—Bransgrove second; third: Owen. Harold James had stiff luck in the 100 yards race when he was beaten by the whole division with James (P.) second. Welcome back to Aub Robinson who faced the starter in place of Quinn who was at "graze" with the McEabb and Jolly were the other two strings for the hundred. Robinson showed that he can still run—straight to the line and green—second to Hyman (C) and just beaten by a yard in 10 1/2 sec. McEabb fifth with Jolly close at hand.

The race of the day was the thrilling mile run. Weightman, Owen and Mechen were the three colts. In this event they had a tough job. From the gun Weightman was close to the leader followed by Garrett with Mechen in the middle. The pace was slow and went to the front. Garrett moved some position. Weightman still in 1 1/2 up next with Mechen. Owen went away. Garrett tried to do the same but was short of a mile "gallop". Turning into the straight R. Price (V.R.L.) passed the other two. Price, 36 points, were down 3 on Glenhenty (28) The last event was the 440 yards hurdle. McEabb and Vic Kirkland were the two best. Kirkland had the lead. Glenhenty had their half mile champion A. Elliott, doing the job. He won from Mainin (P.) with McEabb third and thus ended the day. Preston's B team Points—Glenhenty: 28; Preston and Northcoote: 28.

B Grade v Coburg

At the last moment Ains Galagher was placed in the 300 yards team in place of Joe Lacey and with Keith Brennan and George Connor went to the start to do their best for the club. Keith Brennan put up a grand race and won the event with Geo Connor fighting hard and finished in fourth place for Preston. Lacey was given a trial over the bar in the pole vault and won the event. Coburg's best was the three sprinters for 220 yards. Berry, running on the rails, filled second place with Tannoek fourth and Jenkins fifth.

In the hop, step, and jump J. Angus had to hand over the honors to the Coburg boy.

In the 150 yards hurdles Hughie Angus was changed for McEan. Lex Bertram and Arch Mason made up the Preston trio. All got away to a fine start, but was overpowered by the Coburg boys and at the finish was placed third. Both Bertram and Angus let the selectors see that they will hold their own before long.

The final event was the mile relay. Jack Tannoek carried the baton over the half mile. Jack ran a very sound race, but the Coburg man got a bronk on him over the last 200 yards. The selectors taking from Tannoek, ran a sound 440 yards at this chance. Wynn made the 220 Coburg man move but the game was too much. Ed Berry made a bold bid for the Coburg final man but still luck looked against him. The selectors were given the event and finished the day with the points as follows—Coburg: 35; Preston: 24.

Next week B Grade meet Old Scotch. The programme will be 200 yards; 3.10; 220 yards; 3.31; 280 yards; 4.27; 120 yards hurdles; 4.30; hop, step and jump; 5.01 relay.

B Grade v Mr. Carmel—2.15; 2.30; 2.40; 100 yards; 3.25; walk; 3.30; broad jump; 4.27; mile run; 6.10

HOSKING'S Meat Emporium 429 High Street, Northcote, N16 MERRI THEATRE Monday brings "Dog of My Heart," an Irish musical comedy based on the famous play by J. Hartley Manners, and starring Marion Davies. As the little Irish girl who inherits an ancestral estate in England, and falls in love with the young lawyer who arranged for her entrance into society, Miss Davies gives one of the finest performances of her career. It is the role she adapts an Irish brogue, obtaining a charming and natural dialect. In the first part of the picture she appears in the typical "Peg" costume with her freckles, which she wears with her freckles. One of the features is an English hunt and a celebration, in a picturesque lodge after the kill. In support of the star are Grete Nansen, Frank Morgan and Joseph Cawthorn.

Bottle Throwing Charge

Incident in Lane BARMAN FINED 22 At Northcote Court on Tuesday Patrick Walsh, barman, Carters Arms Hotel, Northcote, was charged that on November 18 he threw a bottle at a customer, the danger of persons.

Constable P. T. Fennessy said: "At about 9.15 p.m. on Saturday last, (November 18) I was on plainclothes duty with other police. I was behind a cart fence, and had the Carters Arms Hotel under observation. I saw defendant walk down a lane with a bottle of beer in either hand. I jumped up on the fence and he threw a bottle over my head. He then threw the second and if I had not jumped down I would have been hit. As was jumped down I saw the defendant throw a bottle at 'Police here.' Stop," Nolan recovered a bottle of beer; and another one was broken."

Cross-examined: Are you friendly with Walsh?—No. I have tried to catch him on many occasions. Were there others in the lane?—Yes, two.

Senior Constable Nolan gave corroborative evidence. He said that he saw Walsh throw the bottle at Fennessy? He said "I did not. I said 'You're a liar, I saw you throw them deliberately.' The bottle in the lane is not good but I could see all right."

Cross-examined: Was any attempt made to throw anything at you?—No. When you saw Walsh throw the bottle you followed Walsh?—Yes. Do you consider Walsh made a deliberate attempt to hit Fennessy with a bottle?—No.

How many men were there in the lane?—Three. How many men ran away?—Yes. A shot was fired after one of them?—It was a blank cartridge. Why was the shot fired?—To stop the men from running away. What had the man done?—He had got two bottles of beer from another man.

Walsh said: "Last Saturday night I knew that the police were in the yard behind the hotel. There were some men in the lane. A man named Cole spoke to me and I told Cole not to open any bottles in the lane as the police were there. Next thing I saw was Cole opening a bottle and as I again approached to speak to Cole the police jumped the fence and Constable Fennessy rushed at me and said 'got you' and took me into the hotel and later to the police station."

Cross-examined: Have you any feelings against Constable Fennessy?—No. You are all right if you are on his side, but not otherwise. Where did you meet Cole?—At the back gate. I just happened to be coming out. Did you bring any beer out?—No. Did you ask Cole where he got the beer?—No. He did not get from me.

William Cole, Sharp street, Northcote, said: "I was in the lane at the Carters Arms Hotel last Saturday night. Walsh spoke to me, and as he did so the police came over the fence. I threw a bottle over the fence, and ran. I heard a shot behind me and stopped."

Cross-examined: Where did you get the beer?—At another hotel. The beer was placed in a stable in Whalley street off Separation street, and I got it just before I went into the lane at the back of the hotel. Why did you throw the beer away?—I don't know myself. I got a fright I suppose.

By majority decision a conviction was recorded. The P.M. said that there was no doubt the bottles were thrown, whether with the intention of hurting, making a point, or not. Fined 12 in default 14 days' imprisonment.

MERRI THEATRE

On Monday next, for three nights only, commences the shortest of all attractions "Adorable" with Janet Gaynor at her best—sassy, pert, irresistible, and with a new leading man, Henry Garat, whose fascinating French accent should make him a serious rival to Maurice Chevalier. It is a slightly, tuneful romance that will fill you with a new zest for living. The songs featured "Adorable," "My Heart's Desire," and "My First Love to Last" belong to the haunting variety and have proved already popular. Miss Gaynor wears more charming costumes in this production than ever before. Those who like a sweet, wholesome romance should not miss this picture. Herbert Mundin and C. Aubrey Smith are in the supporting cast.

The second attraction on the programme is a mysterious murder mystery "The Secret of the Blue Room" with a strong cast including Lionel Atwill, Paul Lukas and Gloria Stuart. The noted stage star Lionel Atwill demonstrates just how a sinister character so that an audience will be very nearly frightened out of its wits at him. The story concerns a luxurious sleeping chamber, "The Blue Room" which takes as its title the floor of its occupants, as a huge grandfather's clock strikes a graveyard dirge at one o'clock. It would be out of the realm of fair-play to tell you any more about this excellent picture. See it in one of those mystery companies about until the next Monday.

This completes one week of mischievous attractions at the Merri.

CHURCHES

Northcote Congregational Church. Singing of which any Sunday school might well be proud was enjoyed by large congregations at all services in connection with the Sunday school anniversary on Sunday last. The morning service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Duncan E. Reeves, and in the evening, the Rev. Jonathan Evans, of Collins Street Independent Church, preached to a packed congregation. An innovation was introduced at the afternoon session when the whole of the service was conducted by the teachers and scholars. In lieu of an address, two excellent papers were read by Miss Macfarlane and Miss Lottie LeBlanc. During the services, items were rendered by the following: Misses Gladys Marshall, Lilian Crawford, Illiana Fitzpatrick, Olga Brace, Joan Richardson, and Lena Duncan. The high standard of singing is due to the untiring efforts of the conductor, Mr. C. H. Butler, who also the next Sunday will conclude next Sunday and friends would be well advised to be in attendance early at all services. The preaching at both morning and evening services will be by the Rev. Duncan E. Reeves, and at the afternoon session, the Dramatic Society will present a dramatized version of the "Finding of Moses." Members of the local Buffalo Lodge will be in attendance at the evening service.

Messrs. Green and Hatten have arranged a social evening in the school hall on December 2. The evening, which will provide something different in church socials, will assist the building fund.

Christian Science

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Memoriam and Hypnotism Unveiled" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 25. The golden text is from Jeremiah 15: 21. "I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the cruel; thou shalt not be afraid of the words of the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out, saying, 'And Jesus rebuked him, saying, 'Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him. And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying,

P.W.M.U.

The monthly meeting of the James Street branch was held in the school hall on November 14. The president (Mrs. A. T. Jones) presided over a good attendance. The speaker was the Rev. Frank Reid, who spent many years as a missionary in the New Hebrides. Notes were rendered by Mrs. Paul.

High Street Methodist

The preachers on Sunday were—in the morning Rev. T. H. Indian and in the evening Rev. F. J. Jennings. Next Sunday Rev. Palamoutain, of the Social Service Department of the Methodist Church, will preach.

St Aidan's, Victoria Road

On Sunday morning the service was taken by Mr. Sutton, of Ivanhoe. In the evening Rev. J. O. Hughes preached on "The Value of Faithfulness."

The Girls' Friendly Society held their final social on Saturday. The final returns for the fair are £10.

ERECTION OF CHURCH

Rain Delays Work

WITH the object of erecting a building for the Church of Christ, in Gilbert road, West Preston, on three Saturdays working bees were formed and building commenced on Saturday last.

About 40 workers were in attendance. The heavy rain checked the work but it is still hoped that the building will be completed within the time originally planned.

More than four years ago the Church was established in West Preston. The congregation has been meeting in the Progress Hall, but the growing congregation has made it necessary to erect a new building. The Rev. F. J. Jennings is helping with the labor. Mr. F. J. Jennings is in charge of the building operations, and Mr. Harry Turnham is the organizing secretary. The new building will include a church and school hall. When completed the church will have a debt of £800.

The Preston Church of Christ was erected in one day in 1910. The building is still used regularly.

NEW BUILDINGS IN NORTHCOTE

THIS YEAR AND LAST COMPARED

Permits issued at Northcote Town Hall for the erection of new buildings in the past four months were—
July . . . . . 1	16
August . . . . . 2	22
September . . . . . 2	15
October . . . . . 1	18

The figures for the corresponding months of last year were: July £1122; August 1934; September £1208.

Though the figures for the three months of last year are greater than those of the present year, it is an increase, as the average for each month this year, has been higher than that of last year.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR

At the council meeting of the Northcote and Preston C.E. Union (Incorporating Heidelberg district) on Saturday last, it was decided to divide the Union into two, it is to be a new union which will extend from Fairfield to Hurstbridge. The other union will extend from Northcote to Reservoir.

Another visit was paid to the Regent Baptist Intermediate Society on October 21. The Rev. J. A. M.A. (Northcote) in the Legislative Assembly moved the adjournment of the House to discuss "the dismissal of Railway supernumerary employees, and the wages and conditions of employment of unemployed workers by the said commission; and the failure of the Government to discharge its duty by providing suitable work for unemployed persons who, by reason of age, sex, or inferiority, are unemployable on the same basis as male adults of full strength and capacity."

Mr. Cain said that this was the first time in his parliamentary career that he had moved the adjournment of the House under similar circumstances. He went on to say that the Railways Commissioners had dismissed 90 supernumeraries and had replaced them with 100 unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries. No camping allowance was being paid, and he said that about the £15,000 to £17,000 was being spent on the building of the baths.

Mr. Jones raised a point of order. The motion was carried that the Government be asked to provide the following: (1) a list of the names of the supernumeraries; (2) a list of the names of the unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries; (3) a list of the names of the unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries; (4) a list of the names of the unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries.

A MALVERN MOVE

At a meeting of business men at Malvern initial steps were taken in what is designed to be a Commonwealth wide move to press the Federal Government to repeal the Sales Tax Assessment Act 1926, together with all supplementary amendments.

Mr. Young said the tax struck all classes, and bore heavily on the worker to whom it was passed on.

Mr. Sylvester said that any tax imposed should be in conformity with a man's ability to pay.

Mr. J. C. Davis, vice-president of the Smith Street Traders assured the meeting of the support of his organization. The Sales Tax was first instituted in 1926 to bring revenue at a time when the financial position of the Government was not very stable. The Government is now in a better position and the Sales Tax should be removed.

ANOTHER CARNIVAL AT NORTHCOTE

LEAF SAVING AND FOOTBALL CLUBS TO COMBINE IN EFFORT

THE Northcote Life Saving and Football Clubs in conjunction with the Northcote Football Club have arranged to hold a nine days' carnival which opens on Friday evening, December 1. Last year the club had the old market buildings when a successful week-end carnival was held, the profits being used to provide trophies for club members and equipment for club use. This year's carnival is to be held over nine nights and two Saturday afternoons and all arrangements will be completed in conjunction with the crowd.

Listed on the programme are cycle roller championships for professional and amateur players, juvenile competitions in singing, dancing, and elocution, open for children to 10 years of age, two sections having been arranged these being up to 10 years and between 10 and 16 years. A baby show carrying sectional prizes and a wonderful cup to the grand champion will be held during the week Saturday afternoon so that mothers need have no fear of insufficient examining time.

Juvenile band members are entered for in the Horn Solo Instrumental competition and the permission of the V.I.B. Association has been received this event should be decidedly popular. Competitions for music organ players, weight lifters and boxers, have also been arranged and as all trophies are to be on show for the week in High street, considerable interest should be aroused.

RAIN INTERRUPTS PENNANT MATCHES

On Saturday afternoon rain falling after 2 o'clock prevented many games from being played. Some matches were completed, but only under difficulties. One of the few matches played to a finish was Surrey Hills v Alphonson at Surrey Hills, when the home rink won by 14 to 8.

In the B pennant after 7 ends the scores were—Alphonson 28, Aberfeldy 24, and then play ceased. At Fitzroy the scores were—Fitzroy 11, Ivanhoe 22, when play stopped.

In the C pennant Alphonson were 22 to Preston's 11 after five ends. In the match Fitzroy v Thornbury there was no play.

PRESTON CLUB

The matches in which the Preston Club were interested last Saturday had again to give way to the vagaries of the clerk of the weather. Preston II team journeyed to Williamstown, and Williamstown A team came to Preston. Preston C team set out for Alphonson, but the results were all null and void. According to V.I.B. rules these matches will probably be played on December 3.

Electric light bowls are in full swing. Each Tuesday evening, played matches with neighboring clubs are staged on Thursday evenings.

Next Saturday well known—Preston A v Ascot Vale, at Ascot Vale.

Preston B v West Brunswick, at Fairfield.

Preston C v Brunswick, at Preston.

THORNBURY LADIES CLUB

C Pennant—Williamstown defeated Thornbury. Mrs. Goodie, Mrs. Burch, Mrs. Calcutt, 29, 4 Mrs. Dick-Burn, Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Palmer, 32, 4 Mrs. West, Mrs. Outram, Mrs. Jory, 10.

B. Pennant—Thornbury A, a bye.

On Saturday afternoon rain falling after 2 o'clock prevented many games from being played. Some matches were completed, but only under difficulties. One of the few matches played to a finish was Surrey Hills v Alphonson at Surrey Hills, when the home rink won by 14 to 8.

In the B pennant after 7 ends the scores were—Alphonson 28, Aberfeldy 24, and then play ceased. At Fitzroy the scores were—Fitzroy 11, Ivanhoe 22, when play stopped.

In the C pennant Alphonson were 22 to Preston's 11 after five ends. In the match Fitzroy v Thornbury there was no play.

PRESTON CLUB

The matches in which the Preston Club were interested last Saturday had again to give way to the vagaries of the clerk of the weather. Preston II team journeyed to Williamstown, and Williamstown A team came to Preston. Preston C team set out for Alphonson, but the results were all null and void. According to V.I.B. rules these matches will probably be played on December 3.

Electric light bowls are in full swing. Each Tuesday evening, played matches with neighboring clubs are staged on Thursday evenings.

Next Saturday well known—Preston A v Ascot Vale, at Ascot Vale.

Preston B v West Brunswick, at Fairfield.

Preston C v Brunswick, at Preston.

FIGHT AGAINST SALES TAX

A MALVERN MOVE

At a meeting of business men at Malvern initial steps were taken in what is designed to be a Commonwealth wide move to press the Federal Government to repeal the Sales Tax Assessment Act 1926, together with all supplementary amendments.

Mr. Young said the tax struck all classes, and bore heavily on the worker to whom it was passed on.

Mr. Sylvester said that any tax imposed should be in conformity with a man's ability to pay.

Mr. J. C. Davis, vice-president of the Smith Street Traders assured the meeting of the support of his organization. The Sales Tax was first instituted in 1926 to bring revenue at a time when the financial position of the Government was not very stable. The Government is now in a better position and the Sales Tax should be removed.

RAILWAY SUPERNUMERARIES AND UNEMPLOYED

MR CAIN SPEAKS IN THE HOUSE

On November 1 Mr J. Cain, M.L.A. (Northcote) in the Legislative Assembly moved the adjournment of the House to discuss "the dismissal of Railway supernumerary employees, and the wages and conditions of employment of unemployed workers by the said commission; and the failure of the Government to discharge its duty by providing suitable work for unemployed persons who, by reason of age, sex, or inferiority, are unemployable on the same basis as male adults of full strength and capacity."

Mr. Cain said that this was the first time in his parliamentary career that he had moved the adjournment of the House under similar circumstances. He went on to say that the Railways Commissioners had dismissed 90 supernumeraries and had replaced them with 100 unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries. No camping allowance was being paid, and he said that about the £15,000 to £17,000 was being spent on the building of the baths.

Mr. Jones raised a point of order. The motion was carried that the Government be asked to provide the following: (1) a list of the names of the supernumeraries; (2) a list of the names of the unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries; (3) a list of the names of the unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries; (4) a list of the names of the unemployed who were not being employed under the same conditions as governed the supernumeraries.

PRESTON COUNCIL

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20

The monthly meeting of the Preston City Council was held on Monday, November 20, at 7.30 p.m. in the City Council Chamber. Cr. H. J. Davy, Mayor, presided. Present: Crs. A. J. Davis, Mr. Adams, E. F. Norris, Mr. Jones, J. H. Mott, A. E. Newton, and Mr. Young.

Correspondence

Mr. Adams moved that the Council should be asked to request the Government to repeal the Sales Tax Assessment Act 1926, together with all supplementary amendments.

Mr. Young said the tax struck all classes, and bore heavily on the worker to whom it was passed on.

Mr. Sylvester said that any tax imposed should be in conformity with a man's ability to pay.

ANOTHER CARNIVAL AT NORTHCOTE

LEAF SAVING AND FOOTBALL CLUBS TO COMBINE IN EFFORT

THE Northcote Life Saving and Football Clubs in conjunction with the Northcote Football Club have arranged to hold a nine days' carnival which opens on Friday evening, December 1. Last year the club had the old market buildings when a successful week-end carnival was held, the profits being used to provide trophies for club members and equipment for club use. This year's carnival is to be held over nine nights and two Saturday afternoons and all arrangements will be completed in conjunction with the crowd.

Listed on the programme are cycle roller championships for professional and amateur players, juvenile competitions in singing, dancing, and elocution, open for children to 10 years of age, two sections having been arranged these being up to 10 years and between 10 and 16 years. A baby show carrying sectional prizes and a wonderful cup to the grand champion will be held during the week Saturday afternoon so that mothers need have no fear of insufficient examining time.

Juvenile band members are entered for in the Horn Solo Instrumental competition and the permission of the V.I.B. Association has been received this event should be decidedly popular. Competitions for music organ players, weight lifters and boxers, have also been arranged and as all trophies are to be on show for the week in High street, considerable interest should be aroused.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"BUNKUM"

MORE than a hundred years ago, there was a certain member of the American Congress who habitually made long, glib speeches when there were very few people in the House to hear him.

This voluble gentleman represented the County of Buncombe, in North Carolina. On one occasion a fellow member interrupted an angry harangue to ask him why he was making so much fuss, to so little purpose, before an almost empty House.

"I am not speaking to the House, but to Buncombe!" retorted the pompous orator. His answer caused the name of that unfortunate constituency to be forever synonymous with hypocrisy and humbug.—though at first it simply meant "playing to the gallery."
