THORNBURY ARMED "HOLD-UP"

MANAGER'S DRAMATIC STORY

Laborer Committed for Trial

DEFENCE PLEADS ALIBI

A dramatic story of an armed hold-up at Thornbury was related at the Northcote court on Tuesday, when Bernard Hayes, laborer, aged 24 years, of York street, Bonbeach, was charged with having robbed Thomas Halliwell of £6, and did at the same time use personal violence.

SERGEANT H. Glowaski prosecuted and Mr Dunn appeared for the defence.

MANAGER'S STORY

Thomas Halliwell, manager for Adam Smith, moneylender, High street Northcote, residing at Hopetoun avenue, West Brunswick, said: "On Friday, June 8, at 8.20 p.m. I was in my office in High street. The accused Hayes entered and asked for four 'pacs' for 2/. I said that all the money had been sent away. Accused left, but returned at 8.50 p.m. with another man.

Two Armed Men

I then saw (but the second man had a revolver in the hand which was on the counter. Hayes had a piece of hose in his hand.

"Put That Away"

"I said to the man with the revolver, 'Put that thing away. You don't want to make trouble here.'"

Struck on Head

"I received two blows across the head with the hose held by Hayes. I called 'Help, Police,' and retreating two steps fell over a radiator.

Both men jumped across the counter and Hayes beat me over the head with the piece of hose.

"Take the Money"

"I said 'Take the money. There is no need to knock me about.' I crawled under the counter whilst being beaten.

"Hayes went into my private office and the man with the revolver stood over me and said 'Don't move or call out or I'll shoot.'"

"Hayes rifled the till, which contained about £3 in silver and £3 in notes.

"Hayes then said to me 'Where is the key?' I told him the door was only barred. He went out, and the man with the revolver left by the back door.

No Disguise

During the time the men were in the shop Hayes had no disguise at all. The man with the revolver had a muffled round his neck.

After the two men left, I found that the front door, which is always left open, had been closed.

"Knew Hayes Through Betting Transactions"

On June 20 I identified Hayes as the man who beat me about. Accused said: 'Not me. I do not know this man and have never seen him before.' I said 'I have known you for some time. I have repeatedly received money from you for bets made.'"

"He said 'I thought you wanted to 'pump' me regarding betting.'"

"I have known Hayes for 18 months to two years and last saw him about September of last year in a hotel at Brunswick."

"Remembered Next Day"

Cross-examined: Were you asked if you suspected anyone? — I do not think I was asked. I was too upset on the night of the occurrence to know who it was; but next day I remembered.

When did you tell the police whom you suspected? — I told Plainclothes Const. Veness on June 19.

Reasons for Reticence

Why did you conceal the identity of the man? — My brother-in-law and brother came to me on the following Sunday and asked if I knew who the man was. I said, "No. Why?" and was told that if I told them they would "deal" with him. I told them that it was no good endangering their liberty by taking the law into their own hands.

In answer to further questions Halliwell said: "On the night of the assault Hayes spoke in a normal voice. He does not stutter, nor is there anything unusual about his speech. The times given are correct. I could see the clock.

POLICE EVIDENCE

Plainclothes Constable A. J. Veness, of Northcote, said: On June 20 I saw Hayes, and questioned him as to his whereabouts on the night of June 8. He said he was at home listening to the cricket on the wireless. Halliwell, who was present, pointing to Hayes said "That is the man who assaulted and robbed me on the night of June 8."

Betting Business

Hayes said to Halliwell "I remember betting with you, but that was some months ago. I was fined for betting and I have given it up."

"Was Not There"

Asked what he had to say to Halliwell's charge that accused had been to his shop and assaulted and robbed him, Hayes said: "I was not there. I have only been in Northcote once in my life."

"Things Look Black"

Asked if he had anyone to prove that he was at home accused said "No. Things look black for me. It seems the only thing you can do is to look me up."

"You Are The Man"

Halliwell said "If I had any doubt I would rather a thousand times let you go. I must speak the truth, and you are the man."

Cross-examined: When did Halliwell first tell you that Hayes was one of the men? — On June 19.

Plainclothes Constable Erwin gave corroborative evidence.

Plea Of Not Guilty

Hayes, who pleaded not guilty, elected to enter into his defence.

DEFENCE AN ALIBI

Hayes said: On the night of Friday, June 8 I was at my home at Bonbeach. I was nowhere near Northcote, and I did not assault or rob Halliwell.

Apart from a conviction for betting I have never been in any trouble.

First Test Night

About 7.30 p.m. on June 8 I went to Hell's shop at Bonbeach to make a purchase and there I heard cricket news being broadcast. It was the opening night of the first Test. On returning home I got tea for a porter, who boards there. I cleared away the tea things and later went to bed. Apart from going to the shop I did not leave the house that night.

Often at Brunswick

I am often at an hotel at Brunswick.

Plenty Road Hold-up

Two Men Committed for Trial

At the Preston court on June 28 John Ellis and Frederick Percival Smith were charged with having on May 28 robbed Frederick George Beckensall, butcher, of Plenty road, Preston, of £5/13/9, and at the same time used personal violence.

The evidence of Beckensall was that one of the men entered his shop and ordered some meat. As he went to get change the man grabbed the cash bag which was suspended round his neck. A struggle ensued, in which both defendants joined, and finally after kicking him in the face the men rushed from the shop and escaped.

Beckensall positively identified both Ellis and Smith as his assailants.

Both men pleaded not guilty, and Smith entered into his defence. He denied that he was in the locality at the time alleged, and called several witnesses. Ellis reserved his defence.

The bench committed both men for trial on July 16. Smith was granted bail, self in £200 with an approved surety of a like amount.

AN APPRECIATION

(To the Editor)

Sir,—I would be grateful for sufficient space to publicly record my appreciation of the untiring efforts of Mr. H. P. Zwar and Mr. John Cain, M.C.L.A., on behalf of my wife, in connection with her transfer from Melbourne to Austin Hospital. Although merely an acquaintance of each gentleman, on personal acquaintance or influence was spared to secure the successful attainment of my wife's and my desired. Indeed, to all intents and purposes each might have been acting on behalf of his own wife. I would, therefore, summarize their world of criticism with my appreciation of services rendered.—Yours etc., L. R. SWANSON. Rene St., Preston, 4/7/34.

PAID OFF HOUSE AND MOTOR CAR

"Could Not Do It Again"

WIFE'S STORY IN MAINTENANCE CASE

"I cannot return to my husband after the way he has treated me," said Mrs. Annie Victoria Beazley, of Heidelberg road, Clifton Hill, when seeking a maintenance order against her husband, William George Beazley, Clifton avenue, Clifton Hill, at the Northcote court on Tuesday.

"He left me, and when I asked him for money he said 'You are not going to 'gold-dig' me.'"

Angelo and said he could not live without her.

The Girl He Wanted

In September '16 awakened me one night by grasping my throat and said I was the cause of him not being able to marry the girl he wanted.

Money Taken By Force

A couple of days later he asked me for money for a dancing competition. When I said I had none to spare he pushed me over, knelt on my back and ground my face on the floor. He then took what money I had in my bag.

A Dancing Partner

At that time he was associated as a dancing partner with a girl named Lily, who lived at Preston. She was a decent girl.

He said something to the effect that he would murder me if I told this girl he was a married man.

"Sick of Everything"

A few days later he said that he was sick of everything and was leaving. Before he went he wrote an agreement undertaking to support me.

Wife Goes to Sydney

In August, 1932, I was employed by the Cinderella Shoe Co. and was transferred to its new factory at Sydney. In September, 1933, my

ATHLETICS
PRESTON & NORTHCOTE CLUB

On Saturday afternoon the club held a short distance relay race between two teams of club members captained by G. Connor and W. Weightman. Each man ran 1 1/2 miles over an out and back course from East Preston to the top of Cole's Hill and return. The object of the race was to give members experience of the road, and to give the club selectors an opportunity of gauging the form of runners with the view to choosing the team for the Chelsea to Brighton relay on Saturday, July 21. Frank Bates (Weightman's team) and G. Kirkland (Connor's team) were the first runners, and were excellently matched. They ran together until the turn, neither gaining a yard to the other, and then Connor took the change over, where Kirkland gained a couple of yards, but in a desperate finish Bates made up the lead and finished with Kirkland. Arthur Trotman took over from Kirkland and Lance Newton from Bates, and again it looked as if a dead-heat would result, for both ran locked together to the turn, and at a point when about two-thirds of the race had been run, Trotman began to draw away and finished about 30 yards ahead of Newton. The position remained unchanged until the last but one relay, where Norm Fisher (Connor's team) and Weightman took over. Fisher sprinted 20 seconds ahead of Weightman, and running slowly over the last section, he looked as if Weightman might catch him, but after the turn had been reached Trotman sped up and held Weightman off to finish 20 yards ahead. George Connor and Vic Kirkland ran the last section, and Connor gained three seconds on Kirkland. This showed the remarkable evenness of the runners in the distance. Connor and Kirkland all ran 7 min. 52 sec. for the mile and a half, while Trotman ran the distance in 7 min. 50 sec. Weightman's time, 7 min. 16 sec., shows he is beginning to get up on his toes for the championships in a month or so.

GRAND NATIONAL MEETING
Prospects for the Big Hurdle Race

SELECTIONS FOR THE FULL PROGRAMME
(By "Luteplayer")

The V.R.C. Grand National fixture opens at Flamington tomorrow (Saturday) when the first leg of the jumping double—the Grand National Hurdle—will be decided over a course of three miles.

After shaping well, if unlicked, in flat races, Banaya, who jumped the weights with 11.2, returned to Flamington with a brilliant win in the Port Phillip Hurdle at Williamstown. Although his jumping was not as clean as it might have been, it was his first run over the hurdle, and he is no doubt a "good thing".

Star God came from a fair way back to finish third in the race won by Prismatic at Caulfield. The decision about not trying him, but in a somewhat doubtful of his jumping. He shows some cleverness at his obstacles but does not jump with sufficient dash for my liking.

Star God is regarded as the dark horse, and has been specially prepared for the race. He jumps well enough but has a habit of dropping his reins. He may be capable of something behind, but he is not my idea of a National horse.

Lanfor and Potreux make no appearance in the race.

The issue appears to me to rest with Banaya and Nyerimilang, with Prismatic likely to be most troublesome. In choosing between Banaya and Nyerimilang one has to decide between speed and brilliance. It is not easy to make a choice, but Nyerimilang may have a little extra stamina to wear down the race, and he is a proven (admittedly a slender proof) of his decision in favor of Nyerimilang.

Epiphany was on June 29 Epiphany whitewashed. West Footscray 11th 11th team who were unable to connect with K. Phillips—none of their runs were reached third base. But Epiphany finished third in the form of a surprise. The game was a close one, with Epiphany leading with K. Phillips at short stop, played a dashing game for Epiphany and Summe, at first, very well. Westgarth's form was show out was Hurdle at the only one to back as Star God's Day he impressed me as a National horse in the Hurdle race at head-quarters on that date. In that race he met with interference through a horse falling in front of him at the middle of the stand and had to be pulled up almost to a walk. After conceding a hundred yards to Westgarth, he finished with him turning 1/2 mile, but naturally was unable to sustain the effort.

Other notable performances were:—Second to Our Comrades were in April, when he came from last at the half mile; a good finishing effort at the same time, when he was second to Sarakos at Flamington last year. That was his last outing, but he finished splendidly on the tracks with our club on many fast times, and this work suits him.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Up to Williamstown last Saturday Ortolan appeared to me as likely to be hard to beat, for in his own he impressed as being a solid stayer without a great deal of dash. In the "Port Phillip Hurdle" he was the best backed horse but ran a poor race, never looked to be a possibility. He was running on at the finish, but must have been a little behind the winner. The form was not so good as it is true and he should run on to the race to-morrow, but it is difficult to see him turning the tables on Banaya. Hurdle was not over a hundred yards, and I look as though the extra mile will trouble him.

Situation finished second to Banaya successive second placing, so he is deserving of a win, but Banaya's defeat him so decisively that his chance of coming to-morrow is not bright. Star God's Day is probably a good staying horse, but it is difficult to see him turning the tables on Banaya. Hurdle was another to run a disappointing race in the Port Phillip Hurdle, but he is a good Flamington horse and may do better to-morrow. However, he looks better to Banaya in the weights, and I cannot see him conceding 6 lbs. to Nyerimilang.

Camberwell Show Improved Form BUT FADE AWAY IN THE LAST QUARTER
(By "Follower")

The fast, systematic work of Preston, which had conquered their opponents at the beginning of the season, has now given way to ineffective, though non-spectacular, hunting in packs. The bustling tactics of the home side smothered Camberwell's system.

The scores at the final change were:
Preston 8 10 58
Camberwell 7 7 40

Everyone fully expected a close finish, as up to this stage the game had been very even, each side adopting varying tactics in the hope of securing a win. Preston resorted to somewhat of the bustling methods which Camberwell (though vigorous) made repeated efforts to keep the game open.

After ten minutes of the quarter had elapsed, the game took on quite a different complexion and Preston never appeared to be seriously rivalled.

They attacked immediately the final ten minutes, success coming their way as they were rattled on by W. Robinson and McEachern. Camberwell made determined efforts to penetrate the locals' defense, but were turned aside time and time again by the delightful marking of Smith, which was a great feature of the term.

Against him the visitors' frequent attacks were frustrated.

Camberwell broke through, goals being kicked by Coffin and Bengey.

Play was never brilliant, and players made the mistake of trying for the ball in the direction of the goal, instead of scouting round waiting for the ball to drop from the hands of the pack.

In the last term Preston obtained the upper hand quickly, and ran out as easy winners, of rather disappointing game. The final scores were:
Preston 13 15 91
Camberwell 9 10 64

Goal-Kickers
Preston—Doyle (2), W. Robinson (2), Meachern (2), Warr (2), Cameron, Arthur, and Heenan.
Camberwell—Coffin (3), Bengey, and Austin.

Best Players
In Smith, Preston were honored with having the best player of the 35. His marking was delightful, his close play was excellent, whilst his ground play was splendid. Warr was a rover with his customary dash. Others to show out were Doyle, Hugo, Cannaway, McEachern, Doyle and Heenan.

For Camberwell, Tatham, Finlay, Mehan, Coffin, Clarke, Taylor (until injured), Shedd and Clump were always useful.

C.Y.M.S. ASSOCIATION

West Footscray v Preston
Played under ideal conditions, the game quickly became a struggle for supremacy on the back lines. Both teams had an effective forward line and so the ball travelled in a series of incessant advances across the centre. Both teams were excellent in the first term, Preston being especially aided by the fast marking of W. Monaghan, and the bradly running of Cameron. Quarter time scores:—Preston, 1-2; West Footscray, 1-2.

The second quarter was remarkable for the erratic kicking of the Preston forwards, and the brilliant marking and play and dashes of K. Innes who dominated the half-backs. Innes' great determination to reach the goal, and it was their efforts that were responsible for the only two goals for Preston during the term. In the third term West Footscray endeavored to make up the back, but the bustling tactics of Gaffney and W. Monaghan prevented the visitors from gaining until the end of the quarter.

Play was thrown upon the Preston defense but it remained staunch, ably assisted by a clever centre line and the sly play of the back line. Cameron's opportunity was shown by a dash to the goal, but he was held by Gaffney and W. Monaghan. Cameron's goal was a result of a brilliant play by Gaffney and W. Monaghan. Cameron's goal was a result of a brilliant play by Gaffney and W. Monaghan.

SATURDAY'S GAME

PRESTON MEET BRUNSWICK
Preston will visit Brunswick on Saturday afternoon, when they should prove too solid a combination for the home side, who hold a low position on the present league list. Just recently the Magpies had some of their eyes picked out by a neighboring League team.

PRESTON GOSSIP
On Saturday morning in High Street "Checker" Hughes, coach of Melbourne, was seen in serious consultation with a Preston official. Preston are anxious to secure Wym Murray, who, for six years, was an outstanding player for Melbourne, representing the "red legs" in the interstate match last season, playing in the half back flank. Are they after Smith or another of the Melbourne players who were playing finely, had a call on the board read:

Club. Gls. Bds. Pts.
Preston 6 5 41
Brunswick 6 4 40

At the end of the second term Cameron was replaced by Warr. Cameron was replaced by Warr. Cameron was replaced by Warr.

Warr snatched a goal for Preston in the game, which had completely improved. W. Robinson was the best player of the game. Cameron's defense was very weak through. Smith, who was outstanding in his high marking being a great help to the team. Cameron and Hugo helped him to tear through tactics of their opponents.

NORTHCOTE DOWN PORTS
Ninth Successive Century Scored
SEASIDERS CRUMBLE UNDER SMASHING OFFENSIVE

(By "Rover")

The ninth round saw Northcote register their ninth century this season in a manner which left no doubt as to their superiority over Port Melbourne. Speed, systematic drives and aerial feats were more than a match for the ruggedness of the Seaside's. It was Northcote's lowest score for the season.

The Actual Scores
There is some difference of opinion regarding the exact scores. The scores given below are what our reporters saw, and are held to be correct. However, it is the official scores which count (recorded by the goal umpire), which make Northcote 99 points instead of 100.

THE TEAMS
NORTHCOTE—Backs: Aekland, Haskett, Hart; half-backs: Woods, Baker, Powell; centres: Garrett, Lynecock, Clark; half forwards: Rogers, Williamson, Lawrence; forwards: Gray, Seymour, Honig; full-backs: Goulett, Meltschker; rover: Ross.
PORT MELB.—Backs: Baker, Garbner, Lewis; half-backs: Dunell, Perrett, Lawrence; centres: Plummeridge, (c), Hurley; half forwards: Bouquet, O'Rourke, McNamee; forwards: Rees, Bedford, Lahiff; full-backs: Tulte, Atkinson; rover: Keating.

Play swung from end to end with Northcote until Gray, with a snap, registered the first score—a single. The visitors were fast but the heavy nature of the ground led to much scrambling and crowding. Meltschker marking well and showing plenty of pace, sent the home side forward but Port's defense was firm. At the other end Aekland was clearing the goal with cleverly anticipated marks and long driving kicks. The visitors maintained a determined offensive and Rees eventually broke through to raise first goal. Making position nicely Garrett and Rogers were sent forward and receiving from Seymour, Honig replied.

The visitors were playing a rugged game but at a certain stage were turned by Haskett and Woods who were marking well.

The home side were faster to the ball but found it difficult to penetrate the defense. Just before the half Gray capped a move around the flank with full points.

QUARTER-TIME SCORES:
Northcote 2 4 16
Port Melbourne 1 0 6

Port were first away and after twice being turned aside Bedford marked close in and goaled. Northcote were matching Port's progress by their speed, system and dominance in the air. Hart knocks were being given and taken cleanly but the umpire was allowing the players too much latitude in the opposition area. Northcote swept the opposition aside and Seymour, brilliant in the air, traced three forward moves with goals. In the second term Northcote was co-operative play Port's methods was co-operative play by individual efforts. Lahiff was making great strides to instill some sense of team work into the visitors' play. Haskett and Clarke were being whom Hart was being given his good work. Lynecock was straying badly in the centre, enabling Plummeridge to initiate many advances from which the forwards could only manufacture angles. Then attackers were invariably behind their opponents in the race for the ball and displayed little knowledge of position play.

The home side was definitely on top but a solid defence prevented them ramming home their advantage. The defenders forced them to take hurried shots for goal from which only bindings resulted.

HALF-TIME SCORES:
Northcote 12 4 42
Port Melbourne 2 7 10

The visitors were first away and Hurley, dashing through the pack, goaled within a minute of the resumption. They attacked again only to be held by Rees. Rees was being the better of the duels on the wing and were frequently creating openings for their forwards.

Working around the packs for the ball he fell. Northcote were staying an incessant bombardment on their goal. Ross, raising both flags, with a kick off the ground, posted their sixth goal. Attacking straight up the centre Port were rewarded with a goal when Keating, freed, made no mistake. The visitors were attempting to crowd the play but these methods made little impression on the dense upper hand of Port. The most part, Port spent the remainder of the quarter desperately defending the goals.

SPORTING SECRETARIES

The Sporting Editor invites Secretaries of sporting bodies to forward reports of their club activities for publication in the "Leader". Matter should be written on one side of the paper only (preferably in ink) and should reach the Editor's office before mid-day on Tuesdays, or earlier if possible. Early copy receives first preference.

UNITED CHURCHES' ASSOCIATION

Northcote Church of Christ v. Southern Cross Men's Club
Played at National Park. Southern Cross kicked with a slight breeze and soon had Northcote defending. They quickly scored two goals. The rest of the quarter was very even, play see-sawing from end to end. Southern Cross 4-5, Northcote 3-1. The rest of the match needs little description. For Preston, W. Robinson was superior in all phases of the game. Northcote were sadly missing Bengey, their crack forward and captain, who was unable to play, and to add to their troubles, W. Robinson, who was playing finely, had a collision and was replaced by Walker early in the second quarter.

Southern Cross: 10-12, 72 pts.
Northcote: 4-12, 42 pts.
Goalkeepers: Arnold (2), Ireland (2).
Best Players.—Egan (umpire's vote), Emmello, Lyon, Stabb Bros., Ireland, Gilkes, and Arnott.

West Preston Church of Christ v. St. Marys
Played at Crispe Park. The weather was good and a fast game was played. It was very even all through but in the last few minutes before the final bell, West Preston were very unlucky to lose, but are improving in a match and expect to finish in the final four. The final scores were:—
St. Marys: 6-9, West Preston: 5-2
Goalkeepers: Warr (2), Ireland (2), Turnbull (2), E. Blackwell, Penny, and N. Ross. Best Players: P. Turnbull, R. Downey, H. Watson, D. Penney, G. Stokke, and E. Parkinson.

LAST SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Northcote 12-23 (100) d Port Melbourne 7-8 (60).
Preston 13-13 (91) d Camberwell 9-10 (64).
Coburg 14-16 (100) d Brighton 8-7 (63).
Oakleigh 15-18 (108) d Yarraville 10-12 (72).
Prahran 16-15 (111) d Sandringham 11-17 (83).
Wimbledon 13-9 (87) d Brunswick 10-12 (72).

TO-MORROW'S CONTESTS

The match of the day should be Port Melbourne and Coburg. Both of these have won five matches, and defeat to-morrow will make their position rather difficult in rising to a place in the first four.

Another interesting match will be between Yarraville and Prahran at Yarraville where the home side will prove hard opponents to defeat. Since Yarraville usually defeat their prospects in taking part in the semi-finals will not be bright.

Both Preston and Northcote should have little difficulty in returning victory, whilst Oakleigh and Sandringham should also prove too powerful for Brighton and Williamstown.

Mitchell Street Bobbers
During the last month four robberies in Mitchell street have been reported at the homes of Messrs. W. H. Boyd, G. Hale and McDonald. These homes are all in the one neighborhood, and residents would be well advised on leaving their homes to make sure that doors and windows are securely fastened.

Northcote Motor Cycle Club
The club will hold their half-yearly social on Saturday at Normandy Hall, Thornbury, for the presentation of trophies won during the last six months. On Monday the committee will meet at the secretary's home, 223 Amess street, North Carlton. Members are reminded that their A.C.V. riding licenses expired on June 30 and should be had from the secretary on application.

The Hand-writing Discussion
Appropos of the recent competition conducted by a duty paper, Mr. Hall, head teacher of Hutton street state school, has some beautiful examples of calligraphy written by his father, Mr. W. A. Hall, who is now over 80 years of age. Even now the latter writes a neat copy-press. The following are the specimens: one written by Mr. H. Smith, who was one of the collaborators in the production of the well-known Australian school books which were in use until recently, and which a great many children throughout Australia used.

Community Singing
The Thursday night community singing session had an enjoyable programme last week when all the proceeds were donated to the Northcote Blanket Fund. The artists who assisted in making it a success were Mr. James Hill (contralto), Miss Ida Weight (soprano), Senior Cerbuli (baritone), Miss May Dixon (soprano), Miss Betty Neill, Miss Horace Orchestra conducted by Mr. Horace Cerbuli. The items were interspersed with community singing, and although the weather conditions were stormy the hall was well attended and the singing was able to hand over £18/13/6 to the blanket fund appeal for the needy in this suburb. A flashlight photograph was taken.

There was a large attendance at the fortnightly meeting on July 5, Bro. H. T. Morris, C.E., presiding. Two members were received. In connection with the approaching centenary of the order, the secretary was appointed to attend a meeting to discuss the advisability of conducting a centenary dinner in November. Particulars of the membership competition for junior tents were referred to the superintendents. An offer of a lecture on the Douglas Credit System was referred to the social committee. Reports from all junior tents were encouraging.

At the close of business the bowls competition was advanced a further stage. The team won from the strong Ivanhoe A team after an excellent match by 14-12, while the Horden team were defeated by 11-15. The Victoria ladies place both A and B teams at the top of their respective sections. The visitors were later entertained at supper, and fraternal greetings were exchanged. The next meeting will be held on July 19, the syllabus item for which is the popular quarterly social evening. To allow of an early start being made the business meeting will commence at 7.45 p.m., sharp in the anteroom.

These scrap books are prepared entirely by the pupils outside school hours (taking the place of home work) and cover a wide range of subjects. The history, the Centenary, geography, etc.

The children are also encouraged to discuss current events and take an interest in them in the lower grades, whilst in the eighth grade the children are encouraged to take an interest in the history of the school. Fine work is being done at this school by Mr. Hall (head teacher) and his staff in this direction, and great incentive is given the children to learn. The work of the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grades is of a high standard, especially that of preparation of charts, etc., by the pupils under direction.

TOPICS for WOMEN

POPULARITY

WHAT IS IT? AND HOW IS IT ATTAINED?

AMERICANS write books of etiquette, and have endless recipes for popularity, but it is an indefinable quality, not dependent on beauty, clothes, or talents, though these help along the way. After a searching analysis the truly attractive person is attractive to men and women alike, and the truly popular person is popular with the majority. Nevertheless, it is often difficult to define the attraction of very popular people. Even an actress who is wildly entertaining or the one who makes the greatest efforts to please who is the "star" of the evening. With popularity as with the rest of life, the most popular people are often the one who carries with her a pleasing atmosphere. And so far that is not an advertised or purchasable commodity. Is There a Secret?

People often speak and write as if there were a secret of popularity. There isn't, and if there were, it should not be for one to study it. We should all be out to a pattern there, and popular people are by no means out to a pattern. Moreover, something too studied is often exhibited, and those who carry their popularity at all self-consciously are almost certain to lose it.

Naturalness and a general friendliness towards the world are qualities which, perhaps, most make for popularity. Affection, any form of showing off, and a tendency towards being self-centred are all against popularity — affection, because most people are able to sense it and resent it, and because, too, it is a bar to natural relations or intimacies; self-centredness, because it is definitely bad manners and because it looks as if you think you are cleverer or more interesting than other people; self-interest, because a woman really interested in things and people outside herself is always more likable than one who is only interested in herself. People only or most interested in themselves are invariably boring.

The girl who would be popular must remember not to confine her attention to any particular quarter. She must be charming to young and old alike, give attention to her own sex as well as to the other, and, above all, she must be a good listener. But let her not overlook the fact that popularity can be too much of a good thing. If she appears to like a good thing, if she appreciates it like a child, she is often suspected of being a hypocrite, and she must be careful of becoming too popular!

Removing Oil

The difficulties of home-dressmaking are more easily overcome if one's machine is kept well oiled. If a spot of oil should ever appear on the work, a little kerosene applied will remove it without leaving a stain.

ALMONDS

Jordan Almonds (about 2 1/2 per lb), salt, and a very little cayenne pepper. Blanch the almonds (that is, pour boiling water over them and the skins will easily be removed). Brown them in a saucepan with a piece of butter; then, with salt hot, dip in the salt and pepper.

Home Bouche If you have a little chutney, chop up some of the salted almonds and mix with the chutney. Then serve little blobs of the mixture on water biscuits or better still on croutons.

A DUTCH OVEN

THE woman who lives in a bed-sitting room often finds cooking a meal a tedious affair because her facilities are so restricted. If, however, she has a gas fire a small Dutch oven is a great boon. This can be placed in front of the fire and is most successful for grilling chops, steaks, sausages and bacon. The oven is made of metal and has two or three hooks upon which food is placed. When the chop or steak is grilled, one side the oven is turned round and a movable lid is turned back, so that the other side of the food may be cooked. A great advantage attached to the use of the Dutch oven is that there is no small or splash of fat as there is with a frying-pan.

Wedding Bells

COCKRAM — CANTY

REV. J. O. HUGHES officiated at the Church of the Epiphany, Northcote, on June 30 when Miss Kathleen Rose Canty became the wife of Mr Walter William Cockram. The bride was given away by her father and is the only daughter of Captain and Mrs W. J. Canty, of Kellott street, Northcote. Autumn tinted chrysantheums and foliage and white heather decked the church and the organist rendered appropriate music.

A gracefully cut gown of ivory silk velvet fringed the bride, and the back panel of the skirt fell into a long train. Her head-dress was a small tulle toque finished with orange blossom which held a beautiful lace veil mounted on tulle. Pink and cream roses and cream sweet peas, were arranged in the bridal bouquet.

Attending the bride were Misses Mary O'Brien and Joyce Hiddons, frocked in gold ring veils of similar lines similar to the bride's gown. They carried posies of golden pansies and cream roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Norma Cox and Norma Cockram and they wore quiet mid-Victorian frocks of pale green velvet with matching bonnets and their posies were in autumn tints. Mr Edward Cockram (brother of groom) as best man and Mr Arthur Cockram (cousin of groom) as groomsmen, supported the groom, who is the eldest son of Mr and Mrs Walter Cockram, of St George's road, Northcote.

The wedding breakfast and reception were held at the "Francatelli," of Northcote, where 50 guests were entertained. Mrs Canty wore a beautifully cut frock of black French marocain, lined with tulle and silver. The groom's mother chose a brown velvet ensemble with silver brown hat, gloves, and shoes, formed the bride's retinue.

COOKSON — MERRAE

away by her father, in the second daughter of Mr and Mrs E. Mellan, of "Mearns," 70 Mulpas street, East Preston. During the ceremony an aunt of the bride, Mrs Leach, played the organ, and Mr C. Evans, a cousin of the bride, sang "Hiccupus." Long and gorgeous were fashioned into the bride's gown which had a lace bodice of lace with puff sleeves of the same material. The full skirt was made of lace and georgette and sprays of orange blossom ornamented the neckline of the bodice. Her lace veil, mounted over white tulle, was the gift of her sister (Mrs J. Croxall) who also lent the bride a beautiful train. Three strands of orange blossom with sprays at each ear held the veil and the bride carried an 1830 posy of white carnations, roses and lily of the valley. The groom's gift was a ruffe of pearls, was also worn by the bride.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss I. Mellan, and cousin, Miss M. Vickers, who were attired in frocks of Patou pink tulle. The bride cut on straight lines with three deep frills at the bottom of the full skirt. Long gloves of the same material

THE WORST STREET IN NORTHCOTE

(To the Editor) Sir—At the age of guessing competitions, I suggest that a good subject for a guess would be "Which is the worst street in Northcote?"

With the exception of a little temporary relief probably 40 years ago the council has put this unhappy street under a ban, as regards improvement.

August will soon be here, and it is up to the promoters to host themselves and choose a representative capable of lifting the curse. I forgot to mention that the street is only as long as a piece of string.—Yours &c.

One of the worst days of the year was the general verdict of last Saturday's play when 44 starters drove off into a hotting race, competing in a Canadian Fourcourse. Quite a number returned good cards considering the day.

So popular has Sunday play become it will soon be necessary to put the clock system into operation. Quite a novel match is to take place shortly in the ladies to nominate their own partners, husband and wife being prohibited from playing together.

There was no appearance of Wilson, who had ordered that the furniture be returned within seven days, or its value, £44, paid; further that Wilson pay the cost of the action.

During the week-end a thief stole the contents of postal pillar boxes at the Fairfield Park, Dennis and Northcote. The letters were forced in each case. It is known that some of the letters stolen contained remittances.

Patrons of the Northcote-Ivanhoe bus route feel the need of a shelter at the Northcote terminus in Darrobin road. This is especially so in winter when there are often 20 or 30 people waiting in the rain for a bus.

The Prince and Princess Carnival at Holy Trinity has reached the half-way mark and will conclude on September 12. The Prince and Princess of the Holy Trinity (Mr. Danvers and Mrs. Clark) have been busily occupied in many functions.

speaker concluded by urging the cultivation of these qualities in the life of every follower of the Nazarene. The Rev. W. H. Rayner reached again at the evening service. He said: "If some mark of distinction were required to differentiate between the Old and New Testaments, it might be said that in the Old Testament are related stories of men seeking God, but in the New Testament, we find God seeking man. Mr. Rayner indicated the divergent ideas of God as presented in the two volumes. "It was only with the birth of Jesus—that great event which has divided history into two parts—that we obtain the true and undistorted portrait of God," he said. We are then able to rise on the stepping stones of our dead selves to something nobler and better."

We went to the football on Saturday and watched Northcote kick all those goals. My word the wind was strong and Jacko insisted on taking his car. Of course the wind must have blown into the birds and then it was we were blown into a deep gutter and had almost to lift the car out again.

On Sunday we had fowls for dinner and Pluffy, as a great treat was allowed to make the stuffing. Well she fixed it up and Cook put it in the birds and then it was we were blown into a deep gutter and had almost to lift the car out again.

six-year-old daughter of a neighbor was missing. She had been seen at the garden playing with Onca, to whom she was most attached, and her father at once assumed that the animal, to whom his master had gradually given more and more liberty, and of whom everyone had entirely lost fear, had turned on his little playmate and attacked her.

In the greatest anguish the neighbor and Onca's owner rushed to the little acre for some trace of the little girl.

At last they saw the child's little hat lying on the outskirts of the fence, and they both dashed forward. To their horror they saw Onca come bounding out of the arena at the sound of their approach, rushing to meet them in his usual playful fashion, but with his jaws dripping blood and a snarl of a tiny muzzie in his frock hanging from them!

In a moment the girl's father had drawn his revolver and shot the animal dead; and then they hurried across the garden to find the little girl hurt poor Onca! And there was the little girl seated unharmed on the ground behind a clump of trees, and she had her dead body of a full-grown dog hanging from her neck. Onca had fought to the death in defence of his little playmate.

Wedding Bells

There is something decidedly attractive about an all white wedding and this was in evidence on Friday, July 6, when Miss Lilian Muriel Somprun and her betrothed...

Attending the bride were the groom's sister, Miss Rhoda O'Connor and a friend, Miss Leola Barnack. Flowing frocks of white satin were favored and small close-fitting white hats with eye-veils.

The reception and breakfast were held at the home of the bride's parents. For travelling the bride chose a white and navy blue felt hat carried a white trimming also.

On Saturday, July 7, the couple left for the honeymoon in a motor car, on a tour of England, the Continent and America.

The Gentle Art of Giving Thanks!

It may be more blessed to give than to receive but quite certainly it is more difficult to do so intelligently than to be given graciously.

Whether your thanks are given verbally or by letter, it is the little touch of originality which gives them their warmth and sincerity. To say something original is to give the gift of your presence.

Thank you alone is not enough. Consider the letter which comes to thank you for a wedding present. If it merely says "Thank you for the grape-fruit glasses," and then makes no further reference to the gift or your present need for such a gift will convince the donor that he or she has chosen aright.

Gifts are not the only problems. We must also give thanks for hospitality or any special assistance that may have been accorded us in friendly fashion.

A New Fabric

The sweet young things of Hollywood are captured over the introduction of a new fabric in ribbed cordane. This material is being featured by all the youthful sports-women in a big way and is particularly suitable for tennis and golfing when the weather is nice and agreeable.

Dorothy Venable, the young Paramount player who has stepped into prominence in recent months by her marvellous work in "Crash King" and "New Double Door," is one of the young wearers of the fabric.

Entertaining the Citizens

NORTHCOTE—FROM BOROUGH TO CITY

(By W. G. SWIFT)

"Lulled in the countless chambers of the brain, Our thoughts are linked by many a hidden chain."

How true are the words of the above quotation. While watching the debutantes at the recent annual ball, my mind flashes back over the years since the first public function of the borough in 1867.

Time seems nothing when, in the twinkling of an eye, scenes of other days came up as a picture before one.

"Grace was in all her steps; heaven in her eyes," as each debutante with her chosen partner, danced to the sweet strains of the music.

The front portion of Northcote's municipal buildings, and the present supper room (then called the "Hall") were completed in 1891.

Just here comes to mind a peculiar incident which occurred during the Federation campaign. The late Hon. Alfred Deakin had arranged to dress in a room in the small hall, but there being such a large attendance the annex was also used, and he stood in the doorway, nearest to the stage, and held the double doors open with his oratory.

Then in 1913 Councillor and Mrs. H. E. Johnson held the first ball in the present hall, which was not then a municipal building.

It is strange when everything runs smoothly on these occasions without the slightest flaw in the general enjoyment, not to thought is given to the arduous task of those responsible for this excellent arrangement, but should a hitch occur everyone notices it.

"My boy's taking medicine at Cambridge." "I thought he hadn't been looking well."

 There must be something in a friendly society which can claim such a large membership. And there is something here! Here are three reasons for its success:
 1. Its Contributions are Lower.
 2. Its Benefits are Better.
 3. It's a Safe Friendly Society.
 In addition, the Tent caters for all classes, creeds and colors, and is non-political. In fact, it's all that a friendly society should be, and its moral principle is Total Abstinence.

PRESTON'S BAND FLOURISHES
GREAT POSSIBILITIES
 AT the Preston Council on Monday night Cr. Adams outlined the great progress made by the band since the new arrangements regarding the municipal band were made. He said that previous bands had flourished and faded away, but since a committee was formed after a meeting had been held at the appointment of a bandmaster to control, a band was now on the way to becoming a credit to the municipality. There were 32 new members and they were assisted by a committee of citizens with Mr. W. H. Webber as chairman.
 Mr. Webber, in supporting Cr. Adams, congratulated the council on the way
 they had altered the position and considered that in the appointment of Mr. W. May as the conductor, the best man was chosen and he would,
 with the band, be a credit to the city.
 He also thanked the councillors and citizens for their loyal support and said the improvement of the band was amazing. In outlining his mutual duties he said he was 16 years in control of the Glenelg (South Aus.)
 Municipal Band, and was for many years with the Grand Opera Company. While in London, the mutual director of the Grand Opera Company, Sr. Mastro Rossi, presented him with his baton as a mark of esteem. Mr. May thanked Messrs.
 Holmes and Baker, members of the band, who had always assisted him in band instruction.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR
 On June 28 Regent Baptist Intermediates held their monthly meeting. Encouraging reports were received from all convenors and a deeper interest is being developed in committee work. Letters from missionaries in different parts of the world convey the latest news from the mission fields.
 Two meetings of special interest
 held during the month by Northcote Church of Christ Y.P. Society were the Bendigo Electors' Night and a music night. The echoes meeting was taken by the delegates who attended the State Convention at Bendigo. It was the music night Mr. Chris Reekie provided a feast of song and spoke on
 "The Place of Music in our Worship".
 The last meeting of the month was held on July 13. It was devoted to the past quarter and was reviewed and further activities planned for the coming quarter.

At Preston Methodist Y.P. Society meeting on July 10 Rev. A. L. Stanlock was the speaker and Mrs. E.
 Knight presided. This was the monthly conference meeting. On July 17 an interesting meeting was held. Mr.
 Beckett, Methodist Home Missionary at Wallulla, spoke of his work in that district. Miss Ed. Knight was leader. Miss E. Thrupp sang the solo entitled "My Tent is Tied to the Rock".
 It was a most successful meeting. There were about 23 present.

 the famous novel by Sinclair Lewis.

 Miss Dunne and Walter Huston feature the drama of a modern woman, while the supporting roles are given to May Oliver, Bruce Cabot and other members of a strong cast. Ann Vickers, as millions know, is a girl who has her own ideas about life and the courage to carry them out. "Ever Since Eve" provides lively supporting entertainment, and is a comedy romance with George O'Brien, Mary Brian and Herbert Mundin. It is an extravaganza "Broadway Through a Keyhole" will be shown. Coming at-

The Cobbers' Club

CONDUCTED BY UNCLE PHIL

Dear Cobbers,—What a great time was the match between Northcote and Preston on Saturday, and even though it was so cold we all were quite satisfied with the way the teams played. Of course, Fluffy and Grandfather were disappointed because Northcote didn't win, but as Jacko wisely said, both teams could not win.

We've received a number of entries for the games competition but would like to see more. So if yours isn't in yet send it along right away so that it will arrive in time.

On Friday night about 7 o'clock Grandfather and I were intent on listening to the cricket when we heard stealthily sort of noises in the front of the house. Grandfather took down his gun and I grabbed the poker, and off we went quietly to investigate. We found one of the front windows open and at last trailed the intruder. Would you believe it! It was only those English Pets "playing bridge," as they explained it. Anyhow we have them a good score but they did laugh at our worries.

This is all till next week. Send in your entries and congratulations. Greetings from the Pets and

UNCLE PHIL.

Find the Words

NEW LITTLE STORY

In the following little story there are 23 words which are terms used in our popular outdoor and indoor games. Can you guess them?

When Kitty looked her eye to see the pawn stop the fault she made was to let a forward man over the road have a try to steal her bag. It was a bully, the kind of rook, and when she called out this rover runs away. She whips the police, but the officer sent was a dummy, who took her for a cup of tea, and afterwards to a dance. As there was no ball they went for a walk. As Jack was a stale mate Kitty huffed at the idea of a wedding, refused to visit the Bishop, so he couldn't catch.

A prize of 2/6 will be awarded to the Cobber who finds the 23 correct words. Grandpa's decision is final. The Competition closes on JULY 28. Mark your entry "Words Competition" and send it in early.

BIRTHDAYS

All the Cobbers, Uncle Phil and the Pets send the kindest and heartiest of Birthday Wishes and Congratulations to Margaret Tierney (July 25), Keith Harvey and Ronald Watson (July 26), Billie Sparro (July 30), Beryl Cameron, Roy Hubble and Ronald Houston (Aug. 1) and Jack Moyes (Aug. 2).

WHY THINGS ARE DONE

WHY A FREEMASON WEARS AN APRON

As we all know, Freemasons wear as part of their regalia or ceremonial dress an apron of silk, and we may have wondered how such a practice originated.

The modern Freemason's organization or society dates only from the 18th century, but in tradition it is connected with the guilds of masons of the Middle Ages who used to travel about Europe and build the cathedrals and churches. It is this supposed link with the building craft that has led to the adoption of the apron as a symbol of their work.

The apron, however, is probably not a revival of any apron worn by ancient masons of their work in the same way as a butcher wears an apron to protect his clothes. It is generally thought to represent the apron of a mason, such as was worn by masons in the Middle Ages.

Uncle Sam's Story

THE GREEN ARCHER
(Part I)

THE Series had always been great hunters. The hall of their old baronial house was full of trophies, horns and antlers, hides of tigers and of bears.

In the midst of them all, just where the morning sun struck it, hung the portrait of an archer, painted long ago, but so lifelike that the hollow figure seemed on the point of bursting from the canvas—an archer, dressed in green, tall, ruddy, keen-eyed, one leg advanced, his long arm extended breast high, drawing a great bow. One could not get out of the way of his piercing glance.

The portrait of the archer was a favorite with all his young descendants. Often the boys would take horns and arrows into the woods and pretend that they were foresters, like the long ago great-grandfather.

The last heir of the Series had only one sister, no brothers, to play with, and he grew up different from the rest of his forebears, very fond of pets, keenly interested in wild animals, but with no desire to take their lives.

So that when it was suggested that he should make one of a party of naturalists going out to Africa to photograph his game he felt it was going to be the greatest pleasure, life had so far afforded him.

He was not disappointed. Every hour of the journey into the rolling country of Uganda was full of wild adventures and glimpses into Nature's secrets, herds of zebras, gnus, and hartbeest on the grassy plains, groups of ostriches, swallows drinking from the forest pools.

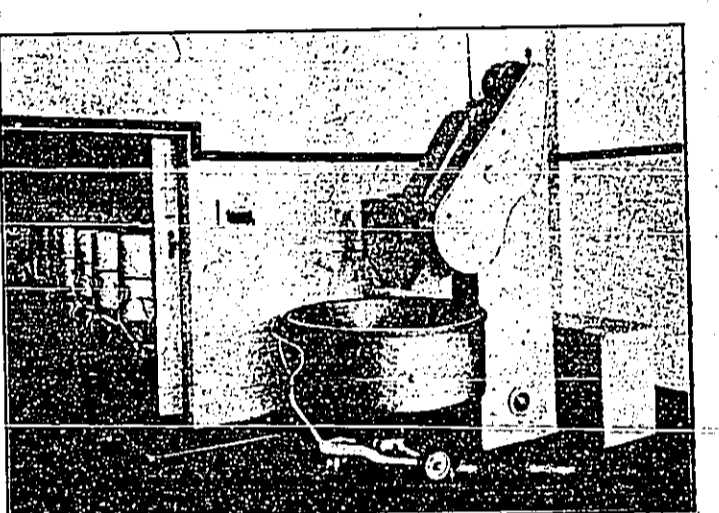

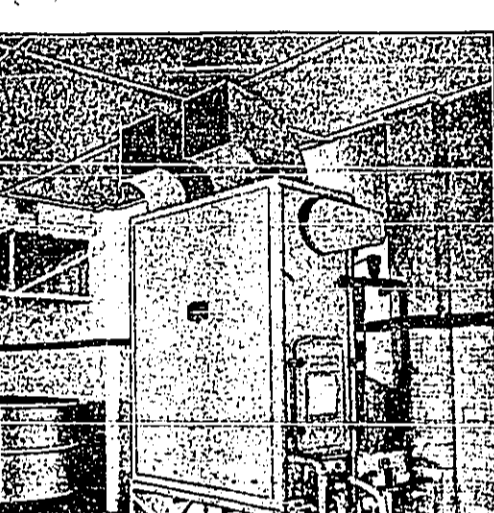

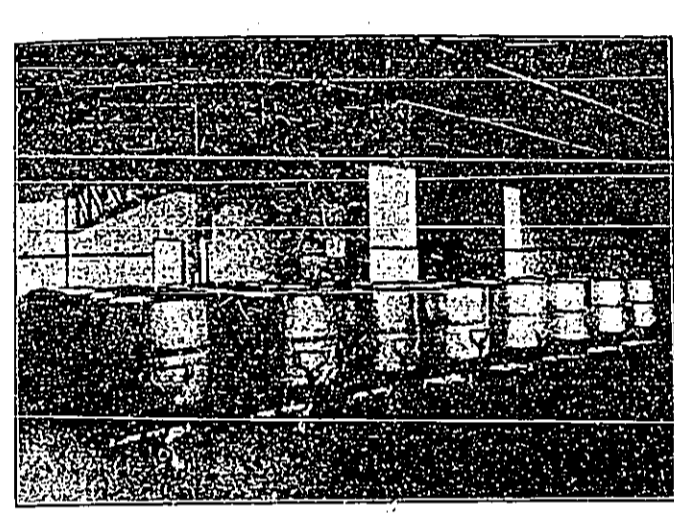

One day Bertie wandered away from the rest of his party with his sporting rifle and his camera, meaning to take some snapshots on his own account.

He was passing through a narrow gully between two low ranges of rocky cliffs, intent on the tropical flowers and creepers which clothed the sides of the ravine, when suddenly a noise like a bomb exploding which seemed to come from the waterhole at the head of the pass, a great black rhinoceros emerged from the swamp and came charging, his head down, tail raised, down the gully towards him.

Enables air to be changed; it purifies and washes the air that is brought to the proofing room, enabling the dough to be proofed according to schedule. It controls and assists fermentation, brings the dough to maturity in the best condition—the result being an improved flavour.

THE FLOUR SIFTER

This refining process ensures that every lump is disintegrated and made ready for perfect mixing, thus ensuring full quality in the finished dough. The Sifter also aerates the flour, thus putting it in better condition for the mixing operation.

AUTOMATIC MIXER

Human and natural in action, but perfectly hygienic—for example, it does not perspire. No corners or crevices for dough to lodge. Accurate and scientific. It has an apparatus for the tempering and measuring of water, and thoroughly mixes.

McALPIN'S Special malt process BREAD

THE DIVIDING MACHINE

This Machine is specially set, and without the slightest variation divides the dough to the exact weight. It supersedes the old system of cutting the dough into pieces with a knife and then weighing, and correctness is absolutely guaranteed.

"PROCERA" New Process Health Bread

Exclusive world's patented process, for which McAlpin's have sole manufacturing rights for this district.

All varieties, including

DIVIDER, ROUNDER, PROOFER & MOULDER

Another view which indicates the progress of the loaves, which after being divided and proofed are automatically transferred without being touched by the hands to the final Moulder. From here they are placed in the tin prior to going to the final Proofer, which is actually part of the wonderful McAlpin Oven.

HOW TO JOIN THE COBBERS' CLUB

THE BAKING MACHINE OR OVEN

A Masterpiece—and unsurpassed in Australia. It automatically and scientifically bakes the bread, which passes through three different levels. Oil heating ensures absolute cleanliness—no tumes, no ashes, no dust, no dirt of any description. Perfection in baking is guaranteed, while the Bread comes out with a nice glaze. The Bread is then carried by the conveyors ready for delivery.

Housekeeping Hints

These Pictures Frames
IT is just as important to clean the picture frames of a room as the furniture. For wooden frames use a good furniture polish, for gilt frames use a little of soft frame mists, mould on a scrap of plasticine and, when hardened, kill it to match the rest of the frame.

A Polishing Wrinkle
When polishing furniture always use two dusters, one for holding the furniture and the other for polishing. This method entirely prevents the fingers marking the wood as you turn it about while cleaning is in progress.

Renovating Walls
After removing the surface dirt by rubbing down papered walls with stale bread, or a firm flour-and-water dough, look for fingermarks and other marks. These are usually done by applying a warm iron to the wall over blotting paper to the spot.

Petrol Helps
Suffed upholstered furniture sometimes presents a problem. There are two good ways of dealing with this. If you can take the furniture out of doors, wash it with the petrol and rub this over the surface of the upholstery with a soft duster.

TO RE-KNIT WOOL
WHEN unknitting the old work the wool should be wound into loose balls, tied securely at one end to keep it from tangling. The wool should then be washed in lukewarm water; it is not necessary to use soap.

MERRI CREEK IMPROVEMENTS

At the meeting of the council of the Northern Municipalities held at the Northcote Town Hall on July 20 the council of the Northern Municipalities considered the scheme in connection with the Merri Creek Improvements had met.

Court Shorts
Mr. Brown, P.M. (to witness under cross-examination): I do not think it would upset you so much if you looked at me.
Solicitor: That's hardly a compliment, Mr. (Laughter).

SHORTER LOCKS

WITH this summer's striking hot fashions it seems inevitable that shorter locks will out-smart the long bob.
A thin woman's coiffure is a thing which she should judge herself, but there is no doubt that shorter cuts are smarter at the moment and for those to whom it is becoming a haircut a duo.

SPACE SAVING

WHEN dealing with a small bedroom with a bay window one idea is a built-in linen closet with a flap cover which lifts up to reveal a mirror on its surface, and the flap hides a recess for the ordinary dressing-table necessities.

ANOTHER IDEA
Another idea, which solves the problem of a room with a bay window, is to have a letter box flap writing desk, which covers a space of half the writing area, and a small shelf to hold paper, envelopes, etc.

MERRI THEATRE

Circus life with all its romance and thrills forms the theme of "Red Wagon," coming to the Merri on Monday for three nights. The cast includes Greta Nilsson, the striking Norwegian star, Charles Bickford, Raquel Torres and Don Alvarado. The story unfolds the life of Joe Prince, born with the fever of the circus in his veins, suffering youthful hardships after being orphaned, until he eventually owns a circus of his own. John Boles in "I Believed in You," the supporting picture, has a charming new lady in Rosemary Ames. The story deals with the strange adventures of a girl who seeks to solve the mysteries of life and love. "Sorrow and Son," Warwick Deeping's famous story, will commence on Thursday with H. B. Warner again playing the name part. Peter Penrose plays Kit as a child and Hugh Williams in manhood. The subject of the picture is "different," for it rests almost entirely on the understanding and sympathy between a father and son, and is a change from the more conventional type of screen fare. Henry Edwards in "General John Regan" is also on the programme.
