

Preston Library Sensory Map

Depending on the day of the week and the time of the day, the library can be quiet or noisy and busy with lots of activity.

There are no dedicated quiet areas at Preston Library, but there are areas that are often quieter than others. These are indicated on the map.

If you need help with anything, please speak to a library staff member. Look for an adult with a library uniform and name badge or go to the Information Desk.

- Low sensory spaces:
 - Quieter areas with fewer people
- High sensory spaces:
 - Busy, louder areas with a lot of visual and other stimuli
- Seating Areas

Northcote Library Sensory Map

Depending on the day of the week and the time of the day, the library can be quiet or noisy and busy with lots of activity.

There are no dedicated quiet areas at Northcote Library, but there are areas that are often quieter than others. These are indicated on the map.

If you need help with anything, please speak to a library staff member. Look for an adult with a library uniform and name badge or go to the Information Desk.

Low sensory spaces:

- Quieter areas with fewer people

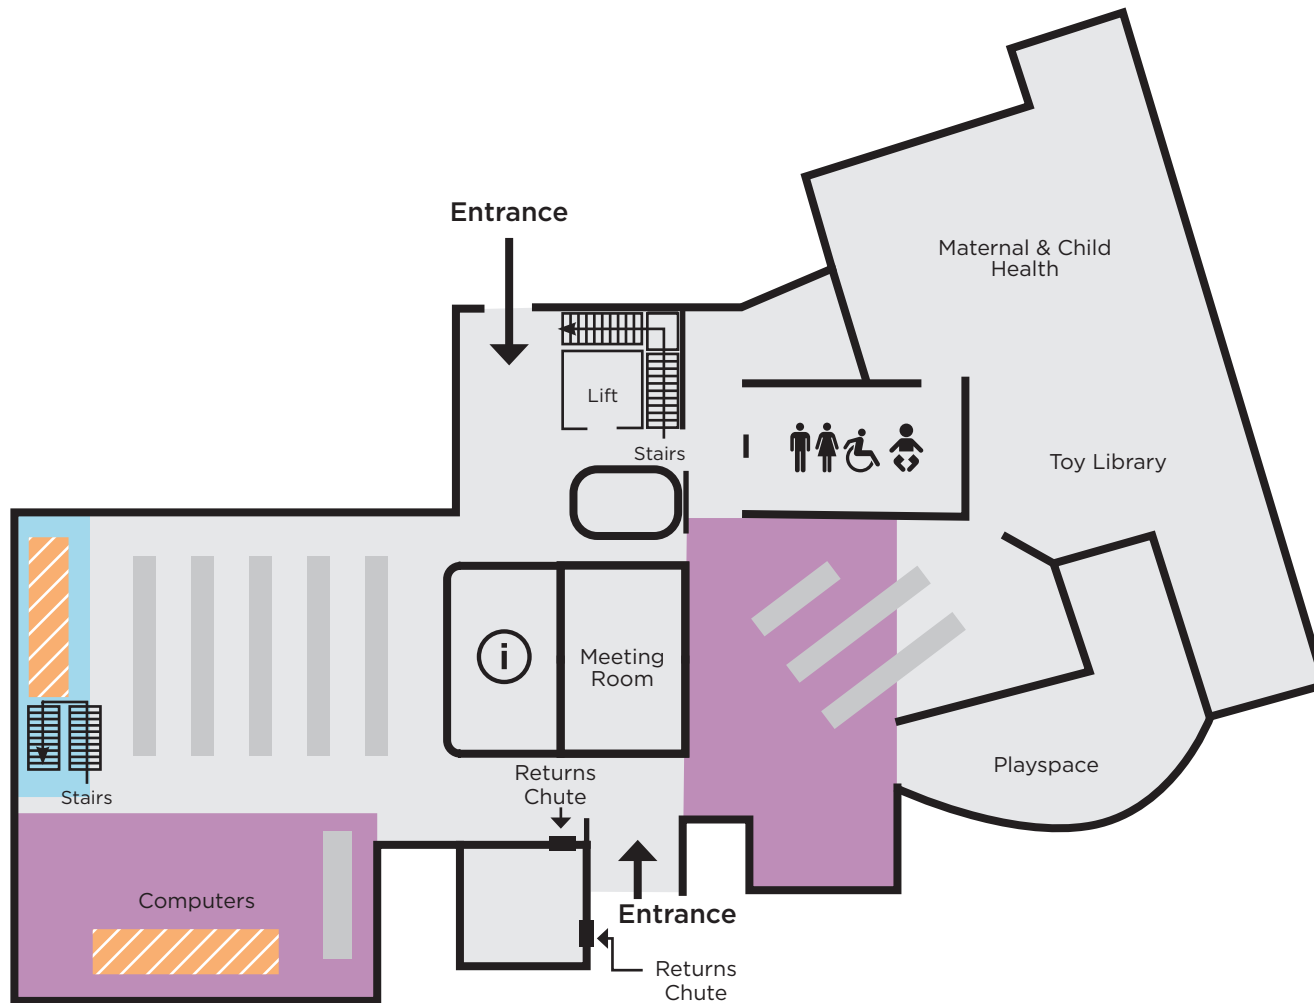

High sensory spaces:

- Busy, louder areas with a lot of visual and other stimuli

Seating Areas

Reservoir Library Sensory Map

Ground Floor

Depending on the day of the week and the time of the day, the library can be quiet or noisy and busy with lots of activity.

There are no dedicated quiet areas at Reservoir Library, but there are areas that are often quieter than others. These are indicated on the map.

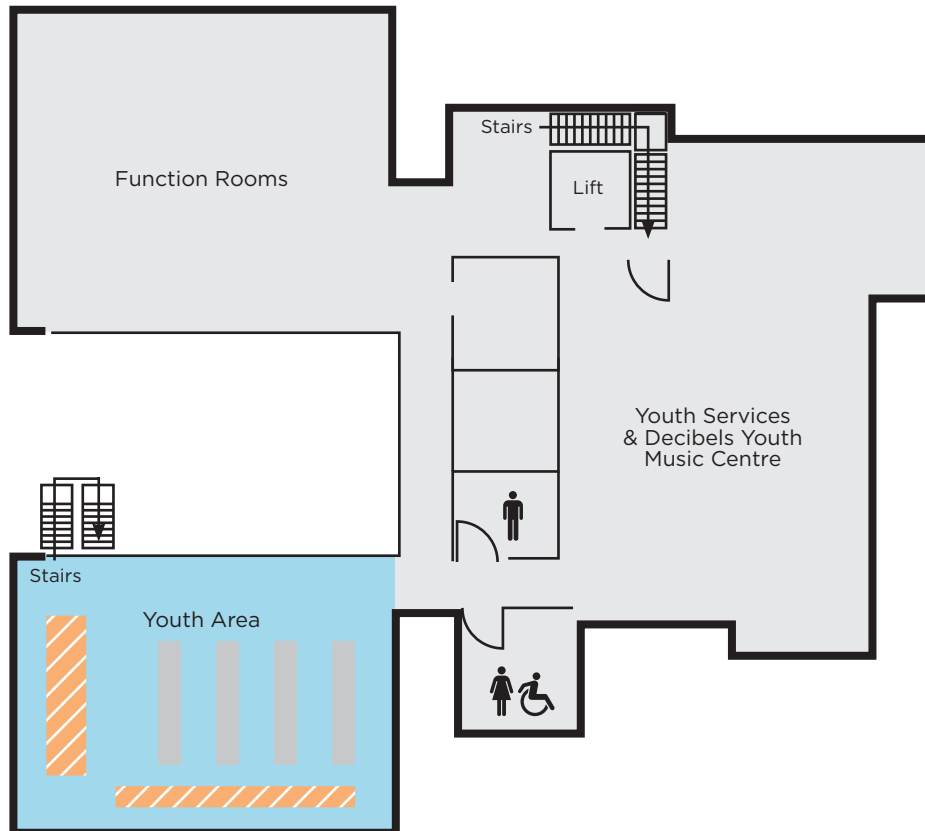

If you need help with anything, please speak to a library staff member. Look for an adult with a library uniform and name badge or go to the Information Desk.

-  Low sensory spaces:
 - Quieter areas with fewer people
-  High sensory spaces:
 - Busy, louder areas with a lot of visual and other stimuli
-  Seating Areas

Edwards Street

Reservoir Library Sensory Map

Level One

Depending on the day of the week and the time of the day, the library can be quiet or noisy and busy with lots of activity.

There are no dedicated quiet areas at Reservoir Library, but there are areas that are often quieter than others. These are indicated on the map.

If you need help with anything, please speak to a library staff member. Look for an adult with a library uniform and name badge or go to the Information Desk.

-  Low sensory spaces:
 - Quieter areas with fewer people
-  High sensory spaces:
 - Busy, louder areas with a lot of visual and other stimuli
-  Seating Areas

Fairfield Library Sensory Map

Depending on the day of the week and the time of the day, the library can be quiet or noisy and busy with lots of activity.

There are no dedicated quiet areas at Fairfield Library, but there are areas that are often quieter than others. These are indicated on the map.

If you need help with anything, please speak to a library staff member. Look for an adult with a library uniform and name badge or go to the Information Desk.

-  Low sensory spaces:
 - Quieter areas with fewer people
-  High sensory spaces:
 - Busy, louder areas with a lot of visual and other stimuli
-  Seating Areas

