Sensitive Storytime at the Library

A Social Story

I'm going to storytime at the library.
The sliding glass doors make a noise when they open and close.

Inside the library, I will see people, shelves of books, computers and colourful posters.

There will be other families and children at storytime.
I can sit at the front.

Or the back.

The pictures on the board show what will happen at storytime.

The librarian will read stories.

The librarian will also sing songs and teach us the movements.
I can sing and move too.

If it gets too loud, I can wear earmuffs.

I can sit in the sensory tent where it is calm.

At the end of storytime, we might stay and play...

...or do a craft activity. I can take my craft home and keep it.

After storytime I might choose some books to borrow. Then it's time to go!
